SNOWS GRIP MIDWEST

Winter Sweeps Many States

Minnesota and North Dakota Report Subzero Wave; Death in Colorado

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30. (AP)—Winter made a new bid in the Middle West today after several days of spring-like weather.

From the Rocky Mountains eastward across the Mississippi River and from the Canadian border down into Texas a cold wave sent the mercury plunging to low levels.

The first general snowstorm of the season was unleashed.

Several sallies by winter into the Middle West heretofore had failed to gain a foothold, record high temperatures following each cold spell. The onslaught today, however, seemed to be in earnest and colder weather is forecast for tonight and tomorrow.

Snow fell in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle and in Missouri as the storm moved eastward from Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, where from three to seven inches blanketed the ground.

Central Missouri experienced the heaviest November snow since 1906.

A fall averaging about an inch was reported over the entire State of Kansas and the snowstorm extended south into Oklahoma.

In Colorado many mountain passes are closed by the storm. William Masters, a railroad employee, lost his life near Grand Junction.

SNOW AND COLD WAVE REPORTED IN TEXAS

DALLAS (Tex.) Nov. 30. (AP)—A Cold wave, bringing freezing temperatures and light flurries of snow to the Panhandle, swept down on Texas today.

Temperatures below freezing in North and Northeast Texas are forecast for tonight.

Amarillo reported a minimum temperature last night, the mercury dropping to 28 deg. All other points in the State escaped freezing temperatures.

COLD WAVE THREATENS CAPITAL'S CHERRY TREES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The unseasonable buds of Washington's famous cherry trees and flower gardens, which have sprouted out during the warm weather of the past few weeks, are due to be nipped tomorrow by a cold wave. It has been the warmest November in eighteen years.

MARYLAND TOWNS TORN UP BY STORM

Seventy-Mile Gale Levels Homes and Plants, Then Sweeps Path Eastward

CUMBERLAND (Md.) Nov. 30. (AP) A terrific windstorm, sweeping through Allegheny county tonight with a credited velocity of more than seventy miles an hour, leveled several business plants in this city and did considerable damage to dwellings and lines of communication.

The storm, which swept down on this city without warning, did severe damage to a large glass factory, severed telephone and electric light lines, and caused considerable damage in the residential section of the city.

An automobile was blown from the highway outside of this city and plunged into the Cumberland Narrows.

Two men, Joseph Seifers and Andrew Ney, are reported to have been seriously injured when they were caught under the falling walls of the glass factory.

Within fifteen minutes after the storm hit this city, it had passed and was reported moving in an easterly direction toward Hancock, a small town near the point where the State boundaries of Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania join.

STRATON LOSES VOTE IN ATHEISM DEBATE

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Harvard students who listened to Rev. John Roach Straton of New York City debate atheism with Prof. Robert C. Givier of Tufts College gave generous applause to the militant pastor but voted the decision to his opponent, 226 to 182. In an address in which he declared atheism "utterly un-American," Mr. Straton made a sweeping condemnation of a number of other things and persons, including cigarettes, chewing gum, lipsticks, vaudeville jokes, Darrow, Mencken and Rupert Hughes.

DETROIT, Nov. 30. (AP)—Prices of the new Ford car, given out here tonight, show a range of from $385 to $570 for the various types of pleasure cars and $460 to $610 for the various truck types.

The various types, and their prices, f.o.b. Detroit follow: Tudor sedan, $485; Fordor sedan $570; coupe, $495; sport coupe, $530; phaeton, $395; roadster, 385; roadster with pick-up body, $395; chassis, $325; truck chassis, $460; truck chassis, with cab, $545; truck chassis with cab and express body, $600; truck chassis with cab and stake body, $610; truck chassis with cab and platform body, $595.

INCREASE OVER OLD CAR

The prices represent an increase price of the old Tudor Model T car machines with the exception of one type, the Tudor sedan. The F.O.B. prices of the old Tudor Model T car was $495, the same as that of the new type.

The old four-door sedan sold for $545, or $25 less than the Model A car of the same type. The new coupe price represents an increase of $10 over that of the old type.

The new sport coupe is an innovation as far as Ford machines are concerned, no similar type having been manufactured by the company.

DEMONSTRATION TO PRESS

The phaeton, or touring car, of the old type sold for $380, while the new type price is $395. The old type roadster was priced at $350, the new is $385 and the old type roadster with pick-up body sold for $381, as compared with $395 for the new car. The old type bare chassis price is $300; the new $325

Similar increases are shown in the trucks.

At the conclusion of the demonstration Edsel Ford, in charge of the ceremonies, was besieged with questions. "The company hopes to reach a production of 1000 cars a day by January," he said. "We will continue to make parts for the old Model T machines; we will produce cars of a smaller bore for the French and English trade to meet resistance of high horsepower tax in those countries; plans for putting out the new car were conceived four years ago."

BRITISH FIND HOME FILMS FAULTY, TOO

All of Hollywood's Sins, Few of Its Virtues, Seen in Native Product

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP) — Heavy thinkers on the improvement of films are getting a rude shock in some of the latest productions of the British studios.

Film faults all were charged to Hollywood in days when England wasn't producing enough feature films. Now, say many of the film critics, British films have all the faults of Hollywood and few of the virtues.

British films which British audiences will pay their shillings to see seem to have all the racing horses and motor cars and other tricks of Southern California, with acting which lacks a good deal of the punch and youth of Hollywood.

The grayheads who have been clamoring for Dickens and Thackeray and historic queens and kings and glorious pages from British history are still clamoring and the deaf producers are trying their best to turn out pictures that the public will pay to see.

COLORADO EXPEDITION FOUND SAFE

Group Feared Victims of River Wilds Reach Camp With Tale of Hardship

CAMP PEARSON, PAINTED DESERT (Ariz.) Nov. 30. (United States Signal Corps Radio to the Associated Press.)—The thirteen men of the Bray-Pathe Colorado River expedition arrived safely here tonight after battling the dangerous rapids of the Green and Colorado river since the 10th inst., when they took off from Green River, Utah. They had expected to make the trip in ten days.

The expedition, in charge of R. C. La Rue, a seasoned explorer of the river, started out to film a drama in which the mile-deep gorge was to be the background. Wintry weather harassed the party from the day of its take-off. La Rue said icy water dashed over the boats at every series of rapids and forced the party to stop repeatedly to thaw out their clothes.

Difficult portages delayed the party so that on one day they made less than a mile. Low water forced them to carry the boats in places along which they had expected no trouble.

The radio equipment which they carried was smashed in the rapids in Cataract Canyon, below where the Green River joins the Colorado, in Southeastern Utah. Cataract Canyon has a drop of 500 feet in approximately fifty miles. Loss of the radio prevented their sending out the daily messages for which they had arranged with the United States Signal Corps station here to relay to Fort Douglas, Salt Lake City.

Spanish Grape Label Protested

MADRID, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of Almeria today protested against the asserted practice of California producers of exporting grapes from the United States in containers with labels which show the Spanish national colors and a caption reading "Spanish."

The chamber says that this procedure protects American grapes with the prestige enjoyed by the Spanish grape, whose importation into the United States now is forbidden.

The protest was sent to the Spanish Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Pittsburgh Vote Inquiry Leads to 164 Indictments

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30. (AP)—Indictments were returned by the grand jury today against 160 election-board members and four overseers in the September primary on charges of irregularities in one of Allegheny county's most sweeping election-fraud prosecutions. Officials of thirty-two election boards were indicted. Charges against officers of two other boards were ignored.

True bills returned against each of the thirty-two boards contain five counts. The charges include conspiracy to make a false count and false return; willfully and negligently performing duties as election officers so as to defeat the objects of the election law, and willful fraud.

KENDALLVILLE (Ind.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Caught in a high wind and rainstorm, which swept Northern Indiana last night, Pilot Edward Axberg, making his first flight as an air mail flyer, was killed when his plane crashed on a farm eight miles northwest of here.

The plane fell on the farm of George Simons, two and a half miles northeast of Corunna. The plane, a mass of wreckage, was found today by Simons and his wife. The pilot's body, crushed and mangled, was under the wrecked plane.

MAN CURED OF CANCER DISPLAYED

Hope Given to Sufferers by Distinguished Physician Who Has His "Proof"

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Dr. George A. Soper, managing director of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, sounded a note of hope today to cancer sufferers in the form of a living illustration of the fact that cancer has been cured even after it had reached an advanced stage.

The living illustration is Swan Abramson, known as the "wizard of Hicksville" (Long Island,) who is just now celebrating his restoration to health.

Abramson, Dr. Soper said, was saved from a terrible death by an operation, a rare exhibition of courage and blood transfusions. When he first asked to be examined, Abramson was told by physicians that without an operation he had no chance to live, and, with an operation, he had one chance in 10,000. Abramson, according to Dr. Soper, "is deprived of most of his stomach"—but he is alive.

At Pietralunga, two floors of a building caved in. A second shock about 6 o'clock was felt at Citerna, while two shocks at short intervals were reported from Fabino preceded by earth rumblings.

SANTIAGO (Chile) Nov. 30. (AP)—A strong and prolonged earth shock was felt today at Ovalle. Houses were rocked, but no casualties are reported. A subterranean rumbling was heard at Coquimbo.

Mexico Adopts Six-Year Term for President

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (AP)—The constitutional amendment extending the Presidential term of office from four to six years, El Universal Grafico says, has been adopted by a majority of the State legislatures and is therefore effective now.

The amendment passed by the Federal Congress, the paper adds, has been approved by fifteen State legislatures, constituting a majority of the States, as required by law for the amendment of the Constitution. Presumably the extension will not apply to President Calles but will apply to his successor, who probably will be Gen. Obregon.

RUSSIA OFFERS TO DISARM IF WHOLE WORLD JOINS

League Stunned by Soviet Proposal to Lead Way in Destroying All Weapons to Wage War

GENEVA, Nov. 30. (AP)—Soviet Russia today challenged the entire world to disarm.

The Russian delegation to the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations offered to destroy Russia's land, sea and air armament, provided other nations do the same.

The stupendous proposal left the other delegates bewildered and gasping for an answer, but with the impression that Russia definitely had entered the peace fabric of Europe. However, the general impression, except possibly among the Russians, is that total disarmament is an idealistic dream for the present at least. Nevertheless there is everywhere a disposition to give the soviet leaders full credit for their readiness to wipe out armaments.

That the Russians themselves realize their plan to lay down all arms and make even their manufacture impracticable is too idealistic for the present, at least, is shown, in the opinion of many, by the fact that they voiced their willingness to negotiate in a piecemeal form for the reduction of armaments if their radical project proves too revolutionary and that they did not insist on immediate consideration in detail of their sweeping program. Such consideration was adjourned until the next session of the commission early in 1928.

Furthermore, although contending that complete disarmament is the best guarantee of security, the Russians, in a spirit of conciliation, agreed to send an observer to the special committee on security which was created today. This committee will hold its initial session tomorrow. It will tackle the problem of how best to increase guarantees of security in order that the nations of the world may be more willing to cut down armaments when the international conference is convoked, probably some time next year.

STAY ON SIDE LINES

The American delegation announced it will be unable to accept membership in the security committee, but will be happy to give careful consideration to its recommendations when they reach the preparatory disarmament commission, on which the United States will continue its membership.

President Loudon of the commission then voiced the decision here that Washington, not Geneva, will send an observer. Hugh R. Wilson, head of the American delegation, agreed to consult the State Department in this regard.

RUSSIANS PLEASED

The Russians clearly were pleased at their reception at today's meeting. Whatever the delegates may have secretly thought of Moscow's far-reaching project, no word of ridicule was uttered against it. On the contrary, several delegates treated the soviet program with the utmost seriousness, and recalled that it really was an old story retold.

Count von Bernstorff, head of the German delegation, who backed the Russian plan of campaign without, however, committing himself to acceptance of complete disarmament, remarked that President Wilson in his fourteen points had recommended the wiping out of armaments except those necessary to maintain order at home.

Dr. Eduard Benes, Czecho-Slovakia, emphasized that Norway had submitted to the League of Nations a scheme which resembled the Russian project in many points. Dr. Benes added that long League experience and study have demonstrated that it is essential to take under consideration the disarmament problem with its varied and complex aspects—security, international political expediency and the broad moral and social fields.

SILENCE PAINFUL

The dramatic moment came when M. Litvinoff, having concluded his address, Dr. Louden, presiding, asked for a general discussion of the Russian plan, which included the actual convocation of an international conference not later than March, 1928, for embodiment in the treaty of the drastic soviet scheme.

Silence ensued, which became painful. Nobody asked to speak, and nobody showed the slightest indination of doing so. Litvinoff and Lunacharski looked at each other. Plainly everybody felt uncomfortable. Several hundred newspaper men, who were following the negotiations, began to wonder whether a break-up would come and the Russians would leave.

Then M. Paul-Boncour, French Socialist, saved the situation. He diplomatically chided the Russians for attacking the League in action on disarmament, and quietly remarked

BOW SEEN IN WAR CLOUD

Briand Confident as to Italy

Deputies' Fears of Gathering Storm Scouted by French Foreign Minister

Communist Pictures United States as Coveting Lands of South America

PARIS, Nov. 30. (AP)—Accumulating threats of trouble between European nations were given an airing in the French Chamber of Deputies today, particularly friction between France and Italy.

Several radical Deputies professed to see a great many war clouds in the European sky, but Foreign Minister Briand, in an eloquent resume of the foreign situation, was his usual hopeful self. He even was optimistic as to the possibility of France and Italy straightening out their difficulties amicably.

RADICALS SEE RED

War between the two countries, M. Briand declared, was unthinkable and impossible. Some other Deputies seemed to think otherwise. They repeated a few of Premier Mussolini's ambitious orations about Italy's rights and her dreams of empire. The Radical Socialist Montigny went so far as to say that there could be no doubt that Italian activity has turned against France.

"Italian youth has been worked up to a red-hot pitch," said Montigny. "The Italian newspapers pound away on the idea that Italy ought to and must be the greatest nation in the world. Writers in these papers say that the League of Nations' disarmament policy is for Italy a poisonous tunic of Nessus which would paralyze Italy's movements and therefore is inacceptable.

"There is a systematic effort to show the Italian people that France has become their mortal enemy."

UNCLE SAM, OCTOPUS

Communist Deputy Cachin was even more pessimistic. He saw war clouds everywhere, even in America. He pictured Uncle Sam as gazing greedily at Central and South American countries. M. Briand, in a long speech, repeated once more that Italy has nothing to worry about in the recently signed Franco-Jugo-Slavian treaty of amity and arbitration, which was criticised in Italy as inimical to that country.

"It is not," said M. Briand, "because a warship went to Tangier that he discovered Jugo-Slavia. (An Italian warship recently visited Tangier in Morocco—disputed territory between France and Spain, with resultant criticism and comparison with the prewar incident of the visit of the German vessel Panther to Agadir at a time of tension.) We knew her during the war and the treaty merely consecrates a situation that has existed for years. It was negotiated after Italy had refused France's suggestion for a tripartite agreement between the three nations."

RAPS MUSSOLINI

Speaking of Mussolini, M. Briand said that the Italian Premier in his "perhaps rather extensive" desire to defend his country's interests "sometimes does not show all the friendliness we would like to see, but that is no reason for losing our heads."

"People say to me: 'Why don't you talk with Italy?' M. Briand continued. "I always have been a partisan of these direct conversations and I already have encountered Mussolini at Rome and at Locarno and I would see him again tomorrow without displeasure.

"The French government is inclined toward any proposition of accord and arbitration susceptible of bringing the two nations to an understanding. Despite existing frictions I have the firm conviction that an accord will come about . . . The consciences of their people would not permit them to think of war."

ARMAMENT REDUCED

M. Briand spoke of France's reduction in armaments to show that it was peacefully inclined. He declared that France had only twelve armored ships in 1927, compared with thirty in 1914; sixty-eight destroyers, compared with 270 before the war, and two fast cruisers as against thirty-five before. He also mentioned that reduction of conscript service from three years to one had reduced the size of the French army.

The Foreign Minister referred to the Russian army of 700,000, which, he said, was paraded on all occasions, even at fetes of a peaceful nature. He remarked that Russia's intervention in the Polish-Lithuanian dispute had not lessened the difficulties of those striving for peace.

REDS PUT DOWN UKRAINE REVOLT

Thirty or Forty Towns Taken from Rebel Bands

Total Death List for Last Two Weeks Thousands

(Copyright, 1927, by the New York Times.)

KISHINEV (Bessarabia) Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Moscow troops sent to break up the revolutionary movements in the South Ukraine now are in almost complete control of thirty or forty towns and villages held by the rebels. Bands of insurrectionists Sunday night concentrated in the district near Molokist were attacked Sunday and routed by a force of about 600 soviet soldiers, according to reports made to officers in charge of the Bessarabian frontier guards.

The leader of the revolutionists in the Molokist district, a peasant named Bukov, and six of his lieutenants were executed after their capture and probably ten other persons were killed and a score wounded.

POSSESSIONS BURNED

The greater number of the five or six bands making up the encampment escaped through a near-by forest to the north. The possessions of the rebels were burned. The troops moved west along the Dneister without attempting to follow those fleeing but leaving behind at Molokist a force of about 100 men.

It is not known whether any revolutionists remain in control of the widespread villages in this barred district although refugees previously told of several places falling to the insurrectionists which are not yet known to be retaken. Checking up on reports, however, it is certain that vigorous action by troops stamped out the most serious movement and that they control enough important places to be masters of the district. Stories continue to be told by refugees of the vengeance which the rebels took against soviet agents and troops when the movements against Moscow became frequent two weeks ago and of the equally harsh measures taken in retaliation.

THOUSANDS KILLED

The town of Podski, which was attacked several times by troops before its capture, was badly damaged in the fighting and a number of buildings burned and about 500 of the population of the district killed or wounded.

It is impossible to estimate the casualties of the last two weeks but the original estimate of from 4000 to 5000 seems substantiated.

Border guards believe that few refugees are able to cross the Dneister into Rumania since Sunday and have not reported signs of disorders in the Ukraine.

The meeting of the Russian-Rumanian claims commission set for the middle of December has been postponed until February. The commission has considered a number of claims from both countries for losses due to confiscation in the Ukraine and Bessarabia. The postponement requested by Russia, may be occasioned by the Ukranian troubles.

CITY'S RIGHT TO SELL OIL SUPPORTED

Supreme Court Decides it Will Decide in Favor of Lincoln (Neb.) Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Supreme Court indicated today that it will decide in favor of Lincoln, Neb., on a suit brought by Standard Oil and other oil companies to prevent the city from operating gasoline and oil-filling stations.

The court by refusing to hear counsel for the city indicated that in its view municipalities can engage in selling gasoline and oil to their citizens at cost without violating the Federal Constitutional rights of privately owned filling stations.

Counsel for the private oil companies insisted that the competition from the city has resulted in making their business unprofitable and that they are being unlawfully prevented from conducting private enterprise. They insisted that the city could not use money raised by taxes on them for conducting the filling stations and denied that there is any emergency or public welfare which warrants the municipality engaging in the business.

Questions from Chief Justice Taft and other members indicated that the court was impressed with the idea that municipalities can engage in such business under former decisions of the court

25,000 MILES in less than 23,000 MINUTES

Studebaker Sets Record.

A record for endurance and speed has been established by two Studebaker Commander roadsters and a Studebaker Commander sedan on the Atlantic City speedway. Announcement was made this week by the contest board of the American Automobile association.

All three cars participating, according to the contest board's statement, traveled 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes.

The contest board in describing the test says:

"The cars started their grind on Oct. 18 and maintained better than a mile-a-minute average speed night and day, under the supervision of thirty-five officials of the American Automobile association for nearly sixteen days, until the 25,000 miles had been completed.

"The official speed of the two roadsters, which started and finished at the same time, was 66.4 miles an hour."

From the Chicago Daily News, November 12th

Such speed may not interest you . . . but the endurance of The Studebaker Commander—proved by this amazing demonstration—should appeal to the "pocketbook nerve" of every automobile buyer!

RUSSIA OFFERS DISARMAMENT

Proposes Destroying Land, Sea, Air Weapons

League Gasps as Soviets Submit Scheme

that the Russian proposal is too simple to be incorporated in practice.

Recalling that the League covenant merely asked for a reduction of armaments compatible with the needs of national security, M. Paul-Boncour appealed to M. Litvinoff, "not to swap horses while crossing a stream," and to come in frankly on the League's feasible efforts to achieve disarmament by gradual stages, keeping in mind that it inevitably is linked with the security of nations.

FACT OF VAST IMPORT

"Our methods may be slow," he said, "but they have been found wiser. Your project would still put the small powers at the mercy of the great. Nations with large resources would still impose their will on the little nations.

"What has really delayed us has been the absence of a proper international spirit, and this has resulted in the unwillingness of the nations to assume obligations for the maintenance of peace. We sincerely welcome you Russians here. Stay with us and help solve our problems."

And the Russians are staying on. French spokesmen tonight emphasized the vast importance of this fact to the future of Europe, remarking that the Russians now are a part of the machinery which is seeking to elaborate, in pain and oft-times in disappointment, some system guaranteeing peace through disarmament and security.

NO POSTPONEMENT

The representatives of the other delegations commented in similar tenor. The Germans were highly pleased that their great giant eastern neighbor, with whom they want to keep in relations of friendship and co-operation, should have come to Geneva and taken part in negotiations which everybody realizes will be lengthy.

M. Paul-Boncour took occasion tonight to repudiate any idea that the disarmament conference must be postponed until the complicated question of security is settled. But security can be given a big push forward, the French delegate insisted, and the governments urged to conclude more pacts of arbitration co-ordinated one with another.

AMERICAN STAND

American Ambassador Wilson, in making his statement concerning the security committee, said the historic attitude of the United States toward political problems of Europe consists in American determination to leave to European states those matters which are peculiarly their own concern and that America should not intrude therein.

He reiterated the inability of the United States to accept any plan of supervision of armaments under auspices of the League of Nations and said that questions of arbitration and security as were envisaged by creation of the security committee raised the same considerations.

Mr. Wilson said that he is convinced that the other countries recognize the difficulties of the United States on security participation from a geographical and constitutional standpoint.

MOVES FOR PEACE

He emphasized, however, that the United States has shown interest in the seeking of a practical solution for the problem of international security and cited the four-power pact for the Pacific Ocean negotiated at the Washington naval conference as proving that the United States is party to an agreement whose object is the same as that inspiring the work of the security committee.

"The United States government is convinced that in respect to its interests and rights in the Pacific, this four-power treaty is entirely adequate for security and it cherishes the hope that the other signatories of this treaty are of the same opinion," Mr. Wilson said.

The American representative was certain that it cannot be questioned that the United States always has championed the idea of international arbitration and conciliaion both in principle and practice and said that the United States welcomes extension of this practice, believing that if such treaties are observed in good faith "the danger of aggressive war will be reduced to a minimum."

WASHINGTON GIVES REASON FOR ABSTAINING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Non-membership in the League of Nations, coupled with traditional American disinclination to mix in European political affairs, prompted the decision, of the Washington administration not to participate in the security conference now being arranged under League auspices at Geneva.

The American position, however, reflects in no degree disapproval of the security conference proposal, it is explained, since the Washingtin government has been consistently advocating for many years and has been negotiating for itself arbitration and conciliation pacts which it believes have proved helpful in minimizing the danger of war.

DRAMATIC GESTURE

Russian proposals at the Geneva meeting today for complete disarmament by all nations caused no particular surprise in Washington. They are viewed both in administration and diplomatic circles, however, as largely in the nature of a dramatic gesture rather than having any practical application to the problems confronting the disarmament commission at this time.

Obviously, it is said, Russia could not have expected that any agreement to result immediately at Geneva since none of the powers participating in the work of the preliminary commission has sent its military and technical staffs to Geneva.

The Russian suggestion for complete disarmament is not new. It was put forward by a Chinese delegate at Geneva a year or two ago.

RUMANIA'S WAR BUDGET ENLARGED

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Nov. 30. (AP)—While the League of Nations is urging the necessity of disarmament upon the world, Rumania has devoted $49,000,000 to war purposes in the coming year, which is $6,000,000 more than last year and more than one-fifth the entire budget totaling $240,000,000.

Only one-eighth of the budget, which was issued today, is devoted to education, the war appropriations heading all others. The government defends the huge expenditure for military purposes on the ground that Rumania constantly is menaced over a wide front by Bolsheviks and may at any moment on another front be dragged into conflict, if Italy should attack Jugo-Slavia, or if the soviets should engage Poland in hostilities.

"Over a border of nearly 500 miles," said a government official, "we are guardians of the gate for Europe against the entry of Bolsheviks. The expenditure of $49,000,000 is not to provoke war, but to preserve peace."

BRITISH DELEGATE RETICENT ON EVENTS

GENEVA (Switzerland) Nov. 30. (AP)—Lord Cushendun, who as Ronald McNeill was Secretary of the British Treasury, and who succeeded Viscount Cecil as delegate to Geneva, was asked today by the Reuter correspondent why the British delegates did not share in today's proceedings. He replied:

"I do not believe in talking when there is nothing to say. The business was supposed to be connected entirely with procedure, not with the enunciation of any general policy of disarmament."

Questioned directly respecting M. Litvinoff's proposal, Lord Cushendun said: "According to the strict rules of procedure, Litvinoff was entirely out of order, and if the incident had arisen at Westminster he would have immediately been jumped upon for that reason. The whole soviet proposal was quite irrelevant to the day's proceedings.

"The general view, with which I agree, is that the soviet scheme should be postponed until the whole matter of disarmament has progressed much farther."

RUSSIA'S OFFER CALLED UTOPIAN DREAM IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The general impression prevailing today in British official circles is that soviet Russia's disarmament scheme presented at Geneva is so Utopian in character that is is impracticable. This is the unofficial view gleaned from Whitehall which is now almost deserted since British experts on problems pertaining to disarmament are all in Geneva.

Speaking at a meeting of St. Andrew's Society, Gov Ritchie said he believes the prohibition question should be treated as a phase of the "tendency toward Federal centralization and Federal encroachment of State rights."

The Maryland executive said that Gov. Smith of New York is entitled to first consideration by the 1928 Democratic National Convention, adding that he does not know whether it would mean Gov Smith's nomination.

SHAW CALLS ERIN BEGGAR

Author Raps Aid Plea and Declares Native Land Able to Provide for Children if She Chooses

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—George Bernard Shaw, the Irishman, in an article in the Yorkshire Evening News today, seems likely to have laid the foundation for a first-class controversy with his fellow-Irishmen.

Commenting on an appeal to America to better the condition of the children of Dublin, the dramatist declares that Ireland "is perfectly well able to feed and clothe her children if she chooses." He expresses confidence in the ability of his native land to take care of its own wants but, in doing so, refers to Erin as "an incorrigible beggar."

Shaw was born in Dublin seventy-one years ago but has been a resident of London for more than fifty years.

"Judge Henry Neil has visited my native town of Dublin," Shaw writes, "and he is very properly ashamed of the conditions of the children there. He asks me to second his appeal to America to send I forget how many thousand pairs of shoes and stockings to clothe them.

"But my advice to America is not to send a single cent to Ireland ever again for shoes or anything else. Ireland is perfectly well able to feed and clothe her children if she chooses.

"It is a mistake to suppose she is poor. She is only an incorrigible beggar, which is not the same thing.

"She persuades you that except for a corner in Ulster where a handful of bigoted enemies of here build ships and make liners, she's penniless. Don't believe her."

New York Dry to be Backed as G.O.P. Delegate

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Republican members of the New York Congressional delegation tonight unanimously agreed to recommend that the Republican State Committee name Representative Bertrand R. Snell of St. Lawrence county as as delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention next year.

The action was taken at a private dinner at the Metropolitan Club at which the eighteen Republican representatives of the State were the guests of Charles D Hilles, Republican National Committee man from New York.

No comment was made on what, if any, bearing the recommending of the candidacy of Mr. Snell would have on the announced candidacy of former Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., as a delegate-at-large. Mr. Wadsworth had announced that he would seek the post to make a fight at the national convention for a "wet" plank in the Republican platform. Mr Snell is generally regarded as a dry.

Youth Calmly Admits Murder to Gain Money

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—A 19-year-old boy went on the witness stand in Brooklyn Supreme Court today and calmly admitted he had pushed Benjamin Goldstein, 22 years of age, from a boat to his death in Gravesend Bay as a part of a plot to murder Goldstein to collect $70,000 insurance on his life.

The youth, Irving Rubinzahl of the Bronx, himself under indictment for murder in connection with the Goldstein drowning, testified in the trial of Joseph Lefkowitz, beneficiary of the insurance policy, charged with plotting the murder, and Harry Greenberg, 23-year-old business associate of Lefkowitz, charged with Goldstein's murder.

Rubinzahl testified his association with the other three began when he needed money and went to Greenberg for aid. After several days, he said, Greenberg disclosed the asserted plot to drown Goldstein for his insurance and finally all of them, with the exception of Lefkowitz, went out into the bay in a boat.

TAX SLASHERS TO BE CHECKED

Brakes Clamped Down by Administration Chiefs

Tilson Backs Suggestion of Only $225,000,000 Cut

Chamber Stands Pat in Fight for $400,000,000 Trim

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Brakes were clamped down by administration leaders today in an effort to prevent Congress from overrunning what the Treasury regards as the safety lines in the question of tax reduction.

At the Capitol Representative Tilson, the Republican House leader, backed up the Treasury recommendation for a cut not in excess of $225,000,000, and at the department itself, Secretary Mellon reiterated that the Treasury figure represents the maximum slice that can be effected with safety.

While Tilson and the Secretary withheld specific reference to the announcement by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reiterating its belief that a reduction of $400,000,000 should be authorized, both contend that it will be dangerous if Congress exceeds the limit proposed by the Treasury and favored by President Coolidge.

CORPORATION TAX TRIM

Secretary Mellon said that he believes the corporation tax, now 13½ per cent, is too high and should be reduced as soon as possible, even below the 11½ per cent figure approved by the House Ways and Means Committee for incorporation in the new tax bill that it has drafted.

The Treasury favors an immediate cut in the corporation rate to 12 per cent, but Mr. Mellon indicates that his department does not regard the forthcoming tax reduction as the last to be recommended and that this levy probably will come in for more consideration in a future tax bill.

Mr. Tilson declared that with a Presidential election only a year off and with every possible inducement before the party in power to carry popular favor, it amazes him that the Republicans are charged with an unwillingness of reduce taxes as much.

TAX CUT POPULAR MOVE

"Tax reduction is always the most popular policy anyone can advocate," he said, "and if the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and the House Ways and Means Committee place a conservative limit on the reduction which safely can be made at this time, we may properly conclude that their decision is based on sound business judgment rather than political expediency.

Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee, said in his opinion the Chamber of Commerce was not thoroughly advised as to the financial condition of the government, and that it will be impossible to carry out the organization's program at the present time.

GARNER TO WAGE FIGHT

Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee, which has approved a tax cut of $236,000,000, declared he believes the committee could have recommended a reduction of at least $100,000,000 in excess of the $225,000,000 proposed by the Treasury. He said he proposes to seek further reduction in rates when the tax bill comes before the House and that among other things he will endeavor to abolish the sales tax on automobiles.

A majority of the committee has approved reduction of this levy from 1 to 1½ per cent.

RIOTERS FACING HEARING TODAY

Folsom Revolt Leaders May Ask Continuance

Six Refuse to Testify at Inquest on Guard

Effort Will be Made to Set Trial Date Monday

FOLSOM PRISON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Held responsible by a Coroner's jury today for the death of Ray Singleton, Folsom prison guard, the six convicts who led the Thanksgiving Day riot and attempted a break in which 1200 prisoners revolted, are scheduled tomorrow to face the first legal barrier in the State's attempt to claim their lives as forfeit for the uprising.

The men are scheduled to appear at 10 o'clock before Justice of the Peace I. B. Leonard for their preliminary hearing on the murder charge filed against them by Dist.-Atty. McAllister as the outgrowth of Singleton's death. However, it is not definite as yet that the hearing will be held, as the men, under the law, can plead for a continuance in order to obtain counsel.

REFUSE TO TESTIFY

Should the hearing be held and the men held to answer, it was stated at the District Attorney's office tonight that the informations would be filed immediately and an effort made to bring the men into Superior Court here Monday for arraignment and to set the date for their trial before a jury.

At the Coroner's inquest today all the men refused to testify and the jury, after hearing the stories of the guards held as hostages by them, returned a verdict finding "Singleton came to his death by being stabbed by the attempted-escape leaders."

BROWN HELD SLAYER

Those men are Anthony Brown, Roy E. Stokes, Walter E. Burke, James H. Gregg, A. M. Stewart and James Gleason.

The Coroner's jury also inquired into the shooting of George Baker and the ten other convicts who died in the riot and subsequent siege.

In the Baker case Brown was held responsible for his death, while the other men were found to have been killed by guards and possemen endeavoring to quell the riot.

Brown was definitely named as Baker's slayer by the jury after Dep. Dist.-Atty. Guy P. Johnson testified the uprising leader had admitted to him that he fired the shot into Baker's back which ended his life.

BOY ADDS LINK IN MURDER CASE

Mrs. Lilliendahl's Meeting With Beach Told

Plowman Testifies Having Seen Love Tryst

Important State Witnesses Hurt Prosecution

MAYS LANDING (N. J.) Nov. 30. (AP)—A frightened little boy with a quivering chin was one of the most important witnesses at today's session of the Lilliendahl murder trial—a session otherwise filled with surprises and disappointments for the prosecution.

The boy is Lewis Behler, 12-year-old playmate of Alfred Lilliendahl, son of Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl and the aged doctor with whose murder she and Willis Beach are jointly charged. He was called to the stand to establish that an intimacy existed between the doctor's wife and Beach which caused a rift in the home life of the Lilliendahls and thus furnished a possible motive for the killing.

He went on the stand timidly, nothing but his frightened face showing above the railing, and his answers were so indistinct that they had to be repeated every time for counsel and jury.

LIVES ACROSS STREET

"Do you live across the street from the Lilliendahls?" he was asked and nodded his head.

"You went there often to play?" Another nod.

"Willis Beach often came to the house?"

"Yes."

"And what would Beach and Mrs. Lilliendahl do while they were together?"

"Sit."

"Close together?"

"Yes."

A solemn nod and a whispered "yes."

"What did they quarrel about?"

Here at last the child found his voice as he gave expression to a youngster's disregard for the inexplicable actions of grown-ups.

"I didn't pay any attention to what it was all about," he said, and scurried from the stand as he was told that his ordeal was over.

HONEST PLOWMAN

Next to this boy the star witness of the day, from the State's point of view, was Herbert Lloyd, a swarthy plowman, whose testimony also was directed at showing that the defendants were illicit lovers.

He told of going to his home one evening last spring, "corsa lots" and stumbling on Beach and Mrs. Lilliendahl keeping a tryst. He struck a match to light his cigar, thus getting light enough to identify the couple as Beach and Mrs. Lilliendahl Beach, he testified, threatened him with bodily harm if he ever mentioned the encounter.

These two were the day's witnesses who gave the testimony expected of them, but of the others several gave the State such a surprise by their forgetfulness and the unexpectedness of their replies that two were withdrawn from the stand and the prosecutor announced to reporters that he was considering instituting legal action against them.

STORY FALLS DOWN

The chief surprise of the day came to the State during the testimony of Harry Sanderson, a salesman from Sydney, O., who drove past the scene of the crime on the day of the killing. He had been expected to testify that he had seen a man run out of the bushes near the place where Dr. Lilliendahl was shot and to identify that man as Beach.

His hope to his expected story until the prosecutor pointed to Beach and asked: "Is that the man who scuttled out of those bushes?"

"I couldn't possibly say," replied the witness.

The prosecution withdrew him from the stand.

Another State witness withdrawn was Jack Thornborrow, a neighbor of Beach, who was expected to say that Beach had requested him to "remember," having seen him at home at the time of the killing. His testimony was so filled with "don't recalls" that the prosecutor finally asked him if his memory and hearing were normal. He replied that they were "pretty good."

PLEADED FOR CAR

Of the other witnesses several testified to having seen Beach and Mrs. Lilliendahl together frequently, others described the widow's rings, others Beach's plea to be allowed to keep a car he had not made payments on until after September 15, the day of the killing, saying that he had important business to transact on that day and would have plenty of money thereafter.

The day was given a social touch by the actions of the defendants during the intermissions, who moved unguarded about the courtroom, joking with friends, shaking hands with everyone in sight and dropping into a spectator's chair now and then for a little chat with some favored acquaintance.

CHURCH TO USE GOLFING RUSE

Will be 'Nineteenth Hole' in Effort to Attract Sunday Players

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—The problem of getting the golfer to church on Sundays may be near solution.

"Just make the church the 'nineteenth hole,'" is the plea of a building committee in St. Francis Wood, Westwood Park and other exclusive districts.

They have started a building fund of $75,000 for a "golfers' church" which, for the sake of dignity, will be known as the St. Francis Community Church and social center.

REMUS MANIAC, SAYS REPORTER

Scribe Admits Bearing Tales of Wife's Treachery

Slayer Fanned to Frenzy by News, Says Rogers

"Brainstorms" of Murderer Frequent Occurrences

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30. (AP)—John T. Rogers, for twelve years a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and winner of a Pulitzer prize for the most meritorious newspaper work of a year, came into George Remus's murder trial as a witness today and held a crowded courtroom, jury and judge spellbound with his vivid pictures of Remus, a maniac.

ADMITS TALE-BEARING

Rogers testified he revealed to Remus plots of Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus, the woman for whose slaying he is on trial for his life, and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., former prohibition agent, to have him deported to Germany and later to have him slain by paying gangsters $15,000.

Those tales, with a host of others narrating the asserted misconduct of Mrs. Remus and Dodge, were the basis, according to Remus's plea of transitory maniacal insanity, for driving him out of his mind.

Rogers testified that he had informed the managing editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as long ago as last summer that Remus was insane.

"BRAINSTORMS" TOLD

The reporter came first into contact with Remus, he said, when the Post-Dispatch assigned him to get the story of Remus's life as a whisky dealer and bootlegger after Remus had been released from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta two years ago. From that time until three months ago he was in intimate contact with Remus. "Brainstorms" overcame Remus upon "innumerable" occasions, testified Rogers.

Two of the worst affected him, the reporter said, when he informed Remus of the plot of Mrs. Remus and Dodge against his life and of the plan to have him deported.

Another occurred when Remus thought he had found his wife and Dodge registered at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. Remus was out of control for hours upon that occasion, said Rogers, and wished to break into the room where he thought he would find the couple.

They were registering late at night after an automobile ride from Cincinnati, said Rogers, when Remus suddenly threw up his hands, stepped back and exclaimed:

DELUSION VICTIM

"My God! Could it be possible those people are at this hotel?"

"What people?" Rogers said he asked.

"My wife and Franklin Dodge," Remus exclaimed, pointing to the names Brown, Campbell and Mann on the register. Remus thought his wife and Dodge has assumed aliases.

Rogers spoke in a cool, clear voice and the entire courtroom hung upon each word. He talked steadily for twenty minutes in describing the outbursts he thought indicated insanity in Remus. The prosecution did not interrupt him.

In Pittsburgh in November, 1925, Remus told him, Rogers testified, that he did not want to discuss his bootlegging operations because of the actions of his wife and Dodge.

LEARNS WIFE FALSE

After the Jack Daniels distillery case trial Remus asserted that Dodge had stolen his whisky certificates and given them to Mrs. Remus for her to dispose of in Cleveland; that he had learned Mrs. Remus had lived with Dodge and had been on sleeping cars with him.

"She would come pleading affection and then go back to drinking and wild parties with Dodge while I was in the penitentiary," Rogers said Remus told him.

Before he went to prison, Remus said, according to the witness, he gave his wife $100,000 in cash for her maintenance, but she "outraged me and is driving me mad."

TOLD DEPORTATION PLOT

Rogers said that he learned of the deportation proceedings instituted by Dodge and Mrs. Remus from an immigration inspector he met in Atlanta, Ga.

Dodge formerly was a Federal Department of Justice agent assigned to prohibition work. It was in that capacity that he obtained the conviction which sent Remus to the penitentiary and destroyed the most gigantic illicit enterprise revealed since prohibition became a law.

The trail of the trial led today from Juneau, Alaska, to Nassau, in the Bahamas.

John B. Marshall from Juneau, formerly United States Commissioner and Prohibition Director for Alaska, testified he came into contact with Remus when he was a special Attorney-General at St. Louis investigating the Jack Daniels distillery case, which involved Remus.

WARNED HIS ADVERSARY

Marshall testified that he received a telephone call from Rogers revealing the plot to slay Remus. He was in Indianapolis, where the Jack Daniels case was tried. He passed the information to Remus and immediately Remus recognized some Chicago and St. Louis gangsters in the Indianapolis Hotel and at the railway station where they were to board a train to Cincinnati.

At the end of Marshall's testimony the prosecution moved it be stricken. Judge Shook said that he would read the transcript of his testimony tonight and render a decision tomorrow.

Jack Johnson Turns Democrat

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion boxer of the world, is about to break into the political game. Democratic leaders, who have tried vainly to obtain a foothold in the solidly Republican black wards, have hit upon the happy plan to make Johnson a ward committeeman.

The plan contemplates putting him in command of the Democratic forces in the Second Ward. It is said the Democrats here were encouraged to take this action because of the success of Tammany and Al Smith have scored in Harlem, which is the black belt of Greater New York.

RUMANIANS SIT IN CONFERENCE

Leaders Renew Endeavor to Reach Coalition Basis

Bratianu Submits Proposals to Peasant Party Chief

Acceptance by Maniu Held Highly Improbable

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Nov. 30. (AP)—Recognizing that the sentiment of the country demands a change in the government, Vintila Bratianu, who assumed the Premiership on the death of his brother, Ion Bratianu, conferred with Julius Maniu, leader of the National Peasant party, for two hours tonight in a renewed effort to reach a basis for the formation of a coalition ministry. It is considered highly improbable, however, that Maniu will accept the Premier's conditions.

The conference, which created enormous interest, was conducted at the home of M. Titulescu, the Foreign Minister, whose steadily improving health enabled him, as well as M. Duca, Minister of the Interior, to participate.

The Premier presented several alternative proposals. The principal proposal calls for collaboration of the present government with the Peasants' party without dissolution of Parliament, which would envisage at least six portfolios for representatives of the Peasants' party.

SECOND PROPOSAL

A second proposal is collaboration with dissolution of Parliament, new elections to be held after a fixed period under a coalition cabinet with a neutral head, but with the proportion of seats in Parliament fixed before the elections and with all the parties represented in proportion to their strength.

M. Bratianu will submit these and other proposals in writing immediately and, after conferring with his associates tomorrow, M. Maniu will reply formally.

On the best of authority it can be said, however, that Maniu's conditions remain unchanged—dissolution of Parliament after the first year, the formation of a coalition cabinet with a neutral head to insure elections free from fraud, intimidation and violence and, finally, an absolutely honest count of votes.

MANIU'S PROSPECTS

If M. Maniu becomes Premier, which is considered a strong possibility, Alexander Vaida-Voevod, once Premier, will be his Foreign Minister, and Maniu, who enjoys great popularity and confidence among the peasantry, comprising three-fourths of the population, will make sweeping reforms in the government.

In conversation with the correspondent of the Associated Press, Maniu said he would allow peaceful political assembly, which is at present prohibited, so as to create virile open public opinion, which he declared had been crushed.

Furthermore, he would abolish the present drastic financial and economic laws, would seek a loan in the United States or elsewhere, and would encourage the entry of American or other foreign capital to develop Rumania's vast resources, which he said are dormant, owing to the narrow policy of nationalisation.

State May Drop Flogging Cases

LUVERNE (Ala.) Nov. 30. (AP)—The Crenshaw county flogging trials came to a sudden close today when Judge Gamble adjourned court after Solicitor Poole had withdrawn and filed the thirty-one cases remaining on the docket. The Solicitor explained that the cases can be tried at any future term of court, or they may never be tried, depending upon circumstances.

The solicitor's action in withdrawing the cases followed a jury's verdict yesterday in acquitting Thaxton Miller, who was the second to be freed during the trials.

Wife Wounded and Man Dead

AUBURN, Nov. 30. (AP)—George D. Wheeler, contracting carpenter, formerly of Sacramento, today was found dead in the bathroom of his home near Newcastle following the discovery by school children of the bloody body of his wife, Mollie Wheeler, in the front yard of their home.

The wife now is in a hospital here with a chance to recover.

The officers are investigating to determine whether Wheeler attacked his wife with a hatchet and then killed himself.

Mrs. Wheeler is a member of one of the best-known families of Placer county.

JENSEN WILL RENEW HUNT FOR FLYERS

Plans to Search Mountain in Hawaii for Bodies of Dole Contest Entrants

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Martin Jensen, second prize winner in the Dole flight to Honolulu, who arrived here today en route to his home in the islands, declares he will organize a party upon his return to search the slopes of Mauna Kea for the bodies of Jack Frost and Gordon Scott, pilot and navigator of the lost airplane Golden Eagle. Jensen said he feels positive that Frost and Scott did not fall into the ocean, but met disaster by crashing into the mountain with the goal of their flight almost at hand.

Jensen still believes that the reports of an airplane in the vicinity of the 4000-foot mountain, which were circulated immediately after the Dole flight, were based on fact. A subsequent search of Mauna Kea from the air failed to reveal a plane or wreckage, but of this Jensen says:

"I do not believe the mountain can be adequately searched by an airplane.

"It would have been easy for flyers unfamiliar with the topography of the islands of Hawaii to misjudge the mountain. At the season of the Dole flight the slope near which the plane was reported sighted is covered with dense foliage, which, together with a cloud or fog, might have obscured the vision of the aviators.

"I mean to convince myself that the remains of Frost and Scott are not on the mountain before I will give up."

FUNDS FROM STATE 'GAS' TAX DIVIDED

Revenues for Six Months Total $11,701,400.18 and Counties Get Nearly Half

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) Apportionment of State gasoline tax and transportation license tax revenues collected during the six months ending September 30, last, was announced today by State Controller Riley. The division to the counties is made on a basis of auto registration.

The apportionment totals $11,701,400.18, $5,071,380.81 of which goes to the counties and a like amount to the State for highway repair and maintenance and $1,558,898.56 to the new State highway construction fund, the latter sum was raised by the additional 1-cent tax assessed by the last Legislature.

Of the $11,701,898 apportioned by Riley $289,444 came from the transportation license tax which is levied on motor trucks and stages that do not run on a fixed route. Riley points out that the 2-cent tax apportionment is an increase of about 14 per cent over the same period for last year.

The apportionment to the larger counties follows: Los Angeles $2,800,-899.18; San Francisco, $396,449.-16; Alameda, $369,546.60; San Diego, $192,853.29; Fresno, $163,674.-46; Santa Clara, $143,584.05; Orange, $127,624.61; Sacramento, $125,219.14, and San Bernardino, $118,270.36.

Redemptions of Bonds Set Pace

Since the 15th inst., $568,000,000 in bonds have been redeemed, making one of the fastest redemption processes in the history of the Treasury.

The figures show that nearly $3,000,000,000 has been redeemed since the retirement operations began last March.

BARROWS OPPOSED AS MEXICO INVESTIGATOR

BERKELEY, Nov 30. (AP)—Contending that his recommendations that the United States should intervene in Mexico were not conducive to international peace, the Berkeley Society of Friends sent a letter of protest today to James Scott Brown, Washington head of the Carnegie Endowment, demanding that David P. Barrows, former president of the University of California, be removed as a representative of the Carnegie Foundation commission investigating conditions in Mexico.

MEXICO PLANS OIL-CASE FIGHT

Morones Will Lead Battle on Court Decision

Foreign Companies Watch Move for Amending

Congress May be Petitioned to Make Act Legal

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) Objection will be raised to the recent oil decision given in favor of the Mexican Petroleum Company by the Supreme Court of Mexico in a formal criticism prepared by the Ministry of Industry, Commerce and Labor and to be submitted to the court when it convenes tomorrow, it is announced in El Universal today. Under Secretary Luis Morones, this ministry is charged with all matters dealing with petroleum exploitations and it has championed the oil law that major American and other foreign companies have objected to since its inception.

MINISTRY'S STAND

It is stated the Ministry's objection will be based on grounds that the decision declaring such laws retroactive and confiscatory is unnecessary, the Ministry's view being that such retroactive or confiscatory features of these laws never existed and hence the court's ruling in favor of the companies stands as superfluous.

The objection will aim, according to El Universal, to prevent the hearing of four similar cases which must be decided as this one was before a precedent can be established allowing such steps as are necessary to bring about a modification or amendment of the law in question. The newspaper announces that one of the court's first actions on reconvening will be to hear these additional cases and that once decided the court will petition President Calles to take the necessary steps to have Congress vote on the proposed amendments before it adjourns December 31, next.

REVIVES INTEREST

Interest in the court's decision is revived here now in oil circles, with the reconvening of the court and experts predicting the four other cases will be heard without delay. Speculation is rife as to the exact form which will be adopted to overcome the necessary cumbersome procedure to pass amendments to the law. In view of the brief period Congress will remain in session, opinions are divided as to how this legal manipulation will be carried out. Some think extraordinary powers will be invested in President Calles, to enable him to amend the laws by decree, while others feel that the executive will call an extra session of the National Legislature during the first month of the new year in order to effect passage of the amending acts.

Dry Leaguers Issue Challenge on Referendum

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Anti-Saloon League and the proponents of prohibition stand ready to meet the National Association against the Prohibition Amendment in a prohibition referendum, S. E. Nicholson, associate superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, announced today.

"If Capt. William H. Stayton of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment and his friends can find a way under the Constitution and the law to conduct a national referendum that will be binding in law," he said, "the Anti-Saloon League and the proponents of prohibition will meet them in every polling precinct throughout the United States.

"But in an orderly and Constitutional government, let's have done with the miserable farce of straw voting, under the pretense of democratic rule, on questions which mean nothing and by processes which determine nothing."

Vatican Choir Gives Program for Coolidges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Roman Polifonic Chorus of the Vatican choir sang for President and Mrs. Coolidge, today in front of the White House after members of the choir had presented Mr. Coolidge with a collection of rare etchings, reproductions of the Raphael masterpieces which hang in the Vatican at Rome.

As the choir, comprising singers ranging in age from 6 to 60 years, lifted voices under the north portico of the White House, Mrs. Coolidge appeared at a second-floor window and later came downstairs with the President to pose with the group for a picture.

Mrs. Coolidge singled out 8-year-old Mario Banzi, the youngest member of the group, to stand beside her while the cameras clicked. She ruffled his hair and he responded with a smile.

Terror Slayers Lose Freedom

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—George Pesce and Gus Madsen, convicted of manslaughter on their fourth trial for the slaying of MacIvan Campbell, a nonunion carpenter, during a strike riot a year ago, must go to San Quentin prison next week, Superior Judge Conlan ruled today. He denied a further stay of execution pending action on an appeal, ruling that the men can receive the higher court's verdict as well in prison as out of it.

At the same time Judge Conlan granted John J. Cannon, another asserted terrorist, a severance in murder charges against Cannon and six codefendants. Cannon will go to trial December 6. He is named in the confessions attributed by police to Pesce and Madsen as having been the driver of the automobile used to escort Campbell's attackers to and from the scene where he was beaten to death.

SANCTION SOUGHT FOR PETALUMA RAIL DEAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Permission to buy control of the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Railroad in California was sought from the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Railroads, acting jointly. The Petaluma company owns forty miles of line and operates steamboats into San Francisco. The purchasing corporations have a contract to pay $90 a share for two-thirds of the outstanding stock of the Petaluma company.

NEW BORDER RULING TEST CASE FAILS

Court Asserts Canadian Cannot Contest Decree Until it Takes Effect

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Nov. 30. (AP)—An attempt to restrain the Federal government from enforcing a new border ruling restricting entrance of Canadian nationals into this country failed in District Court today.

Ruling on an application for a restraining order made by James Kemp of Niagara Falls, Ont., who owns a business in Niagara Falls, N. Y., Judge Hazel advised the applicant to submit to arrest tomorrow, when the ruling becomes effective, and to ask for habeas corpus, thus bringing the case into the jurisdiction of the District Court. The judge ruled that his court has no jurisdiction until the new regulation takes effect.

Under the new ruling immigrants of either quota or nonquota class must comply with a visa requirement before they are permitted to enter this country, but the order does not apply to native-born Canadians, who, with proper credentials, may continue to cross the international border to work here. Foreign-born Canadians, however, must obtain visas or passports.

Kemp was born in Scotland and came to Canada in 1922. He crosses the international border daily.

His attorney argued that the ruling would make immigrants of all persons living in other countries who have no desire to become American citizens or to establish their residence in this country.

"You're too apprehensive as to the effect of this law," Judge Hazel said. "You can get the necessary immigration visa within a reasonable time, especially since the Immigration Bureau has given these aliens who are affected by this ruling priority over those who simply desire to become American citizens and live here."

ESKIMOS TO TEST SOUTH POLE RIGORS

Byrd to Take Natives of Arctic Region on Flight to Antarctic

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The projected South Pole flight of Commander Richard E. Byrd will give the Arctic Eskimos their first opportunity in history to test the rigors of the Antartic climate, the explorer told the Associated Press today.

Six Eskimos will be included in the Byrd Antartic expedition next year and will be given the opportunity to consider the feasibility of establishing an Eskimo settlement there, he said.

Disclosure of the plan to take Eskimos to the South Pole was made in connection with an announcement that Robert Daniel, president of the Liberty National Bank of New York, had subscribed $25,000 to the expedition. Previously a subscription of $25,000 had been announced by the National Geographic Society. Henry Ford will assist with the equipment for the expedition.

The commander said he has received thousands of applications from volunteers eager to accompany him. Other thousands are expected before the actual work of selection is started around February.

Who's Who of Hebrews Lists Two Christians

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP) — The 1927 Who's Who issue of the American Hebrew Magazine lists two Christians. They are John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Dr. George Foot Moore of Harvard University.

The magazine, published tomorrow, made its selections from those who had made notable achievements in behalf of America and the Jewish people during the year, citing in all 143 persons.

Dr. Moore's book, "Judaism in the First Centuries of the Christian Era," the magazine says, will help to destroy prejudices against Judaism. Mr. Rockefeller is praised for establishment of the Palestinian Museum of Archeology and for numerous contributions to Jewish causes.

Two women are among twenty-two outstanding persons featured in the list. They are Mrs. Esther Andrews of Brookline, Mass., a member of the council of Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts, and Miss Henrietta Szold, the only American on the Zionist executive committee in Palestine.

One May Die as 'Jenny' Crashes

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Nov. 30. (AP) John T. Kirk, 39 years of age, civilian aviator, was injured probably fatally tonight when his plane crashed 150 feet, while he and a newsreel cameraman were attempting to film an act by a "thrill producer" who rode in a saddle strapped to the fuselage of another plane. Kirk was piloting a "jenny" plane, a type abandoned by the Army some time ago.

Nebraska Will Support Norris

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. NEW PUBLIC DOMAIN BILL TO BE OFFERED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—In the belief that the retention of millions of acres of land by the Federal government is a deterrent to the development of the West, Representative Winter, Republican, Wyoming, today announced he plans to introduce a bill in the new Congress to have the public domain become the property of the States.

MEXICO GETTING RIGID DIAGNOSIS

Morrow Determined to Find Solution of Problems

American Specialists Study Outstanding Questions

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) The Mexican question is being investigated by the American Embassy here as no other Latin-American question has been investigated, with the object of knowing every factor that enters into it, not only from the American point of view but from the Mexican. When the investigation is completed the United States government will have presented in detail everything bearing on the various controversies between Washington and the Mexican government.

The investigations are being carried on by specialists. Each is going to headquarters here for his information and when he has obtained it he correlates it, studies it and gets all possible side lights on it. One investigator is studying the agrarian question from the coming of the Spaniards throughout the viceregal times to the overthrow of Spanish power and from then on through the period of independence to the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz. How the new land laws have worked out in the past and are still working together with their bearing on the question of American properties which have been taken under the agrarian laws, is being studied by the American investigators.

MORROW ACTIVE

The Mexican point of view is sought always, so that the American government may proceed intelligently in the work of seeking a solution of impending differences. The most active man in this investigation is Ambassador Morrow, who is different from any previous American Ambassador here in that he seems determined to make a thorough study of every question of an international nature.

To find solutions for international questions he considers it absolutely necessary to understand Mexico's internal troubles and points of view on all questions related directly or remotely to American-Mexican international differences. To this end he has sought and obtained conferences with President Calles, who seems inspired with the feeling that Mr. Morrow has come to Mexico not to flourish the big stick but to understand Mexico's problems. For this reason the Mexican government has shown an interest in furnishing Ambassador Morrow and the American investigators here every facility for studying all questions by first-hand investigations.

LABOR QUESTION STUDIED

Trained representatives of the American Presidential office are also studying the labor question in relation to American concerns; education with all its ramifications, its growth under Porfirio Diaz and its change of front since the establishment of the Constitution of 1917.

Trade and commerce in their international aspect also are being carefully studied so that complete reports may be made on them as a guide to investors in Mexico. This requires careful consideration of all the laws which have hampered trade for the last ten years.

Banking, banking laws and agrarian and other credits also come in for most careful consideration. This study is necessary in view of the fact that Mexico, if its vast program of regeneration is carried out, must necessarily come into the market for a large national loan.

Young Girl Flies Plane All Alone

KANKAKEE (Ill.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Cozette Parker, 13 years of age, of Anderson, Ind., dropped in for a visit with her grandfather today, completing her first distance solo flight in an airplane.

The girl, a freshman of the Anderson High School, is of a family of flyers. Her parents have been aviators for twenty years. Parnam, a brother, 15, piloted a plane from Anderson to Washington when he was 13, and even Bobby, who is only 12, can maneuver a "stick." Bobby, however, has not been permitted to fly alone.

Boys Spanked on Court Order

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (AP)—The old-fashioned hickory stick and the even more ancient palm-power spanking has found an ardent advocate.

At Springfield Magistrate Bierman fined four boys $8.35 each for bullying another lad. He remitted the fines with the proviso that the boys' fathers spank their offspring. The fathers adjourned with their sons to the court corridors and the unison spanking was described as a success, there being only four dissenting votes.

Cholera Kills Two Thousand

CALCUTTA, Nov 30. (AP)—A cholera epidemic is sweeping Bengal. Three thousand seven hundred and three cases, with 2139 deaths, have been reported from all parts of the province with the exception of Calcutta for the week ended the 19th inst.

It is estimated here that if the epidemic follows the ordinary course it will increase 50 per cent in December.

COUNT UPHELD IN GAS DAMAGE SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (AP)—The State Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the Los Angeles Superior Court here today when it declared nonsuit the $25,000 damage action filed by Mrs. Helen L. Brengle and her daughter, Betty L. Brengle of Glendale, against the Southern California Gas Company and Robert Steen and Company, for the death of Selby T. Brengle, husband and father of the plaintiffs. It was asserted that the defendants were guilty of negligence in permitting gas to escape in a Glendale accessory store, bringing death to Brengle.

SIX DIG FOR BURIED MILLIONS

Will Discovered in Old Prayer Book, Written by French Count de Savary in 1822, Leads Business Men to Dissipate Their Fortunes

PARIS, Nov. 30. (AP)—Six business men are living in the woods, digging at night and spending their modest fortunes in a search for an elusive fortune of $10,000,000. Buried treasure is the answer.

M. Martin, a traveling salesman, bought a prayer book at a sale and found a hidden will of the Comte De Savary in the cover. The will was written, it said, in 1822, when the Comte De Savary was in prison.

Martin and a friend spent much money in digging operations around the old chateau of the Count at Marthhille, a village near Pont-a-Mousson in the region of Nancy.

A shirt manufacturer, M. Bomieu, N. Fidel, former Mayor of Pont-a-Mousson, and two others were added to the treasure hunt to strengthen its financial resources.

Later a "diviner," Ringere, supposedly able to locate wells, mines and other treasures with his animated sticks, was utilized but the treasure has remained mythical.

The organization plans extensive excavations in the spring, for all the members are satisfied that the treasure is buried.

Edison to Push Rubber Quest

FORT MYERS (Fla.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Further research into America's rubber-growing possibilities is planned by Thomas A. Edison, who will bring a crew of ten chemists and laboratory workers here early in January when he arrives for his customary winter visit.

W. A. Benney, superintendent of the Edison Botanic Research Laboratories at East Orange, N. J., made this announcement on his arrival yesterday and stated that equipment now is en route to be set up in a laboratory here.

Poison Victim Dies at Napa State Hospital

NAPA, Nov. 30. (AP)—Kathleen Jackson, Oakland stenographer, died at the Napa State Hospital for the insane here late today as the result of poison taken while awaiting deportation to Canada. The poison dose was taken the 19th inst., while the woman was a mental case at Alameda county's new $3,500,000 Highland Hospital. Miss Jackson is said to have made two suicide attempts with poison left within her reach.

Transfer of Miss Jackson to Napa while she was suffering from the effects of the poison was one of the acts of hospital authorities that led to an official investigation of charges that mistreatment and abuse of patients took place at the county institution.

OAKLAND, Nov. 30. (AP) — Earl Warren, District Attorney of Alameda county, today announced that he will ask further investigation of charges of brutality and mistreatment of patients in Highland Hospital.

Washington Heads South for Trojan Battle

KIENHOLZ REPLACES EXENDINE AT OCCIDENTAL

HUSKIES LEAVE FOR GAME HERE

Coach Bagshaw and Team Arrive Tomorrow

Will Meet Trojans in First Tilt at Coliseum

BY BRAVEN DYER

Making their initial invasion of Southern California territory, the Huskies of Washington left Seattle last night and will arrive here tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Enoch Bagshaw will take his athletes to the Ambassador Hotel for their meals and shutteye while in this city.

Washington has never played the Trojans in Los Angeles. The only time the two teams met was at Seattle in 1926, when "Nibs" Price's mammoth woodsmen spread the Trojans all over the field and sent them back home on the short end of a 23-to-0 score. This calamity was a terrible shock to all loyal Trojan rooters and many have not recovered to this day.

Although the Huskies have never encountered Southern California down here Bagshaw has twice led his gridders into this region for important games. On January 1, 1924, Washington played the Navy a 14-to-14 tie at Pasadena. Two years later the Huskies returned and dropped a 20-to-19 game to Wallace Wade's famous Crimson Tide from Alabama.

City Loop's Ancient Rivals in Annual Battle

BY BOB RAY

Beating the initial display of Mr. H. Ford's new "car," not a flivver, mind you, by a day, the Polytechnic and L. A. High football machines will be put on joint exhibition this afternoon at the Coliseum in the annual grid mix-up between the City League's best known rivals. The game, which is scheduled to start promptly at 2:30 o'clock, figures to be a hard-fought affair for the Romans and Mechanics, on the strength of their records for the season, stack up as a couple of evenly matched elevens.

Both teams have been defeated but once this year, Vic Kelley's Hollywood champions turning back Poly, 12 to 6 in the first game of the season, and L. A., 19 to 0, last Thursday. The Mechanics also have a scoreless tie game with Lincoln to mar their escutcheon. The Romans nosed out Lincoln, 12 to 6, but otherwise the records of today's rivals are about on a fifty-fifty basis.

FROSH MENTOR GETS NEW JOB

Oxy Selects Man to Handle Faculty Position

Change Carries Out Bengal Idea of Appointments

Former Coach Complimented for Fine Work

Edgar Kienholz was named to succeed Albert Exendine as head football coach at Occidental College in an official statement issued yesterday afternoon by Acting President Robert Cleland.

In making the appointment, President Cleland commended Coach Exendine both on his conduct and knowledge of football, but at the same time stated that Oxy has always had in mind a mentor who would assume the duties of director of physical education. As Kienholz has been a member of the Occidental faculty for the past two years in that capacity and handled varsity basketball and freshman football as well, his appointment was assured as soon as the board of athletic control decided not to retain Exendine, whose two year contract was up. Kienholz was the only man considered for the vacant position.

The showing made by Occidental football teams during the past two years had nothing to do with Exendine's removal, according to higher-ups in Occidental's officialdom. The board of athletic control has purposely kept from giving contracts for a period of greater than two years in an attempt to find a man who could successfully handle both jobs. A couple of years ago, Oxy refused to renew a coach's contract after he had won a conference football championship, which would seem to bear out that statement.

Coach Kienholz was not given a contract, but will simply add the duties of football coach to those he is already carrying.

The new Oxy football coach is well known in Southern California football circles. He gained his first fame at Long Beach High, when the Jackrabbits were wiping up this section of the State. Later he coached at the Santa Clara University, transferring from there to Occidental.

While a Bengal coach, Kien-

GRIFFITH PASSES BUCK

Field Judge Says He Thought Disputed Play Was Safety But Schommer Made Ruling Anyway

BY PAUL LOWRY

The controversy pot over the disputed play in the third quarter of the Notre Dame-Southern California game at Chicago last Saturday is still boiling.

"Pinky" Griffith, field judge in the game, yesterday passed the buck right back to John Schommer, the umpire, after reading the latter's statement from Chicago in which he was quoted as saying that he ruled on the play as a result of a decision by Griffith as to possession and control of the ball by Riley, the Notre Dame safety man.

"Schommer's statement is appleasaunce," said Griffith, who lives in Pasadena and is a former Iowa man.

"Schommer is the only man who ruled on the play. If I had been asked for an opinion I would have called the play a safety."

ASKS THREE QUESTIONS

In order to clear up the point Griffith yesterday said he would like to ask Schommer these three questions:

"(1.) If Griffith was in a better position to see the play why did Schommer volunteer his opinion without consultation with the other officials?

"(2.) If Griffith made the decision why did Capt. Drury of the Trojans appeal to Schommer for an explanation of reasons for his decision?

"(3.) If Schommer's view was obliterated as stated in this morning's paper why did he hasten to give his decision on the play in question?"

Griffith said it looked to him as if Schommer was covering up because he was the only man who was given

YALE NOT YET SURE OF COACH

Leader Suggested to Take Over Football Job After Jones Leaves

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Selection of a football coach at Yale to succeed T. A. D. Jones, whose contract has expired, has not been considered by the Yale Athletic Association in any way, it was stated with authority today in answer to reports that had come here that Ed Leader, rowing coach, might become football coach.

It was stated that many reports of prospective candidates for the coaching position have come here, most of them linked with names of coaches at other universities. The novelty about the Ed Leader report is that he is already at Yale. Despite this fact, there has been no hesitancy on the part of those close to football in saying that it has become almost a tradition at Yale to select a coach who has been identified with the Yale development of the sport by Yale men.

It was said also that there was no

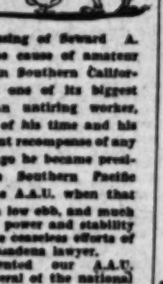
RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY



IN THE passing of Seward A. Simons the cause of amateur athletics in Southern California has lost one of its biggest boosters. An untiring worker, Simons gave of his time and his talents without recompense of any sort. Years ago he became president of the Southern Pacific branch of the A.A.U. when that body was at a low ebb, and much of its present power and stability are due to the ceaseless efforts of the former Pasadena lawyer.

He represented our A.A.U. branch at several of the national conventions, and was a member of the Olympic committee in 1912. He was head of the Southern California Football Association until illness forced his retirement, and his judgment and vision were respected so highly by coaches of the Southern California Conference that they accepted his appointment of officials for their games without question. He was chairman of the football committee of the Tournament of Roses Association for several years, and his biggest achievement was in persuading Harvard to come to the Coast for a New Year's Day game with Oregon in 1920.

These are just a few high lights in the life of a man who gave much to amateur athletics. There are many others that could be chronicled. The sport world will miss him because he did much for the sport world in Southern California. The S.P.A.A.U. will miss him because he took it by the hand and led it until it could walk by itself. His friends will miss him because he was a friend to all, and mixed dignity with kindliness and helpfulness and a solomonesque wisdom. He was a man among men—all man. I

A suggestion that Pacific Coast Conference football teams confine their activities to the conference in the future will be made by the University of Washington at the next meeting in Portland on December 8, 9 and 10, according to Graduate Manager Darwin Meisnest of the Seattle institution, who arrived here yesterday for the Husky-Trojan football clash Saturday.

Meisnest stated yesterday that Washington is eager to play seven conference games next season if other Coast institutions in the conference would do likewise.

"Why not an all-conference schedule for the teams," Meisnest asked. "The University of Wash-

GOLFERS TO TOUR BY PLANE

Pro Stars Will Travel by Air Route to Stir Up Interest in Tourney

An aerial golf tour of California, arranged by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce in the interests of the Los Angeles $10,000 open golf championship at the Wilshire Country Club, January 6-8, will leave Los Angeles next Tuesday morning at 9:30.

Wild Bill Melhorn, taking to the air for the first time, and Leo Diegel, former Canadian open champion, are the professional golfers who will make the trip. The plane, turned over to the chamber by its designer and builder, George Prudden of San Diego, is an all-metal, three-motored monoplane, and is the very latest word in luxury in the air. Everett Grubb, president of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber; George Prudden, owner of the plane; Darsie L. Darsie, director of publicity for the $10,000 open tournament, and pilot and mechanician will make up the complete party.

IRISH STARS MAY PLAY 'ON ALL-EASTERN TEAM

WASHINGTON (Pa.) Nov. 30.—At least one Notre Dame star and probably two, will join Andy Kerr's all-eastern football team that will play an all-western team at Kezar stadium, San Francisco, on Monday, December 26.

Kerr had a telegram today from Knute Rockne in which he said that Capt. Smith, the stellar guard of the Irish, was willing to make the trip to the Coast and Kerr is expecting his formal acceptance any time. Flanagan, the Notre Dame backfield luminary Rockne wired would like to play at San Francisco but his mother is ill in Texas and he may be forced to make a trip to his home in which event he will decline the invitation.

Kerr today received the acceptance of Claude Grigsby, Georgetown center, but the southern player said he would not be able to be at Chicago on December 15, the assembling date. Kerr said he hoped to have Grigsby reconsider as it would be impossible to take him unless he could join the remainder of the squad at the appointed time. Kerr has not yet received the acceptance of Jack Horner, the New York University quarterback, but expects it by tomorrow. Dwight Fishwick, Yale end, is to let Kerr know by tomorrow whether he can go.

HARVARD MAY PLAY MICHIGAN

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Harvard may play Michigan in 1929 but so far the university authorities have not even considered the possibility or that of the home-and-home agreement which reports from New York City have declared was all but signed.

William J. Bingham, director of athletics for Harvard, made that announcement today.

"We have done nothing definite about the playing list for 1928," Mr. Bingham said. "The matter of the schedule for that year has not come up between Coach Horween and myself."

ICE HOCKEY SEASON STARTS TONIGHT WITH CHARITY GAME

Los Angeles hockey fans will get the first taste of their favorite dish tonight at the Palais de Glace, when Councilman Douglas E. Foster drops the puck on the ice to start the Richfield Oil Company and Lloyd Cook All-Star teams in the initial 1927-28 season exhibition of the fast winter sport.

Proceeds of the game, which will be a sort of preview to the opening of the California Hockey League season on December 8, will be turned over to the Community Chest.

Both the Richfield squad, under Manager W. H. Cotral, and the Cook aggregation have been training strenuously for the contest and their first-string players will appear on the ice field for the opening whistle. Practice sessions have been held nightly for the past two weeks at the Melrose-avenue rink and the puck chasers are in excellent trim to give attending hockey devotees their money's worth of fast playing, according to the two managers.

San Gabriel Women Golf Today for League Honors; Irsfeld Out of Lakeside Tourney

GREAT MATCHES AT FLINTRIDGE

Mrs. Pressler Leads Charge to Upset Leaders

Armstrong and Cornes Star in Lakeside Affair

Lohman Floats Out of Play With "Floater"

San Gabriel's women golfers will invade Flintridge today and attempt to wrest the sectional leadership in the Auxiliary Team League from Miss Kathleen Wright and her hill-top clubmates.

MRS HARRY PRESSLER

Mrs. Harry Pressler, women's eastern champ, and Mrs. C. W. Cook will give Miss Wright and Margaret Cameron a great battle in the first match of the day, but Flintridge appears to have the edge in second and third-team material but the final result will be interesting.

Another vastly important match will be staged at Rancho, when Los Angeles stages a late-season drive in the golfing effort to collect all nine disputed points from Dr. F. A. Moulton's colorful defenders. California, leading in this sector by a comfortable margin, must meet Los Angeles at Beverly in the final game of the season next week. If Los Angeles can win all three matches from Rancho today then Mrs. Gregg Lifur et al's margin will be cut to four points and the battle royal at Beverly next week could be staged profitably in any fight arena in the world.

Divisional winners will play off for the league championship within the next few weeks. Many teams have already completed their schedule. The complete local card for today is as follows:

FIRST DIVISION

Hillcrest at Brentwood.
Los Angeles at Rancho.

SECOND DIVISION

El Centro at Lakeside.
Bel-Air at Wilshire.

THIRD DIVISION

Annandale at Pasadena.
San Gabriel at Flintridge.

EXCITING MATCHES AT LAKESIDE CLUB

More than the usual number of upsets featured first-round clashes in the President's Cup tournament at Lakeside. James (Jim) Irsfeld, Lakeside executive, qualified well up with the leaders in the medal play but lost all chance to claim the trophy he awards annually by losing his first match to Bruce Bundy, 1 down.

E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong and George Cornes, Lakeside's ranking amateurs, got away to a flying start but competition will get tougher in the future. Wallie Lohman has been playing one of Max Behr's famous "floaters," but unruly nephews pushed the ball all over the course while he was attempting to defeat Dr. Lindsay and the match ended, 4 and 3. Willie Lowe discovered that the ball in question was going just where Wallie hit it—so the breeze theory was discarded, Wallie took a lesson—and yesterday smiled while the handicap committee informed him his future rating had been lowered to eight.

High-handicap players fared exceptionally well throughout the entire first flight. Playing a seventeen-hole layout reduced the low-handicap golfers to get right down and work and the ensuing competition will continue both enjoyable and beneficial.

Warner Gland, returning after a prolonged absence in which he has protrayed nearly every character imaginable before various motion-picture cameras, started working with his game two weeks ago and went out yesterday and defeated Waldo Logan, 2 up, after the hardest kind of a tussle. F. C. Stevens also scored an impressive win, defeating W. H. White, 1 up. Wallie MacDonald took seven lessons last week and was all primed for his first match—then drew a default and Willie Lowe refused any of Wallie's shekels. Long George Trembley spent fifty nights and one day seeing South America last spring and yesterday defeated Ed Kennedy, 1 up in another thrilling encounter.

Second-round matches will be played this week. The defeated thirty-two of the president's cup will continue at match play for the vice-president's trophy and the defeated sixteen of the latter will contest for Sand-flight silverware. President's Cup finals will be thirty-six holes.

FRIDAY NITE 8:30

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

A LOT of new theories about intercollegiate football are due to be advanced in the near future unless we miss our guess. The present-day helter-skelter arrangements by which teams enter a conference with a flock of other teams and then play whom they please is certainly a mess. There is no sense in a conference in which all the members do not meet each other in every sport. Where's your Pacific Coast Conference championship this year? If the Trojans beat Washington on Saturday we'll have the elegant spectacle of a triple tie for the conference title, the tie between Stanford and the Trojans being more or less legitimate because they have met practically the same opponents, but Idaho has just as good a claim, legally, and hasn't met any of the first-class teams.

The vast distinction between the big university and the small college is very plainly brought out by the difference in football coaching systems. Universities of anywhere from 5000 to 10,000 students, like the Trojans and the Bruins, pay coaches enormous salaries just to boss football. Pomona, an institution of less than 1000, has Eugene Nixon, who simply coaches football as part of his job as a regular member of the faculty and he gets no more money than the rest of the professors. Nobody can say that the other system gets better results than Pomona's does. Now Oxy, a school of 600, with Kienholz, will follow the Pomona lead.

Some of the pepper is gone out of the annual Poly-L. A. High game as far as the general public is concerned simply because the teams have both been beaten, but we'll be very much surprised if anybody who sees the boys tangle at the Coliseum this afternoon goes away disappointed. Poly has the more impressive record, but the Romans are a bunch of battlers and are out for revenge for the awful beating the Mechanics handed them a year ago. The game ought to be a pippin.

Dear old Pitt-burgh is not going to face Stanford at Pasadena without a rooting section. John Henry Kunkel, who pays his rent at 701 Spring-Arcade Building, would like to hear from all Pitt alumni in this vicinity in order that something may be done about it. Looks like the Panthers ought to get some cheers; their record certainly warrants it.

ington is against nonconference games, especially those with weak teams," he declared. Meisnest pointed out that it was not necessary for conference teams to go outside of their own back yard for opposition. "Coach Bagshaw is very much against conference teams meeting weak sisters on the gridiron.

NOT AGAINST BIG GAMES

"We are not set against big intersectional games like the U.S.C.-Irish clash or the New Year's Day classic, but we are against conference teams meeting outside pushovers when they could play a heavier conference schedule. Washington played six conference games this year, counting Saturday's affair with U.S.C."

Meisnest said that if the conference teams played only conference outfits from the opening day of the football season on October 8, everybody would benefit. The stronger teams would get more opposition and even if everybody lost a game, it would make the situation healthier for football and the conference, Meisnest believes.

Meisnest declared that it was almost a laughing matter to think that a team could win or tie for the Coast Conference title and only play four conference games. This is the situation in Idaho's case this year. He declared that the smaller conference teams are not to blame. Idaho wanted to play more conference games and could not get them.

Although the Washington conference schedule this year was the heaviest in the loop, Meisnest stated that the Huskies were satisfied and would play at least six games next year and seven if the others did likewise. Washington played six conference games this season against five apiece for Stanford, U.S.C. and California.

WOULD HELP BRUINS

"An all-conference schedule would be a big help to a team like the University of California at Los Angeles, which is just coming into the conference," Meisnest said. "They would meet the best conference teams and it would give them a lot of experience on the gridiron, besides giving them a chance to make some money, the Husky graduate manager declared.

"Coach Bagshaw believes that the only way to learn football is on the gridiron. The little teams like Montana and Idaho should be in favor of the change, Meisnest believes, as they will get a chance to play more games during the season. It will also give the stronger schools stiffer competition and more football games," Meisnest said.

Meisnest believes that the other institutions will join Washington in the move at the next conference meeting. "It seems almost ridiculous that the Schwabacher trophy, which is the prize that is awarded to the conference team winning the championship, should go to a team playing but four conference games," Meisnest stated. This is somewhat the situation in the conference this year, he pointed out. The Husky graduate manager declared that Bagshaw and his team will arrive here tomorrow morning for the U.S.C. game in the Coliseum.

FLINTRIDGE TOURNEY OPENS NEXT TUESDAY

The annual gold ball invitational of the Flintridge Country Club will get under way next Tuesday, when local amateurs with handicaps ranging from nine to eighteen will qualify, eighteen holes, in the yearly classic.

Scratch to eight golfers will medal for match play ratings next Wednesday and the thirty-two low scorers will win places in the gold ball bracket. The sixty-four lowest scores in the higher handicap play will be grouped in the silver ball flight. Matches in both brackets will be at handicap. The affair is open to all golfers, members of clubs affiliated with the Southern California Golf Association. Qualifying play will be in foursomes that may be arranged by entrants. Starting times may be reserved by phoning the Flintridge golf shop this week. A. H. Painter will be in charge of the competition.

OPEN CONTESTANTS MAY PRACTICE AT WILSHIRE

The Wilshire Country Club will be open to entrants in the $10,000 Los Angeles open championship Monday and Friday of each week, it was announced yesterday. The midwinter classic is not due until early next January, but local and visiting dignitaries are already working out for the competition that promises to be the best of this—or any other year. Wilshire is not yet ready for the championship, but the course will be greatly improved before play starts.

Cook will send Tom Carrigan in as goalie for his All-Stars. Bill Phipps and "Lefty" Coumber will appear in the defense positions; Leo Cook at center, and Dave Smith and G. Hill as forwards.

"Chum" Irvin, veteran hockey player of the Canadian leagues, will supplant Councilman Foster as referee before the going gets very rough. Three twenty-minute periods of hockey will be played.

TROUT FISHERMEN HEAD FOR RAINBOW

Trout fishermen seem to be heading for the Rainbow Angling Club these days in ever-increasing numbers. According to Leigh Garnsey, manager of the club, William Camp and wife showed a party of fourteen friends the times of their lives one day last week when they entertained them to a fishing party and a trout fry at one of the numerous outdoor grills.

Garnsey also announces that the fame of the Rainbow-club-reared trout is spreading fast. At the recent opening banquet of the new Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood 700 trout from the club were sent in.

Although the failure of Occidental to renew the contract of Head Coach Albert Exendine is viewed in some quarters as a slap at the Indian mentor because he has not developed a championship team in the two years he has been on the job, this seems to be just a guess by those who want to guess that way.

Two years ago, when Sid Nichols was let out of the coaching berth after his team had a very successful season and the Tigers had beaten Pomona for the first time in many years, it was announced at the time that Occidental was after a man who could install a physical-education department and in addition coach football. Eddie Kienholtz, the freshman football coach, has installed the physical-education department in the two years he has been on the job, and the Tiger authorities are now adding to his duties. He was under consideration for the head coaching job two years ago, so it is not exactly surprising that the Tiger authorities are giving him a shot at the combined berth.

Bill Roper's remarks about the strength of the Southwestern football conference are particularly timely because even as this is being written two Los Angeles universities have plans under way to bring a couple of those tough Texas elevens to this city for games next fall.

The Trojan management has its eyes on Southern Methodist University, which defeated Missouri, 32 to 0, this fall after the Tigers had knocked over Syracuse and boasted in its line-up an all-American quarterback prospect in Gerald Mann. And not to be outdone, U.C.L.A. is figuring on one just as tough in the University of Texas, which won two big intersectional games, one with Vanderbilt, 13 to 6, and the other with the Kansas Aggies, 41 to 7.

EMANUAL, TRENKLE IN CULVER CITY GO

Emmett Ledwith's opening show at Culver City tonight with Armand Emanuel and George Trenkle featuring, promises to draw one of the biggest houses in recent months, with sport notables out in force to see the popular Ledwith make his bow as matchmaker.

Ledwith's supporting card should be the best preliminary program any club has shown recently. Joe Bitto and Eddie Gill will renew the great battle they staged at Hollywood two months ago in the six-round semi-final, and Clyde Colvin and Ernest Bendy, negro heavies, are in the special event over the same distance. A couple of splendid four-rounders will open the show.

CLASH SLATED FOR COLISEUM

Romans and Mechanics Both Set for Struggle

wood's hands will affect the Romans. It may be that Coaches Herb White and Ed Rich will have a tough time getting their athletes keyed up once more, but on the other hand the licking is liable to have made the Romans fighting mad for today's clash.

Although the Romans are not claiming any alibis for their Hollywood defeat, because 19-0 lickings can't be laughed off by any kind of alibis, it must be admitted that the L. A. High outfit wasn't at its best against the Footballers. Due to some slip-up the Roman gridders ate their lunch about an hour before they took the field Thanksgiving Day and that early meal, coupled with extreme heat in the big bowl, tended to upset the stomachs of several athletes. Bud Pozzo, Jimmy Owens and a couple of other athletes are known to have become sick during the game, and you know how far sick athletes can go on the gridiron, especially against the Hollywood eleven of this season.

We're not saying that L. A. High might have beaten Hollywood had some of the Romans not been sick, because we believe that the Footballers were a much better team, but we do say that the Blue and White squad's showing on Thanksgiving Day was no criterion of the team's true form. Therefore, the Mechanics figure to be up against a much tougher L. A. High outfit than that which played Hollywood.

Coach Voyle Brennen's Mechanics, after a start that was disappointing because of a lack of offense, seem to have found themselves in the Manual, Jefferson and Franklin games, which they won by more or less convincing margins.

L. A. LINE ON OFFENSE

The way we size up the two outfits today L. A. High boasts the better forward wall on offense, but the Mechanic line is much tougher to make ground through. The Romans have a good attack inside the tackles and that's where they figure to make most of their yardage today. Getting around Capt. Clark and Kiefel, the Poly tackles, and Brennan and Price, the ends, is a tough undertaking and the Romans will probably find it so today.

On the other hand, the L. A. High tackles and ends don't seem to be as tough as the middle of the line and the Mechanics will center their attack at these spots. Brennen's elevens have always been known for their off-tackle smashes and short end runs, and the Mechanics can be counted on to do most of their driving there this afternoon.

In the backfields the Mechanics might be given a bit of an edge because of the presence of Fred Furtsch, the Mechanic mystery man. Furtsch, a demon open-field runner, a good interference runner, and a tower of strength on offense, has scored seven touchdowns in his last three games and is the leading scorer in the City League. Furtsch will be a marked man in today's clash.

OWENS IS OUTSTANDING

Jimmy Owens and Bob Beaver are the outstanding L. A. High backs. Owens is the fastest of the Roman backs, a shifty open-field runner and a good punter. Beaver is a driving type of back and is generally used to bang inside the tackles. Phil Wilson, Grossman, Getz and Hunt are the other first-string Roman backfield men and any combination of four out of the six is liable to start today.

If you want to pick out some athletes to watch today, we advise you to look over Furtsch, Young, Owens, Beaver, Pozzo, Clark, Levy, Kiefel and Brosnan.

Both teams figure to be keyed up to the highest pitch for this is their "big game" and the one they've been pointing to all season. The admission will be 50 cents.

Runolathe is Turf Victor

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, Nov. 30. Runolathe won the Calexico claiming handicap, feature race, here this afternoon, but officially finished last for the horse was placed there by the stewards in the first disqualification of the meeting.

Jockey Pendergras who had the mount on Harry H. Bell, which was beaten by a nose for the purse, protested the race, asserting Apprentice C. Lindseth had interfered with him. The stewards called Lindseth into the stand and he admitted the interference. He lost a stirrup at the sixteenth pole and in reaching down to regain it, touched Pendergras, he said. On the admission Francis Nelson, presiding steward, placed Runolathe last. Lindseth was set down indefinitely, but it is believed the suspension will be short.

With Harry H. Bell getting the purse, the place went to Miss Alma with Glenister II getting the show. Time for the six furlongs was 1:13 3-5. Results:

First race, six furlongs—St. Nicholas (Herring,) won; Fulton Mc (Lichey,) second; Singapore (Robertson,) third. Time, 1:14 4-5.

Second race, mile and 70 yards—Cirenna (Salas,) won; Air Castle (Kerr,) second; Shapard (Pollard,) third. Time, 1:47 4-5.

Third race, mile and 70 yards—Minister (Dupuccia,) won; Patriarch (H. Philbut,) second; Workman (Lindseth,) third. Time, 1:45 3-5.

Fourth race, five furlongs—Blue Rose (Grove,) won; Maximum (Pendergras,) second; Frank Light (D. Barnes,) third. Time, 1:01 4-5.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Runolathe (Lindseth,) won; Harry H. Bell (Pendergras,) second; Miss Alma (Dell,) third. Time, 1:13 3-5.

Sixth race, mile and 70 yards—Golden Sunny (Critchfield,) won; Shasta Donna (Herring,) second; Prairie (Richards,) third. Time, 1:46 1-5.

Seventh race, six furlongs—Starling (Russell,) won; Jessie Belle (Francis,) second; Dexter (Ballantine, Idaho) third. Time, 1:14 2-5.

Eighth race, six furlongs—Don K. (Lindseth,) won; Better Luck (Ingelson,) second; Thrave (H. Philips,) third. Time, 1:13 3-5.

GREAT GALAXY OF GRID STARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (AP)—When Coach Orin E. "Babe" Hollingberry lines up his squad of western players here next month to begin practice for the annual East-West charity game December 25, he will have some of the greatest stars on this side of the Rockies to pick a team from.

Hollingberry, also head coach at Washington State College, declined to give out a prospective line-up until the squad assembles here December 12. He will, however, probably have the following to select from.

Fullbacks—Wilson, Washington.

Halfbacks—Kaer, Southern California; Kutsch, Iowa; Casanova, Santa Clara; Hunt, Texas Aggies; Gilmore, Army.

Quarterbacks — Mosher, Washington State; Mann, Southern Methodist (Texas.)

a chance to rule on the play. Griffith's statement is at utter variance with that of Schommer's published yesterday.

"I was prepared to call the play a safety, but was not asked for an opinion," the field judge said.

"I was following the play, but Schommer took charge of the situation immediately, and announced that it was a touchback because the Notre Dame man did not have possession of the ball.

SWALLOWED PROTEST

"I swallowed my protest, and said nothing. Varnell and Eckersall also were still, although Eckersall was in a position to see the play.

"So was Schommer. I was the man to the rear of the play, not Schommer.

"When he caught the ball Riley was faced toward the Notre Dame goal and he turned and made a circle to the left, running parallel to Schommer and directly toward Eckersall.

"It looked to me as if Riley caught the ball over his head and brought it down directly in front of his face. I saw the play from the rear. Riley's back was to me.

"I wish now I had called the play a safety and then let the officials as a whole fight it out.

"You know, that is the way we do things here on the Coast. It is the custom to render close decisions only after consultation of the group of four officials.

"They say Schommer is the best man in the Midwest, but he took the bull by the horns many times in that game. He is very hot-headed and he acted like a czar although he was the umpire and Varnell the referee."

FOP WARNER SAYS PLAY LOOKED LIKE SAFETY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Glenn Scobey Warner, Stanford coach, believes that the disputed play which cost Southern California victory over Notre Dame should have been called a safety, not a touchback. A safety would have given Southern California an 8-7 win instead of a 7-6 defeat.

Asked his opinion on arrival home today from Chicago, where he attended the game, Warner said as he saw the play it should have been ruled a safety. He said that Riley, Notre Dame quarterback, intercepted the pass about two yards from his own goal line and started running parallel to the line. After covering about five yards he was hit by a Southern California tackler and dropped the ball. It rolled over Notre Dame's goal line and was recovered by a Southern California man. Warner's opinion is that Riley had possession and control of the ball and that it was a knock down and there fore incomplete forward pass as finally ruled.

DODE BERCOT WINS BOUT

BARRON TO MEET BURKE IN OLYMPIC SEMIFINAL

Dario Barron and Billy Burke were signed yesterday to box the semi-wind-up to the Vince Dundee-Baby Joe Gans main event at the Olympic next Tuesday night. They will meet at the junior lightweight limit.

Dundee and Gans are both working at the Manhattan gymnasium. Kid Herman, staf Jewish lightweight of 1926, is handling the younger brother of the welter champion for the bout. The weight is 143 pounds.

Gans has come back with a vengeance since he made a mediocre showing with Jackie Fields and won five straight fights, stopping Charley Feraci last week at San Diego.

Both Gans and Dundee are high-powered withers. Dundee has lost one decision in seventy-five fights, while Gans has won ninety-two battles in ninety-seven fights. Andy Divodi, whom Mushy Callahan stopped, was given a close decision over the Baltimore boy.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams has signed the rematch between Sandy Garrison and Ben Golden for the special event. A few weeks ago Golden, rated a green beginner, knocked out the highly touted Garrison at Culver City. It was the first fight Garrison ever lost.

The two fours are Dick Chang, Chinese flyweight, and Louis Contreras, with Archie Jackson paired with Evans Fortune in the curtain bout.

Dundee hopes to beat Gans and then try to get Ace Hudkins to meet him. Jackie Fields also has his hat in the ring for a Dundee bout.

KIENHOLZ GETS OXY JOB

holz has turned in a fine record. Last year he produced a Southern Conference fresh football championship eleven, and had consistent results with his basketball teams. This year the Oxy team rated to win the title or win a game, but made some kind of a record when they scored on every team played, including three touchdowns on the Pomona freegrooters in the final game of the season. As the Sagechens had not been scored on until that game, the Bengal feat was considered exceptional.

Kienholz will have the nucleus for a fine football team next season, although several stars will be lost by graduation. The mainstays of the Bengal machine will be his former frosh champs which should make it fairly easy to get his system installed in short order.

The complete statement as prepared by the Occidental College board of athletic control is as follows:

In conformity with a plan of organization toward which Occidental College has been directing its efforts for several years and under which the position of head football coach would be filled by a regular member of the faculty, Mr. Edgar S. Kienholtz will from this time on be given complete charge of football at Occidental College. He will assume the duties incident to this position in addition to those which he has carried on during the past few years as director of physical education.

The appointment of Mr. Kienholz is made without prejudice to Mr. A. A. Standlee, who has coached the varsity football team for the past two seasons and whose contract has now expired. The college wishes to take this opportunity to commend Mr. Standlee not only for his excellent knowledge of football but also for his gentlemanly conduct on the field.

Inasmuch as Mr. Kienholz has been a member of the faculty of Occidental College for two years and is merely adding the duties of head football coach to his other activities no new contract is involved in this appointment nor is the latter made for any specified time. Mr. Kienholz will make public the names of his assistants in handling both varsity and freshman squads at a later date. It is proper to add that no other person was at any time considered by the board of athletic control for this position.

HUNTERS IN DRIVE ON QUAIL

California Nimrods Start Quest for Game Birds in State This Morning

The 1927 quail season will open this morning throughout the State and should prove to be one of the best in years. Pete Peterson, hunting authority at the Dyas Company declared yesterday that he looked for a bigger crowd out in the foothills and field than has ever been out on an opening of a quail season in Southern California.

Dyas's are offering a case of Peters high-velocity shells to the hunter who reaches the Olive-street entrance of their store this morning with the first limit of quail.

"From what little I have been out, the quail are very plentiful this year," said Peterson. "There will be a lot of game for the boys in most of the old-time locations, but the San Fernando Valley will not offer good shooting any more.

"The hunters will find that mountain quail are harder to get than the desert and valley species. Shooters will have to go to the high altitudes for the mountain birds. Shooters seem to remember also that ten birds a day is the limit on mountain birds and fifteen for desert and valley quail.

"This year the quail season is open only during the month of December. For several seasons the quail have been pretty well protected with short seasons and those seasons opening late or about the time of year when the rainy season sets in and rainy weather is a poor time to hunt quail."

Individual Stars to Feature California-Pennsylvania Intersectional Clash

COLTRIN FACES EASTERN STAR

Hake Rated as Great Tackle by Experts

Capacity Crowd Expected for East-West Battle

BERKELEY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Honors will be at stake on December 31 when the University of California and University of Pennsylvania football elevens meet in the Memorial Stadium for their second battle, but the expected capacity crowd will never believe witness some of the best individual players in the country. Pennsylvania's starring delegation is headed by Ted Hake, already named on several dozens as tackle. He is conceded by many critics to rate as the East's leading tackle. Hake will find an all-Pacific Coast opponent in Capt. Fritz Coltrin of the Bears, who has even been given mention as a potential all-American.

CAPT. COLTRIN

History may repeat itself to a certain extent when it is a question of Hake versus Coltrin. In 1924 the late Walter Camp selected Boeringer of the Army as all-American center in preference to Babe Horrell, captain of the 1924 Bear eleven. Horrell was shoved over to guard in order to be kept on the all-American squad. The next year Boeringer came West to play in the Shriners' East-West game in San Francisco. Horrell played opposite Boeringer, and, according to critical opinion, the outcome was badly outclassed. Whether Coltrin will have the same good fortune as his predecessor, remains to be determined.

Other starring talent will come to the Coast with Coach Lou Young in the persons of the Scull brothers, Fred, the halfback in the combination, and Percell, an end. To offset the Scull boys, Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price will offer up Irving Phillips, captain-elect of the 1928 varsity, and prominently considered as an all-American end, and Jim Dougery, who has played steady football at left end that some of Price's ambitious wingmen have been able to oust him throughout the entire season.

HUSKIES HEAD HERE FOR TILT

rama, but managed to make a fine showing in each battle. Had George Wilson been able to wiek to his guns in the Alabama affair the result might have been different. But George was knocked out and the Crimson Tide flowed all over the field while the great Wilson languished on the sidelines.

None of the Trojans has ever encountered Washington's famous pile-driving attack and the Huskies in turn have never gone up against Howard Jones's mystifying shifts and his celebrated interference. It would seem logical therefore that an open style of play should prevail Saturday, were it not for the fact that Washington has shown great defensive power against such strong teams as Stanford and California.

Jones will probably employ a seven-man line against the Huskies, because the meaty Washington backs do most of their running from punt formation. Such 200-pound beauties as Louis Tsoreau and Chuck Carroll generate tremendous power from this formation and the Trojans will need all their line strength if Washington's attack is to be stopped.

JONES TALKS TO TROJANS

Jones gave his boys a spirited heart-to-heart talk yesterday afternoon in which he stated that unless their mental attitude changes Washington will walk off with the Swift's Premium Saturday and thus knock the Trojans out of a tie for the Pacific Coast championship. Washington has lost but one game and will rate higher than Southern California if victorious Saturday.

The Spartans, under Lee Calland's coaching, employed Washington's plays against the varsity last night. Big George Williamson, a fine passer, had some success crashing the Trojan line, which means that Tsoreau and Carroll can do it also.

Cecil Roff seems destined to start in place of Al Schoving at right tackle for Southern California Saturday. Roff is big and strong and Jones figures he will need both men in that position before the game is over.

Harry Edelson will open up at fullback, with Don Moses ready in case of an emergency.

Rocky Kemp's foot, which bothered him while en route East, is still ailing and the San Diego boy did not appear in a suit yesterday afternoon. This leaves only Howard Elliott as an understudy for Capt. Morley Drury. If anything goes wrong with Drury the Trojans will find themselves in a tight fix.

HUSKIES OFF FOR LOS ANGELES

SEATTLE, Nov. 30. (AP)—The University of Washington football team left here tonight on a special train for Los Angeles to meet Coach Howard Jones's Trojans Saturday.

Thirty-three players and Coach Enoch Bagshaw, three assistant coaches, a number of other functionaries, and several score rooters are making the trip.

THIRD EDITION OF DEMPSEY, TUNNEY ACT LOOMS UP AGAIN

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—So far at least, the latest of the winter heavyweight "eliminations" show no signs of breaking up the prospects for the third edition of the Dempsey-Tunney championship feud in 1928.

GENE TUNNEY

No menacing gestures are being made by any of the new figures in the tournament, such as Phil Scott of England, while some of the veterans of the elimination game seem to be a little the worse for wear.

Too many flip flops sprained Paolino's back and kept him out of a prospective match with Scott, resulting in no little annoyance to Scott as well as the Spaniard. Knute Hansen, substituting for Paolino, knocked out Scott in one round while Paolino, on his return to action last week was outpointed by the Cleveland "Rubber-man," Johnny Risko.

Jack Sharkey, a semifinalist last year, is out of action temporarily with an injured finger that forced postponement of a match with Tom Heeney. These two are slated to meet in January in what may turn out to be one of the most important eliminations of the lot. Heeney has impressed critics with his rapid development since first appearing here a year ago. The rugged New Zealander is expected to give Sharkey's severe comeback test.

Despite all the pressure that may be brought to bear upon him, "Ted" Jones, Yale's football coach, is expected to stick to his determination to hand over the reins to someone else for next season and retire to his coal business in New Haven. In such case it will not be surprising to many Yale men if Marvin Stevens, now a backfield coach, is given the main job. Stevens is considered to be Jones's "right-hand man" and the choice of the veteran head coach if the mantle is to fall on a present member of the tutoring staff.

It seems definitely settled that the only thing that severed Ty Cobb's connection with the Athletics was Connie Mack's pocket book. The Georgia Peach hit the ball hard, stole several bases and fielded well enough in the Philadelphia uniform. Connie Mack has said emphatically that there was never a rift between him and his star during the season.

In spring training the Philadelphia manager said Tyrus would be worth his salary if he did not play fifty games. "He will be an inspiration to the other players," said the tall tutor. "When he goes out to do something the other fellows will know that there is a man in action who knows all there is to know about playing baseball as it should be played."

NO OFFICIAL CHARGES TO BE FILED AGAINST STAR MERMAID

Although Coach Frank Holborow and the Royal Palms Club feel that Lillie Mae Bowmer, 50-yard world-record holder, violated A.A.U. regulations in leaving their team when she moved to Honolulu, no official charges will be brought against the star, it was learned yesterday.

"As The Times stated Sunday, Miss Bowmer departed without officially notifying me of her intention to leave the Royal Palms Club," Holborow said yesterday. "However, neither the club nor I want to do anything to harm her swimming career and we have decided to forget the matter. The Royal Palms Club will prefer no charges in any way against her and we wish her all the luck in the world. In this wish, we are joined by all her former team-mates. If she ever comes back to the Coast, we will be glad to have her on the team again. We believe this is the proper attitude for us to take in endeavoring to follow out a policy of good sportsmanship."

Miss Bowmer, who came here from Honolulu two years ago and, under Holborow's guidance became one of the country's outstanding swim stars, sailed last Saturday for Hawaii on the Lassco liner Calawaii, accompanied by her husband, Gordin May. She admitted to ship news reporters that she was permanently moving to the islands, but said she felt Holborow had been duly notified that she was leaving the team.

Coach Holborow is busily engaged in developing other swimmers to take his former star's place. Marjorie Lowe and Dorothy Moriarty show exceptional promise of becoming stars of national caliber, while Cecily Cuinha soon will return from her swimming invasion of the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Cunha went out to the islands a month ago to train in Waikiki waters for the forthcoming Olympics and to compete with the famous island swimmers.

GALLERY AND HOLMAN LOSE IN DOUBLES SQUASH MATCH

Morton Klein and Wilson Jones of the University Club became established favorites in the national senior A.A.U. squash doubles tournament being held at the Hollywood Athletic Club, when they won two straight games from Bill Holman and Tom Gallery of the movie city club. Gallery and Holman were expected to win from the visitors, and their defeat was quite an upset. Klein and Jones will get a chance to prove their championship caliber again this afternoon, when they meet George L. Eastman and Bert Hartwell in the semifinals of the lower bracket. The latter two squash players originated the game of squash and were the club champions in 1924.

Eastman is national chairman of squash and president of the Hollywood Athletic Club. This is the first time he has entered active competition in several years. He was Southern California singles champion in 1924.

Dan Jones, senior singles champion, and Kent Redwine will meet O'Brien and Schroeder of Pasadena in another feature match. Squash teams enter the quarter-finals this afternoon and the hottest games of the tournament are slated to be played tomorrow.

Here are yesterday's results:
Klastter and Cooper defeated Henderson and Drake, 21-16, 21-17.
Shanbhitzer and Hillyard defeated Sills and Pritchard, 12-17, 21-15, 21-13.
Klein and Jones defeated Holman and Gallery, 21-15, 21-12.
Albright and Wilson defeated Mullen and Ashley, 21-18, 21-13.
Jones and Sebring defeated Pratt and McWilliams, 21-12, 21-17.

BEAR CAGERS FINISH FINAL PRACTICE FOR WASEDA TILT

BERKELEY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Varsity basketball practice at the University of California, as it affects the impending contest with the University of Waseda, of Japan, on December 29, is now entering into its final rounds. Two more gatherings for the basketball players, tomorrow and Friday evenings, and all practice will be done with until the final examination period has concluded.

Coach "Nap" Houvenin, a star with the California quintet in 1924 and at present batting for Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price as the latter grooms the football varsity for Pennsylvania, is confronted with the problem of developing a strong team while minus the services of five regulars, who are still out for football.

Houvenin will conduct the Bears into their first match of a fifteen-game schedule against the Nipponese. On the evening that the Waseda players are encountered California will be without the expert assistance of Capt. Jim Dougery, Lee Elsan, Paul "Dutch" Clymer, Verne Corbin and Ralph Dougery. The California quintet on that occasion will be comprised of players selected from among the following: Basil Peterson, Wilson Tripp, centers; Lane, Gregory Bradley, guards; Bennie Rucker, Whitey Wyatt, forwards, and a number of other players newly introduced to the varsity as tranfers from other schools and as frosh last season.

DEMPSEY ARRIVES HOME

Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champion, arrived home yesterday after several weeks in the East devoted to the suit for $333,333.33 which Jack Kearns, his former manager, brought against him.

The case was thrown out of court on a nonsuit, and Dempsey believes the matter is settled for good. He reiterated a former declaration that Kearns hasn't a leg to stand on in winning the case.

Dempsey has no immediate plans for the future. He will do no training until spring, when he expects to engage in another warm-up bout like he did this year for a return engagement with the champion, Gene Tunney.

Jones's successor and there had been no evidence from Yale alumni that they desire the board of athletic control to go outside of Yale alumni in recommending a choice.

HOOD MEETS RUNYON IN PASADENA ARENA

Ernie Hood, "home-town favorite" of Pasadena, will have a tough engagement tonight in his home-town ring, when he meets Demon Runyon of Portland in the ten-round main event at the Pasadena Arena.

A lot of interest also attaches to the six-round semi-wind-up, when a couple of welters, both popular at the Arena, will bat each other around —Harry (Bubber) Johnson and Billy (Red) Wells.

The four-round special will bring Don Kennedy, premiere Pasadena bantam, and former Southern California amateur champion, up against a worthy opponent in Wellington O'Connor. Four-round preliminaries will be: Jim Vezzene vs. Bud Forrester, 130 pounds; Oscar Sefunte vs. Earl Caustin, 170 pounds.

GROSS STOPS SMITH

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30. (AP)—Jack Gross, Salem (N. J.) heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Homer Smith, Kalamazoo, Mich., in the fifth round of a ten-round bout tonight at the Armory A. C. The referee stopped the bout.

H.A.C. Quintet Looms Strong

Coach Chuck Kearney's Hollywood Athletic Club basketball squad looms up like a real threat in Pacific Coast circles and Kearney is looking forward to another trip back to Kansas City to take part in the annual national championships. Kearney is the only veteran left of last year's team and at the beginning of the training season it looked dark for the fun city club, until Miller of Arizona, O'Faggans of Huntington Park, Stearns of Kansas University and Armstrong of U.C.L.A. turned out.

Twenty-four candidates are fighting for the four positions and in the mad scramble Kearney discovered some very good material. Gene Dorsey and Bob Armstrong should prove valuable and with Kearney shooting baskets like he can members of the film city club have hopes for another championship.

George L. Eastman, president of the club, and James Irsfeld, chairman of the athletic committee, are making plans for the entire 2000 members to back the squad this year. Harold Brown, basketball manager, and C. C. McWilliams have lined up games with Occidental, U.S.C., Stanford, California and several other Coast colleges.

BULLDOGS AND SPARTANS MIX

Coast and Bay Loop Champs in Play-off Tussle

Huntington Park Grid to be Scene of Struggle

Covina-Fullerton Clash to Take Place Tuesday

Huntington Park and Pasadena will hold the Southern California prep football play-off limelight all to themselves tomorrow when they hook up on the Spartans' gridiron, for the Covina-Fullerton struggle has been postponed from tomorrow until next Tuesday.

Because Fullerton would not agree to play Chief Newman's Colts tomorrow, the game at Covina has been deferred until Tuesday. Saturday was the date originally set for the play-off clash between the San Gabriel Valley loop champs and the Orange county loop title-holders, but this was not favorable to either side because it would conflict with the Washington-Southern California game at the Coliseum, which most grid fans in this section of the State desire to see.

A rumor was circulated yesterday that Earl Needham, star fullback of the Cubs, who was recently arraigned on a burglary charge, had sworn in court that he was 19 years of age, which is over the age limit for prep athletes allowed in competition. If Needham had sworn that he was 22, it would have meant that Covina must forfeit all its games won and that the Pomona Cards, who lost to the Colts in a play-off game, would take Covina's place in the play-off. However, it has been proven that Needham is only 20 years of age and that the Colts remain in the play-off.

Coach Harry Milhollin's Pasadena Bulldogs, the Coast League champions, figure to beat Huntington Park on the strength of their record but the game should be an exciting one and may go either way. The Bulldogs have just completed a tough schedule and the squad is rather bunged up. Capt. Mallory and Van Orum are the main hopes of the Pasadena backfield.

Huntington Park will be the scene of tomorrow's tangle and the game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Coach Vern Landreth's Spartans have played strong football all season and figure to put up a tough battle. Huntington Park lost but one game during the Bay League schedule, Woodrow Wilson nosing out the Spartans, 12 to 9, by a four-quarter rally in an opening-round clash. Last Saturday the Spartans cinched the Bay title by trouncing Santa Monica, 20 to 7. On the same day Pasadena was being upset by Glendale for one of the Bulldogs' two defeats in their schedule.

PASADENA STAGES BOWLING TOURNEY

PASADENA, Nov. 30. (AP)—With crack bowlers coming from San Francisco, Berkeley, San Diego and many cities in Southern California, the opening lawn bowling tournament of the year will be held here January 9 to continue for one week.

Charles J. Fox, president of the Southern California Lawn Bowling Association and also president of the Pasadena Lawn Bowling Club, announced today the gift of $500 from an unknown donor to be used for the January tournament. The largest prize list ever offered in a lawn-bowling meet in the West has been arranged. The Los Angeles and Angelus clubs of Los Angeles are entered in the tournament, which will be played on the Pasadena club's grounds and on the new Raymond green in Pasadena.

COLTON PLANS AUTO RACES NEXT MONTH

Fred A. Rhetts, Colton sportsman who staged one of the greatest auto racing classics in the history of the Intercity speedway at Colton Thanksgiving Day, announced last night that his next program would be held Sunday afternoon, December 18. Rhetts purchased the lease on the speedway several weeks ago and drivers and race-track experts pronounced it one of the fastest on the Coast. Seven races will be arranged for his next races, ranging from two to twenty-five laps. Barney Kloepfer, 1926 champion, was the first to come to terms with Rhetts, who is also dickering with Speed Hinckley and Francis Quinn.

H.A.C. PLANS HUGE RECEPTION FOR GRIDS

George L. Eastman, president of the Hollywood Athletic Club, announced last night that the committee in charge of welcoming the University of Washington football squad to Hollywood will meet tonight to complete their elaborate plans. A trip through the studios, a sight-seeing journey with famous screen actresses as companions and a dinner dance on Saturday night are a few of the plans outlined by Eastman. The committee in charge consists of Leonard Covert, Roy Marshall, Eddie Shaffer, Parker McConnell, Scotty Dunlap and Paul Reynolds.

DOUBLE FEATURE SET FOR MAIN-STREET FANS

The Main-street Athletic Club, will stage a double main event for the club's regular Saturday-night boxing program. Johnny Lamar, one of the best lightweights in the country, clashes with Jack Spenser of Nevada, in the eight-round final, while Ray Still, who recently defeated Jack Willis in Sacramento, meets Blackie Kasababian, Armenian champion of East Fourth street, in the other half of the double-feature event. This bout will be six rounds.

VICENTINI HELD TO DRAW

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Luis Vicentini of Chile and Joe Marcus, Portland, Or., lightweight fought ten rounds to a draw in the main event here last night.

BEARS TO HONOR MEMORY OF ANDY SMITH AT PENN CLASH

BERKELEY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Actual construction was put under way today on the memorial bench to be erected on the University of California Memorial Stadium gridiron in honor of Andy Smith, coach of Golden Bears football teams from 1916 to 1923, inclusive, and which also included the five "wonder teams" which reigned for as many years unbeaten.

Andy Smith

The bench will be dedicated to Smith's memory with appropriate services immediately preceding the California-Pennsylvania post-season football game here on December 31. A committee of captains who served Smith are occupied with preparations for the rites. They also were responsible for the collection of $5000 from public subscription to defray the cost of the memorial.

Specifications provide that the bench will be forty-five feet long all told, with a seat forty-two feet in length. It will be placed some ten feet in front of the California rooting section, over identical ground paced by Smith whenever a ticklish situation arose. The bench will bear two inscriptions.

The inscription on the outside, facing the bleachers will be simple, reading, "Andy Smith, California Football Varsity Coach, 1916-23." David P. Barrows, present head of the university's political science department, and president of the university during Smith's tenure as coach, will prepare a fitting tribute to be inscribed on the inside of the bench.

California gray granite, a durable and permanent substance, will compose the frame of the bench. The seat itself will be of teakwood, also of a lasting nature. The committee handling all preparations for the memorial services is headed by Charles Gilman Hyde, dean of man.

Have a Smile; Daro Matmen Nearly Fight

The principals in "Carnation" Lou Daro's all-star mat show scheduled to be held at the Olympic next Wednesday night, nearly settled their differences in the Health and Strength gymnasium yesterday, with only a few persons, admitted free, to witness the affair.

Jim London, the Greek mat champion, arrived here from the East yesterday morning and hied himself to the gym for his initial workout, bringing along two giants to make him perspire. Pete Sauer, the Los Angeles mat star, who meets London, was already there and was just getting ready to try out his new hold, when London arrived.

Then the fun began. Instead of going away and waiting for Sauer to complete his training, London took a ringside seat. Sauer stopped work and called the manager of the gymnasium to oust London. The Greek refused to move, declaring that he was there to work out, and was just resting before he started.

This got under Sauer's skin and he jumped over the ropes and threatened to throw London out if he didn't leave. London stripped off his coat when London's trainers and the three men Sauer was working out with jumped between the two. Londos declared he would twist Sauer's head off and kick it out of the window for a football. Sauer made a fast comeback, slipped through the restraining trainers and grabbed hold of the Greek's arm.

The trainers then "banged" the two, and five minutes later London left to do his training in an uptown gymnasium, while Sauer finished his two-hour mat workout. They will have two hours in which to settle this argument next Wednesday night, and it begins to appear as if Daro will need an extra squad of policemen to guard against any undue violence.

Redlands Cage Team to Tour

REDLANDS, Nov. 30.—Cecil Cushman, manager of athletics at the University of Redlands, has announced a Christmas vacation trip for his basketball team with seven games to be played.

Monday, December 6, a game is scheduled with the Pacific Coast Club aggregation of Long Beach, and Tuesday December 27, with the Long Beach Junior College. On Wednesday there will be a double-header in Hollywood, in the afternoon with the Hollywood Y team, and in the evening with a special squadron headed by Fred Dye and Louie Millett. Thursday Redlands has tentative arrangements for a tilt with the Drake club church group at Long Beach, and on Friday will again meet Dye's Demons and a Hollywood church team in another double-header at the Movie City. Saturday, December 31, the Bulldogs will return to Redlands to finish preparations for the coming conference season which will open with Oxy on the home court, January 14. Though work is being rushed on Redland's $200,000 gymnasium, it is probable that it will not be finished in time for this first game.

Present plans will probably take the following men on the trip: Bell, Brumwell and Lund, forwards; Wilson center, and Colvin and Bunch, guards, lettermen from last year's team; J. Truesdale, and Lee, Loper, B. and J. Greenfields, Farquhard, Niedermeyer, Ellis, Hendricks and Hilliard, sophomores and members of last year's freshman squad who were runners-up in their conference.

BOBBY LA SALLE COPS WILMINGTON BATTLE

Bobby La Salle, local welterweight slugger, defeated Pat Corbett, Fresno battler, after ten hard-fought rounds in the main event at Wilmington last night. In the semi-wind-up, a six-rounder, Frankie Forbes defeated Billy Clark after a vicious scrap. Clark was knocked down three times, twice in the first and the bell saved him in the fifth, but he came back strong in the final round.

In the other bouts Johnny Torres knocked down Joe Mackrill in the fifth round and won a six-round verdict; Joe Reinhardt defeated Young Romero, and Ted Fluter stopped Art Jackson in the third round.

JOE CARDOZA TRIMS TOVAR IN MAIN BOUT

Joe Cardoza, hard-punching 150-pounder, won an eight-round decision over Tony Tovar in the main event of the bouts at the Ocean Park Fun Palace last night. In the semi-wind-up Sammy Rothstein defeated Kid Lucero in six rounds.

The other bouts: Melvin Bobo won in the second on a foul from Johnny O'Connor, Hurley Green got a technical knockout over A. Garanaque in the third, and Victor Mix won over Perry Pearson.

DUCK HUNTING GOOD

Reports from Buena Vista Lake, Kern county, indicate that duck and goose hunting for the remainder of the season will be very good. Last Sunday many bags of teals, sprig, widgeon and spoonies were reported and one party of four from the Universal studio brought home the limit.

Georgetown Coach Honors Morley Drury

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—West Point's football team gains three places in the nominations for 1927 all-American fame by Lou Little, head coach of Georgetown's high-scoring team.

In the selections he gave to the Associated Press today Little picked Morley Drury, Southern California star, as fullback for the first team in preference to Herb Joesting, Minnesota captain, and unanimous 1926 all-American.

Here are Little's choices:

First team: Ends, Oosterbaan, Michigan, and Born, Army; tackles, Hibbs, Southern California, and Hake, Pennsylvania; guards, Kern, Pittsburgh, and Webster, Yale; center, Grigsby, Georgetown; quarterback, Connor, New York University; halfbacks, Welch, Pittsburgh, and Cagle, Army; fullback, Drury, Southern California.

Second team: Ends, Nash and Shiver, Georgia; tackles, Sprague, Army, and Smith, Pennsylvania; guards, Raskowski, Ohio State, and Smith, Notre Dame; center Bettencourt, St. Mary's; quarterback, Spears, Vanderbilt, halfbacks, Nork, Georgetown, and Marsters, Dartmouth; fullback, Joesting, Minnesota.

TOD MORGAN BATTLE WITH LONG PROPOSED

DENVER (Colo.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Negotiations for a match between Don (Terror) Long, aspiring Colorado lightweight, and Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, are under way, Leslie Showers, Long's manager, announced here today.

Showers said he had hopes of arranging with Gabe Kauffman, Kansas City promoter, for a bout at Kansas City, December 15. Long so badly outfought Mickey Cohen, Denver lightweight, in a bout here last night that Cohen had to be taken to a hospital where it was said he was suffering with three broken ribs and possible internal injuries.

SECOND-ROUND CAGE CLASHES ON AT OXY

Second-round basketball contests in the interclass cage tournament at Occidental College will be staged in Alumni Gym tonight, according to manager Ernie Ketcherside, intermural leader. The sophs and seniors tangle at 7 o'clock, while the juniors and freshmen meet one hour later. The contests have been billed for night play so as not to interfere with varsity and freshman cage practice under coaches Eddie Kirchhoh and Bill Anderson, respectively. The winner of the class title will be chosen on a percentage basis.

FIELDS IN BATTLE OF HIS CAREER

Jackie Plans to Dole Out Trouncing to Ramies in Hollywood Ring

Tomorrow night Jackie Fields will make his greatest fight. This coming from his manager Gig Rooney, and he meant every word of it. Fields is going to give Dick Ramies a nifty shellacking if his plans carry at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, where he has an important engagement with Dick Ramies of San Diego.

JACKIE FIELDS

Some fight men believe that Dick Ramies is going to take the play away from Bert Colima and win the Mexican following that has supported the great Colima and fattened his bank roll to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Ramies has a great chance to become a big attraction in Los Angeles. His showing with Johnny Adams at the stadium a few weeks ago convinced all the old-timers that Ramies is no fluke and will make Jackie Fields go the limit to cop a decision.

There isn't a better-looking fighter on the card than Jackie Carr, the Glendale lightweight Carr is a comer. He has nearly arrived, in fact, and is picked to beat Al Nelson tonight. Carr will go to the post trying for a knockout. He is in great shape and looks as though he'll cop.

Bob Weaver Comes Home

Bob Weaver, president of the Southern Pacific branch of the A.A.U., returned yesterday from the East, where he attended the annual meeting of the national body at Cincinnati.

He said he obtained everything for this district he went after, including the national senior squash singles and doubles championship tourney.

Weaver attended the Notre Dame-Southern California football game at Chicago, and said the Trojans were plainly robbed of victory, and that man of Notre Dame affiliation told him the same thing at the Notre Dame banquet, which he attended after the game.

The boss of our A.A.U. branch traveled home on the same train with Jack Dempsey, and said the latter had promised to donate his services for any kind of a show designed to raise money to send our athletes to the Olympic Games next year.

HUNTERS IN DRIVE ON QUAIL

California Nimrods Start Quest for Game Birds in State This Morning

The 1927 quail season will open this morning throughout the State and should prove to be one of the best in years. Pete Peterson, hunting authority at the Dyas Company declared yesterday that he looked for a bigger crowd out in the foothills and field than has ever been out on an opening of a quail season in Southern California.

Dyas's are offering a case of Peters high-velocity shells to the hunter who reaches the Olive-street entrance of their store this morning with the first limit of quail.

"From what little I have been out, the quail sty very plentiful this year," said Peterson. "There will be a lot of game for the boys in most of the old-time locations, but the San Fernando Valley will not offer good shooting any more.

"The hunters will find that mountain quail are harder to get than the desert and valley species. Shooters will have to go to the high altitudes for the mountain birds. Shooters want to remember also that ten birds a day is the limit on mountain birds and fifteen for desert and valley quail.

"This year the quail season is open only during the month of December. For several seasons the quail have been pretty well protected with short seasons and those seasons opening late of about the time of year when the rainy season sets in and rainy weather is a poor time to hunt quail."

OREGON AGGIE CAGERS PREPARE FOR SEASON

CORVALLIS (Or.) Nov. 30. (AP)—With no less than six lettermen reporting for the 1928 season, the Oregon State Agricultural College basketball squad has settled down to a steady training grind, in preparation for their barnstorming trip through the Middlewest two weeks hence. Coach H. G. Hager will take ten hoopsters on the trip.

Individual Stars to Feature California-Pennsylvania Intersectional Clash

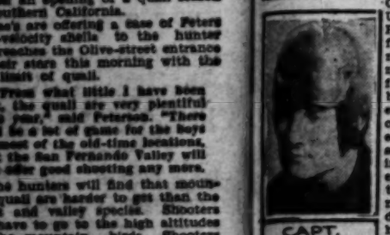
Make Rated as Great Tackle by Experts

Small Brothers Feature on Quaker Team

Capacity Crowd Expected for East-West Battle

BERKELEY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—No titles will be at stake on December 31 when the University of California and University of Pennsylvania football elevens meet in the Memorial Stadium for their second battle, but the expected capacity crowd will nevertheless witness some of the best individual players in the country. Pennsylvania's starring delegation is headed by Ted Hake, already named on several dream ae tackle. He is conceded by many critics to rate as the East's leading tackle. Hake will find an all-Pacific Coast opponent in Capt. Fritz Coltrin of the Bears, who has even been given mention as a potential all-American.



CAPT. COLTRIN

History may repeat itself to a certain extent when it is a question of Hake versus Coltrin. In 1924 the late Walter Camp selected Boeringer of the Army as all-American center in preference to Babe Horrell, captain of the 1924 Bear eleven. Horrell was shoved over to guard in order to be kept on the all-American squad. The next year Boeringer came West to play in the Shriners' East-West game in San Francisco. Horrell played opposite Boeringer, and, according to critical opinion, the latterer was badly outclassed. Whether Coltrin will have the same good fortune as his predecessor, remains to be determined.

Other starring talent will come to the Coast with Coach Lou Young in the persons of the Scull brothers, Phil, the halfback in the combination, and Polwell, an end. To offset the Scull boys, Coach Clarence (Ohio) Price will offer up Irving Phillips, captain-elect of the 1928 varsity, and prominently considered of an all-American end, and Jim Dougery, who has played such steady football at left end that some of Price's ambitious wingman have been able to oust him throughout the entire season.

lems, but managed to make a fine showing in each battle. Had George Wilson been able to stick to his guns in the Alabama affair the result might have been different. But George was knocked out and the Crimson Tide flowed all over the field while the great Wilson languished on the sidelines.

None of the Trojans has ever encountered Washington's famous pile-driving attack and the Huskies in turn have never gone up against Howard Jones's mystifying shift and his celebrated interference. It would seem logical therefore that an open style of play should prevail Saturday, were it not for the fact that Washington has shown great defensive power against such strong teams as Stanford and California.

Jones will probably employ a seven-man line against the Huskies, because the meaty Washington backs do most of their running from punt formation. Such 200-pound beauties as Louis Tesreau and Chuck Carroll guarate tremendous power from this formation and the Trojans will need all their line strength if Washington's attack is to be stopped.

JONES TALKS TO TROJANS

Jones gave his boys a spirited heart-to-heart talk yesterday afternoon in which he stated that unless their mental attitude changes Washington will walk off with the Swift's Premium Saturday and thus knock the Trojans out of a tie for the Pacific Coast championship. Washington has lost but one game and will rate higher than Southern California if victorious Saturday.

The Spartans, under Leo Calland's coaching, outplayed Washington's plays against the varsity last night. Jay George Williamson, a fine passer, had some success crashing the Trojan line, which means that Tesreau and Carroll can do it also.

Cecil Hoff seems destined to start in place of Al Scheving at right tackle for Southern California Saturday. Hoff is big and strong and Jones figures he will need both men in that position before the game is over.

Rocky Kemp's foot, which bothered him while en route East, is still ailing and the San Diego boy did not appear in a suit yesterday afternoon. This leaves only Howard Elliott as an understudy for Capt. Morley Drury. If anything goes wrong with Drury the Trojans will find themselves in a tight fix.

HUSKIES OFF FOR LOS ANGELES

SEATTLE, Nov. 30. (AP)—The University of Washington football team left here tonight on a special train for Los Angeles to meet Coach Howard Jones's Trojans Saturday.

Thirty-three players and Coach Enoch Bagshaw, three assistant coaches, a number of other functionaries, and several score rooters are making the trip.

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—So far at least, the latest of the winter heavyweight "eliminations" show no signs of breaking up the prospects for the third edition of the Dempsey-Tunney championship feud in 1928.

GENE TUNNEY

No menacing gestures are being made by any of the new figures in the tournament, such as Phil Scott of England, while some of the veterans of the elimination game seem to be a little the worse for wear.

Too many flip flops sprained Paolino's back and kept him out of a prospective match with Scott, resulting in no little annoyance to Scott as well as the Spaniard. Knute Hansen, substituting for Paolino, knocked out Scott in one round while Paolino, on his return to action last week was outpointed by the Cleveland "Rubber-man," Johnny Risko.

Jack Sharkey, a semifinalist last year, is out of action temporarily with an injured finger that forced postponement of a match with Tom Heeney. These two are slated to meet in January in what may turn out to be one of the most important eliminations of the lot. Heeney has impressed critics with his rapid development since first appearing here a year ago. The rugged New Zealander is expected to give Sharkey a severe comeback test.

Despite all the pressure that may be brought to bear upon him, "Ted" Jones, Yale's football coach, is expected to stick to his determination to hand over the reins to someone else for next season and retire to his coal business in New Haven. In such case it will not be surprising to many Yale men if Marvin Stevens, now a backfield coach, is given the main job. Stevens is considered to be Jones's "right-hand man" and the choice of the veteran head coach if the mantle is to fall on a present member of the tutoring staff.

It seems definitely settled that the only thing that severed Ty Cobb's connection with the Athletics was Connie Mack's pocket book. The Georgia Peach hit the ball hard, stole several bases and fielded well enough in the Philadelphia uniform. Connie Mack has said emphatically that there was never a rift between him and his star during the season.

In spring training the Philadelphia manager said Tyrus would be worth his salary if he did not play fifty games. "His will be an inspiration to the other players," said the tall tutor. "When he goes out to do something the other fellows will know that there is a man in action who knows all there is to know about playing baseball as it should be played."

NO OFFICIAL CHARGES TO BE FILED AGAINST STAR MERMAID

Although Coach Frank Holborow and the Royal Palms Club feel that Lillie Mae Bowmer, 50-yard world-record holder, violated A.A.U. regulations in leaving their team when she moved to Honolulu, no official charges will be brought against the star, it was learned yesterday.

"As The Times stated Sunday, Miss Bowmer departed without officially notifying me of her intention to leave the Royal Palms Club," Holborow said yesterday. "However, neither the club nor I want to do anything to harm her swimming career and we have decided to forget the matter. The Royal Palms Club will prefer no charges in any way against her and we wish her all the luck in the world. In this wish, we are joined by all her former team-mates. If she ever comes back to the Coast, we will be glad to have her on the team again. We believe this is the proper attitude for us to take in endeavoring to follow out a policy of good sportsmanship."

Miss Bowmer, who came here from Honolulu two years ago and, under Holborow's guidance became one of the country's outstanding swim stars, sailed last Saturday for Hawaii on the Lasco liner Calawali, accompanied by her husband, Gordin May. She admitted to ship news reporters that she was permanently moving to the islands, but said she felt Holborow had been duly notified that she was leaving the team.

Coach Holborow is busily engaged in developing other swimmers to take his former star's place. Marjorie Lowe and Dorothy Moriarty show exceptional promise of becoming stars of national caliber, while Cecily Cunha soon will return from her swimming invasion of the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Cunha went out to the islands a month ago to train in Waikiki waters for the forthcoming Olympics and to compete with the famous island swimmers.

GALLERY AND HOLMAN LOSE IN DOUBLES SQUASH MATCH

Morton Klein and Wilson Jones of the University Club became established favorites in the national senior A.A.U. squash doubles tournament being held at the Hollywood Athletic Club, when they won two straight games from Bill Holman and Tom Gallery of the movie city club. Gallery and Holman were expected to win from the visitors, and their defeat was quite an upset. Klein and Jones will get a chance to prove their championship caliber again this afternoon, when they meet George L. Eastman and Bert Hartwell in the semifinals of the lower bracket. The latter two squash players originated the game of squash and were the club champions in 1924.

Eastman is national chairman of squash and president of the Hollywood Athletic Club. This is the first time he has entered active competition in several years. He was Southern California singles champion in 1924.

Dan Jones, senior singles champion, and Kent Redwine will meet O'Brien and Schroeder of Pasadena in another feature match. Squash teams enter the quarter-finals this afternoon and the hottest games of the tournament are slated to be played tomorrow.

How are yesterday's results:
Klein and Jones defeated Bankson and Dunbe, 21-19, 21-17.
Hunchhiser and Hilliard defeated Ellis and Pritchard, 21-17, 21-14, 21-14.
Klein and Jones defeated Holman and Gallery, 21-15, 21-12.
Albright and Wilson defeated Miller and Adams, 21-14, 21-15.
Jones and Redwine defeated Pratt and Mr. Williams, 21-12, 21-17.
O'Brien and Schroeder defeated Gilles and Cant, 21-14, 21-5.
Here are today's matches:
Klein and Jones vs. Hartwell and Eastman at 3 p.m.
O'Brien and Schroeder vs. Jones and Redwine, 3:30 p.m.
Albright and Wilson vs. Kenton and Prentis, 4:30 p.m.
Hunchhiser and Cooper vs. Shanbridge and Hilliard, 5 p.m.

BEAR CAGERS FINISH FINAL PRACTICE FOR WASEDA TILT

BERKELEY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Varsity basketball practice at the University of California, as it affects the impending contest with the University of Waseda, of Japan, on December 29, is now entering into its final rounds. Two more gatherings for the basketball players, tomorrow and Friday evenings, and all practice will be done with until the final examination period has concluded.

Coach "Nap" Houvenin, a star with the California quintet in 1924 and at present batting for Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price at the latter grooms the football varsity for Pennsylvania, is confronted with the problem of developing a strong team while minus the services of five regulars, who are still out for football.

Houvenin will conduct the Bears into their first match of a fifteen-game schedule against the Nipponese. On the evening that the Waseda players are encountered California will be without the expert assistance of Capt. Jim Dougery, Lee Eisan, Paul "Dutch" Clymer, Verne Corbin and Ralph Dougery. The California quintet on that occasion will be comprised of players selected from among the following: Basil Peterson, Wilson Tripp, centers; Lane, Gregory Bradley, guards; Bennie Rucker, Whitey Wyatt, forwards, and a number of other players newly introduced to the varsity as transfers from other schools and as frosh last season.

DEMPSEY ARRIVES HOME

Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champion, arrived home yesterday after several weeks in the East devoted to the suit for $333,333.33 which Jack Kearns, his former manager, brought against him.

The case was thrown out of court on a nonsuit, and Dempsey believes the matter is settled for good. He reiterated a former declaration that Kearns hasn't a leg to stand on in winning the case.

Dempsey has no immediate plans for the future. He will do no training until spring, when he expects to engage in another warm-up bout like he did this year for a return engagement with the champion, Gene Tunney.

H.A.C. Quintet Looms Strong

Coach Chuck Kearney's Hollywood Athletic Club basketball squad looms up like a real threat in Pacific Coast circles and Kearney is looking forward to another trip back to Kansas City to take part in the annual national championships. Kearney is the only veteran left of last year's team and at the beginning of the training season it looked dark for the club city club, until Miller of Arizona, O'Faggans of Huntington Park, Stearns of Kansas University and Armstrong of U.C.L.A. turned out.

Twenty-four candidates are fighting for the four positions and in the mad scramble Kearney discovered some very good material. Gene Dorsey and Bob Armstrong should prove valuable and with Kearney shooting baskets like he can members of the film city club have hopes for another championship.

George L. Eastman, president of the club, and James Irsfeld, chairman of the athletic committee, are making plans for the entire 2000 members to back the squad this year. Harold Brown, basketball manager, and C. C. McWilliams have lined up games with Occidental, U.S.C., Stanford, California and several other Coast colleges.

BULLDOGS AND SPARTANS MIX

Coast and Bay Loop Champs in Play-off Tussle

Huntington Park Grid to be Scene of Struggle

Covina-Fullerton Clash to Take Place Tuesday

Huntington Park and Pasadena will hold the Southern California prep football play-off limelight all to themselves tomorrow when they hook up on the Spartans' gridiron, for the Covina-Fullerton struggle has been postponed from tomorrow until next Tuesday.

Because Fullerton would not agree to play Chief Newman's Colts tomorrow, the game at Covina has been deferred until Tuesday. Saturday was the date originally set for the play-off clash between the San Gabriel Valley loop champs and the Orange county loop title-holders, but this was not favorable to either side because it would conflict with the Washington-Southern California game at the Coliseum, which most grid fans in this section of the State desire to see.

A rumor was circulated yesterday that Earl Needham, star fullback of the Colts, who was recently arraigned on a burglar charge, had sworn in court that he was 22 years of age, which is over the age limit for prep athletes allowed in competition. If Needham had sworn that he was 22, it would have meant that Covina must forfeit all its games won and that the Pomona Cards, who lost to the Colts in a play-off game, would take Covina's place in the play-off. However, it has been proven that Needham is only 20 years of age and that the Colts remain in the play-off.

Coach Harry Milhollin's Pasadena Bulldogs, the Coast League championship figure to beat Huntington Park on the strength of their record but the game should be an exciting one and may go either way. The Bulldogs have just completed a tough schedule and the squad is rather bunged up. Capt. Mallory and Van Orum are the main hopes of the Pasadena backfield.

Huntington Park will be the scene of tomorrow's tangle and the game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Coach Vern Landreth's Spartans have played strong football all season and figure to put up a tough battle. Huntington Park lost but one game during the Bay League schedule, Woodrow Wilson nosing out the Spartans, 12 to 9, by a four-quarter rally in an opening-round clash. Last Saturday the Spartans cinched the Bay title by trouncing Santa Monica, 20 to 7. On the same day Pasadena was being upset by Glendale for one of the Bulldogs' two defeats in their schedule.

PASADENA STAGES BOWLING TOURNEY

PASADENA, Nov. 30. (AP)—With crack bowlers coming from San Francisco, Berkeley, San Diego and many cities in Southern California, the opening lawn bowling tournament of the year will be held here January 9 to continue for one week.

Charles J. Fox, president of the Southern California Lawn Bowling Association and also president of the Pasadena Lawn Bowling Club, announced today the gift of $500 from an unknown donor to be used for the January tournament. The largest prize list ever offered in a lawn-bowling meet in the West has been arranged. The Los Angeles and Angelus clubs of Los Angeles are entered in the tournament, which will be played on the Pasadena club's grounds and on the new Raymond green in Pasadena.

COLTON PLANS AUTO RACES NEXT MONTH

Fred A. Rhetts, Colton sportsman who staged one of the greatest auto racing classics in the history of the intercity speedway at Colton Thanksgiving Day, announced last night that his next program would be held Sunday afternoon, December 18. Rhetts purchased the lease on the speedway several weeks ago and drivers and race-track experts pronounced it one of the fastest on the Coast. Seven races will be arranged for his next races, ranging from two to twenty-five laps. Barney Kloepfer, 1926 champion, was the first to come to terms with Rhetts, who is also dickering with Speed Hinckley and Francis Quinn.

H.A.C. PLANS HUGE RECEPTION FOR GRIDS

George L. Eastman, president of the Hollywood Athletic Club, announced last night that the committee in charge of welcoming the University of Washington football squad to Hollywood will meet tonight to complete their elaborate plans. A trip through the studios, a sight-seeing journey with famous screen actresses as companions and a dinner dance on Saturday night are a few of the plans outlined by Eastman. The committee in charge consists of Leonard Covert, Roy Marshall, Eddie Shaffer, Parker McConnell, Scotty Dunlap and Paul Reynolds.

DOUBLE FEATURE SET FOR MAIN-STREET FANS

The Main-street Athletic Club, will stage a double main event for the club's regular Saturday-night boxing program. Johnny Lamar, one of the best lightweights in the country, clashes with Jack Spenser of Nevada, in the eight-round final, while Ray Still, who recently defeated Jack Willis in Sacramento, meets Blackie Kasabahian, Armenian champion of East Fourth street, in the other half of the double-feature event. This bout will be six rounds.

VICENTINI HELD TO DRAW

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Luis Vicentini of Chile and Joe Marcus, Portland, Or., lightweight fought ten rounds to a draw in the main event here last night.

BEARS TO HONOR MEMORY OF ANDY SMITH AT PENN CLASH

BERKELEY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Actual construction was put under way today on the memorial bench to be erected on the University of California Memorial Stadium gridiron in honor of Andy Smith, coach of Golden Bears football teams from 1916 to 1923, inclusive, and which also included the five "wonder teams" which reigned for as many years unbeaten.

Andy Smith

The bench will be dedicated to Smith's memory with appropriate services immediately preceding the California-Pennsylvania post-season football game here on December 31. A committee of captains who served Smith are occupied with preparations for the fête. They also were responsible for the collection of $5000 from public subscription to defray the cost of the memorial.

Specifications provide that the bench will be forty-five feet long all told, with a seat forty-two feet in length. It will be placed some ten feet in front of the California rooting section, over identical ground paced by Smith whenever a ticklish situation arose. The bench will bear two inscriptions.

The inscription on the outside, facing the bleachers will be simple, reading, "Andy Smith, California Football Varsity Coach, 1916-23." David F. Barrows, present head of the university's political science department, and president of the university during Smith's tenure as coach, will prepare a fitting tribute to be inscribed on the inside of the bench.

California gray granite, a durable and permanent substance, will compose the frame of the bench. The seat itself will be of teakwood, also of a lasting nature. The committee handling all preparations for the memorial services is headed by Charles Gilman Hyde, dean of men.

Have a Smile; Daro Matmen Nearly Fight

The principals in "Carnation" Lou Daro's all-star mat show scheduled to be held at the Olympia next Wednesday night, nearly settled their differences in the Health and Strength gymnasium yesterday, with only a few persons, admitted free, to witness the affair.

Jim Londos, the Greek mat champion, arrived here from the East yesterday morning and hied himself to the gym for his initial workout, bringing along two giants to make him perspire. Pete Sauer, the Los Angeles mat star, who meets Londos, was already there and was just getting ready to try out his new hold, when Londos arrived.

Then the fun began. Instead of going away and waiting for Sauer to complete his training, Londos took a ringside seat. Sauer stopped work and called the manager of the gymnasium to oust Londos. The Greek refused to move, declaring that he was there to work out, and was just resting before he started.

This got under Sauer's skin and he jumped over the ropes and threatened to throw Londos out if he didn't leave. Londos stripped off his coat when Londos's trainers and the three men Sauer was working out with jumped between the two. Londos declared he would twist Sauer's head off and kick it out of the window for a football. Sauer made a fast comeback, slipped through the restraining trainers and grabbed hold of the Greek's arm.

The trainers then "banged" the two, and five minutes later Londos left to do his training in an uptown gymnasium, while Sauer finished his two-hour mat workout. They will have two hours in which to settle this argument next Wednesday night, and it begins to appear as if Daro will need an extra squad of policemen to guard against any undue violence.

Redlands Cage Team to Tour

REDLANDS, Nov. 30.—Cecil Cushman, manager of athletics at the University of Redlands, has announced a Christmas vacation trip for his basketball team with seven games to be played.

Monday, December 6, a game is scheduled with the Pacific Coast Club aggregation of Long Beach, and Tuesday December 27, with the Long Beach Junior College. On Wednesday there will be a double-header in Hollywood, in the afternoon with the Hollywood Y team, and in the evening with a special squadron headed by Fred Dye and Louis Millett. Thursday Redlands has tentative arrangements for a tilt with the Drake club church group at Long Beach, and on Friday will again meet Dye's Demons and a Hollywood church team in another double-header at the Movie City. Saturday, December 31, the Bulldogs will return to Redlands to finish preparations for the coming conference season which will open with Oxy on the home court, January 14. Though work is being rushed on Redland's $300,000 gymnasium, it is probable that it will not be finished in time for this first game.

Present plans will probably take the following men on the trip: Bell, Brumwell and Lund, forwards; Wilson center, and Colvin and Bunch, guards, lettermen from last year's team; J. Truesdale, and Lee, Loper, B. and J. Greenfields, Parquhard, Niedermeyer, Ellis, Hendricks and Hilliard, sophomores and members of last year's freshman squad who were runners-up in their conference.

BOBBY LA SALLE COPS WILMINGTON BATTLE

Bobby La Salle, local welterweight slugger, defeated Pat Corbett, Fresno battler, after ten hard-fought rounds in the main event at Wilmington last night. In the semi-wind-up, a six-rounder, Frankie Forbes defeated Billy Clark after a vicious scrap. Clark was knocked down three times, twice in the first and the ball saved him in the fifth, but he came back strong in the final round.

In the other bouts Johnny Torres knocked down Joe Mackrill in the fifth round and won a six-round verdict; Joe Reinhardt defeated Young Romero, and Ted Fluter stopped Art Jackson in the third round.

JOE CARDOZA TRIMS TOVAR IN MAIN BOUT

Joe Cardoza, hard-punching 150-pounder, won an eight-round decision over Tony Tovar in the main event of the bouts at the Ocean Park Fun Palace last night. In the semi-wind-up Sammy Rothstein defeated Kid Lucero in six rounds.

The other bouts: Melvin Bobo won in the second on a foul from Johnny O'Connor, Hurley Green got a technical knockout over A. Garanaqus in the third, and Victor Mix won over Perry Pearson.

DUCK HUNTING GOOD

Reports from Buena Vista Lake, Kern county, indicate that duck and goose hunting for the remainder of the season will be very good. Last Sunday many bags of teals, sprig, widgeon and spoonies were reported and one party of four from the Universal studio brought home the limit.

Georgetown Coach Honors Morley Drury

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—West Point's football team gains three places in the nominations for 1927 all-American fame by Lou Little, head coach of Georgetown's high-scoring team.

In the selections he gave to the Associated Press today Little picked Morley Drury, Southern California star, as fullback for the first team in preference to Herb Joesting, Minnesota captain, and unanimous 1926 all-American.

Here are Little's choices:

First team: Ends, Oosterbaan, Michigan, and Born, Army; tackles, Hibbs, Southern California, and Hake, Pennsylvania; guards, Kern, Pittsburgh, and Webster, Yale; center, Grigsby, Georgetown; quarterback, Connor, New York University; halfbacks, Welch, Pittsburgh, and Cagle, Army; fullback, Drury, Southern California.

Second team: Ends, Nash and Shiver, Georgia; tackles, Sprague, Army, and Smith, Pennsylvania; guards, Baskowski, Ohio State, and Smith, Notre Dame; center Bettencourt, St. Mary's; quarterback, Spears, Vanderbilt, halfbacks, Nork, Georgetown, and Marsters, Dartmouth; fullback, Joesting, Minnesota.

TOD MORGAN BATTLE WITH LONG PROPOSED

Showers said he had hopes of arranging with Gabe Kauffman, Kansas City promoter, for a bout at Kansas City, December 15. Long so badly outfought Mickey Cohen, Denver lightweight, in a bout here last night that Cohen had to be taken to a hospital where it was said he was suffering with three broken ribs and possible internal injuries.

SECOND-ROUND CAGE CLASHES ON AT OXY

Second-round basketball contests in the interclass cage tournament at Occidental College will be staged in Alumni Gym tonight, according to manager Ernie Ketchersid, intermural leader. The sophs and seniors tangle at 7 o'clock, while the juniors and freshmen meet one hour later. The contests have been billed for night play so as not to interfere with varsity and freshman cage practice under coaches Eddie Kiesubois and Bill Anderson, respectively. The winner of the class title will be chosen on a percentage basis.

ARGENTINE POLOISTS TO INVADE AMERICA

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Argentina Polo Association has accepted the invitation of Louis E. Stoddard of the United States Polo Association, to participate in the major tournaments there next June, July and August.

FIELDS IN BATTLE OF HIS CAREER

Jackie Plans to Dole Out Trouncing to Ramies in Hollywood Ring

Tomorrow night Jackie Fields will make his greatest fight. This coming from his manager, Gig Rooney, and he meant every word of it. Fields is going to give Dick Ramies a nifty shellacking if his plans carry at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, where he has an important encamement with Dick Ramies of San Diego.

JACKIE FIELDS

Some fight men believe that Dick Ramies is going to take the play away from Bert Colima and win the Mexican following that has supported the great Colima and fattened his bank roll to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Ramies has a great chance to become a big attraction in Los Angeles. His showing with Johnny Adams at the stadium a few weeks ago convinced all the old-timers that Ramies is no fluke and will make Jackie Fields go the limit to cop a decision.

There isn't a better-looking fighter on the card than Jackie Carr, the Glendale lightweight. Carr is a comer. He has nearly arrived, in fact, and is picked to beat Al Nelson tonight. Carr will go to the post trying for a knockout. He is in great shape and looks as though he'll cop.

Bob Weaver Comes Home

Bob Weaver, president of the Southern Pacific branch of the A.A.U., returned yesterday from the East, where he attended the annual meeting of the national body at Cincinnati.

He said he obtained everything for this district he went after, including the national senior squash singles and doubles championship tourney.

Weaver attended the Notre Dame-Southern California football game at Chicago, and said the Trojans were plainly robbed of victory, and that men of Notre Dame affiliation told him the same thing at the Notre Dame banquet, which he attended after the game.

The boss of our A.A.U. branch traveled home on the same train with Jack Dempsey, and said the latter had promised to donate his services for any kind of a show designed to raise money to send our athletes to the Olympic Games next year.

Now the morning shave can leave your face supple and refreshed

Hydrolysis is the scientific name for the process through which free alkali is released when soap is dissolved in water. All soap —and this includes shaving soaps —is made with caustic soda or caustic potash (lye). As long as this caustic constituent is combined in the soap it is harmless, but when water is added a part of the soap "hydrolyzes," forming free alkali. It is this alkali, so liberated, which, in combination with the action of the soap, causes skin irritation.

It is because of that skin irritation caused through hydrolysis that beauty specialists tell your wife not to use soap on her face. It is that, too, which often causes hot, drawn faces.

Squibb controlled hydrolysis

You need no longer suffer from this irritation. Squibb chemists after four years of constant effort have learned to control hydrolysis and have reduced the amount of free alkali released by hydrolysis to one part in 325,000!

Squibb's Shaving Cream is a really great, emollient shaving cream. A cream that gives a rich, moist, beard-softening lather—and leaves your skin delightfully soft, refreshed and flexible. A cream that not only does not smart or injure, but actually benefits your skin. A cream that lathers quickly and abundantly, to give you the sweetest, smoothest shave you ever had with either hot or cold water!

Get a tube of this great new cream today. Try it tomorrow morning. It will mark your start on a lifetime free from shaving discomfort.

REPUBLICANS IN CAPITAL TREK

Leaders Now Arriving for Committee Session

Detroit Viewed With Favor; Hughes Boom Dead

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Republican leaders are arriving in Washington in large numbers and by Monday practically every State and Territory will have party leaders here. All of them expect that the static in the Republican party will be cleared away next week and the choice for a new leader will start in earnest after the White House reception of the Republican committee next Tuesday or Wednesday.

One thing became apparent today with the advent of some of the most influential leaders of the party in the capital. It is confirmed definitely in several places by leaders from practically all sections of the country, that the committee will not consider any city eligible for the convention unless it is an overnight railroad ride from Washington. This eliminates all talk of San Francisco, Seattle, Kansas City and Minneapolis. No one here in the confidence of the Republican leaders has found any serious attention paid to any New England or other eastern city. The time is definitely fixed now for Tuesday, June 13. Detroit and Cleveland have practically been agreed on as the most probable selections, with the indications all pointing to the selection of Detroit.

DETROIT LOOKED UPON

Tomorrow a large delegation from Detroit and other Michigan cities representing the entire State, will arrive and open convention headquarters at the Willard Hotel. Those at the head of this delegation are authorized to close all the details of the convention arrangements, and will be prepared to give all details of the convention hall, committee headquarters and hotel accommodations. More first-class hotels at Detroit are ready for the convention, and are close by the new auditorium, so that sessions of the convention and necessary conferences can be speeded up quickly.

Republican leaders point out that the fact that Senator Fess, who comes up next year for re-election to the Senate from Ohio, has been selected as one of the principal speakers from Ohio means that he will be expected to do as the Republican leaders want and stop talking about drafting Calvin Coolidge in 1928. It also indicates that after the committee has thus honored Ohio by making Senator Fess the principal speaker at the opening session of the committee it will vote to hold the convention at Detroit. It is assumed here that the Democrats will select Cleveland as the place for the Democratic convention if the Republicans go to Detroit.

BAY CITY OUT OF RUNNING

With all far-distant cities removed from the contest for the convention city on account of the necessity of permitting Congress to adjourn or recess for the conventions as it did in 1912 all possibilities for a Coast convention disappeared and word came from New York that even William H. Crocker and Charles D. Hilles, committeemen from California and New York, are disposed to give up all further effort to get the convention for San Francisco, which was as good as selected as the convention city when the convention would simply have been for the renomination of Calvin Coolidge and an indorsement of the previous administration. But that was before the twelve-word statement from the Black Hills that made the country dizzy with uncertainty as to the Republican candidate in 1928.

Now all the leaders here are agreed that practically everything will have to be done at the convention and the jump from Congress to the convention will permit of only a twenty-four-hour trip or less in order to hold preliminary conferences and get the machine warmed up. They are trying hard to get this year the most representative leaders of the party from all of the States on the delegations and admit that much work will be left to the floor of the convention.

HUGHES BOOM DEAD

Interest is growing hourly in what manner of instructions will come to the party leaders as to the future program, either from the President or some one on the committee authorized to speak for him. They are tonight certain of one thing only, and that is that they will have to go some and start all over to name a new party leader after they leave Washington after the meting of the committee is over. Every member of the committee now here feels that he will have to go home and tell his party adherents that Calvin Coolidge cannot be drafted as a candidate for 1928 either before or at the approaching convention.

Charles Evans Hughes is again in Washington but is more than usually silent. His boom, if there ever was one, is so dead that his name is not even mentioned now in the informal gatherings of the party chieftains.

Will Rogers to Join Calles for Inspection Trip

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) Will Rogers, Mayor emeritus of Beverly Hills, is due to arrive here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, having been invited to accompany President Calles and American Ambassador Morrow on a trip to inspect new irrigation works in the State of Nuevo Leon. The party is to leave two hours after arrival of the cowboy comedian.

EXECUTIONER TO DOFF DRESS SUIT

German Ministers Command That Too-Festive Garb be Abolished

BERLIN, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) German politicians refused today to abolish the death penalty, but the ministers decreed that the grewsome costume of the executioner, who appears in full evening dress and white gloves, will be changed to less festive garb.

Prussia carried out 7½ per cent of the death sentences imposed by the courts in the last few years, while in the days of the Kaiser 6 per cent of those sentenced were executed.

In the last four years twenty-nine men and one woman were sentenced to death.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Thirty-three young physicians, including two women, have just been issued licenses by the State Board of Medical Examiners on the basis of an examination held here last month, Dr. Charles B. Pinkham announced today. The board on the same examination also issued licenses to one chiropractor and one drugless practitioner.

Dr. Charles W. Barnett, a Harvard graduate, attached to the Napa State Hospital, presented the best paper to the board and was rated at 93.5 per cent perfect. There were forty-two doctors in all taking the examination.

The successful candidates in addition to Dr. Barnett, were:

NON-ITALIAN CARDINALS TO GAIN ONE

College Will be Equally Divided After Consistory on 19th Inst.

ROME, Nov. 30. (AP)—The College of Cardinals will be equally divided between Italians and non-Italians after the 19th inst., the date set for a consistory.

The prospective appointment of a fifth cardinal, who will bring the number of non-Italians up to thirty-three, equaling the Italians, was announced today. The intention of conferring the Red Hat on four other cardinals at the consistory was announced Monday.

The additional cardinals will be Rev. Justinian Serreodyi of the Benedictine Order, who also will be appointed Archbishop of Gran or Primate of Hungary at the same time. The other four prospective wearers of the Red Hat are Monsignor Raymond, K. M. Rouleau, Archbishop of Quebec; Monsignor Pedro Segura y Saenz, Archbishop of Toledo; Monsignor Charles Joseph Dinet, Archbishop of Besancon, and Monsignor Alessio Lepicier, Titular Bishop of Tarsus.

Voices Raised on Republican Senate Slate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Rumblings of discontent over the election of some individual members of the Republican slate of Senate officers which it is proposed to put through with the convening of Congress next week were heard today at a renewal of conferences of Western Republican independents.

The independents, however, were divided in their opinions as to opposition to the individuals, reported to have been Senator Moses of New Hampshire for president pro-tempore; Edward P. Thayer of Indiana for re-election as secretary, and David S. Barry for re-election as sergeant-at-arms, and it was indicated that there will be no concerted action.

The conference of independents took place in the office of Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. Seven Senators attended besides La Follette. They were Blaine of Wisconsin, Nye and Frazier of North Dakota, Brookhart of Iowa, Norris of Nebraska, and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota. Senator Borah of Idaho, who has played a prominent part in previous conferences, was not present.

CALIFORNIA PLEA FOR EXTRADITION DENIED

ALBANY (N. Y.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Application by California for the extradition of Mrs. Bertha Miller to answer a charge of kidnaping her own daughter was denied today by Gov. Smith. With Mrs. Miller, a New York City cosmetician, was her daughter, Virginia Christoffepson. The California request asserts that the kidnaping was committed in San Francisco August 27, 1926. The Governor said that the proceedings could not take the child back to California and that if the father's motives are good he should come to New York and prove he can take care of the child.

LASTING FLOOD AID TILSON AIM

House Leader Opposed to Makeshift Plans

Eager to Remove Menace to Imperial Area

Willing to Modify Views on Federal Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Hope for permanent solution by the forthcoming Congress of flood problems in New England and in the Colorado and Mississippi River areas was expressed today by Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican House leader.

The Republican leader said that he is not specifically committed to the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill, but that he is hopeful for passage of a measure to relieve the Colorado River problem. He added that he is opposed to the government entering into business that can be carried out by private individuals, but that should it become necessary he may have to yield this view in order to obtain protective from flood menace.

POWER INCIDENTAL

Representative Tilson said in regard to the Colorado River project that the question of power generation and distribution by the government is purely incidental to that of flood control. However, he added, in order to solve the water problem by dams the question of power while incidental, nevertheless is involved inevitably in the situation.

"A far-sighted view should be taken in the matter," he continued. "Los Angeles and other Southern California cities eventually will need additional drinking water. The question of irrigation also will be involved.

"I believe that the argument for new dams on the Colorado River has been answered by the statement that they will prove a temporary solution only.

MAY CHANGE VIEWS

"We should be thorough in the study of the situation and the Boulder Canyon dam bill should be closely scrutinized.

"I am opposed to the government going into any more projects than are necessary. This view is rather contradictory regarding the Colorado River situation and I may have to yield to some extent.

"I should like to solve the matter, however, as nearly to this view as possible. Private individuals can do things better than the government, but I should not like to have the flood menace to the Imperial Valley continue."

AGREEMENT NEAR ON POWER FIGURES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Engineers of the Colorado River commissions of Nevada and Arizona, who have been holding meetings here today, were reported nearing an agreement as to what Los Angeles should be charged for electrical power from Boulder Canyon in event the Boulder Dam is built.

By tomorrow they hope to have advanced sufficiently in reaching common conclusions as to be able to lay before Los Angeles engineers of the Colorado River Commission of California the set of facts upon which they believe the cost of power should be based.

Two of the Los Angeles engineers arrived today—Ezra Scattergood, chief electrical engineer of the Bureau of Power and Light of Los Angeles, and H. C. Gardett, who is assisting Scattergood.

The engineers and some of the commissioners from Arizona and Nevada have been holding daily sessions in the offices of H. W. Crozier, consulting engineer for the Nevada commission.

Tonight the Arizona and Nevada engineers expect to be able to make a complete report to each of their commissioners as are here on their findings and agreements as to facts. The commissioners will then decide what proposition is to be put to the Los Angeles delegation in the matter of probable cost.

The California commission is composed entirely of Southern California men, inasmuch as Los Angeles is the locality principally affected by the Colorado River project.

It is pointed out that Los Angeles, during the next ten years, will need 1,500,000 kilowatts of steam power to take care of its growing electrical demands, regardless of whether Boulder Dam is built. At present the city is using less than half that number of kilowatts.

The power that would be transmitted from Boulder Canyon would be designed to supplement the steam power rather than compete with it, it was said.

Australia Hop Will be Started Next Wednesday

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian aviator, revealed today that the trimotored Fokker in which he and three companions intend to fly to Australia will take off for the Antipodes next Wednesday, barring unforeseen obstacles.

New axles to replace those bent out of line yesterday at the conclusion of a half-load test are being rushed to completion in the Bethlehem steel plant here and it is expected they will be fitted tomorrow morning. If so, an 80 per cent load test will be made at once and the plane started aloft Friday for its attempts to shatter the present world's endurance record of 53h. 22m.

"We must be about our business," said the leader of the Anzac flight crew. "We are planning to leave for Australia next Wednesday. We must leave by then to get the advantage of the full moon.

"If we leave on our endurance flight Friday we can land again at Mills Field Sunday night with a new world's record. That will leave us two days to tune up for our 7300-mile jaunt to Brisbane."

CALIFORNIAN WANTS VOTING LAW REVISED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—A revision of the present Electoral College system to give the people a direct vote for President is proposed in a resolution which Representative Lea, Democrat, California, said today he plans to introduce in the new Congress. By revising the election provisions of the Constitution, Lea declares his resolution would have each State retain its present electoral vote, but each candidate would be given such proportion of the electoral vote as his popular vote might bear to the State's total vote for all candidates.

DEATH WAITS FOR "GOODNIGHT"

Radio Announcer, Enjoying Day Off, Hurries to Station So That Dying Child Can Hear Him Utter His Familiar Closing Words Before She Passes Away

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—A radio announcer's "goodnight everybody" enabled a child to die happily.

The radio announcer was enjoying a Sunday night off when, in response to the request of the mother of a little girl, who was seriously ill, he was summoned from his home. The child had begged to hear "goodnight everybody" spoken by the voice which always soothed her, and she said it sounded "fatherly."

The announcer hurried to headquarters and gave his familiar "goodnight everybody," which, although it was heard by thousands, was meant only for the little sufferer. She heard the familiar voice, smiled happily as she murmured "goodnight" in reply, and lapsed into unconsciousness.

Her feeble response was the last word she uttered.

AIR "STRAFING" UNHEALTHY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Indications that the "strafing" of ground troops by low flying airplanes may become a less popular war maneuver are drawn by War Department officials from recent tests at the infantry school at Benning, Ga., designed to measure the value of training infantry to shoot back with rifles and machine guns.

The doughboys frequently puncture targets at altitudes of 1500 feet or less even with extemporized anti-aircraft mounts for machine guns and old ammunition. A twelve-foot sleeve target, towed by a plane, was used with a platoon of infantry firing.

At 750 feet the riflemen scored 1.38 per cent of hits in sixty-two flights, which figured out as 6.5 hits per minute of firing and an average of 2.7 hits per flight. With .30-caliber machine guns and at an elevation of 1250 feet the percentage of hits was .44 in 104 flights, an average of 14.3 per minute of firing and 5.5 per flight. In both cases accuracy improved at lower altitudes.

"With the use of modern equipment the danger zone should be increased," a War Department report said.

Floods Follow Rains in London

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Serious floods in many places, especially in the low country to the west of London, have followed a heavy twenty-four-hour rainfall which accompanied yesterday's black fog over the city.

AIRPORT SITE LEASED

FAIRFIELD (Cal.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Officials at the airport here announced today that United States airways officials have signed a five-year lease on 100 acres of land near Denverton, Solano county, for a government-owned and operated airport.

FIGHT FOR HUGE ESTATE BEGINS

Angeleno One of Litigants in London Court

Recently Found Document Basis for Contest

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Litigation over the $10,000,000 estate of Maria L'Epine, who died in Portsmouth, Insane, in 1798, was begun in chancery today. William Henry Knight, a Los Angeles merchant, is one of hundreds of claimants to the great wealth of "Mad Maria."

Most of today was taken to outline the case by attorneys for the petitioners. Then the hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

Maria's father was a French weaver who came to England as a Huguenot refugee and amassed a great fortune in his factory at Spitalgate.

Knight bases his relationship to Abigail Eccles, daughter of Maria. He is a cousin of A. C. Macia, who, with his three sisters, all of London, are likewise claimants. Among the English descendants is Lord Bangor. Litigation over the estate developed when the Mason family recently reported finding documents in St. Martins-in-the-Field, London, which recorded, they asserted, that Maria was married and that her daughter Abigail was her true and legal heir.

In a list of world calamities last year, America came first with twenty-five severe storms, floods, earthquakes and other disasters.

TRIAL IN INDIANA AFFECTS COAST

Government Attacks Sale of Unfermented Juice

California Industry Hangs on Court Ruling

Growers' Defense is Clause in Volstead Act

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 30. (AP)—Standing squarely upon its interpretation of certain sections of the Volstead Act, the defense in the vineyards liquor conspiracy case rested today without undertaking to controvert any essential fact of the government's case of prima facie evidence.

The defense rested without Elmer Neibuhr, president of the United Vineyardists' Association of Chicago; Karl A. Putter, president of the California Vineyards Company of Chicago, or Lester Hynes, salesman for the California company in Chicago, taking the stand. They, with J. R. Grable of Fort Wayne, Ind., a salesman, are charged in an indictment of three counts with conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition law. Grable testified concerning his methods of selling grape juice.

GOVERNMENT'S STAND

The legal theory upon which the government relies is that by selling unfermented fruit juice which, under normal circumstances, would ferment and produce a liquid of unlawful alcoholic content, the four defendants conspired to violate the sections of the Volstead Act which forbid the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquors containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol by volume. The government takes the position that, even though the carefully refrigerated juice was of lawful alcoholic content when in the defendants' possession, they sold it with the knowledge it would ferment and with the intention of promoting sales on the basis of its fermentation.

DEFENSE QUOTES LAW

On the other hand, counsel for the defendants rely upon the twenty-ninth section of the Volstead law, which, they say, has been construed to permit the use of fruit juices within the home even though they ferment and attain an alcoholic content in excess of one-half of 1 per cent by volume. The defense says that the juice was sold and placed in householders' hands when its alcoholic content was within the law and that even if fermentation subsequently took place and the alcoholic content increased, the process was given lawful sanction by Sec. 29.

DEPUTIES WON'T GIVE UP PISTOLS

Mexican Congressmen Balk at Disarming for Bullfights

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Federal Congress is indignant at the efforts of the police to prevent Congressmen from wearing pistols to bullfights. A Congressional committee has been appointed to protest to the Chief of Police of Mexico City and the government of the Federal District.

Members of Congress are permitted by law to wear pistols at any time and in any place. At the same time the law prohibits any persons from wearing pistols at bullfights.

It is customary for the police at the gates of the bull ring to search all who seek to enter, and refuse admission to those with pistols, for fear of a possible free-for-all shooting contest in the excitement of the bullfight.

Some Congressmen who were carrying pistols were refused admission recently to the bull ring. Thereupon the Chamber of Deputies appointed a committee to protest against this infringement of Congressional rights.

STOCK EXCHANGE FIRM BANKRUPTCY ENDED

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The bankruptcy petition against A. L. Fuller & Co., the stock exchange concern placed in receivership last August after a break in the stock of Manhattan Electrical Supply, was dismissed today by Federal Judge Knox. Dismissal of the proceedings followed submission of a report of accountants showing that the company had assets in excess of $800,000 as against creditors' claims of $320,000. A member of the firm said the company has settled with all creditors on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

ROMANCE HAS LOVE SEQUEL

Haldeman-Julius Says Companionate Marriage of Daughter Parallels His Own Experience

GIRARD (Kan.) Nov. 30. (AP)—E. Haldeman-Julius today depicted the companionate marriage of his 18-year-old daughter, Josephine, to Aubrey C. Roselle here recently as a sequel to his romance with Anna Marcet Haldeman, starting when she was a student at Bryn Mawr College twenty years ago.

In an interview stating he wished to correct an impression that Josephine is an adopted daughter, the publisher and author said his marriage in 1916 was delayed nearly six years after her birth, largely because of economic reasons. He explained that Josephine made her home with friends of Miss Haldeman and himself until they had established a home here. This, he said, led to the general belief she is an adopted daughter.

Mr. Haldeman-Julius said that young Roselle, who is 20 years of age and has started a college course, faced virtually the same financial problems as confronted Miss Haldeman and himself, when he was a reporter on the New York Call, a Socialist paper.

In the announcement of the marriage of Josephine and young Roselle, their parents arranged to assume all economic responsibility until their children have obtained educations and become financially independent.

When the publisher heard the Unitarian ritual read at his daughter's wedding, he announced he will re-wed Mrs. Haldeman-Julius at a similar ceremony. He said they never have been satisfied with the "dogmas and theories" of the service read at his orthodox marriage eleven years ago.

PAROLE FOR G. B. MEANS PREVENTED

Atty.-Gen. Sargent Balks Move to Free Convicted Bribe-Plot Participant

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Atty-Gen. Sargent today declined to approve parole for Gaston B. Means, former Department of Justice agent who is serving a term in the Atlanta penitentiary for conspiracy to bribe government officials.

At the Department of Justice it was announced that the recommendation of the parole board that Means be released from prison was turned down by the Attorney-General because Means has not paid fines totaling $20,000. It is said that he cannot take a pauper's oath until his term with allowance for good behavior has been completed.

Late last year Means completed the serving of a two-year sentence imposed in New York after his conviction of having conspired with bootleggers to withdraw whisky illegally from distilleries. As he also had been fined $10,000, he served thirty days additional, required because he had taken a pauper's oath.

After serving the additional time, Means immediately began serving a two-year sentence growing out of his conviction in New York of conspiring to bribe government officials in connection with the Crager system glass fraud case in 1923. On this charge also he was fined $10,000, his inability to pay either of the two fines blocking favorable action on his parole recommendation.

Japan's Oranges Flooding Canada

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Nov. 30. (AP) Importation of Japanese oranges through Vancouver will reach a new high mark this weekend, when three steamers arrive from the Orient bringing a total of 500,000 boxes for Canadian distribution.

The Paris Maru, due Friday, will set a new local record for a single consignment, when she unloads 180 carloads. The Protesilaus is listed to arrive Monday and the Empress of Asia Sunday, bringing the remainder of the 500,000 boxes, 210 cars of which are to be moved eastward.

OIL SCANDAL SMIRCH MAY BAR HONORS

Fight Launched Against Sinclair and Doheny in Petroleum Institute

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The New York Times will say tomorrow that re-election of Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny as directors of the American Petroleum Institute, because of their connection with the government oil-lease scandals, will be opposed by a group of influential members of the institute at its annual meeting in Chicago, beginning next Tuesday.

Circulars setting forth the views of this group have been sent to prominent members of the institute. The board of councilors of the institute, which is charged with the responsibility of nominating members of the directorate, will be called on to decide whether Sinclair and Doheny, by reason of their part in the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills lease cases, have disqualified themselves to represent the oil industry on the institute's board of directors.

It is expected that a bitter fight will develop. Friends of Sinclair, it is said, have been canvassing the membership to counteract the opposition.

The Petroleum Institute includes in its membership virtually all of the leading oil officials of the country.

Bay City Woman Jaywalker Slaps Policeman's Face

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Miss Diana Stollmeyer of San Francisco was arrested today on a charge of disturbing the peace after she had slapped a policeman who hauled her back to the sidewalk when she attempted "jaywalking." The policeman said she knocked his cap off and then scratched his face.

"Traffic on Market street was blocked for nearly half an hour by the crowd which gathered to see how the affair would end. The policeman reported that he blew his whistle to halt the woman when she started across the street in the wrong place, and took her by the arm and pulled her to the curb when she ignored the signal.

He sent the woman into a store to wait for the patrol wagon, which called for her at the back entrance. The crowd in front waiting for her to come out refused to disperse. "Jaywalking" is forbidden by an ordinance which went into effect recently.

Sinclair Juror Refused Right of Intervention

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The petition of Edward J. Kidwell, a trial juror in the Fall-Sinclair case, asking permission to intervene in the contempt proceedings growing out of the mistrial, was denied today by Justice Siddons in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

Kidwell, known as Juror No. 11, was accused in affidavits filed with the court of having said he expected material gain from his jury service. The juror denied making such statements and demanded the right to be included in the proceedings against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns, founder of the Burns Detective Agency, and their associates which have been set for hearing on December 5.

EXHIBIT TO BLAZON VIRTUES OF APPLE

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30. (AP)—Plans to blazon the virtues of the apple in a national advertising campaign and renew the old saw, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away," were announced today at the Central States Horticultural Exposition, in session here.

The announcement was made by Paul C. Stark of Louisiana, Mo., president of the newly formed Apples for Health, Inc., which will spend $4,000,000 in the next four years in the advertising campaign.

LONG BEACH HONORS NAVY

High-Ranking Officers of Fleet Special Guests at Brilliant Hotel Virginia Banquet

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Nov. 30.—High-ranking officers and others from the Pacific Fleet were guests of the city of Long Beach at the annual naval dinner and ball given tonight at Hotel Virginia.

It was conceded by all to be the most brilliant and impressive affair in a long succession of such events. Some 300 people attend the dinner, in the Hidalgo room, while more than 2000 persons gathered for the dance which followed.

LONG BEACH PRAISED

Guests of honor for the occasion included Admiral L. R. De Steiguer, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, Vice-Admiral Pratt, Rear-Admirals Taylor, Chase and Lanin, and captains of battleships and other craft.

In response to an address of welcome tendered the navy men by City Manager Callahan, Admiral De Steiguer paid tribute to Long Beach as a navy town and declared that Long Beach and San Pedro are the most ideal places he knows of as bases for a fleet.

"Long Beach is the shore home of many of the officers and men of the Navy," said Admiral De Steiguer. "There now are about 25,000 men in the fleet, and with the arrival of the remodeled U.S.S. New York, the Saratoga and the V-type submarines, there will be more than 30,000."

He added that a large part of the $85,000,000 pay roll of the fleet is spent in Long Beach, that officers and men deposit $75,000 monthly in the banks of Southern California and that they have more than $1,000,000 invested in real estate and property holdings in the vicinity.

MERCHANT MARINE URGED

Admiral De Steiguer made a strong plea for the development of a United States merchant marine, declaring that only one-third of American shipping now goes abroad on American bottoms.

"The prosperity of the country depends upon the development of a merchant marine," he said. "We are paying out more than $600,000,000 a year to the merchant marine of other countries. No great progress can be made along this line until the country becomes sea-minded."

He expressed his desire for the rapid completion by the government of the breakwater guarding Long Beach Harbor, part of which already has been completed by the city, according to the agreement.

Brief talks also were made by Vice-Admiral Pratt, Councilman Alexander and Col. James McKnight, chairman of the Army and Navy Committee.

Entertainment was furnished by West Coast Theaters.

POWER DOUBLED WITH OIL CABLE

New Conductor Long Step in Current Transmission

Economies Effected by Doing Without Substations

Electricity Can be Carried Direct from Source

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—A new electric underground cable that has a core filled with oil for its entire length and which operates at twice the voltage of present underground cables, was discussed here at the second day's session of the regional meeting of the Great Lakes district subdivision of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The cable, which has aroused keen interest among engineers and cable manufacturers throughout the world, was first installed in the United States during the past summer—twelve miles being owned by the New York Edison-United Companies system and six miles by the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago. These are the only commercial installations of this cable in the world. In the cables now generally in use the copper wires form a solid core, surrounded by oil-impregnated paper, which is inclosed in a lead sheath. The new cable, instead of being solid, has its wires stranded about a copper spiral, which forms a hollow the length of the cable. This central hollow or core, is completely filled with oil under constant pressure.

VOLTAGE DOUBLED

It was only very recently that underground cables could be designed to carry as much as 66,000 volts. The new cable carries 132,000 volts, and in the engineering world it is expected that cables of similar design will be able to carry as much as 220,000 volts, which is the voltage required for long-distance transmission and system interconnection. The new cable, it is its influence on the trend toward mass production of cheaper electric power, through interconnection of water and steam systems, has been rated in some quarters as of equal importance as the introduction of the steam turbine.

Philip Torchio, vice-president in charge of electrical engineering, of the New York Edison Company, in a paper dealing with the economic and commercial aspects of the new cable, said that "the new 132,000 single-conductor, lead-covered cable, doubles at a single step the operating voltage of any underground cable of the past," and that "it has introduced a system of electric transmission that will permit the tying of the New York Edison-United system with power generated on the St. Lawrence River, or Niagara Falls, hundreds of miles away, and allow the direct introduction of this energy into New York City at a high voltage.

"In most instances of heavily built-up centers," Mr. Torchio said, "it has been impossible in the past to tie the higher voltage overhead lines directly to the distributing stations and substations, and it was necessary to use underground cable lines of 26,000, 45,000 and 66,000 volts connecting to the higher voltage overhead lines through transformers located at substations on the outskirts of the city.

EFFECTS ECONOMIES

"But now, through the use of this new cable, it is possible to do away with intermediate substations, by bringing the high voltage directly to the ultimate distributing centers. The economic and operating advantages thereby obtainable are: Saving of intermediate substation, transformers, switch gear and attendance, reduction in number of underground cables, savings in synchronous condensers, increased efficiency, improved regulation, and improved stability of parallel operation of local plants with the outside sources of power."

It will be impossible to obtain the relative value of savings until there is obtained from actual experience the relative carrying capacity of the oil-filled cables in contrast with the ordinary type of cables with solid insulation, Mr. Torchio explained.

"The theory of the oil-filled cable," Mr. Torchio said, "is that through its collapsible oil reservoirs it responds readily to volumetric changes in oil and cable due to temperature changes. In this manner, the whole cable is kept constantly filled with oil under pressure, both in the hollow core of the conductor and throughout the surrounding insulation. The unique advantage, therefore, of this type of construction, is that, should the lead sheath be expanded or distorted, or the internal elements of the cable be displaced by temperature variation, or other causes, the spaces thus formed will be immediately filled with oil, while in a solid insulation type, voids would be formed, causing ionization and ultimate failure."

OUTBURST OF HOLD-UPS STIRS SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—An outburst of street robberies on a wholesale scale, attended by the use of bludgeons and punctuated with the display of weapons, set the machinery of the police department into intensified motion today in combative measures. Six hold-ups and robberies occurred during the night in widely scattered districts. In one instance the failure of a victim to produce his money resulted in a severe beating.

WEST COAST SHIP SALES BUMP SNAGS

Plan of Small Payment and Easier Terms May Hinder Federal Deals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—While the Shipping Board has voted to advertise all the three west coast lines operating from Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, the problem does not appear to legal experts as entirely settled yet. The proposal of sales on a smaller down payment than has been customary and on smaller payments over a longer period apparently has not received the approval of the legal department of the board. Some expert lawyers in the marine field say that it is not in accordance with the Federal law permitting sales of government ships to private buyers.

Expressions from possible west coast purchasers indicate that as now outlined there will be little competition for the ships until the board in its terms makes provision for interchange of ports and also provides that the ships when purchased may be diverted as trade demands from the arbitrary trade lines now provided in fleet operations.

Many of those in Washington who had hoped for a real opportunity to buy the government lines for private operation believe that as now drawn the bids received will not result in bona-fide sales and will result in continued government operation unless some modification of the sales plan is made either by the legal agency of the board or by a revision of the plan.

Intimations were made at the Capitol that if the proposals fail to attract satisfactory bids, Congress might initiate a complete inquiry as to the reason for the peculiar method of advertising these lines for sale.

Marine Flyers Hop Tomorrow for Nicaragua

MIAMI (Fla.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Three marine flyers will hop off from the air field here at daybreak Friday on a flight which may inaugurate a new era in communication with Central America. Their object will be a ten-hour nonstop jump to Managua, Nicaragua, 1083 miles away, in a trimotored Fokker monoplane destined to reinforce marine units there.

The trip, except for a short distance over Cuba, will be entirely over water.

Maj. R. T. Brainerd, marine aviation chief, will be at the controls, with Sergt. N. T. Shepherd and Corp. W. N. Chester as passengers.

GENERAL MUM ON WARM TOPIC

Summerall Report Fails to Mention Housing

Budgetary Subjects Avoided by Chief of Staff

Recalled East Last Summer After San Diego Talk

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—The first annual report of Maj.-Gen. Charles P. Summerall as Chief of Staff of the Army, awaited with interest because of its possible remarks on Army housing conditions, has no word to say on that subject.

As a matter of fact, the document, made public today by the War Department, is almost completely devoid of mention of any of the Army problems involving budgetary questions.

In summarizing Army conditions, Gen. Summerall said there has been "gradual progress toward the attainment of the desired peace-time efficiencies." He commented briefly, however, on the promotion stagnation situation which leaves junior officers "faced with the prospect of almost indefinite service with little if any promotion," adding the hope that studies under way will aid Congress in solving the problem.

The belief that the chief of staff might discuss the housing shortage of the Army arose from the incident of last summer when he was recalled from the Pacific Coast by a White House order after he had delivered an address at San Diego on that subject. The general denied then that he had made the remarks attributed to him in certain press reports and President Coolidge was represented as regarding the incident as closed.

Since he came to Washington, Gen. Summerall has busied himself with redistrict plans to get the troops in better quarters this winter, indicating personal feeling he has over the slowness with which permanent building programs can be carried out. Detachments have been shifted about almost regardless of military requirements for the sake of getting the men under water-proof roofs at least, yet his annual report ignores that subject entirely, just as it shows no mention of the reserve ammunition deficiencies, personnel shortages or any other of the so-called "major-projects" of the Army that all involve increased appropriations if they are to be dealt with.

In the regular service, the report found cause for congratulation on decreasing desertion and increasing re-enlistment statistics, due largely, Gen. Summerall believed, to the Presidential order increasing the ration allowance to 50 cents.

"This measure without question is one of the most important enacted in behalf of the enlisted man since the World War," he said.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must keep your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you nine-tenths per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to relieve the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that normal buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and cleansing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.—[Advertisement.

BRITISH EDITOR 'FINDS' PARK

Golden Gate Fairyland Entrances Hewitt-Myring as He Wanders About in It

BY PHILIP HEWITT-MYRING

I have discovered Golden Gate Park. It may seem rather a large object to have escaped my attention for more than a week, but my explorations have been carried out in other parts of San Francisco—and one park is very much like another, I thought, and I don't supppose there's much of particular interest toere anyway.

I was, as all good San Franciscans know, remarkably wrong, for Golden Gate Park, as I have now learned for myself, is not in the least like any other that I, at any rate, have seen, and there is much in it that is of the highest interest.

PHILIP HEWITT-MYRING

I stood on the terrace in front of the de Young Memorial Museum and drank in the contrast of the white marble of the aquarium against the dark green woods of Mt. Sutro towering behind and above it. One might have been in one of H. G. Wells's Utopias; for the beauty of the scene was not that of the untamed countryside, but of nature adorned by the hand of man, and, for a rare marvel improved.

STRAINS OF "MIKADO"

The strains of "The Mikado" came borne on a gentle breeze, and a little Japanese girl, as if she felt the music had some special message for her, danced like an animated doll in the sunshine. For me, I had an instant's homesickness, for Gilbert and Sullivan spell home to every Englishman, and his mind flies back at once to misty London evenings when he has turned in to the Savoy Theater and revelled for an hour or two in the most characteristically English music and the most truly English humor that his country has yet produced.

But a man must be in bad who, on a sunny afternoon in Golden Gate Park, would wish himself anywhere else; and after a walk up miniature hill and down tiny dale and through baby pine wood and along infant foot path, I found myself by an inclosure in which, of all the animals that one would least expect to find in fairyland, were buffaloes.

It is not within the nature of a buffalo to look wholly at peace with the world in any circumstances, but the herd in Golden Gate Park as nearly achieves the impossible as any that I can imagine.

I returned to the band stand—where the musicians were playing "Carmen," with fine gusto—by a different route, and my admiration for the ingenuity by which this Eden had been constructed from bage sapd dunes was heightened at every step.

Like all true beauty, the beauty of the park does not bear analysis; but one can at least say this, that nowhere have I found perfection of architecture and beauty of shrub and tree more perfectly harmonized. The buildings, statues, bridges are exquisite in themselves, and they fit exquisitely into their surroundings. Stone and foliage can never have been combined with more success.

CANARIES' CHOIR

And then I found the Canaries' Choir. This body of birds holds its festivals in the park aviary and gives a performance that is so charming as it is unique. First one bird pipes a few notes, then another and another joins in the refrain until the whole length of the inclosure is filled with the sound of silver bells.

There is happiness, indeed, behind the wire netting for all the birds: as all—except the eagle—have ample space and air and light.

From birds I went to fishes. I had heard that the Steinhart Aquarium was the finest in the world; but remembering the wonderful aquarium that has recently been erected in the London Zoo, I felt skeptical. I had no reason for any excess of skepticism.

PRAISES AQUARIUM

I think the London aquarium is, in point of fact, the finer of the two, for it is larger, and the fishes are somewhat more attractively displayed; but the Steinhart collection is a superb one, and it has at least a few fantastic tropic fish that London cannot boast.

I should have gone from the aquarium to the Natural History Museum and from that to the De Young Memorial collection, but I did not do so.

A guide book I have with me says something about kankaroos. I should like to see a kangaroo in Golden Gate Park. It would add just one more touch of phantasy to the least prosaic, least humdrum, man-made pleasaunce I have seen.

El Acorazado Nueva York Viene a la Costa del Pacifico

NORFOLK (Virginia), Noviembre 30.—Rumbo a la costa del Pacifico, donde quedará agregado a la flota de batalla, zarpará de aqui mañana el acorazado Nueva York, tras haber sido modernizado en el Astillero de Norfolk mediante un desembolso de $8,000,000. Hace varias semanas que regresó aquí dicho buque de guerra, después de duro crucero por aguas de Cuba, y desde entonces comenzó a agregársele nuevo equipo, entre otras cosas, una catapulta lanzaviones y un "carro" aéreo, que funciona en conexión con la catapulta.

PARIS, Noviembre 30.—En vista de que Max Linder, ídolo que fue de Francia, murió pocos minutos después de su jovencita esposa, quien había convenido con él en un pacto de suicidio, el ministerio público, representante del estado en todos los litigios judiciales, ha decidido hoy que la posesión de la niñita de 4 años de los difuntos cónyuges corresponda a los padres del actor muerto.

Este caso, que es el más curioso de esta clase en la historia judicial francesa, ha tenido interesadísima a la sociedad debido a los sensacionales testimonios prestados durante el juicio. Los padres de la jovencita muerta pedían la custodia de la criatura, alegando que el actor de cine era un erotómano enloquecido por las drogas heroicas, que durante dos años estuvo amenazando de muerte a su joven esposa, a la que finalmente asesinó en un hotelucho de mala muerte, donde fue encontrada la pareja con las muñecas cortadas, dando la impresión de que había habido un doble suicidio.

Los padres del actor redarguyeron afirmando que la mujer de Linder no era el ángel de 17 años que a primera vista parecía; sino que era una terrible harpía, que había arrastrado a su esposo a una orgía de disipaciones, y lo había obligado por último a suicidarse.

Más interés aún le dio a este juicio la circunstancia de que Paul Boncour defendió a los padres de Linder, y el ex-presidente Millerand a los de la esposa del actor.

La decisión del ministerio público se funda en el testimonio de que Linder fue el último que murió, después de que los dos se habían cortado las muñecas y apurado veneno; pero el tribunal aplazó su decisión para la semana entrante.

Joyas Halladas en una Cañería del Alcantarillado

Dic Miller, plomero de urgencia, establecido en el 516 de la calle de Bixel, recobró ayer unas alhajas valoradas en $600, pertenecientes a la señora H. L. Patton, después de que aquellas se habían ido por las cañerías de desagüe que hay debajo de la casa de la señora Patton, calle Veintidós Oeste, 2267. Las joyas rescatadas son un anillo nupcial, un reloj pulsera y un diamante solitario.

Hace unas cuantas semanas que Miller rescató en circunstancias análogas un anillo de brillantes valorado en $3000; pero en esa ocasión tuvo que buscarlo por espacio de siete horas, localizando al fin la joya en una cañería que corre por debajo de la calle.

Peritos Hidráulicos que Regresan de Inspeccionar Presas

El ingeniero en jefe Mulholland y su ayudante el ingeniero Van Norman, de la Dirección de Aguas Municipales, regresaron ayer a Los Angeles, tras un extenso viaje que hicieron por el sur y el oeste central del país, con el principal objeto de examinar y estudiar la famosa presa de Dix, cerca de Danville (Kentucky).

Según expuso ayer el señor ingeniero Mulholland, la gigantesca presa de Dix es la más grande presa de alma de roca que se ha construido en el mundo. Tiene 275 pies de altura y una capacidad de almacenamiento de 80,000 acres-pies de agua, aproximadamente. El líquido se usa en la ciudad de Danville, tanto para abastecer de agua la población, como para generar energía eléctrica.

Durante el viaje de regreso a Los Angeles, los dos ingenieros hidráulicos citados inspeccionaron y estudiaron muchos otros sistemas de pantanos, entre los más notables que tenemos en esta nación.

Canadian Exhibitor Takes Title at International Live Stock Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Herman Trelle of Wimberly, Alta., one of the largest Canadian exhibitors of oats at the International live-stock show, is North America's oats king. He also won that title last year.

Displaying the heaviest oats ever exhibited at the Chicago exposition, Trelle defeated L. E. Peterson, Victor, Mont., who was awarded the reserve championship. Last year Trelle also won over Peterson, who achieved the oats kingship in 1924 and 1925.

Trelle's oats weighed 49.6 pounds to the bushel and averaged 126 bushels to the acre.

PARENTS GIVEN LINDER'S CHILD

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Because Max Linder, former film idol of France, died a few minutes after his girl wife, who had entered a suicide pact with him, the Public Minister, who represents the state in all lawsuits, today decided that possession of their 4-year-old daughter belongs to the parents of the dead actor.

The Public Minister's decision is based on testimony that Mr. Linder was the last to die after both had cut their wrists and swallowed poison, but the court withheld decision until next week.

MACMILLAN MAKES RESCUE

HUDSON (Mass.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Two members of the MacMillan Arctic expedition, wintering at Anatalok Bay, Northern Labrador, almost lost their lives yesterday in an effort to maintain communications between their isolated scientific station in the Arctic waste and the outside world. The story is told today in messages sent from the schooner Bowdoin of the expedition and picked up here by the amateur radio station IFL.

The Bowdoin has been deserted for the winter for three shacks built ashore. She lies at anchor in Anatalok Bay more than a mile from shore, and daily the radio operator, Clifford Himoe, must traverse the ice-dotted bay in a dory.

A fierce northeast gale yesterday lashed the waters of the bay into a churning maelstrom of foam and ice. Himoe set out for the schooner accompanied by Frank Henderson of Provincetown, a member of the expedition. Their dory was battered by the ice floes, and the wind swept it past the Bowdoin toward the open sea.

By a desperate final effort they headed the bow of the dory into the rocks of Dog Island. They remained on the islet all day, their clothing frozen and the waves drenching them continually. Toward evening the storm subsided and they were taken off, exhausted and almost frozen, by Commander Donald A. MacMillan.

LYNCHED NEGRO BURNED ON PYRE

JENKINS (Ky.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Soaring flames mounting from the top of Cumberland Mountain signaled the death of Leonard Woods, negro, who was lynched by a mob of more than 700 armed men early today.

Woods, arrested for the slaying of Harshell Deaton, 35 years of age, mine foreman for the Elkton Coal Corporation at Fleming, Ky., was shot to death as he faced a half-circle of rifles. His body was then placed on a platform recently erected for the dedication ceremonies at the opening of the Kentucky-Virginia highway. Gasoline was poured over it and a match touched off the structure.

Upper Air Pilot Chart Issued

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—To assist trans-Atlantic flyers, the Hydrographic Office of the Navy Department has issued a "pilot chart of the upper air," the first of a series to be published monthly for a year.

Air conditions over what is considered the month's most feasible flying route are shown. For December it gives distances, temperature, and wind and weather information for the route to England by way of Bermuda and the Azores.

The data come from nineteen observation stations in Europe, the Canary Islands, the West Indies and the United States, supplemented by reports from recent trans-Atlantic

HAT PASSED FOR FOE OF HATTERS

DANBURY (Ct.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Broken in health and fortune and facing total blindness, the man who won the celebrated Danbury hatters' case twelve years ago at the cost of his personal fortune is to have an annuity of $5000 a year. Action to provide for the few years remaining to Dietrich E. Loewe, now 74 years of age, was taken by the Manufacturers' Association of Connecticut at its meeting at Bristol.

For thirteen years Loewe fought labor unions and their boycott from July, 1902, when his employees struck to enforce their demand for a union shop to January, 1915, when the Federal Supreme Court put an end to the years of litigation by affirming a District Court judgment of $252,130, rendered in 1912 in favor of Loewe.

The decision of the Supreme Court in the famous case established as law that the United Hatters of America was a combination in restraint of trade or commerce under the Sherman Act and that the individual members of the union could be held for three times the loss inflicted, plus costs and counsel fees.

The long, expensive fight had left D. E. Loewe Company, established in 1879, in hard straits and in April, 1926, the company went into bankruptcy. Three business competitors constituted themselves a creditors' committee and raised $90,000, to bring about a settlement of 40 cents on the dollar.

National organizations are to join the movement to insure Loewe a $5000 annuity, it is said.

PLANES TO SEEK NEST OF REBELS

Mexican Federals Want to Oust All Insurgents in State of Jalisco

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Army airplanes are being concentrated in Guadalajara, State of Jalisco, awaiting orders to proceed against rebel bands in an intensive campaign which is being launched by Federals to remove all insurgents in the State. The ships are being assembled in El Rosario Airdrome.

Trains from El Paso proceeding southward to Mexico City and returning will run only in the daytime in the region between Zacatecas and Aguas Calientes, according to an order given the National Railways of Mexico by the Secretary of War and Marine today. The reason given is to insure greater safety for the passengers, although the Secretary believes there is little danger now from bandit attacks. Arrangements have been made with the Southern Pacific lines to change their schedule allowing connections to be made at Guadalajara with westbound trains. Federal troops vigorously are combating the rebels in the restricted zone.

Former Gen. Hector Ignacio Almada, who was with Gomez, a principal in the recent revolt, still is in Vera Cruz, not having left as reported, according to dispatches received here. He is supposed to be in the neighborhood of San Andres Tuxtla, with troops hemming him in with a likelihood that he will be captured shortly. Gen. Escobar, chief of the Federal columns in the Vera Cruz campaign, again has returned to the capital and reported to President Calles on the situation, which he described as being much better, the rebel nucleus having been destroyed and no organized opposition prevailing in the State.

Rome Pays Its Last Honors to Dead Cardinal

ROME, Nov. 30. (AP)—Amid most solemn and touching scenes the funeral of Cardinal Bonzano, once apostolic delegate to Washington, took place today in the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The funeral should have occurred yesterday but it was postponed because of the meeting of the congregation of Sacred Rites, which already had been fixed for that day and which many cardinals attend. All desired to pay, by their presence, a last tribute of reverence and affection to their departed colleague.

For the same reason Pope Pius postponed the first sermon of advent, which should have taken place today at the Vatican with the members of the Sacred College participating.

Mgr. Antonio Maria Capettini, titular bishop of Evaria and former apostolic vicar of China, celebrated the requiem mass.

The weather seemed to have joined in mourning, dark heavy clouds were in the sky and the rain fell drearily.

COAST SURVEY WILL CHART HAWAII ISLES

DISTRICT FEARED BY SHIPPERS WILL BE MADE SAFE AS FAR AS MIDWAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Detailed charts of the coast off Hawaii will be available for navigators next year, Capt. Paul Whitney of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, announced. As soon as the annual overhauling of the survey steamer Guide is completed at Oakland, the vessel will be sent to Hawaii for the winter, under command of Lieutenant-Commander F. J. Maher. Long scale charts of all the roadsteads, anchorages and the seven ports on the west coast of Hawaii will be drawn when the survey is completed in the spring. These will be the first large scale maps of the district to be printed.

When the weather permits next spring, the Guide will start on one of the most extensive charting expeditions it has ever undertaken. It is planned to chart the chain of tiny islands extending 1200 miles westward from Niihau, farthest west of the Hawaiian group, to Midway Island. Many of these isles never have been charted and that portion of the Pacific has been given a wide berth by mariners.

TANNER SEEKS TOUR PERMIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—C. C. Tanner, operating under the name of Tanner Motor Tours, with headquarters in Los Angeles, has applied to the Railroad Commission for a certificate of operation for sightseeing tours to Santa Barbara from Los Angeles.

MIDWEST LAUDS NEW CHAMPIONS

Kansas Girl Health Winner at Juvenile Congress

Lad Heads Homeward With Title for Boys

Wisconsin Miss Captures Honors for Style

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Open throats of the great Midwest echoed notes of praise today for three new champions of the National Four-H Club boys' and girls' congress, homeward bound after winning honors from a big field.

Back to Kansas, Marie Antrim, 18 years of age, of Kingman, takes her title as the nation's healthiest girl.

These three proud young champions were chosen from a field of forty-four State title-holders last night as the chief event of the annual Four-H Club congress.

CLOSE TO PERFECTION

The crown of America's healthiest girl rests lightly on the brow of shy Marie Antrim. Bewilderment at winning the championship was equaled only by her anxiety to escape the flashlights of photographers. She fell just short of being perfect, her score being 99.15.

And as a style champion Olive Van Vuren had no peer. Her ability sh[e] has made her foremost in the Four-H fashion show.

Miss Antrim, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Antrim, have six other children, is blue-eyed, bobbed and pretty. But she could understand just what had won for her.

CHAMPION'S LIKES

She likes sports, plays tennis, baseball and croquet, takes some exercise, she says, but follows no set rules. She loves her farm and home work, is a sophomore in the Kingman High School, and, like all other girls, she cares for lovely things.

Fred Christensen is a regular American boy. He graduated from the College Springs High School last spring after an excellent scholastic record. He won his letter at football, captained the basketball team and was among the student leaders.

The new style champion, Miss Van Vuren, wore a pretty school dress of her own design in winning her championship. The contestants had to make their own dresses, but were permitted to purchase the remainder of their ensemble.

YEARLY HEALTH INVOICES URGED

Business Men Advised to Be Examined Regularly

Chamber of Commerce Calls Idea Good Insurance

Welfare of Communities May Rest With One Leader

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) A man's healthy is not a matter of concern solely to himself, his family and other dependents. This is especially true if he is a man of prominence in the industry and commerce of his community, for his continued health may be of vital importance to its prosperity. Community prosperity and community health in a general way are dependent on the health of its individual citizens and, just as the lives and health of the community as a whole may be conserved by a periodic health appraisal, so may the business heads of a community be the leaders in this movement by taking means to conserve their own health and thus aid in educating the rest.

Every business concern tries to protect itself from a breakdown of vital parts. The business man may also further protect the concern with which he is affiliated by obtaining competent health examinations and health supervision for himself.

BULLETIN ISSUED

Such are arguments in a bulletin on the health of the business man issued by the insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States as part of a health program for commercial organizations which is being developed by that body in co-operation with the American Health Association, the National Association of Life Underwriters and the United States Public Health Service. The purpose is to sell the business man the idea that it is his duty to his community and to the institution with which he is identified, as well as to his family and himself, to have a health invoice taken of himself at regular intervals and to point out to chambers of commerce and similar bodies how they can best help this movement along.

It is in no sense a movement to persuade business and commercial executives that they should take out life-insurance policies in addition to the protection ordinarily carried. It is, however, a form of life insurance, although one on which the premiums are nominal and which pays no death benefits, for it has been found a highly effective method of death postponement.

KIND OF EXAMINATION URGED

The kind of examination recommended for business men is directed toward discovering how the different vital organs are functioning and so takes in habits of living and how they affect the functioning of these vital processes. Health examinations are for supposedly healthy persons and are of use because they enable the person to apply corrective measures for aiding the workings of some vital organ that may have become impaired. They give a complete and composite picture of the physical and mental status of the individual as a whole, with all the component parts noted in relation to one another.

"One often reads of cases of sudden death due to heart failure, apoplexy or other causes, and there is, therefore, a prevailing general impression that these diseases strike their victims down suddenly without warning," says the bulletin. "This is not so. There is no such thing as sudden death except when due to violence.

"Diseases of the heart or kidneys or blood vessels, of such a nature as to terminate life suddenly, are preceded by long periods of gradual breakdown of function which usually give ample warning of what is happening. Tests have been developed to measure body functions and to determine their competency, so that today a suitably equipped doctor may, by examining a person, determine his strong and his weak organs and advise him how to conserve and increase his health and strength."

EFFECT ON INDIVIDUALS

In answer to the contention sometimes advanced that there is danger that a health examination will frighten an individual and make him worry needlessly about his health, the bulletin says all this may be obviated if the examination is carried on skillfully and with the avoidance of ill-advised comment by the examiner.

In many cases the person examined, instead of being depressed by the findings of the examiner, may be relieved from much needless worry, it also is pointed out. For example, quite often a man worrying about a supposed heart trouble is convinced that his fears are groundless. The health client should emerge from the experience with informed assurance that will leave him free from worry.

A complete health examination, as recommended, consists of five steps—a history, a physical examination, a report on the patient, recommendations for carrying on, and, after a certain interval, a re-examination.

The history is made out by the patient and should give a survey of his environment and habits in addition to a description of previous illnesses.

The examination should be of such a nature that it will not only seek anatomical defects, but also a knowledge as to how the various organs and reflexes perform their proper functions.

REPORT MADE IN WRITING

The report on the patient should be made in writing, after the findings have been assembled and the whole life situation has been considered. It should give reassurance of major normal functions and list abnormal findings, with recommendations indicative of the relative importance of defects as to whether they are essential, important, vital or negligible. Reports of progress to the physician are most desirable to make clear doubtful points and to encourage perseverance.

The re-examination, generally at an interval of about a year, serves to check up the success of the whole process and aids the person examined in carrying on with increased confidence.

One insurance company which has been giving its policy holders health examinations is said to have achieved impressive results. For the first five years a saving of mortality of 24 per cent in favor of the policy holders so examined in comparison with the total number of ordinary policy holders at the time of examination was shown. Over a period of nine years the mortality saving was 18 per cent.

Business men will take up the health-examination idea if they are convinced that it is something that will prolong and improve life, and is, therefore, a logical and good-sense measure. Chambers of commerce committees and similar organizations can do much toward convincing business men of this by giving the movement publicity and advocating it in various ways.

NEW BROADSIDE SMACKS HUGHES

Mayor's Expose Goes on But McAndrew Absent

English-Speaking Union Also Comes in for Scoring

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (AP)—The exposition of what Mayor Thompson's administration calls British propaganda in Chicago schools continued at the William McAndrew School trial today but the suspended superintendent was not there to hear it.

A new object of attack, Rupert Hughes, the writer, was introduced by Charles Miller, New York, head of the Patriotic League for the Preservation of American History.

Miller found in Hughes's recent history of George Washington a pro-British leaning, and explained this by mentioning that the writer is an official of the Sulgrave Institute, "the purpose of which is to establish Sulgrave Manor in England as the true Washington shrine."

Hughes was described by Miller as "one of the new-method school of literary smart Alecs whose little bag of tricks is limited to drinking, cursing and illicit lovings, who could not comprehend the real Washington if diagramed to him."

McAndrew withdrew from the trial last week, labeling it a "burlesque" and "vaudeville." He said he would not return until the board takes up the charges against him. He is technically accused of insubordination.

Miller tied the English-speaking Union to what he sees as the Anglicization of school history through two directors who have written "Anglicized textbooks."

"The purpose of the Rhodes scholarships is to imbue talented young Americans, fitted for leadership, with imperialistic ambition for British-American union," asserted Miller.

Dr. Herman Bundesen, city health commissioner and nationally known as an advocate of preventive measures in health work, was removed from office today by Mayor Thompson.

WOMAN MOTORIST KILLED

STOCKTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—One woman, a Mrs. Hulbert of Willows, was killed; Mrs. Leon Wetnrich was badly cut and bruised and the driver of an automobile, A. M. Geleton of Hamilton City, suffered severe cuts when he lost control of the machine and crashed into a bridge near here this afternoon. The car plunged through the bridge railing and landed in the bed of a creek fifteen feet below. They were on route to Fresno.

COL. LINDBERGH DIES IN ACTION

Gen. Harbord Severely Hurt in Same Accident—But They're Both Pigeons

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP) A communique from the War Department announces that Col. Lindbergh has been killed in action and Gen. Harbord has been wounded severely. They are carrier pigeons.

Bearing messages from New York toward Washington, they were shot by hunters. Gen. Harbord reached his loft home with his message. The colonel is missing.

YOUNG PICKS STATE PARK COMMISSION

Henry W. O'Melveny and Maj. F. R. Burnham of Los Angeles Named

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Gov. Young today announced the appointment of the State Park Commission, created by the last Legislature as part of the State Department of Natural Resources.

The personnel follows:

Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University; William E. Colby, San Francisco attorney and law lecturer at the University of California; Henry W. O'Melveny, Los Angeles attorney; Maj. Frederick R. Burnham, Los Angeles explorer, and W. P. Chandler, Fresno attorney and former State Senator.

The commissioners serve at the pleasure of Gov. Young. The positions carry no salary, the members being allowed their expenses while on State business.

The Division of Parks, set up under the natural-resources bill by the appointment of the commission, will be headed by a chief to work with Fred C. Stevenot, natural-resources director. This chief will be appointed by Stevenot after nominations have been submitted by the commission.

The commission will be called upon to formulate a park policy for the State and to supervise the park survey authorized by the last Legislature to determine what areas are suitable and desirable to add to the park system.

The commission also will supervise the disbursement of the $6,000,000 bond issue proposed for the purchase of State park sites if the issue is approved by the voters.

POTENCY HELD TEST OF BREW

Arizona Court Gives Rule for Conviction

Technicalities Lose Liquor and "Purity" Cases

Yuma Defeated in Appeal on Tax Question

PHOENIX, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Home brew is not within the purview of the prohibition laws unless there has been demonstration of the brew's potency. This is the gist of a decision of the United States District Court, Judge Jacobs presiding. There also was given favorable consideration of a plea that the government had not asserted or proved the purchase of the beer by outside persons.

In the case of distilled liquors, the fact of distillation was considered sufficient evidence of potency, but a number of accused individuals escaped on faulty indictments, some of which were based on search warrants that failed to properly identify the premises to be entered. So a considerable number of prisoners were liberated on purely technical grounds.

Something similar has been the fate of a score or more indicted last spring by a "purity" grand jury, which still is in existence. Indictments were found fault in most of the charges of gambling and of sale of intoxicants. The State Supreme Court has just dismissed almost the last of the cases on the ground that the locality of the alleged immorality was not defined as contemplated in the governing law. This same grand jury also made rather indefinite charges against members of the State administration and recommended summary action by the District Attorney, but no action has been taken in any case.

YUMA LOSES TAX CASE

PHOENIX, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—The Pacific Fruit Express has won an appeal to the Supreme Court from a decision of the Yuma County Superior Court in favor of the City of Yuma. The municipality had claimed the right of taxation on private-car lines. This view is declared erroneous. Private-car lines are to be considered as taxable only by the State, as most of its property consists of rolling stock.

REALTY FIRM FORMED

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 30. (Exclusive) James A. Ward of Fresno and Ezer Davis and Charles Brooks of San Diego have filed incorporation articles of the Wellton Mesa Farms, Inc., with capitalization of $100,000 and with property east of this city.

PAROLE SUSPECT HELD

PHOENIX, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—An individual who is reported to have confessed to being a paroled convict from Folsom penitentiary has been detained here on a charge of using the lure of Hollywood for the feathering of his own financial nest. He is reported to have been besieged by young women who answered an advertisement in regard to a chorus for a show and to have received $25 from one of the applicants, this by the expedient of having her cash a worthless check. He gives the name of A. Forrest Paige, 43 years of age, but is declared by Detective Dan Lucey to have a long string of other designations. Lucey states that Paige broke jail in Salinas and in Indiana and is wanted in Gary for the theft of $30,000 worth of jewelry. He came here from San Diego with an eight-cylinder car, said to have been paid for by means of a no-funds check.

HIS LUDSHIP ON O'BRIEN TRAIL

Faith, 'n There's Many a Bye Here Who Hails From Shores o' Shannon

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Faith, 'n there's many the lads O'Brien that have left the land where the River Shannon flows, and his ludship, Sir Shandon of London, is after blatherin' a bit, with 'em. For his ludship, when not ludding, is an O'Brien from Cork, via Dublin. And divil a bit does he draw the line at silks and flannels.

He's here. He thought Chief of Police O'Brien ought to be one of the lads as may be chased Kilkenny cats with his grandfather's shillalah; but O'Brien was out, so his ludship called on Police Judge O'Brien, whose father came from Benton. So before they were through they found out they are cousins and toasted each other in corned beef and cabbage.

In about a week his ludship will be after shovin' along to Los Angeles to look up a few more O'Briens.

LOBBY EXPENSE ACCOUNT GIVEN

Repeal of Estate Tax Urged by Organization

Figures Given After Slaps at "Pressure" Funds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Expenses of the convention held here by the National Council of State Legislatures at the time representatives of that organization advocated repeal of the Federal inheritance tax before the House Ways and Means Committee were announced today as totaling $12,160.

John Henry Kirby, president, in a letter to members of the organization, said the money used to defray expenses was contributed by individuals, State officials and commercial organizations.

During the recent tax hearings representatives of the legislative council were questioned closely by a number of committee members as to the source of their expense money and one representative, Rainey, Democrat, Illinois, threatened to initiate a Congressional investigation.

REASON GIVEN

Mr. Kirby said that his announcement was prompted by the "many misleading and false statements concerning" the convention and that he feels members of the legislative council should be acquainted with the facts.

He said that the expenses of the convention, amounting to $12,160, did not include those delegates whose expenses were paid by States they officially represented or by State organizations in their respective States.

"Every State in the Union is represented in the list of contributors to the funds used in defraying the expenses of the convention at which the National Council of State Legislatures was established on a permanent basis," he said.

OTHER CHARGES

At the time of the committee tax hearings Mr. Rainey and Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, charged that part of the legislative council's funds had been obtained from the American Taxpayers' League, which, they contended, received the financial support from corporations seeking repeal of the inheritance levy for selfish purposes.

Subsequent to the hearings, Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, charged that $80,000 had been in the possession of a lobby seeking repeal of the estate levy, but he did not refer to either the Legislative Council or Taxpayers' League by name.

ROOSTER LOVES HIS CADENZAS

But Oscar Has to Hear His Favorite Tunes Elsewhere, as Mormon Tabernacle Bars Him from Attending Daily Organ Recital With His Fond Mistress

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Because the hat box in her hand began to move in a suspicious manner, Officer Morgan questioned a woman who desired admittance to the daily organ recital at the Mormon tabernacle yesterday.

"That's Oscar, my pet rooster," the woman explained.

"He enjoys music as much as I do. Every time he hears good music he just crows and is happy, and I intend letting him hear this concert."

"Sorry, madam, but no roosters are allowed at this concert," Officer Morgan responded.

Angry words followed and the woman was taken to Benjamin Goddard at the bureau of information on the temple grounds for a decision. There the box was opened and Oscar flapped some beruffled wings, stretched a cramped neck and crowed one long and fusty crow.

"There, you see," the woman exclaimed, "he can hardly wait."

"I'm sorry, but I'm afraid he'll have to, madam," Mr. Goddard answered firmly. "Our concerts are not for roosters, even if they do love good music.

Thereupon the woman pushed Oscar's neck back into the hatbox, clamped on the lid and strutted out of the temple grounds.

Rickenbacker to Make Car Again

DETROIT, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Final plans for the reorganization of the Rickenbacker Motor Car Company which have been under way since suspension of the concern about a year ago, were announced last night and a date set for the resumption of operations in a little more than four weeks' time.

FILIPINO WARNS OF SUGAR PLOT

Lawyer Charges Cuba Seeks to Curb Output

Declares Restriction Will Take Prices Up

Fears Setback to Industry in Philippines

ALTOONA (Pa.) Nov. 30. (AP)—The restriction of the Philippine sugar output will boost the price of sugar to the American consumer, Vicente Villamin, Filipino lawyer, told a mass meeting of civic organizations today.

He charged that a combine of "powerful Cuban-American sugar capitalists" and "their natural business adversary, the domestic cane and beet sugar producers," were campaigning for restoration of the restrictions removed with the adoption of the Jones law in 1916.

"The idea of restriction," he said, "is made obnoxious to the American people by the British action concerning rubber. In the present case, it is violative of the Filipino-American free trade established by law, and is, in effect, a conspiracy against the American consumer.

"This fact is emphasized by the international combine now under final negotiations between the Cuban sugar industry and the European sugar-producing countries to bring about a general limitation in world production. All that is needed to send prices ballooning to sky-high levels is the participation of the Holland colonies in the combine. It is evident that any setback to the Philippine sugar industry is disadvantageous not only to the Philippines, but to the American consumers as well."

The New Ford Car will sell at a SURPRISINGLY LOW PRICE

Complete details of the new car which will be officially announced this FRIDAY

THE MINUTE you see the pictures of the new Ford car you will be delighted with its low, smart lines and the artistic color combinations. There, you will say, is a truly modern car.

But a still greater thrill awaits you when you slip into the roomy seat behind the wheel and start away for your first ride. Then you will know that you have found the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

You will like the feeling of speed and power that the new Ford gives you—the comfortable, prideful feeling that comes from having a car worthy of any occasion and equal to every emergency.

You will like the flexibility and safety of the new Ford car as you weave in and out of city traffic—its flashing pick-up as the light turns green and the sign says "Go." You will like its smooth, quiet steadiness on the open road where you can lazy along according to your mood, or do 55 and even 65 miles an hour if you desire. The new Ford has unusual speed—no doubt of that!

A smart, low, speedy car that has been built to endure

The new Ford will climb hills that you never thought a low-price car would climb on high. It will pass cars that you never thought you could pass. The longest trips will seem easy, for here is a car that puts new joy in motoring.

There is still another reason why the new Ford car is the most outstanding value ever offered in a low-price car. An important three-word reason that means a great deal to you —endurance—durability—long life.

The new Ford car is made to stand up under thousands upon thousands of miles of steady running over all kinds of roads. It has even more stamina than the Model T Ford because we have learned to make every part stronger and sturdier without increased weight or greatly increased cost.

Many of the Model T Ford cars are still in active service after 75,000, 100,000 and 150,000 miles. This new Ford car will do even better. In the words of Henry Ford: "It is our ambition to have every piece of machinery or non-consumable product that we turn out so strong and so well-made that no one ought ever to have to buy a second one."

Four-wheel brakes and standard, selective gear shift

On the right we are printing, for the first time, the complete details of the new Ford car. Read them over carefully, especially the paragraphs dealing with the new engine, the new bodies, the new standard, selective gear shift transmission with roller bearings, the new four-wheel brakes, the new hydraulic shock absorbers, the new mechanical design ignition, the new oiling system, and the new dry-plate, multiple-disc clutch.

Then decide that whatever else you do Friday you are going to set aside at least fifteen minutes to get the full story of the new Ford car. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD CAR

55 TO 65 MILES AN HOUR

The new Ford has unusual speed. It will do 55 to 60 miles an hour with ease. This is a conservative statement. In many road tests it has exceeded 65 miles an hour. So well does the new car hold the road that you can travel at high speed for long stretches with a new feeling of comfort and safety. Even bad roads may be taken at a fast pace. You will be delighted too with the way the new Ford climbs the hills. You will face the steepest grades with confidence, knowing you have power and power to spare to climb them all without greatly reduced speed, without strain, or unnecessary shifting of gears.

40-HORSE-POWER ENGINE

At 2200 revolutions per minute, the new Ford four-cylinder engine develops 40 horse-power. This r. p. m., or revolution speed, is low for such power and shows that the engine is unusually efficient. It also means long life, for the lower the speed of the engine, the less the wear on its parts. The bore is 3¼ inches and the stroke 4¼ inches. (S. A. E. and N. A. C. C. rating for license purposes, 24.03 horse-power.)

REMARKABLE ACCELERATION

The new Ford is remarkably quick on the get-away. In tests in high gear, with a Tudor sedan body and two passengers, it has accelerated from 5 to 25 miles per hour in 8½ seconds. This acceleration is an outstanding feature of the new Ford car.

PREVENTING VIBRATION

The engine in the new Ford is practically vibrationless. This is due in part to its lower r. p. m., the statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft, and the aluminum pistons. To insure quiet, the timing gears are made of bakelized fabric instead of metal, and the cams on the camshaft are so designed that the valve push rods follow them closely, preventing valve clicking.

GASOLINE ECONOMY

You will get from 20 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline, depending on the speed at which you drive. Feed to the carburetor is by gravity from a unique welded one-piece steel tank integral with the cowl.

UNIQUE NEW OILING SYSTEM

The oiling system is distinctly Ford in design, being a combination of pump, splash, and gravity feed. The pump delivers the oil to the valve chamber, from which it flows by gravity feed to the main bearings of the crankshaft. An oil dipper is provided on each connecting rod bearing cap, so that the force of rotation of the crankshaft drives oil into the connecting rod bearings, as well as splashing oil over all working parts within the engine. This is a simple but entirely dependable system, assuring proper lubrication of each bearing and each cylinder without pressure.

PERFECTED COOLING

The new Ford car has a centrifugal water pump, and large radiator. The fan runs on the pump shaft and is made according to airplane propeller design. It is exceedingly difficult to make the new Ford engine overheat; only abuse will do it, such as running without enough oil.

IGNITION SYSTEM OF NEW DESIGN

The ignition system of the new Ford is unique in mechanical design, extremely simple, and will give the car owner exceptional performance with a minimum of trouble. There is only one coil, in a water-proof case. The distributor is located on top of the engine where it is clean and easily accessible. Connections are made to the spark-plugs by short bronze springs. The coincidental lock on the new Ford is placed in the ignition circuit. It not only replaces the regular ignition switch, but in the "off" position grounds the entire circuit. From the switch to the distributor a steel cable protects the primary current wire, this wire being grounded to the distributor casing, thereby making it impossible to wire around the device. The new generator is of the power-house type.

STANDARD, SELECTIVE GEAR SHIFT

The new Ford transmission is of the selective sliding gear type, with standard shift. It has three speeds forward and one reverse. The main shaft runs on ball bearings, the countershaft on roller bearings, and the reverse idler on a bronze bearing. This is the highest type of bearing mounting and is unusual on light cars. All gears are made of heat-treated chrome alloy steel. You will be delighted with the easy, noiseless shifting of gears in this new transmission. You can go from one to another easily, silently, with the pressure of a finger.

EXCEPTIONALLY EASY TO STEER

NEW FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES

The brakes on the new Ford car are an exclusive Ford development. They are of the mechanical, internal expanding-shoe type and are self-centering. This is the most reliable and the simplest type of four-wheel brake and the easiest to adjust. All adjustments are made from the outside without removing any parts. No special tools are needed. Uniform, correct adjustment on each wheel is quickly and easily obtained. The brake pedal and the hand lever each operate all four brakes. Total braking surface is 168 square inches. All brake working parts are cadmium plated to make them rust-proof.

MULTIPLE DRY-DISC CLUTCH

The clutch in the new Ford is of the multiple dry-disc type, which is the most reliable. It is also the easiest to operate, for it takes hold gently and smoothly. It has four driving discs and five driven discs.

COMFORTABLE TRANSVERSE SPRINGS

The springs are of the transverse, semi-elliptic type, designed and built for the new Ford. This type, which was used in the Model T, was adapted to the new car because no better spring type could be found. They are built of the finest spring steel, and the leaves are wide and thin. Each spring is built up of varying sizes and number of leaves to give proper flexibility and to meet riding requirements of the different body types. The size and number of leaves used in these springs is one of the reasons why the new Ford is such a comfortable car. The construction of the transverse springs also contributes to the safety and efficiency of the 4-wheel brakes.

HYDRAULIC SHOCK ABSORBERS

The finest type hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment on the new Ford. These combine with the low center of gravity, the minimum unsprung weight, and the easy riding qualities of the transverse springs to make the new Ford one of the most comfortable cars on the road today.

THREE-QUARTERS-FLOATING REAR AXLE

The rear axle of the new Ford is of the three-quarters-floating type. The axle housings are made entirely of steel, built up by welding steel forgings to steel tubing. The differential housing, to which these housings are bolted, is made of rolled channel steel. The axle shafts carry none of the weight of the car, the wheels running on roller bearings on the housing. All bearings in the rear axle are of the roller type. Drive is by spiral bevel gear.

FORD-DESIGNED STEEL-SPOKE WHEELS

Original design and great strength are two features that mark the unique, Ford-designed steel-spoke wheels. Each wheel is assembled by welding, and becomes one piece of metal. Spokes cannot work loose. Each spoke has a tensile strength of 4000 pounds. Outside spokes do not cross, so that the wheels are easy to clean. There are only 30 spokes in each wheel.

BEAUTIFUL NEW LOW BODY LINES

There is a bit of the European touch in the coachwork and contour of the new Ford. Bodies are steel. Fenders are of the full crown type. Appointments and hardware are of a luxurious type seldom found in a low-price car. Upholstery is of rich, durable material. Cushions are deep and easy. Door handles and window lifts are fully nickeled. Speedometer, gasoline gauge, ammeter and ignition lock are mounted on an instrument panel of satin-finish nickel, illuminated by a lamp in center. Headlamps and radiator shell are fully nickeled. Closed cars have the new military-type sun visor and crown roof. Great care has been taken in designing the new Ford to provide generous seat space and ample leg room. Clear, unobstructed vision is assured at front by unusually narrow pillars and at sides by specially designed doors with large windows.

CHOICE OF FOUR COLORS

The color combinations used on the new Ford are especially artistic and attractive. Four color choices are offered for each body type—a most unusual feature in a low-price car. Purchasers may choose any one of the following colors—Niagara Blue, Arabian Sand, Dawn Gray, and Gun Metal Blue. Belt and reveals are finished in contrasting colors, with attractive striping. The finish is pyroxylin lacquer, one of the finest and most enduring finishes for automobile bodies. It is not affected by heat or cold, withstands all kinds of weather conditions, and is not easily marred or scratched. The lustre actually improves with washing.

A QUIET CAR

In designing the new Ford, every precaution was taken to prevent squeaks, rattles and drumming sounds. Body panels and frame sections are welded and riveted together wherever there is possibility of the body weaving. In all structural details the new Ford bodies are built to afford the utmost quietness and comfort.

GREASE GUN LUBRICATION

The chassis of the new Ford is lubricated by the pressure grease gun system, the simplest and most effective method of lubrication.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW INCREASE

Gain for November Over 1926 Period 11 Per Cent

Aggregate of Eleven Months Up $419,067,058.69

Giving additional evidence of satisfactory trade conditions and expanding business activity in Los Angeles and vicinity, bank clearings in Los Angeles for the month of November exceeded the total for the corresponding month of last year by 11 per cent, a percentage gain which has been surpassed in only two months of the current year.

According to figures released late yesterday by the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association, aggregate bank clearings for the month just closed amounted to $780,565,176.53, as compared with $711,609,309.06 in the corresponding month of last year, an increase of $68,866,967.17. The November total has been exceeded only twice this year, in the months of January and March.

November clearings were $20,094,-111.06 greater than the aggregate of $769,602,065.77 for October, last, while in recent years November clearings have shown a decrease from clearings in the month of October.

For the eleven months ended November 30, last, aggregate bank clearings in Los Angeles amounted to $8,532,948,877.81, an increase of $419,067,058.69, or 5.2 per cent over the total of $8,113,881,819.12 for the first eleven months of last year.

Should clearings in December show a corresponding increase over December figures last year, the aggregate for the current year will exceed $9,400,000,000. This would compare with total clearings of $8,917,434,-196.90 for 1925 and would represent an increase in excess of 5 per cent for the year.

HARBOR COMMERCE GROWS

Figures for November Reveal ubstantial Increase of Both in and Out Traffic

Commerce in and out of Los Angeles Harbor during the month just closed again assumed large proportions and exceeded the total movement of the corresponding month of last year, both in volume and value, according to the monthly report on port traffic issued late yesterday by the marine exchange of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

During November 1,929,574 tons of cargo with an aggregate value of $73,845,189 were handled at the local port in the various services, as compared with a total movement of 1,699,849 tons valued at $73,105,963 in the same month of last year. This represents an increase of 229,725 tons, or 13.5 per cent, in total tonnage, and $439,226, or 6 per cent, in aggregate valuation.

EXPORTS INCREASE

Exports in all trades were greater in the month just closed than in the corresponding month of last year, while imports were smaller in all services with the exception of receipts from the Hawaiian Islands. Foreign exports advanced from 426,-170 tons valued at $7,999,287 in November, 1926, to [illegible],272 tons with a total value of $8,431,143 in November, last. Foreign imports declined from 49,599 tons to 30,425 tons and from $3,853,396 to $2,547,744 in total value.

Coastwise shipments again led the other trades in total volume of commerce, with an outbound movement of 646,726 tons with a total value of $11,650,475, as compared with 510,823 tons valued at $10,334,152 in November, 1926. Coastwise receipts amounted to 313,751 tons and $18,162,403 in value, as against 322,-574 tons valued at $20,201,273 in the month last year.

INTERCOASTAL TRADE UP

Intercoastal shipments advanced from 267,118 tons and $8,077,769 in value to 290,894 tons and $9,866,789 in value, while intercoastal receipts fell from 89,714 tons valued at $21,714,974 to 84,328 tons valued at $21,858,681. Hawaiian exports moved up from 29,012 tons and $561,411 in value to 61,303 tons and $1,179,714 in value, while receipts from Hawaii showed a small gain.

During the month of November, 615 vessels with a combined net tonnage of 1,702,434 tons arrived in Los Angeles Harbor, as compared with 558 vessels of 1,473,240 net tons entering the port in November, 1926. Thirteen nations were represented among the arrivals in the month just closed.

OIL TRAFFIC GAINS

Bulk petroleum shipments increased 2,000,723 barrels from 7,832,-320 barrels in November, 1926, to 9,833,043 barrels in November, last. Of this total 4,134,936 barrels were transported in the Pacific domestic trade, 2,209,389 barrels in the Pacific foreign service, 1,838,681 barrels in the Atlantic domestic trade and 1,351,593 barrels in the Atlantic foreign service.

The movement in the month just closed was as follows:

	Barrels.
Crude	2,441,899
Fuel	4,873,467
Gasoline	2,179,780
Kerosene	191,292
Distillate	11,760
Diesel	86,150
Tops	139,125
Total	9,833,542

During November ninety-four lumber carriers brought in 105,405,000 board feet of fir and redwood from the Pacific-Northwest. Since the first of the year 1038 vessels have brought in an aggregate of 1,043,681,000 board feet of lumber, of which 941,189,000 board feet was fir and 102,492,000 board feet was redwood.

RIO GRANDE RUMORS ACTIVE

Linked Particularly With California Petroleum and Julian Company; Eastern Trade Denied

BY EARLE R. CROWE

Additional ramifications and complexities were added yesterday to the petroleum merger situation. The first announcement came from Fred V. Gordon, vice-president of California Petroleum, who said that there is no possibility of a Transcontinental-California Petroleum trade. To supplant this rumor, the name of the Rio Grande Oil Company was straightway placed in circulation as the principal in negotiations with California Petroleum, California Eastern Oil Company, Richfield and others.

Since the deep zone discovery by the Richfield company on its Delaney property at Signal Hill, the Rio Grande Oil Company has been elevated to a desirable strategic position on the basis of its adjoining holdings. These properties undoubtedly possess considerable value for any number of possible buyers, among which are California Petroleum, California Eastern and Richfield.

RUMOR DENIED

Although it was reported that discussions between California Petroleum and Rio Grande will mean the critical point upon the return from New York in a few days of Jacques Vincent, president of California Petroleum, Vice-President Gordon declared that there is no foundation for the story of a possible purchase. The rumor vendors along Spring street, however, were so positive as to name the basis of exchange for the shares of the two companies.

Equally as emphatic were the stories connecting California Eastern, holding company for the widely publicized Julian Petroleum Corporation, in negotiations with the Rio Grande management. The Julian receivers, it is understood, have looked favorably upon Rio Grande as possessing the requisite strength to inject new life blood into the anemic California Eastern and subsidiaries.

There is no occasion, however, for the Julian Petroleum stockholders to entertain inflated hopes until the awkward question of payment is decided, assuming that a trade is found feasible. The bankers interested in California Eastern would probably have to supply the money, and look to the sale of a bond issue secured by the combined properties for reimbursement. This part of the program, however, would depend on the state of the security markets and the likelihood of success for the distribution at this time of oil securities.

SET-UP ATTRACTIVE

Nevertheless, such a set-up would be attractive so far as the rehabilitation of California Eastern is concerned. The Signal Hill properties of Rio Grande have added several-fold to the value of the company, and the remainder of the Rio Grande picture is satisfactory. The company owns extensive acreage in the West Texas area, lying near the famous Yates pool. The management plans to have development work on this ground completed by the spring of next year.

Rio Grande refined products are marketed in California, Arizona and Texas, and refineries are located at Vinvale, Cal.; El Paso and Sour Lake, Tex., and Phoenix, Ariz.

For the first six months of this year Rio Grande earned $1.13 a share on the capital stock. Earnings for the third quarter are reported to exceed those for the first half of the year, and reflect the operation of all departments on a profitable basis.

UTILITY PROFITS UP

New York Unit of Federal Water Gains, $54,837 in Year

Consolidated earnings statement of New York Water Service Corporation, a subsidiary of Federal Water Service Corporation, show gross revenues of $1,630,821 for the twelve months ended September 30, last, as against $1,604,984, for the calendar year 1926.

Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes other than Federal income tax totaled $756,966, a decrease of $38,671, leaving gross income of $902,855, an increase of $93,538, over the year ended December 31, 1926. This balance of $902,855, compares with annual interest requirements of $439,025, on the corporation's entire funded indebtedness consisting of $8,530,500, first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds.

Deal Pends for Sale of Arizona Utility Plants

FLORENCE (Ariz.) Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—People's Light and Power Corporation of New York is negotiating with the municipalities of Florence and Casa Grande for the purchase of their utility plants, it is reported here. The city of Florence has been offered $125,000 for its light, power and water works, with assumption of a civic debt of $18,000 to the electrical district through which current is secured from the Salt River Valley system.

At Casa Grande the offer approximates $130,000, the amount of outstanding indebtedness of the light, power and water systems. In each city appears a disposition to sell, owing to the need of extensions for which no local money is available.

The question is to be put before the electors in December. The prospective purchaser already controls the public utilities in Bisbee, Lowell, Naco, Miami, Claypool and Safford.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (Exclusive) A late rally made up for the loss sustained in a reaction in the early afternoon. The cotton market was advanced 11 to 17 points from yesterday's closing prices during the early trading from better support, encouraged by a rally at Liverpool, less pressure of southern selling and the appearance of another severe cold wave in the West from which temperatures are expected to drop to between 20 and 30 deg. above zero over Oklahoma, most of Northern Arkansas and Northern Texas tonight and to below freezing through Central Texas and Louisiana.

For the Central and Eastern States cold rainy weather is indicated for both tonight and tomorrow. As there is still nearly 10 per cent of the crop in the fields over the northern half of the belt, this bad weather will delay its gathering and also lower the grade of this remnant of the season's yield.

Another factor helping the market somewhat today was the belief there has been a tendency to exaggerate the plans some of the southern mills have been disclosing lately for curtailing some of their production of both sheetings and yarns.

In this early advance December sold at 19.10 cents, January at 19.15 cents, March at 19.37 cents, May at 19.56 cents and July at 19.37 cents. As there was not enough new responsive local or outside buying to hold that gain against the further local selling and outside liquidation, the market slowly declined during the afternoon until all of it had been lost by 2 o'clock, December and January again going under 19 cents by that time, March reacting to 19.20 cents and May and July to about 19 3-8 cents.

The fact is, most traders, as well as important milling interests and spot cotton dealers, are still too uncertain as to what the government's annual crop estimate will be for the market to show any definite trend at present. Important new trade buying is being deferred until its figures are out on December 8. The idea here and at New Orleans is it should not make the crop much larger than 13,000,000 to 13,250,000 bales without linters, against the last monthly government report of 12,-842,000 bales figured to November 1.

At Liverpool cotton futures closed steady at 7 to 9 of their points net advance on the day, whereas they should have ruled about unchanged to have met our closing of yesterday.

STOCK SALES IN NOVEMBER GAIN

Exchange Business in Month at Record Level

Value of Transactions Jumps 170 Per Cent Over 1926

Eleven Months' Aggregate Exceeds Last Year

Bringing sales for the eleven months of the current year to in excess of the aggregate for the entire year of 1926, the total market value of stock and bond transactions on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during the month just closed was more than 170 per cent greater than the total of sales for the month of November, 1926.

According to figures prepared by the exchange late yesterday, sales for the month of November aggregated 1,884,550 shares with a combined value of $27,493,852.48. This compares with a total value of $10,380,-550.32 for November last year and represents an increase of $17,313,082.16.

For the first eleven months of this year the combined market value of sales amounted to $206,784,388.82, as against aggregate sales of $203,120,-944.91 for the entire year of 1926. With continued exchange activity in prospect, the total value of sales for 1927 is expected to run well over $230,000,000, an unprecedented record volume.

November was the third consecutive month in which the record monthly volume of $26,000,000 established in March, 1926, has been exceeded. September sales aggregated $27,500,000, and October sales established the prevailing record of more than $31,000,000. While the November sales were slightly below those of the preceding record month, this is a seasonal variation. November sales having in the past been lower than in October.

Transactions in the bond division of the exchange during November totaled $3,217,000 and are increasing from week to week, bond sales on the exchange yesterday crossing the $200,000 mark.

SIGNATURE PROVES TO BE PARDON

Suspected Man Writes His Name in Court to Show Mistaken Identity

Martin Gallegos, accused of violating probation, yesterday wrote his own pardon in Superior Judge Hardy's court when he proved by his signature that he is not Jose Gallegos, a man for whom he was mistaken by the probation department.

Gallegos was taken into court a week ago as Jose Gallegos, but immediately informed the court that he had been mistaken for another man. He was asked to write his name and did so, proving by his signature that he is Martin and not Jose Gallegos.

Supported by a report from the probation department yesterday, Judge Hardy ordered the case off calendar and freed the man of the violation of probation charge.

LONDON, Nov. 30. (By wireless)—Markets were improved slightly today. The Palestine loan closed at 11:30 o'clock this morning, the terms being notably cheap. The outstanding feature of the trading was the renewed activity in industrials. Carreras Tobacco was strong on dividend declarations.

Dunlop showed up better on the strength of a new issue to be made soon of £2,500,000 6 per cent cumulative preference shares of a rubber-growing subsidiary of the Dunlop Rubber Company. The dividends of the new company will be guaranteed by Dunlops.

Silk shares were stronger. Oils were dull and unaffected by the reported agreement between the Shell and Burgth groups cabled yesterday which is, however, thought to be correct.

Some interest and slight surprise are evidenced here in the reported £3,000,000 credit granted by the American Farquhar group to soviet Russia.

EARNINGS OF RAIL GROUP POINT DOWN

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Aggregate net operating income of the first sixty-five railroads to report October earnings amounted to $106,-326,000, a decrease of 8.2 per cent under the $115,814,000 reported by the same number in October, last year. Their net for September was $107,809,000. October gross revenues were $469,008,000, a decline of 4.5 per cent.

OCTOBER TRADE DECLINES

Department Store Sales in New York District Shown Smallest for Month in Three Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The October decline in department-store sales in the New York district was the sharpest for any month in more than three years. The December review of credit and business conditions by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York shows the sales of such leading stores 4.5 per cent smaller than in October, 1926. That is the biggest drop from a year previous for any month since 1924.

The store executives in their reports to the Federal reserve agent at New York attributed the reduction in their volume of business directly to the unseasonably warm weather, and that conclusion seems logical, since the largest declines came in the apparel departments. When segregated from other department stores, the apparel stores show a reduction in their October sales from a year ago, not of 4.5, but of 7 per cent.

The result is that outstanding orders for merchandise were reduced last month with the failure of goods to move as rapidly as expected and by the end of October the stocks on hand were smaller than a year ago. The recent check to the usual seasonal expansion in department-store business in turn held down factory activity. Notwithstanding these things, however, collections continued to exceed those of last year.

Any substantial reduction in retail business usually is reflected in reports of the wholesale trade and in October the various lines of wholesale trade reporting to the Federal reserve agent at New York showed an average decline of less than 11.14 per cent. Here again the heaviest reductions came in the apparel trades. Net sales of women's dresses declined 35.8 per cent, women's coats and suits 18.2 per cent, and shoes 11 per cent from a year ago. All of which makes it perfectly plain that the prolonged warm weather this fall has been a serious deterrent in trade.

As in the case of retailers the Federal Reserve Bank finds that stocks of merchandise carried by wholesalers were smaller at the end of October than a year ago. The outstanding expansion in shoes and, of course, the 64.1 per cent increases in stocks there is explained largely by the very small stocks of a year ago.

While the grocery chain stores continued to report larger increases over the year before in general, the unsatisfactory October retail trade was reflected in the chain-store business as well as in the wholesale and department-store figures. Ten-cent, drug, tobacco, shoe and candy chains all reported smaller sales per store than a year ago, and even the variety stores showed a smaller increase than usual.

Heavy Buying Embraces Wide Assortment of Issues

General Motors Rallies 3 1/4 Points to 129 3-4

Ticker Twenty Minutes Late as Orders Pile Up

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Speculation for the advance was resumed with considerable violence in today's stock market. Buying embraced an unusually wide assortment of issues, nearly two score of which established record high prices on gains that ran as high as 10 points. The average of twenty leading industrials compiled by the Associated Press also reached a new high level for all time. So great was the accumulation of orders that the ticker fell several minutes behind the market shortly after midday, and never caught up. The day's total sales running well over 2,500,000 shares.

The advance was not associated with anything in the day's news, although the lowering of the call money renewal rate from 4½ to 4 per cent, the stiffening of export cotton prices and the predicted boom in steel-mill operations by the trade journals had a favorable effect on sentiment. Commission houses reported a large increase in public participation particularly in odd lots.

MOTORS SPURT

General Motors, which has been sluggish for about a fortnight on selling for both accounts, presumably inspired by fears of Ford competition, suddenly leaped into the limelight by rallying from a low of 125 3-4 to 130½, closing at 129 3-4 for a net gain of 3 1-4 on the day. Du Pont which sells exdividend tomorrow and has large General Motors holdings, advanced nearly 5 points to 236 3-8. Peerless advanced 3 points and Jordan 2 despite the denial of the head of the Continental Motors Company of reports that a merger of the three concerns was under negotiation.

Commission houses reported a large increase in public participation particularly in odd lots.

MOTORS SPURT

General Motors, which has been sluggish for about a fortnight on selling for both accounts, presumably inspired by buys of Ford competition, suddenly leaped into the limelight by rallying from a low of 128 3-4 to 130½, closing at 129 3-4 for a net gain of 2 1-4 on the day. Du Pont which sells ex-dividend $6.75 tomorrow and has large General Motors holdings, advanced nearly 6 points to 236 3-4. Peerless advanced 5 points and Jordan 2 despite the denial of the head of the Continental Motors Company of reports that a merger of the three concerns was under negotiation.

COPPER MARKET RENEWS UPTURN

Price Firm at New Level and Further Gain Expected

Increase in Foreign Demand Held Cause of Improvement

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor, The Mining Journal, Phoenix

Copper has continued to advance in price during the past week and has now been firm at 13 3-4 for several days. Lead has had no change, still staying at 6.35, and zinc has strengthened a little to 5.85 to 5.90. The market conditions that have caused the copper increase are still good and it looks as though that metal might hit the 14-cent mark before the end of the year.

Lead is very listless, neither a good nor a bad market, a fair business being done with only about the usual amount of cut price transactions. The lead price has remained stationary for over two months and there is no indication of material change. Present business being placed is almost all for immediate delivery, with no interest in futures.

The low price of zinc has been attracting buyers into the market and it seems evident that there is some stocking up going on. The result was that zinc hit its low point at 5.60 and then the buying that the low price stimulated forced the price back up a little. There was practically no future delivery metal sold at the low mark.

BUYERS ACTIVE

Practically all branches of copper fabricators have been into the market for heavy purchases and it is evident that the consumers sense this last advance as a substantial movement. Copper is reported to be sold only up to the end of February at the present price, but most of the tonnage sold has been for December delivery, with a small amount to be delivered in January.

It is interesting to note that the rise in copper prices has come about as a result of increased demand rather than a decreased production for, in spite of the protestations of the producers last summer relative to curtailment programs, the figures show that in total it was not done and that the world copper production during October was the greatest in history with the exception of November, 1926, and February, 1927.

The world production of copper during October totaled 148,278 tons, almost 200 tons a day above the average daily rate for the year and 900 tons daily above the average for 1926. The world production during September totaled 133,291 tons. The largest month in copper production history was November, 1926, when 148,321 tons were produced, or an average of 4944 tons daily.

GAIN IN AMERICA

The increase in the world production of copper came from the United States, Chile, Peru, Europe and Belgian Congo, the United States contributing about 9000 of the 12,000 tons. At the present time the United States is furnishing 57 per cent of the world's copper, Chile and Peru 18 per cent, Europe 8 per cent and Belgian Congo 7 per cent.

Foreign copper has advanced to 14.05 with heavy sales continuing. A thing to be watched in regard to heavy foreign sales is whether they are made on a speculative account, and the reports indicate that the copper is being actually bought for consumption rather than speculation. Speculative purchases come back on to the market at a later date and often greatly disturb the foreign metal situation.

The surplus stock of copper in Europe has been decreasing. There were 43,705 tons less copper in British warehouses at the end of October than on February 1, 1926, and the stocks now total 15,383 tons. The stock has gradually decreased until they are now almost a negligible amount and not in any way interfering or controlling sales abroad as was the case when there was plenty available. European conditions for a continuance of the present demand are reported to be good and the European consumers impressed with the fact that stocks are diminishing rapidly.

MOVE SIGNIFICANT

The most significant feature of the copper situation is the news of the organization of the Copper Institute. This organization, which is composed exclusively of those engaged in the mining, smelting and refining business, is for the purpose of gathering and exchanging statistical data relative to copper and the figures thus obtained can be used as a guide in the regulation of production.

The statistical work of this new organization will go somewhat farther than that of the American Bureau of Metal Statistics in that they will have available more complete data as to copper in process and the approximate time it will take before it is on the market, the data regarding sales made for future delivery and other things of a similar nature which will make a more accurate guide as to market conditions to be expected.

Thus they will be able to present a very complete picture of the position of copper with regard to both production and marketing. It will not be the function of the new organization to formulate policies of its members and the results to be obtained from such an organization will depend entirely upon what the member companies do with the information which is made available for them.

There are many other angles to the new organization which may later be worked out and connected with the plan such as the inclusion of foreign producers, the promotion of copper, etc. One of the most important pieces of work which is being started at once is the developing of a standard system of cost accounting for copper producers to ascertain true costs of production, transportation and marketing, depreciation and depletion, etc., and get away from the present system of reporting or figuring costs which gives almost no information from a comparative point of view. The organization of the Copper Institute has been heralded as a wonderful step forward for the industry.

BY WILLIAM RUSSELL WHITE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Formation of the General Bronze Corporation through the consolidation of the John Polachek Bronze and Iron Company, Inc., and the Renaissance Bronze and Iron Works, Inc., brings into prominence the interesting career of the leading spirit of the merger—John Polachek.

Arriving in this country at the age of 19, he has devoted his life to his art and is recognized now as the leader of the bronze industry, of which he was one of the pioneers and leading factors in this country. His pre-eminence shows what a young man with a goal in sight may accomplish despite the handicap of limited capital.

The consolidation, being financed through issuance of 7 per cent convertible preferred stock and a limited amount of common under the auspices of Hitt, Farwell & Co., places the new company at the head of the architectural bronze industry, with two large plants in Long Island City.

Adversity that might have discouraged most young men was overcome by young Polachek soon after he launched his own venture. He had been in business only three months in a little 50x100 loft, when the two banks in which he kept checking accounts failed in the summer of 1910.

The following year he leased another loft and started anew. His business expanded at such a rapid rate he was compelled to find additional space and built his own factory in Long Island City. With room to grow there, he has expanded his plant every two years since. Previous to starting his own business he worked for nine years with one concern, advancing from the bench through all stages of the business to become foreman. Then for seven years he managed another concern, which he had an opportunity to start.

Probably because of his long training on the shop bench, Mr. Polachek is a firm believer in profit sharing, and in 1923 his business was incorporated primarily to give an interest in the firm to twenty-two men, chiefly department heads, who had been with him almost from the inception of the business.

In New York Mr. Polachek's architectural bronze is widely known, for he manufactured and erected the Fifth-avenue traffic towers and installed the bronze work in the Paramount Theater Building. His fame has spread abroad, too, and his products have been used in bank buildings in Montreal, Tokio and Buenos Aires.

From the small leased loft the business has grown to a plant covering almost two acres, employing between 500 and 600. The Renaissance concern has had a steady growth in its six years of existence.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—With speculative interest turning almost wholly to the specialties the turnover in the leaders was unusually light. Steel selling ex the quarterly dividend, swung back and forth aimlessly within a range of about a point. The weekly trade summaries, coming after the turn of the day, offered little to encourage renewed bullish activity in the steel group. Mill operations at Youngstown and Chicago have been stepped up a trifle, and the prospect is for increasing activity in demand and production early next year. But prices, it was pointed out, have yet to stand a real test. Preliminary indications are the pig-iron output this month ran slightly under the October total.

Texas Company Earnings

Steady accumulation of Texas Company has been one of the noteworthy developments in the oils of late. Buying of the big independents' shares is explained by the confident belief among those well informed that Texas Company will come through the year as one of the mighty few oil companies covering its dividend requirements. Capable management, which has sought diversification of the company's business, is given as explanation for this achievement, the company's income from sources other than the oil business being expected to make the good showing possible.

Mail-Order Sales Tomorrow

The seemingly insatiable demand for the mail-order shares, especially Montgomery Ward, continued of huge proportions, lifting both that stock and Sears Roebuck to new record levels. Strength here called attention to the fact that the November sales figures of the two big organizations expected to reflect the increased purchasing capacity of the agricultural districts will be available tomorrow.

A Star Performer

The spectacular feature today in point of scope of the advance registered, was American Machine and Foundry. One of the most closely held of the industrial specialties, the stock proved exceptionally hard to buy and limited demand brought an advance of some 14 points to new record levels with the price bounding ahead 2 and sometimes 3 points between sales on the way up. The company with its controlled subsidiaries, does a large part of the business of making machinery used in the cigar, cigarette and tobacco industries. Machines are leased and not sold and the business is said to be proving much more profitable now than at any time previously. Little of the 180,000 common shares issued is available for trading purposes.

Day's Dividend Grist Reported

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Directors of the Welsbach Company of Philadelphia took no action on the regular semiannual dividend of 3½ per cent on the preferred stock, due at this time.

Sterling Products Company declared an extra Christmas dividend of $1, payable December 23 to holders of record December 13.

G. W. Helm & Co. declared an extra of $3 on the common stock and the regular quarterly of $1, also the regular quarterly of 1 3-4 per cent on the preferred, all payable January 3 to stock of record December 12. An extra of $4 was paid on January 3, 1927, on the common stock.

Bush Terminal Company declared a quarterly stock dividend of one and one-half shares of common for each 100 shares held instead of one and three-fourths shares as was erroneously reported. A quarterly cash dividend of 50 cents also was authorized.

The National Bank of Commerce in New York declared an extra dividend of 2 per cent, payable January 3, 1928, to stock of record December 16. The regular quarterly of 4 per cent also was authorized.

Bay City Market Has Lively Day

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (AP)—The market value of securities traded in on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange today reached $8,833,295, a new daily record for November, officials of the exchange reported. The previous high record was last Tuesday, when total sales amounted to $8,302,132.

The highest single day's sales on the exchange was made October 4, last, when the turnover amounted to $7,025,395.

heavily bought by interests associated with Arthur Cutten, Chicago operator, soared nearly 10 points to a new high record of 111 3-4, as compared with the year's low of 60 3-8 Sears-Roebuck advanced 3¼ points to a new top at 86 7-8. Radio Corporation, early 150,000 shares of which changed hands, crossed par for the first time in history. Other issues to better their previous top prices included Abitibi Power, Auto Sales, Bloomingdale Brothers, Cerro De Pasco, Corn Products, Eureka Vacuum, Goodrich Rubber, Marlin Rockwell, National Biscuit, Pacific Coast, Peoples Gas, Reid Ice Cream, Stewart-Warner, Victor Talking Machine and Warren Brothers.

SPECIALTIES ACTIVE

American Machine and Foundry soared 19 points to 220, the common advanced 17½ to 172, and American Radiator, Collins & Aikman, Commercial Solvents, Continental Insurance, Pullman (old) and Timken Roller Bearing advanced 5 points or more. Pan American Petroleum and American Republics were conspicuously heavy.

A jump of nearly 10 points in Canadian Pacific to a new peak at 208 featured the rail list. Strength of Pere Marquette and Wabash was based on expectations of increased earnings through large Ford business.

There was no change in time-money and commercial paper rates.

Leading commodity markets moved within narrow and irregular limits, cotton advancing slightly, while grain futures lost ground. Coffee and sugar quotations were practically unchanged.

A drop of 16 points in Spanish pesetas to 16.44 cents was the only change of consequence in the irregular foreign exchange market. Demand sterling was slightly easier at $4.87 3-8.

Grain Futures Irregular on Evening Sales

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—General evening up was under way in the December deliveries of grain, with scattered long liquidation, while cash interests bought the near-by months and sold the deferred, changing over hedges. Spreads in wheat and oats showed little change, while in corn the difference widened ¼c to 7⅛c discount for December under May at the last. Wheat finished unchanged to ⅛c lower with December 137@137¼, May 139¾@139⅝. Corn was ¼@⅜c lower with December 97¼@97⅝c, and May 94¾. Oats were ¼c lower to ⅛c higher, and provisions ¼@25¼c higher.

Local sentiment in wheat was somewhat bearish, in sympathy with a decline of ¼@⅝d in Liverpool, which declined on prospects of liberal deliveries on December contracts. The break abroad was offset to some extent by strength in Winnipeg, which gained ¼@⅝c for the day. Commission houses were on both sides of the market, with rather good buying in evidence in the December at times. The trade looks for deliveries of 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 bushels to be made on December contracts.

A tendency to raise estimates on the European import needs of wheat for the season is noticeable, with Broomhall figuring that 854,000,000 bushels will be required this season, or 50,000,000 bushels in excess of last year. A recent statement by Russell claimed that the world's disappearance for the 1926-27 season was 815,000,000 bushels, and on this basis, if non-European countries take as much grain as the previous season, a total disappearance of around 870,000,000 bushels for 1927-28 is suggested. However, there was no improvement in the export demand during the day with sales of 200,000 bushels in all positions.

General showers were reported in the province of Buenos Aires, Argentina, with cloudy weather in other sections. Buenos Aires market closed unchanged for the day, and Rosario unchanged to 2 cents lower, the latter on March which finished at 1.78.

Kansas City December corn, which closed at 79¾c, went to a discount under both the Argentine markets. Buenos Aires closing is higher at 80⅝c, while Rosario was up a like amount at 79⅝c. Bulk of the trade in futures here was in evening up in the December delivery, with scattered liquidation in evidence. European import needs for 1927-1928 season are estimated by Broomhall at 351,000,000 bushels, or 1,000,000 bushels in excess of last year, which was construed as bullish, and likely to result in a good export business with the United States. Weather conditions over the Central West were unfavorable, with heavy rain or snow in some sections. Shipping sales here were 912,000 bushels.

December oats went to a discount of around 4c under May, as the result of liquidation by scattered longs. Cash houses and the Northwest bought December and sold May. Commission houses were on the buying side of May.

Stocks in December 799 started to grow and found offerings light, advancing prices sharply, and the close was at the top. Longs sold December and bought May. Duluth reported a brisk demand from exporters, but failed to give the amounts sold.

Lard was offered more freely by packers, longs and by the bear interests, with the main support coming from profit-taking on previous sales.

Short ribs were unchanged to 5c higher and bellies 25c higher. Cash trade was fairly good.

In the Interest of "Better Business"

THE MOST NOTABLE fact in American Business today is that it is BETTER Business. Better than it was 10 years ago; better than it was yesterday. Many factors have made this so. But the most inspiring one is the general and sincere desire of American Business Men to serve their consuming public better—to make a better product serve more people—to know that they are serving better; and, in the serving, to know that their people know that they are better served. This is the great inspiration of Better Business.

In this interest in Better Business, Ernst & Ernst are pleased to have contributed their tried and experienced resources, to make more widely available a better and more helpful Accountancy—an Accountancy which stresses the necessity of dependable knowledge of trade and human conditions based on reliable facts and figures.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Firm price tendencies characterized the bond market during most of today's session, but considerable profit-taking developed in the late dealings. A feeling of hesitancy has been present for a week or more, and today's late reaction was regarded as a further exemplification of that factor. Easy money conditions, however, worked against any material recessions in any divisions.

St. Paul issues, which have been strong since the favorable decision of the Supreme Court, were subjected to extensive realizing after most of them had again established new high prices for the year. Brooklyn Union Gas 5½'s, and a few other convertible liens also inclined to heaviness after a good start.

United States Treasury issues were strong, all of them selling at new high prices, stimulated by rather large buying orders. Liberty bonds were less active and somewhat irregular.

Railroad issues generally failed to follow a definite trend. Some of the recent leaders, such as Chesapeake Corporation 5's and Erie 6's, sold around yesterday's final figures, while some of the New Haven, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio liens were under moderate pressure.

Several industrial liens were well supported, notably International Paper 6's, which moved up to a new peak. Simms Petroleum 6's and Dominion Iron Steel 5's, which advanced a point or so. Public utilities were quiet and irregular.

Prompt oversubscription of the $30,000,000 City of Vienna issue was the outstanding development in foreign bonds. Listed issues were generally lower, especially Peruvian 7's and Serbian 8's, which dropped back a point or so.

New issues scheduled for offering tomorrow include $6,667,000 City of Chicago Gold 4s, to yield 3.75 to 3.90 per cent; $6,000,000 Louisiana Power and Light Company gold 5s, priced at 97¾ and interest, and $7,000,000 European Mortgage and Investment Corporation real estate gold 7s, offered on a 7.20 per cent basis.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the curb sales. "r," respectively translated, the issue is omitted when the same as the last and both low and close when same as the high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Violent fluctuations in high-priced industrials featured the irregularly higher movement of prices in today's curb market. More than a score issues reached record high levels, although some of the gains were canceled in a late wave of profit-taking. Seats on the curb market advanced $5000 today to $69,000, a new high record, and more than double the year's low.

Ford Motors of Canada opened 15 points higher at a new high of 725, broke to 690 and rallied to 692. Tubize Art Silk advanced nearly 20 points to a new peak at 490, but slumped to 466 on realizing. Banc-Italy Corporation was heavily bought on rumors of another stock dividend next month, climbing nearly 7 points to a new peak at 122 3-8.

New peak prices for the year, or longer, also were registered by Allied Drug, Amoskeag, American Solvents Chemical, Atlas Plywood, preferred Brazilian Traction, Heilman, Warrants, International Cigar Machinery, International Utilities A, Maryland Casualty, Midland Steel common, Standard Sanitary Manufacturing, United Electric, U. S. Freight and a few others. Substantial gains also were recorded by the Celanese issues, Firestone Tire, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad and Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Most of the oils were reactionary on selling inspired by reports of increasing crude production, but International Petroleum advanced nearly a point within a fraction of the year's high.

To expedite transmission the closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

The first unsatisfactory well to be completed in from the deep zone at Signal Hill is the Superior Oil Company's Swaffield well, which is located near the summit of the hill on the west slope, and which came in at the rate of only 350 barrels a day, not much more than 10 per cent of the usual initial output of wells previously completed in the deep zone. The well is producing clean oil, with a gravity of nearly 30 deg., bottom being at 6150 feet.

Part of the explanation for the small output of the Swaffield is seen in the low gas pressure, which registers only between twenty to seventy pounds per square inch on the tubing. This is about as low as pressure can drop and still be sufficient to make the oil flow. Superior production experts are working on the problem and will do some experimentation in an effort to raise the output.

The poor performance of the new well is arousing considerable interest among deep-sand operators at Signal Hill, who are wondering whether it forecasts a general drop in the initial rate of production of future deep-sand wells, or whether the individual conditions of the Swaffield may be responsible. Not quite sufficient is known of the geological characteristics of the deep sand to determine just how the Swaffield is located structurally, so that it is difficult to say just what the performance of the well signifies.

Gain in Slowly

The Union Oil Company's producer on the east of its Long Beach Community No. 13 well in the Signal Hill area is not proceeding quite as rapidly as in previous wells, according to reports from the field. The well began swabbing the well several days ago but it has not shown any marked readiness to respond. The same is said to be low.

This well is the first of a series of about half a dozen wells which the company is putting down to the deep sand in Signal Hill

Deep Record?

Two Southern California wildcat wells are drilling ahead at considerably below 7000 feet, and from all indications either one may have a good chance to break the record for deep drilling held by the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Olinda No. 96 at 7060 feet.

The Shell Company is drilling ahead in its Columbia No. 48 well in the Del Amo field at about 7130 feet. This is a deep test of the Brea district and it is understood that the Shell plans to go just as deep with it, as it is mechanically possible to go. The well is in good mechanical condition and, barring accidents, should have no particular difficulty in making another 1000 feet.

The California Well Drilling Company is drilling a wildcat on the Del Amo ranch east of Watson, is down about 7050 feet, and has expressed the intention of continuing ahead, although no particular showings of oil and gas have been found.

Big New Well

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company, now the only company drilling new wells in the old Torrance field, has brought in another of its long series of producers on the Del Amo property, according to field reports. The new well is the Del Amo No. 66, which was completed at 6800 feet, and is making about fifty barrels per day.

Water Trouble

The Union Oil Company is plugging back its Callender No. 17 well in the Dominguez field in an effort to shut off the water trouble which has held the well back from production for the past several weeks. Callender No. 17 is in the deep test of the Dominguez field, and drilled through a strong oil sand before it stopped making oil at 6730 feet, but apparently there was some water sand somewhere in the hole. The well was bailed back about 300 feet without clearing the situation much.

Burpee Bass Well

The Richfield Oil Company, which has about seventeen strings of tools busy in the Signal Hill field, is deepening its Hass No. 9 well, and is nowdown about 5600 feet, according to official reports. The well originally was on production at about 6580 feet, and is just far from the original deep well which the Richfield completed about two years ago.

Official Report

Oil-field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. D. Bush during the week ending November 26, show thirty-six new wells started, as compared with thirty-one during the previous week. Of the thirty-six notices to drill filed this week, twelve were for wells in the Long Beach field, four in the Huntington Beach field, one in the Richfield field, six in the Rincon field, one in the Piru field, one in the South Mountain field, one in the Ventura field, one in Santa Barbara county and nine in the fields of Kern county. The total new wells this year is 1118, as compared with 1202 for the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered nine, as compared with fourteen during the previous week. Yearly total to date, 973; total to same date last year, 1263.

Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered twenty-seven, as compared with twenty-five during the previous week. Total to date this year, 850; total to same date last year, 899.

Abandonments this week numbered eight, as compared with thirteen during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 449; total to same date last year, 461.

BANK CLERK SENTENCED TO PRISON

Probation Denied Man Who Pleaded Guilty on Two Counts

John H. Crownover, formerly an assistant teller in a Los Angeles bank, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Hardy to serve from two to twenty years in San Quentin prison on two counts of grand larceny, after pleading guilty to the theft of $325 on one occasion and $1000 at another time.

Accused of embezzling approximately $52,000 from the bank during several years of asserted peculation, Crownover, after pleading guilty a month ago, was permitted to file an application for probation and was released on $10,000 bond.

Recommendations of the probation department, however, failed to convince the judge that Crownover reserved probation, and he received a sentence of from one to ten years on each count, to run consecutively.

Crownover was an employee of the bank for fourteen years, and the losses were not discovered until he was absent on vacation last summer. When arrested, the defendant is asserted to have told officers that he took the money to provide for his family. Most of it was invested in real estate, according to officers.

Second Jury in Pyler Beating Case Deadlocked

The jury which heard the trial of Tom Pyler, charged with beating Miss Vere Norton, woman attorney in the General Hospital on June 2, last, was deadlocked last night and locked up after failing to reach a verdict. The case was tried before Superior Court Judge Edmond.

The trial was the second time that officials have endeavored to convict Pyler of the charge. At the first trial the jury disagreed and was dismissed.

Numerous witnesses were called yesterday by Thomas J. Martin, attorney for Pyler, to prove that the defendant was temporarily insane with grief and anger and not responsible for his actions at the time of the asserted attack.

According to these witnesses Pyler had gone to the hospital to see his estranged wife and discuss with her the custody of their daughter, Jeanne. He met Miss Norton, his wife's attorney, at the bedside and they became engaged in an argument which the latter charges ended in Pyler striking her when the attending physician ordered them from the room.

Special Ballot Called on Park Plan in Zelzah

No protests arising against the creation of Municipal Improvement District No. 51, which will afford park area for the Zelzah region, the City Council yesterday approved the proposition and a special election on the matter will be conducted the 29th inst.

Protests against the improvement of Shadowlawn avenue from Silver Lake Drive to a point west were denied.

The assessment district for the improvement of Ninety-seventh street between Broadway and Figueroa street was confirmed, as was the severing of the right of way from Range View avenue to Avenue 50.

Setback lines were ordered established on Thirty-fifth street, between Denker and Western avenues, on Bryanhurst avenue between Fifty-second and Fifty-fourth streets and on Kenmore avenue between Franklin avenue and Hollywood Boulevard.

Mrs. Mabelle Wyman will hold her second cooking class of the week in the new food-demonstration rooms of the exhibit at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Bar May Debate Pastors' Demand

Directors of the Los Angeles Bar Association may take up at their meeting today the demand of the Ministerial Association for some action on purported statements of R. H. P. Variel, secretary of the lawyers' organization, relative to the attorneys and the Eighteenth Amendment.

Last Monday the ministers adopted a resolution in which Variel was quoted as saying that the majority of the members of the bar violated the Volstead law. The ministers want the Bar Association to demand that Variel either retract his statement or name the judges and attorneys he has in mind.

The directors of the Bar Association have not indicated what their attitude on the controversy is. They will meet today at noon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club but there is no certainty that they will take the matter up, it was stated.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

ANTIPODEAN OIL MARKET LURES

Union Atlantic Organized to Enlarge Demand

April Set for Commencement of Operations

Concern Third Entry in Area Out of Harbor

Creation of the Union Atlantic Company of Delaware for the development of bulk petroleum trade with the Antipodes, marks the third concern to enter that field out of here, indicating Australia and New Zealand after long preferring other foreign gasoline, have yielded to the California product.

Other concerns shipping bulk gasoline from here include a subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell of London, and the Vacuum Oil Company, which operates two big steamers regularly from Los Angeles Harbor and charters an occasional Standard Oil tanker.

The Union Atlantic, formed by the Union Oil Company and Atlantic Refining Company, plans erection of stations at Sydney, Melbourne, Auckland and Wellington, canneries for casing gasoline for distant dispatch, and erection of a large number of retail stations. All will be done under another corporation, the Atlantic Refining Co., Ltd., of Australia.

Transportation will be by allocation from the parent companies' fleets at present, and will begin in April with one or more tankers to start. It is estimated each tanker can make eight trips a year, delivering 24,000,000 gallons, and the market only will determine how many vessels will be put on the run. Union Oil Company has a dozen carriers and Atlantic Refining Company a score from which to draw.

Development of bulk gasoline shipments follows years of pioneering in the Antipodes by smaller Los Angeles companies with case oil goods, some of which concerns already have retired from that field.

IMPERIAL OIL TO ADD THREE TANKERS

Three more large tank motor ships nearing completion in Scotland for the Imperial Oil Company will join the fleet loading at Los Angeles Harbor, according to Capt. C. M. Rowley, master of the 24,000-ton British motor tankship Canadolite, which sails today for Chile.

Two of the new vessels will be sistership of the Canadolite, while the third will be even larger. Capt. Rowley will go to Scotland to take over one of the new tankers shortly after the first of the year. The Canadolite will take fuel oil to Chile and load crude at Peru for Halifax, returning here under a new commander.

The three new tankers will give the Imperial Oil Company a fleet of ten, of which four motor tank ships have been completed in the last two years. The four are frequent callers here.

The United States Shipping Board hereafter will do its own purchasing of meats and perishables for its own ships here, following arrangements completed yesterday by F. C. Lamb, general purchasing agent for the board, down from San Francisco. In the past operating companies have made such purchases. Under the new arrangement provision houses will be asked to submit bids for thirty days on meats and ninety days on other perishables. Purchases are not expected to vary greatly from what they have been. The four tankers operating out of here long have bought the bulk of their supplies here, the America-Australia-Orient fleet only such stuff as was not convenient to buy in San Francisco, the home port.

The British steamer Kastalia of the Donaldson Line is due today from Liverpool and Glasgow with several hundred tons of general cargo and 9700 bunches of bananas picked up at Colon and San Jose de Guatemala. Balfour, Guthrie & Co. are agents. The latter also will have the Thistiana Maru in from Yokohama, the 9th inst., and the Danish motorship Siam of the East Asiatic fleet from Northern Europe the 16th inst. The Siam has 2600 tons for discharge here, including coke, manganese ore, slitea, whiting, saltpeter, Danish pebbles for grinders, plate glass, pipe and general merchandise.

The army transport Kenowis is due from San Francisco today to discharge 560 tons of household effects and motor vehicles for March Field, which is being reopened as an aviation base. The vessel has explosives aboard and will be required to discharge from the stream to barges.

Cotton, honey and hides will fill all the space allocated Los Angeles terminals in the holds of the North German Lloyd steamer Justin, and the vessel will sail for Hamburg tonight loaded to capacity with Pacific products. The Hamburg-American motor liner Isis is due tomorrow from Germany with passengers, Christmas toys and general merchandise.

The Harbor Commission failed to muster aquorum yesterday due to the absence of President Allen, called to the bedside of his mother, and a special meeting is expected to be called late this week. General Manager Cole announced the opening of bids for a 268-foot extension to Berth 151, Pan-Pacific Construction Company being low with $12,865 and forty days. Analysis will precede the award, expected next week.

A German is reported to have invented a torpedo-shaped vessel ninety-eight feet long and three of beam, which he claims will make a speed of ninety-four miles an hour, or sufficient to cross the Atlantic in forty hours. It would carry a crew of four, ten passengers and some mail. Trials will be made from Germany to Finisterre, Spain, in the spring. Motive power would be two motors attached to longitudinal spiral shafts on either side of the vessel.

DEBT POLICY OF AMERICA SOUND

International Expert Lauds Administration Course

Germany's Load Too Heavy, Institute Informed

Mills College Head Suggests Scope be Enlarged

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 30.—That the European debt settlement program being carried out by the present administration is not only fair to the other countries but represents a sound economic policy was the declaration made today at the noon luncheon of the Institute of International Relations by George Winfield Scott, international lawyer and recognized authority on World War indemnities.

He said the countries involved need a definite understanding regarding their obligations to help untie them out of the chaotic financial tangle in which they found themselves thrown at the close of the war. He expressed the belief that the United States should have joined the League of Nations and pointed out that in the effort to collect her debts she was being repeatedly drawn into international councils.

BURDEN TOO HEAVY

Mr. Scott said he is of the opinion that Germany would be unable to pay the $800,000,000 annual indemnity starting in 1928 and still be able to meet her interest payments on American loans made since the war. That debt may cause the United States to take the lead in asking that Germany's reparations debt be released, he said.

The fourth day of the Institute found several of the delegates compelled to leave for their homes, among them Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College. Dr. Reinhardt has been an active part in the institute and expressed the belief that the scope of the institute should be enlarged, in view of the tremendous success of the present gathering. She said that in the future it might prove advantageous to all to include more business leaders, particularly those engaged in the importing and exporting trade.

PROFESSORS ARRIVE

Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, dean of the graduate school of the University of California, who has been detained at the university, today arrived to direct the round-table discussions on the Chinese situation. He was accompanied by Dr. Emery S. Bogardus, professor of sociology at University of Southern California and a leader in the round table on race relations.

Conditions that are hindering the industries of France, Italy and the Balkans were discussed at the general conference of the institute this afternoon. Mussolini and his Fascist followers were declared by Dr. Constantine Panunzio, professor of social economics of Whittier College, to be keeping Italy from enjoying internal peace and international confidence.

"It is true," said Dr. Panunzio, "that Italy before and after the war needed a strong hand to guide her, but not the mailed fist. Contrary to the notion entertained by many, Fascism arose in Italy in 1919-20 not as a protest against the disturbances which Italy was experiencing during the postwar period, but rather Fascism was itself one major disturbance and the one that has persisted.'

MUSSOLINI IS FASCISM

"Fascism's theory, temper and methods, moreover, are due not to the exigencies of the time but to the temperament and experience of Mussolini, the creator and leader. Mussolini declares that 'masses are asses,' 'democracy is a figment of the imagination, representative government a mere shadow, a tool by which politicians dupe fools; the State is the only ultimate entity and every movement and institution is justified only as it serves the state.'"

After pointing out many excesses and harsh methods practiced by Fascism, Dr. Panunzio declared that there are indications that a course of greater moderation is gradually being approached. Fascism has achieved some notable things in the field of finance, he asserted, raising the lira from 3.96 cents in 1925 to 5.65 cents in 1927 and meeting the international debts of Italy. In recent months, he said, several extreme Fascists have been removed and moderates put in power.

FRANCE CRITICISED

In discussing the situation in France, Dr. Charles E. Martin, dean of the University of Washington and director of the Institute, pointed out that the disorganized condition in that country had been due to a bad economic policy on the part of the government, which, instead of dealing directly with the problem as a major one, attempted to restore the

FRIENDLY ENEMIES PARTED

'Dog-Gone,' Says Puss as They Take Pal

Ninette and Polly Say Farewell

Ninette, a Persian kitten, bids good-by to Polly, a dog, she became acquainted with at the hospital.

"DON'T cry, Polly, don't cry, the best of friends must part," purred little Ninette, a Persian kitten, to her playmate. Both were convalescing at the Byles Dog Hospital on Venice Boulevard. Polly was visiting the hospital for an injured leg and Ninette for an ailment of some sort.

The kitten and the dog struck up a friendship as soon as they met and, according to Dr. Jones, they had to be kept in the same pen together. Polly was always nervous and irritable when separated from Ninette and the little kitten meowed until they were allowed to be together again.

Polly's leg was about well and, of course, her anxious mistress wanted to take her home as soon as possible. Now, Polly wanted to go home too, but she hated to part from her pal of convalescing days in the hospital ward. However, as the little Persian said, "the best of friends must part." Ninette bade her friend farewell and they were taken their separate ways.

EXCHANGE CAMPAIGN WILL GO ON

Fruit Growers' Manager Tells Plans for Continued Newspaper Advertising

Continuance of the newspaper advertising campaign carried on by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange for the purpose of placing before the public facts regarding the operation and services of the exchange, and especially in communities dependent upon the citrus industry, was announced last night for the coming season in the annual report of E. G. Dexell, general manager of the exchange.

While there appears to be a growing appreciation of the work of the exchange, according to the report, the many changes in ownership of orchards necessitates the constant education of new people. Such educational work also brings a better appreciation on the part of exchange members of the benefits of better distribution and the possibility of gaining further advantages through support of the organization, it is stated.

AIR SPRING DATA GIVEN IN INQUIRY

Seibel Presents Portion of Papers in Investigation of 200,000 Stock Shares

Henry Seibel, president of the Seibel Air Springs Company, Inc., appeared at the office of Corporation Commissioner Friedlander yesterday morning carrying what he declared is a portion of the books, records, stock lists and other data covering the operations of his corporation in California.

The investor-president was accompanied by his wife.

Following an informal conference with Chief Auditor Whittaker and other officials, Seibel was granted an extension of time in which to produce the remainder of the books and papers.

The date for the formal hearing on the business affairs of the Seibel corporation then was set for Friday at 10 a.m.

Seibel told Corporation Commission officials that he knows very little about book-keeping and never has handled that part of the business of the organization, but that he is sure a check and investigation will show that there has been no overissue of stock, and no sales since the 200,000 shares, $1 par, stock permit was revoked by Friedlander's order of February 2, last.

Complaints from asserted stockholders now on file with the Corporation Commissioner indicate, according to investigators, that stock has been sold in the corporation in a large number of cities and towns throughout the State, and that the investors have realised nothing on their shares. The permit, issued in June, 1926, was to provide funds to manufacture a patented air spring seat, and a small factory for models was started at Anaheim. The factory, and offices were vacated some months ago and machinery sold, according to information compiled by corporation investigators since early in 1926.

KEYES RETURNS TO DESK TODAY

Definite Action Expected on Ryan Charges

Grand Jury Foreman Gets "Black Book" Copies

Controversy Believed Subject of Secret Session

With the predicted return of Dist.-Atty. Keyes to his desk today to resume control of his department after an absence of ten days, definite action in the controversy precipitated by the resignation of his chief trial deputy, Joseph W. Ryan, with a barrage of charges against the administration of affairs in the District Attorney's office, is expected immediately.

The District Attorney, according to relatives, returned to his home yesterday morning, but left again almost immediately without informing them of his destination, stating that he would be back at his desk this morning.

"BLACK BOOK" DISCUSSED

Meanwhile rumors concerning the "little black book," reported to contain numerous notations of questionable dealings with the District Attorney's office spread throughout the city.

The fact that the grand jury is interested in the asserted book was established by George Wallhaus, foreman of the grand jury, with the statement that he had received purported photostatic copies of it and an anonymous letter urging immediate investigation. "We have too many irons in the fire to investigate this matter immediately," Wallhaus said. "However, when we dispose of numerous matters now pending we probably will discuss this also."

From other sources, however, it was established that the matter already had been discussed in secret. Tuesday the grand jury held a long secret session excluding deputy district attorneys from the room.

HOLD SECRET SESSION

Yesterday afternoon after concluding routine business the grand jury again went into secret session for more than half an hour, and is believed to have discussed the charges made by Ryan in his fiery resignation. They then adjourned until next Monday morning.

In his resignation Ryan charged that 75 per cent of the cases handled by the District Attorney's office were disposed of by accepting pleas for lesser charges.

Harold L. Davis, Chief Deputy District Attorney, answered the charges with the counter-charge that Ryan was motivated by political ambitions to become District Attorney and stated that he had placed the entire matter in the hands of the grand jury.

Funeral Rites for E. P. Carley Set for Today

Funeral services for Edward P. Carley, 2006 Ellendale Place, who died last Tuesday following an illness of three months, will be conducted this afternoon at the D. C. Gulick Mortuary Parlors, 1249 South Flower street. Cremation will follow and interment will be at the Inglewood Cemetery.

Mr. Carley, who was 65 years of age, had been an employee of The Times since just after the building was dynamited in 1910. He was among those who responded to the call for men to take the places of those who were killed in the explosion. He was employed in the linotype department and had been in active service until about three months ago.

Cryer Due Back in City Monday

City business in Chicago is detaining Mayor Cryer there, according to a telegram received yesterday by Mayor's Secretary Kinney. Mayor Cryer went to Chicago to see the Notre Dame-University of Southern California football game as a representative of Los Angeles and the State of California.

He wired he expects to return next Monday. Meanwhile President Bonelli of the Council is acting as Mayor.

Football fans about the City Hall eagerly have been awaiting the Mayor's return in order to get his legal opinion on the asserted "Chicago count," the game officials gave Knute Rockne's Irish gallopers.

HUGE REALTY DEAL CLOSED

Sum of $4,000,000 Cash Paid for Sun Finance Building Said to Set Record

What is declared to be the largest single cash deal ever consummated in Los Angeles real estate was announced yesterday with the signing of final papers for the purchase of the Sun Finance Building by the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc., from the Sun Realty Company. The price is said to be approximately $4,000,000. Robert Baker, real-estate broker with offices in the Sun Finance Building, negotiated the transaction.

The building is a limit-height structure on the southwest corner of Sixth and Olive streets, with a frontage of 205 feet on Sixth street and 135 feet on Olive street to a private fifteen-foot alley.

The building, which was purchased in 1924 by the Sun Realty Company for an amount reported as $3,500,000, contains 352 offices and stores and at present is about 95 per cent rented. The five upper floors are occupied by offices of the State of California.

Roiden Lee Borden, president of the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc., and I. Eisner, as head of the Sun Realty Company, represented their respective companies in the transaction.

Mr. Borden, when asked for a statement, merely said: "We are proving our faith in the future of Los Angeles; that slogan, which we adopted years ago, also applies to this $4,000,000 deal just as it has been our guide since the inception of this business."

Legal matters in connection with the transaction were handled by Lowenthal, Lisener, Roth and Gunter for the Sun Realty Company and Leonard B. Slosson of the firm of Farrand and Slosson for the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc.

HAND MINUS HONORS HITS WIFE

She Didn't Trump Ace, But He Blamed Her for His Lack of High Cards So He Halts Rubber to Slap Her and She Burns Bridges by Getting Divorce

Responsibility of the insidious game of bridge for another divorce was established and recorded yesterday in Judge Bowron's court when Mrs. Charlotte M. Scofield appeared to obtain a dissolution of her marriage to Ray G. Scofield.

"He slapped me in the face and threw the cards all around the room," Mrs. Scofield related.

Judge Bowron will not grant a divorce for any flimsy reason, so he began to inquire into the circumstances.

"Had you trumped his ace?" he demanded.

"No, Mrs. Scofield denied.

"Well, does Mr. Scofield believe in a weakness rescue from a no-trump bid? Maybe you took him out with five diamonds to the king," the court suggested. "He must have had some good reason to have become so infuriated."

"Well, he had a reason, such as it was," Mrs. Scofield said. "Lots of husbands seem to blame their wives for this. The fact was that he had drawn hands without an honor several times. So he slapped me."

Judge Bowron was righteously indignant.

"No man ought to slap his wife, even if he draws thirteen cards seven spot high," he declared roundly. "If you had led a singleton, from two trumps, and had thus established a long dummy suit for declarant, now, maybe—. No, a man ought not to slap his wife, anyway, and you may have a decree of divorce over it."

PLANE PLANT TO BE BUILT

Douglas Company Will Erect New Factory Before Lease on Present Site Expires

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 30.—Fulfilling its agreement with the city of Santa Monica at the time Clover Field was purchased through a bond issue for a municipal airport, the Douglas Company, internationally known airplane manufacturers, will erect a new factory at the field, according to a statement made public by Donald W. Douglas, president of the corporation. The new factory is to be ready for occupancy when the lease on the present Wilshire Boulevard site expires.

The Douglas company will be employing 600 men by February 1, 1928, an increase of 200 over the present staff, according to the statement. The 1928 production schedule for the company, the president states, calls for 225 planes.

In February, 1926, the Douglas company entered into a joint option with the municipality for the purchase of Clover Field, and in August of that year the purchase was completed. Of the 175-acre tract the company took 7.65 acres, paying $5880 an acre in cash.

The lease on the present site at 2433 Wilshire Boulevard was made in July, 1924, with the Herman Film Company. This lease expires in July, 1929. Investment in permanent facilities at the plant totals about $75,000, in addition to a lease obligation of $15,000 over the present lease period. The agreement with the city, according to Douglas, as set forth in a letter to former Mayor Steele, was to start the new Clover Field factory shortly before expiration of the present lease.

Concerning plans for the new factory, Douglas said it will have a main central building fronting 100 feet on Ocean Park Boulevard. Wings 200 feet in length will be placed on each side of the main building, providing 500 feet of buildings on the boulevard. The main building is to be two, and the wings one story in height. All buildings facing the boulevard are to be of Spanish type architecture, set back from the street to provide suitable landscaping. The total floor area will be 85,000 square feet, providing 30 per cent more manufacturing area than that of the Wilshire Boulevard plant.

Two new types of military airplanes have been developed by the company this year, according to Douglas; and a third type will be completed by March 1, 1928. The first two models go into full production December 15, and the third will be in production July 1, 1928.

AIR LEADERS GO TO START DENVER LINE

Hanshue and Moseley on Way East for Opening of Mail Service the 10th Inst.

Harris M. Hanshue, president and general manager of Western Air Express, and Maj. C. C. Moseley, vice-president in charge of operation, yesterday left Los Angeles to arrange for the opening the 10th inst., of the Cheyenne-Denver-Colorado Springs-Pueblo air-mail line.

Mr. Hanshue will go to Denver and Maj. Moseley will go to Salt Lake City, at which point the mile-high air-mail line will connect with transcontinental planes. According to officials of the company, three planes will be put in operation on the 200-mile line, giving daily service both ways.

The Western Air Express also is the holder of the air-mail contract between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. Operation of this line has set a high mark for efficiency.

NEW NAVAL PLANES ON JAUNT HERE

Young San Diego Officers Fly T-3-Ms to Los Angeles and Are Guests at Dance

By "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 30.—Combining business with pleasure, eight young naval officers from San Diego landed at Clover Field today after making a flight in three new T-3-M land planes for the purpose of becoming familiar with the machines and the terrain and also for the purpose of attending the naval-air-reserve ball at the Biltmore in Los Angeles tonight.

Leaving San Diego at 1 p.m., the party arrived here at 3 p.m. after making a stop at Long Beach. Although eager to change into their dress uniforms and get away to the dance, the officers stopped a few moments to explain the new ships.

The planes are Martin torpedo planes, third model, land ships used by the Navy and equipped to drop torpedoes on battleships. Each carries four passengers and is geared to high speed with 750-horsepower Packard motors.

Wife of Peru's Consul Injured in Auto Crash

Mrs. Francis Ayulo, 40 years of age, wife of Manuel L. Ayulo, locan consul for Peru, was painfully injured yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband crashed into the curb at First street and Bimini Place. She was given emergency treatment at the Hill-street Receiving Hospital for numerous cuts and bruises about the face and neck.

Ayulo is uninjured, it is stated. The accident occurred, according to the consul, when he swerved his machine into the curb to avoid striking another car.

HARBOR CHOICE CONFIRMED

Council Unanimously Accepts Crawford for Post and Also Approves Gollum for Plan Board

The third time was the charm and yesterday the Council, by unanimous vote, confirmed as a member of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, J. A. Crawford, Mayor Cryer's third nomination for that office.

The Council, also by unanimous vote, confirmed the Mayor's selection of F. W. Gollum as a member of the City Planning Commission. The discussion of Mr. Gollum's appointment brought out some rather acrimonious assertions anent some of the thimble-rigging that goes along with appointments to political office in this city.

INTERVIEWS SUGGESTED

Councilmen Hughes and Jacobson suggested the advisability of having nominees up before the Council to be questioned as to their fitness.

"One case came to my attention," declared Councilman Randall, "when a candidate for appointment was advised by the 'factotum' in the Mayor's office to go to the Byrne Building and interview a person there. He didn't go and he didn't get the appointment."

A division of the engineering department and the City Attorney are housed in the Byrne Building, but Mr. Randall later, to interviewers, said he made no reference to them. He meant, he said, Kent K. Parrot, once the City Hall boss.

SUCCEEDS McNITT

Gollum is vice-president of the Metropolitan Mortgage Company. He was appointed vice Rollin McNitt, term expired.

Discussion of Crawford's confirmation was featured by a monologue by Councilman Colden, representative of the harbor district and chairman of the Harbor Committee, upon the necessity of Los Angeles maintaining control of the proposed unified port district. Colden and Councilman Martin declared themselves satisfied with Crawford as an able business man who will look after the city's interests.

Crawford, who is general manager of the Republic Supply Company, dealers in oil-well supplies, succeeds to the post of Frank Meline, term expired. Mayor Cryer renominated Commissioner Meline but the Council rejected the appointment following a fight upon him led by Councilman Colden. The Mayor then named George A. Rogers but he, too, was rejected.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE next time one of our valiant bands of football heroes go east they ought to pick out a town which isn't buried in mud.

I haven't heard from Mayor Bill Thompson as yet; but there is very strong evidence that the sloppy football field is some of King George's conspiracy to capture Chicago. You can't help but see that it was regular London weather.

KIPLING GROWN TAME

Kipling's new poems may appeal to the cultured and refined; but to us who constitute the rough trade—and who remember the stirring wallop of the "Recessional" or "Danny Deever"—lines like these are too tame:

"I had some friends — but I dreamed that they were dead,

LOST TO THE WORLD

Kipling's best stuff was written in between whiles of his work as a reporter on an English paper in Simla—when he was in the midst of life.

A recluse on a little farm in Sussex, he is a living illustration of "The world forgetting, by the world forgot."

George Bernard Shaw grows more virile and more vivid with the years because he sticks around and mingles with the folks.

THE FOLSOM OUTBREAK

Another outbreak of convicts is expected at Folsom. The probabilities would seem to stand in direct ratio to the speed with which they send to the gallows the ringleaders of the last outbreak.

Any stalling and dilly-dallying on the part of the prosecutor will stand as an invitation for a repetition of the rebellion and murder.

KIDNAPED BY MOORS

The Moors are a very practical people. When they wanted a radio set in the palace of Caid Ali Ben Noceur, they sent out a couple of lusty, able-bodied kidnapers and seized the nephew of the French Resident-General. And now the illustrious Caid can listen to the radio sopranos and remember the time when there wasn't anything more exciting going on than a war.

BULLY THE WORLD

For some reason the Moors have always been able to bully the civilized world.

In the infant days of the United States seven powerful European monarchies were meekly paying tribute to these ruffians. Not only money, but shotguns, gold watches or anything upon which their fond fancy dwelt.

NOBLE, ANYHOW

Finally Pinckney of Virginia rose up on his hind legs and cried: "Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute!" After which we went right on paying tribute as before. But it was a noble sentiment, anyhow.

RECITAL OF HYMNS AT LIBRARY BRANCH

Mrs. Guy Bush and Mrs. Gertrude Huntington will appear in joint recital in illustration of the great hymns of early and recent times. The auditorium of the new building of the Wilshire branch library makes it possible for the library commissioners to offer these free lectures to the community. Books which aid in appreciation of the subjects featured at each lecture will be on display.

Court Liberates Mother in Murder to Avenge Honor of Daughter

INDICTMENT BY JURY REFUSED

Davis Holds Further Action Would be Persecution

Both Woman and Girl Tell Story of Affair

Judge McConnell Dismisses Plaint Without Comment

Mrs. Hazel Hull, who shot Gordon J. Waters to death last Sunday night in front of her home because of an asserted assault on her 17-year-old daughter, was released from the County Jail last night following the refusal of the county grand jury to indict her on a charge of murder. A Coroner's jury the day before exonerated Mrs. Hull.

Immediately after the grand jury refused an indictment, Chief Deputy District Attorney Davis appeared before Municipal Judge McConnell and moved for a dismissal of the murder complaint that had been filed against her. The court granted the motion without comment.

DAVIS ISSUES STATEMENT

Davis issued the following statement on the case.

"The murder charge against Mrs. Hazel Hull has been dismissed. A full and complete investigation has been made, both before the Coroner's jury and the grand jury of Los Angeles county. Complete exoneration was given Mrs. Hull by both these bodies. Under the circumstances further prosecution of this case would not only be futile, but would be persecution rather than prosecution."

The action of the grand jury in declining to vote an indictment came after practically all of the witnesses who testified before the Coroner's jury appeared and repeated their testimony. In addition, Mrs. Hull gave her version of the shooting and the events that led up to it.

The mother had declined to tell her story to the Coroner's jury, and on instructions from her attorney, S. S. Hahn, was ready to refuse to testify before the grand jury. As the defendant, she had a legal right to do so. But the daughter, Marie, when called before the grand jury yesterday, also refused to tell her story, saying she refused on advice of her attorney, Hahn. The District Attorney's men were ready to have her cited for contempt.

ADVISED TO TELL STORY

Attorney Hahn was summoned before the grand jury and as a result of his session with the inquisitorial body came out and advised the girl to reappear and testify. This she did. He also advised the mother to tell her story to the jury, which she did.

The story of the asserted attack on the girl by Waters on the night of November 16, last, when he was driving her in his automobile on a lonely canyon road was repeated. The events of last Sunday night were also recounted, the jury being told how Mrs. Hull shot Waters in front of her home as he was getting into his automobile.

Upon being released from jail, Mrs. Hull returned to her home with her daughter at 849 West Forty-third Place, where she conducts a boarding house.

Mrs. Frank B. Willis, wife of United States Senator Willis of Ohio, who collects quilts as a hobby, has one that has been in her family for nearly a century.

PAVEMENT PIGSKIN PLAY PROHIBITED

And Fairest Co-eds Fail to Melt Hearts of Police

Please, Mister, Let 'Em Play

George Lichty and Roy Pomeroy being shown the way home by Sergt. Leudtke while Estelle Hawthorne, Peggy Bryson and Joyce Whitfield plead for mercy for the boulevard football players.

POLICE officers at the University station believe football has its place at the University of Southern California, but not when collegians not on the varsity team insist on playing impromptu games in the streets surrounding the local institution.

Co-eds also are among the offenders and even though they do not actually participate in the highway scrimmages they do very well as referees and rooters.

The officers who have charge of the Trojan university district are ardent football fans and support the stars, but neighbors of the college fraternity and sorority houses have forced them to put a ban on the mock pigskin classics. The neighbors also are for the Trojan gridders when they play on a conventional field.

Two of the offending players, George Lichty and Roy Pomeroy yesterday were shown the way home by Police Sergeant Leudtke, while three fair co-eds, Estelle Hawthorne, Peggy Bryson and Joyce Whitfield, protested the decision and exerted their charms to soften the heart of the officer.

Despite their supposed training in psychology and suggestion they were unable to reverse the police edict. The university officers add that the ban on street players will be kept in force and a command to retreat into fraternity and sorority houses may be followed by more severe punishment.

Phi Delta Nu Installs New Chapter Here

After disbanding during the World War when the entire membership enlisted for service, Phi Delta Nu once more has installed an active chapter at the University of Southern California, it was announced last night.

One of the oldest fraternal organizations on the campus Phi Delta Nu was organized in 1902 in what was then known as the University of Southern California Academy. It was reorganized in the college of Liberal Arts in 1906, holding a prominent place in scholastic achievement and athletics.

More than 150 alumni who had been scattered far and wide gathered again Monday night at the University Club to celebrate the return of the fraternity to the campus.

OLD TROJAN GRADUATES DUE TODAY

University Will Welcome Alumni at Homecoming; Many Events Arranged

Homecoming for alumni of the University of Southern California starts today on the Trojan campus. Graduates of classes from 1880 to the present will come from all sections of the State to attend the fourth annual reunion festivities.

Events today include a get together of all English majors at the Women's Residence Hall at 4 o'clock, the Varsity Club banquet at 6:30 at the Ambassador Hotel, and the Trojan Men's Smoker at the Elks' Club at 9 o'clock.

Tomorrow golf matches between dental and law teams, and individual play for all alumni will be held at the Brentwood Country Club. The two events scheduled for tomorrow evening include the men's and women's football dinners, which will be held at 6:30 o'clock in the men's gymnasium and women's halls, respectively.

Dr. Harry Van Fleet and Miss Sara Stoneham are the alumni chairmen, while Everett Miller and Helen Klane, seniors at Southern California, have been named as student chairmen.

Following the dinners a rally in Bovard Auditorium, dance in the gymnasium and a bonfire conducted by Burdette Henney are on the program.

franc by piecemeal and patchwork. Dr. Martin also blamed the reluctance of France to tax her own people, as well as her persistence in spending up public works which could conveniently await a more propitious season, for present difficulties. Continuing, he said:

"It is one of the ironies of the day that Germany, under a plan of foreign financial collaboration, is rapidly assuming a leading position in international finance. France, while enjoying the fruits of victory and a vast political leadership, still is in the throes of financial disorganization.

"The answer, if one may suggest it, is the application of the same remedial measures which have so soundly restored some of the defeated states. It may entail the surrender of some political pride but it would mean economic betterment and a happier people."

DANGER IN BALKANS

"Only an energetic interference on the part of the League of Nations can curb the destructive powers put into operation in the Balkans and Central Europe and stop the dangerous playing with fire," declared Prof. Boris Morkovin of Charles University of Prague, in discussing the Central European and Balkan situation. He pointed out that one of the outgrowths of the turmoil in Central Europe and the Balkan states might be the eventual formation of Danube and Balkan confederations, which will be able to assert their independence from the great rival powers.

American money, to a large extent, is dominating the economic situation in Germany, D. P. Miller, assistant United States Commercial Attache at Berlin, told the institute delegates. "Not long ago," he said, "a period fo depression was expected, but sufficient money arrived from the United States to postpone it for a year and a half.

GERMANY WISE

"To large extent Germany is keeping the proceeds of her American loans in this country in the form of dollars, rather than converting them into marks in Germany. This is being done to avoid a sudden influx of too much easy money, which would cause inflation with unfortunate consequences.

"Similarly, the Bank of France is keeping enough money in New York and elsewhere to make the payments on the Mellon-Berenger arrangement for a generation. She is avoiding a sudden rise in the value of the franc, which would upset price levels and affect her exports."

A new law in New York permits women workers in factories and mercantile establishments to work only forty-eight hours a week.

PENALTY PERIOD FOR TAXES NEAR

Next Monday Final Day to Pay Sans Extra Cost

Total Will be $13,000,000 in Excess of Last Year

Welch Says That Smaller Amount Collected Now

Announcing that next Monday will be the last day on which to pay the first installment of the 1927-28 taxes, County Tax Collector Welch yesterday urged taxpayers to make their payments on or before that date in order to avoid the usual penalty.

According to Welch, tax payments are coming in slower this year than last year, although there is a total of more than $13,000,000 to be collected for the present year than during 1926-27.

Total taxes to be collected by the office this year will reach the figure of $111,267,715 as against $97,907,-583 for the 1926-27 period, he stated. In spite of this large total, the official declared only $16,269,691 of the first installment has been collected to date, while $16,571,553 had been received up to this date last year.

Welch suggested that taxpayers who make their payments at the Hall of Justice do so during the afternoon hours in order to avoid the usual morning rush with its consequent waiting in line. Those who wish to avoid the delay occasioned by making payment in person are asked to mail their payments to the Tax Collector in the Hall of Justice. The Tax Collector's office is located on the third floor of the building, and the Assessor's office is located on the fourth floor.

Taxpayers also are requested to bring their bills with them or to obtain them from the Assessor's office before taking place in the cashier's lines at the Tax Collector's office in order to minimize delay and confusion.

ENGINEERS TO MEET

"Transportation of the Future" will be the topic at the meeting of Los Angeles chapter, American Association of Engineers, this evening at the Windsor Tea Room in the Brack-Shops. E. Colbert Pevney, consulting automotive engineer for the Moreland Truck Company and chairman of the Southern California section of the Society of Automotive Engineers, will be the speaker and will describe the air derby which he attended recently at Spokane, Wash. A musical program under Mme. Irwin Kellogg will accompany the dinner at 6:30 p.m.

REDSKINS MASSACRED BY WHITES

Indian Village Burned After Fierce Fight—But It Was Only Film Stuff

Nearly 100 Indian homes in a village north of Hollywood were burned to the ground yesterday when a number of white men and some 300 Indians got into a row that ended with the firing of the village by the whites and massacre of the redskins—all of which took place on a motion-picture set at the Lasky ranch.

Used as it is to the filming of pictures, the countryside for miles was agitated by the realism of the burning village and especially by the added touch of the Van Nuys and Hollywood fire departments standing by for action in any emergency.

Roads leading to the scene were writhing lines of traffic. Some nervous residents sent out fire department and police calls.

However, cameras clicked off their reels, the actors did their stuff, the village went up in smoke, Indians lay down and died, several thousand citizens got a thrill, firemen got black marks in the big book, where bad words are recorded—and another scene was shot for "Ramona," a picture Edwin Carewe is making.

DANGER SIGNS IN CAMPAIGN CITED

Blight Tells Masonic Club of Prospects of Bitterness

Threatened Rise of Bigotry and Hatred Set Forth

Fraternal Men Urged to Aid in Checking These Evils

That the coming national political campaign, while without a great issue, needlessly may become a hectic one, engendering bigotry, prejudice and sect hatreds, was the impression gathered by Reynold E. Blight in a country-wide tour just ended. He so informed the Masonic club yesterday and appealed to his fraternal brothers to do, not collectively, but individually, what they can to prevent disturbing elements from entering into the coming agitation.

Blight is the executive director of the Masonic committee on education in California, editor of the local Masonic Digest, a director and treasurer of the club, and otherwise prominent in Masonic activities. He has just completed a 16,000-mile tour of the country in the interests of the Shrine crippled children benevolence. The promotion trip was financed by Allen H. Ratterree.

SHRINE'S WORK CITED

The Shrine maintains fifteen hospitals where crippled children are treated, Blight explained. He said 700 beds are in service and more than 50,000 boys and girls through that medium in the last five years "have at least been brought nearer happy childhood and better manhood." Nobles, he said, provide $1,500,000 annually for the purpose. The results of his tour, during which he addressed more than 53,000 persons, were described as "most gratifying," and many were moved to contribute largely toward the movement, including a Canadian Catholic, who made a will provision of $250,000 for the work.

At the luncheon yesterday he described some of his observations outside his work. Masonry, he said, never was so prosperous and never was so much in demand. This, according to the speaker, has brought a serious danger to the fraternity in that mere members, more inclined toward social activities than Masonic principles, may become too numerous in the order. He called for discrimination on the part of committees investigating applicants.

POLITICAL APPEAL

The whole country, Blight observed, is suffering from a lack of political intelligence and he appealed to Masons in devotion to their principles to promote greater interest in politics and better understanding of underlying right fundamentals.

Los Angeles and California, he said, are words to conjure with in the East, and everywhere he found great and friendly interest in them, indicating a continued travel here.

He visited New England just before and after the flood and described her "smiling and glorious valleys" as transformed by the floods into "scenes of devastation and desolation."

Despite Babbittry, reputed commercial greed and such bogies as economic gossipers cant about, Blight said, he saw much evidence in his journeys of an idealism in the heart of America that promises great and glorious achievements toward the brotherhood of man and worship of God.

Several hundred persons attended the luncheon which was given in the club.

MAY WON'T LIVE WITH DECEMBER

But Judge Says That's Just What Husband Should Have Expected

If a man marries a woman half his age and she steps out on him, he need expect little sympathy from Judge Bowron.

"This is just what you might have expected," Judge Bowron yesterday told August Keil, 64 year of age, who was seeking a divorce from Dora Keil, 33.

"But judge, she up and left me the very day after I had signed over a part of my property to her," Keil protested.

"You had every reason to expect that, too," Judge Bowron declared.

"Yes, but when I married her she had nine children, and I supposed that kind of guaranteed she was a home body," Keil attempted to explain.

"What did she do with the children when she went out?" Judge Bowron wanted to know.

"She left them with me to take care of," Keil responded.

"Well, I don't justify Mrs. Keil's conduct, but you got what you ought to have expected. I do not think your desertion complaint is sufficiently established, and the decree will be denied," the court ruled.

Robs Benefactor, Given 180 Days

For robbing his benefactor's room after being accorded hospitality and friendship, Harry Gross yesterday was sentenced to spend 180 days in the City Jail by Municipal Judge Wilson.

Gross, according to the evidence adduced by police, spent a night several months ago in the room of Sidney Goldman at 776 North Van Ness avenue. When Goldman awoke Gross had departed with the valuables. Later Goldman recognized Gross at Seventh street and Broadway and had him arrested. Gross was charged with petty theft.

WIGS HELP FILL PURSE SAY POLICE

Girl Accused of Cashing Spurious Checks While Partly Disguised

Wigs, blond, brunette and titian, used by Mrs. Nona Lesher, 19 years of age, to change her appearance while cashing assertedly forged checks, according to police, were found yesterday, in a room at 2048 West Twentieth street occupied by two asserted confederates of the girl.

HARRY LESHER

Mrs. Lesher was taken into custody at a market at 305 East Valley Boulevard, Alhambra, by Officers Boone and Vignesu of Alhambra. The officers reported she had attempted to cash a spurious check.

Later the officers obtained the address on West Twentieth street where they found the wigs and Harry Lesher, 20, and Phil Rohan, 19. The latter also were held by the Alhambra officers on suspicion of forgery. In the room, besides the wigs, the officers reported they found sixty-one pairs of shoes, twenty hats, and a large quantity of other merchandise which the officers said the suspects obtained through the issuance of forged checks. The arrest of the two youths was made with the assistance of Assistant Captain of Detectives Mailheau of the police forgery detail here. The suspects were taken to Alhambra.

JURY GIVES VERDICT FOR BAIL BROKER

Malaby Acquitted After Trial for Embezzlement and Grand Larceny

Charles Malaby, bail-bond broker indicted by the county grand jury on four counts of embezzlement and grand larceny, yesterday was acquitted by a jury in Judge Bishop's court following a trial that lasted three days.

Malaby was arrested in connection with the recent campaign against so-called "fixers" at the Hall of Justice and the State sought to prove that he had accepted a total of $700 to clear a man of a bootlegging charge.

Malaby denied the charges and his attorneys contended that inasmuch as the asserted bootlegger later was cleared Malaby could not be guilty of embezzlement or grand larceny. The jury apparently agreed with this viewpoint and, after a brief period of deliberation, returned a verdict of acquittal.

Lewyn Fails in Damage Action Against Pathe

Louis Lewyn of Hollywood, yesterday lost his $140,000 damage suit against the Pathe Exchange. United States District Judge Runyon directed a verdict for the defendant, a film-distributing concern, in Federal court at Newark, N. J.

The Pathe Company was charged by Lewyn with pirating the film "Carnival Girl," which featured Marion Mack, former motion-picture actress and wife of Lewyn. The court pointed out that through contracts between Lewyn and Associated Exhibitors, on one hand, and Associated Exhibitors and Pathe Exchange on the other, the latter had the legal right to distribute the film.

The plaintiff had charged that he gave the film to Associated Exhibitors in 1926 for distribution, but that three months later that firm terminated the contract and turned the prints over to Pathe. He declared he received but $15,000 for the picture, when it was worth, according to his estimate, $65,000.

A representative of Pathe, who was the only other person testifying, described the contracts. Pathe's counsel then moved for the directed verdict, which was granted.

PLANTING LENDS CAMPUS BEAUTY

Landscaping Expert Tells of Westwood Plans

University Site to be Among America's Finest

Trees and Shrubs Already in Where Available

Plans for landscaping the Westwood site of the new University of California at Los Angeles, which contemplate transforming the terrain of 384 acres into one of the most attractive and unique settings surrounding any university in America, are rapidly being completed, it was announced yesterday by John W. Gregg, professor of landscape design at the university of California at Berkeley.

A total of 150,000 trees and shrubs now in the nursery at the Westwood site are being prepared for transplanting on the campus, Prof. Gregg says. Although the construction of buildings and roads now in progress prevents the immediate carrying out of much of the detail landscaping, about 15,000 trees will be set out this winter at spots where they will not be disturbed.

As rapidly as building is completed and grades established the gardens, lawns and shrubbery will be set out in accordance with a general design for the campus.

As much of the natural growth now on the ground as can be preserved will be retained and fitted into the general scheme of landscape architecture. Considerable money is being expended to perpetuate and improve the oaks and sycamore already growing on the site.

HOLLYWOOD TO GET NEW BUILDINGS

Council Votes to Provide Police and Fire Stations and Receiving Hospital

Proceedings were set under way yesterday to provide a new police station, fire station and receiving hospital for the Hollywood district, when the City Council unanimously adopted a report on the subject proposed by the Finance Committee.

The report grants authority to the city to exchange the present site of the police and fire bestations on Cahuenga avenue, just south of Hollywood Boulevard, for two parcels of land. The sum of $50,000 has been set aside from the Receiving Hospital bond fund to be used with an additional sum from the police bond fund for the police substation and hospital. Inasmuch as the fire department has no funds for this purpose authority is granted for the transfer of $75,000 from the permanent-improvement fund.

Prior to the annexation of Hollywood by Los Angeles the site of the present buildings was dedicated to the town by Ida Wheeler Beveridge. It was stated that the Beveridge estate has waived all rights, thus permitting the city to make the "swap."

The matter was in the hands of Councilman Alber, representative of the Hollywood district and chairman of the Finance Committee.

Mr. Alber said he is unable at present to announce the sites for the new buildings.

ALTIMETER WIPES OUT LAND DEALS

Subdividers in Chocolate and Mule Mountains Will Quit Their Selling

Practically all the real-estate subdividers who are selling acreage in the Chocolate and Mule mountains have consented to take their properties off the market, it was announced yesterday by Deputy Real Estate Commissioner Bloodgood. Mr. Bloodgood returned to the local State offices yesterday after inspecting the property in the company of Post-office Inspector Sharon.

According to the real-estate deputy, an altimeter he took with him showed that the land is on an average of 1400 feet above sea level, which, he declared, makes it impossible to be irrigated with water from the Colorado River when a dam is completed.

Because of the desert nature of the country in which the acreage is located, Mr. Bloodgood stated, it is highly improbable that it can be developed within the present generation if water from the Colorado is not available. He said that the subdividers had a misconception of the altitude of the property and thought that water might be brought there when the dam is built. When informed of the true altitude, according to Mr. Bloodgood, all but one of the subdividers agreed to stop sales in that locality.

A banquet in the Biltmore ballroom will open the session. Speeches will be delivered by A. M. Crawford, representing Canada; William J. Cooper, regent of the University of California and State Superintendent of Public Instruction, M. J. Bernard, representing Mexico; James R. Cozen of Hawaii, and J. C. It occurs to an outside observer that if King George has been running things in Chicago, as Mayor Thompson says he has, his royal nibs hasn't made a very proud job of it.

THE PEN FOR THE WRITE MAN

An Illinois burglar broke into a supply house and stole nothing but $1000 worth of fountain pens. Seemed to be in a write vein, yet they wish to put him in a pen for going wrong.

MINE OYSTER

There's a brand of oysters found off the coast of Japan that will weigh nearly a pound apiece. It takes considerable courage for a stranger to go against an order for a dozen on the shell.

GEM COLLECTIONS

The American Museum of Natural History is said to have the finest collection of precious stones in the world. Apparently some of the finds, reported by the police of various cities, have been exaggerated.

SWEET MARIE

It is a bit hard to imagine Queen Marie craving a life of solitude and rest. Her career thus far has indicated no passion for self-effacement. If Marie is a shrinking violet she has been masquerading as a peony.

HOW TO DO IT

"It makes no difference how smart you are," the Topeka Capital assures its readers, "the old cow won't back up to you while you are sitting in the shade to be milked." But perhaps she would if you were to throw her into the shade some hay.

LEFT THE KICK OUT

Suddenly the bootlegger clapped his hand to his forehead in wild dismay. "Oh, Mary," he called to his wife, "an awful thing has happened! You know that last big batch we sent out? Well, I forgot to put in the muriatic acid."

PREPAREDNESS

The Minnesota gridiron was strewn nearly a yard deep with straw to keep the ground from becoming frostbitten prior to the Thanksgiving game. It adds immensely to the hazards of football if the athletes are forced to bump their beaks on the frozen turf.

NEBULIUM

Prof. Bowen of the California Institute of Technology has diagnosed this strange element, afloat in clouds of firemist beyond the Milky Way, as a mixture of oxygen and nitrogen gases. In other words, we inhale about a pint of nebulium every time we breathe.

NOW SHE KNOWS

A St. Louis woman who says she didn't know there was any law against smuggling, has found out to the tune of a $50,000 fine. What she probably meant to say was that she didn't know the customs officers would catch her at the game. Then, too, if she really didn't know about the tariff laws why did she take the trouble to secrete the valuable goods found in her luggage?

TRAPPING MINNOWS

In the Leadville hatchery of the United States Fish Commission the minnows were being trapped by hydras. The tiny trappers were caught in the act. Their tails glued down, the hydras entangled the minnows with their lasso-like tentacles, and slowly devoured them. The experts were puzzled, yet any dumb-bell knows hydras can be gotten rid of by dehydrating the tanks.

AN UNSAFE GIFT

Now that a London jury has decided that sending a box of chocolates to a girl each week constitutes a proposal of marriage or its equivalent, and has awarded $500 damages to a young woman for breach of promise, there is likely to be a falling off in the British sweet trade. After all, the safest thing for a man to do when making such a present is to dump the candy into a dish, keep the box, and see that the girl eats the evidence on the spot.

TO SELL THE SHIPS

The decision of the United States Shipping Board to sell three lines operating in the Pacific, upon terms similar to those under which other lines have been sold, is a welcome sign that the government is at last getting out of the shipping business. The board offers alternative plans of purchase to the bidders; one plan provides for a five-year, the other for a three-year guarantee of operation on present routes. The lines offered are the American-Australian-Orient, the American Oriental Mail and the Oregon Oriental Mail, which ply between West Coast points and the Far East.

How much the development of Pacific Coast shipping has been aided, and how much hampered by the institution by the Shipping Board of these lines, it is impossible to estimate. It has worked both ways. In so far as these ships have been in competition with privately owned American shipping the effect has been bad; in so far as they have developed new trade routes the effect has been good. Shipping men generally are of the opinion that the bad effects outweigh the good, and that, in any event, the time has arrived to end the public ownership activities, and to make a test of the routes from a purely commercial standpoint. If at the end of the guarantee period the lines cannot stand on their own feet, or do not give indications of becoming eventually profitable, it is obvious that they should be abandoned and the ships put to other uses.

Government operation of shipping has been found subject to all the disadvantages which attended government operation of the railroads, and to several additional ones. In the case of shipping, there was a psychological factor which not only was keeping tonnage out of the government-owned bottoms, but actually was prejudicing foreign purchasers against American goods—the plea made by foreign ship owners that the wealthy American government was competing with them unfairly and seeking to drive them out of business. This plea contained enough truth to hurt both the ships and the goods they carried, so that instead of stimulating the carrying of American goods in American ships the policy operated to reduce the proportion of American exports carried under the American flag from more than 40 per cent to less than 30 per cent in a few years. The operators, able to dip into the United States Treasury to make good any deficit, were careless about costs and under no special incentive to go after business.

These results were foreseen in part by Congress when in 1920 it directed that the Shipping Board wind up its operations as rapidly as possible; had the full effect been foreseen the mandate would have been made peremptory.

The mere sale of the remainder of the government-owned ships to private owners will not, in itself, reinstate the American flag on the high seas; it will merely relieve the deadening pressure of government operation. A complete revision of the navigation laws and repeal of the burdens foisted upon shipping by the La Follette bill may not even be sufficient. Though Congress has refused time after time to vote a subsidy, the country must reconcile itself to granting government aid in some form or other, to put the ships on an even keel with the subsidized merchantmen of other nations.

The new Shipping Board policy is in accord with the recommendations of virtually all commercial organizations of the Pacific Coast, which for months have been urging that these lines be disposed of on liberal terms, and the board will now find the business men of this section united in its support.

THE HULL CASE

With all due sympathy for the feelings of a mother who has been told that her daughter has been outraged, it must be said that the findings of a Coroner's jury and of the grand jury declaring Mrs. Hazel Hull justified in slaying Gordon J. Waters are, in effect, an indorsement of lynch law.

California has provided severe penalties for attacks upon young girls, and if Waters was guilty of such an attack he should have been made to suffer the penalties the statute prescribes. He should have been arrested and tried, given an opportunity to make his defense if he had any, and properly condemned if found guilty. Juries in this county are not accustomed to treat such cases with levity, and the chance of a man escaping punishment for this particular offense is comparatively slight.

Mrs. Hull arrogated to herself the functions of prosecutor, judge, jury and executioner. Though she acted after due time for reflection, some two weeks after the asserted crime, she appears to have given the man she condemned no opportunity for denial or defense. She did not search her own conscience or that of her daughter to discover if they might not be found to bear a part of the blame. It is possible Mrs. Hull may have been mistaken; there is now no way of finding this out or of rectifying the error, if there was one.

If Waters's conduct was indefensible, there seems even less defense for that of Mrs. Hull. The findings in this case constitute an invitation for every citizen to disregard the law and to substitute for it his own private judgment.

NOT THE SAME KIPLING

The Kipling of "Mandalay," "Gunga Din," "If" and the "Recessional" will hardly add to his world-wide honors by continuing the strain of indifferent versifying apparent in the efforts of his later years. If the first of his new series of "Brazilian Sketches" is a fair specimen of what the reader may expect in the remainder, his sincerest admirers will wish that he had decided ten years ago to retire on his laurels.

Possibly the "new" Kipling, born during the exhaustion of the World War readjustments, may be purposely attempting to get in touch with literary modernism by discarding scansion and switching from the swing of his former ringing poetry to the ragged, rough stuff affected by the disciples of free verse. Yet the master who created a new school in poetry, changed its artificial sugary monotony to the beat and tramp of flesh and blood can hardly expect to be congratulated on climbing into the band wagon of an already departing craze.

Nor has the Kipling, who carried real poetry to the man in the street, reached the age when his mental and emotional powers should have begun to wane. Tennyson wrote his most famous lyric, "Crossing the Bar," in his eightieth year. Walt Whitman was doing his best work in his sixth decade. Major poets as a rule do not find the touch of age a disturbing factor in the prosecution of their art. No one as yet would list Rudyard Kipling among the minor poets—and no one ever will if his enemies as well as his friends will allow his later efforts to sink into "innocuous desuetude."

RUSSIAN TRADE

Within a week, eight representatives of Russian industry, five interested in mining, three in sugar production, have passed through Los Angeles, announcing they are here for study of American methods and purchase of American machinery. Not long ago representatives of the oil industry were here on a similar mission. If their promises are carried out, American business evidently will obtain from them substantial orders.

Their presence is a sufficient answer to the clamor heard not long ago, but to a large extent stilled, that it was necessary for Washington to recognize the soviet government for purposes of trade. Recognition has not been accorded, but the trade is coming. It is not a matter with which the State Department need concern itself; that department announced long ago that any individual who wished to trade with Russia or Russians were free to do so.

LUMBER OF STRAW

The Forest Products laboratory in Wisconsin is putting out a building board made from wheat straw and a mill is being built in Missouri to manufacture this creation on a large scale. Dr. Sidney Wells, the inventor, has been working on the process for a dozen years and the finished product is said to be a remarkable non-conductor of heat, cold and noise. It also has great tensile strength and promises to give large value and much practical use to a waste product of the wheat belt. Of course there is a market for straw for varied purposes, but this is by far the best bet. The Missouri mill is expected to use 20,000 tons of the straw the first season. Anyhow, a straw house in America's cyclone belt should show which way the wind blows.

A MODEST WISH
By James J. Montague

I'd like to have an island,
A lone deserted island
With murmuring trees
And singing seas
To lull me to my rest.
Where all the birds that wander
Here, there and over yonder
Through every clime,
At evening time
Came home to sing and nest.

I'd like to walk the reaches
Of shining sandy beaches,
Or lay my head
Upon a bed
Of tropic sunlit turf—
And sleep unnumbered hours
Among the fragrant flowers
While far and near
There filled my ear
The music of the surf.

I'd want my tiny island—
My private tropic island—
Far over seas
Where every breeze
Dropped peace and quiet down—
Away from care and worry,
And life's eternal hurry
And grief and fret
And woe, and yet

The Lee Side o' L.A.

by Lee Shippey

NOT many years ago the bootblack was the humblest of ragamuffins, carrying his complete stock in trade on his back. Now the shine boy is a business man who can smile secretly at the largess of the pompous clerk who recklessly tips him a nickel. Many of the hundreds of bootblacks in Los Angeles ride to and from their work in their own cars and some, I'm told, pay as high as $500 per month rent for the shine stands they operate. The average downtown stand in the entry of a barber shop or office building rents for from $50 per month up, in the 10-cent-shine district, and from $100 a month up in the 15-cent-shine district. The zoning in this case is done by the law of demand, not by city ordinance. Sometimes by getting off Broadway and walking up a side street only a few doors one can save a nickel.

Property Owners

"Ah has to pay $50 a month rent," a little negro who owns a shine stand on Second street, near Spring, said. "But Ah's savin' up to get a stand near one of the big hotels. A frien' o' mine pays $400 a month rent and still makes lots more'n I do. He gets 15 cents and up, and lots of sports just slip him a quarter and never look for change. He rides down to work in a Ford, but he has a Studebaker sedan to use when he steps out. He's got some nice property, too, and lots of the other boys do, too."

Haircuts Free

Every day 300 Angelenos, on the average, walk more or less furtively down Second street, east of Main, look about them when they reach the next corner, and then dart upstairs. They go in looking like sheep ready for shearing and they come out glossy and shorn.

The place they enter is a barber college at 130 E. Second street, which is, perhaps, the biggest barber shop in town, for thirty-five barbers can work there at once. There also is a classroom for women students, and there frequently women who want to be bobbed or waved in the mode, but are short of cash, also come for free service.

Last Saturday 376 men were shaved and ninety received haircuts in the men's department and half a dozen on the women's side. The college serves all who come, so there is no excuse for even a poet to go long-haired in Los Angeles—unless, of course, one has strong convictions against hack work.

Public Protected

But the barber whose work was a reminder of the times when barbers were the only surgeons, and were called on to bleed people, rapidly is vanishing, according to Perfessor (not Prof.) W. S. Bailey, superintendent of the school department of the college.

"The law now requires that barbers must pass State examinations, just as other amputators do," Bailey said. "When one of our students becomes proficient we give him a diploma, and he takes the examination. Then he gets a certificate entitling him to practice barbering as an apprentice, and we operate a chain of shops in which he gets more experience. We don't operate those shops to compete with the regular trade, but it is essential that our graduates get experience on paid as well as unpaying customers. The latter never kick, but the chap who goes about looking for a 25-cent haircut is pretty likely to kick hard if he doesn't get good service."

Oh, the Women

"You say free customers never kick?" we queried. "Does that apply to women, too?"

The perfessor gave a shrug which for a moment entirely absorbed his neck.

"Oh, the women!" was all he said.

Fewer Women

"The new law requiring examinations and delays has put quite a crimp in the women's department," he continued.

"A—a permanent crimp," we dared venture.

"Certainly not. Women have almost trebled the demand for barber-shop service. They won't let themselves get ragged, as men do. They are much more regular about getting their hair cut than men are. In fact," he concluded, wistfully, "this would be an almost perfect world for barbers if only more women shaved."

Women Buy Razors

But women are coming to it. The head of the cutlery department of one of those amazing department stores which still, for some reason, we call drug stores, says that every day he sells safety razors to women, in addition to which he knows that many shyer women get men to buy razors for them.

"They get the razors to shave their necks," he said, "but soon they do a little work on their arms, too, and quite a few bathing beauties shave their legs, also. Of course the more they shave the more the hair grows. They say we are descended from hairy creatures—maybe we have begun to complete the circle."

Columbusing at Home

Today I discovered our new Public Library, and feel prouder of the city as a result. It is so much more than just a library that it challenges the admiration of the world. The library directors are fond of calling it "the people's university," and they are justified. From the departments in which school children are taught to make use of the library to the rooms in which students of science, art and music receive every encouragement the library can place at their disposal, it is not only equipped to serve anyone and everyone in the community, but is eager to do so. In its foreign department it provides reading in even such tongues as Arabic, it offers courses of lectures in Spanish, French, German. It interprets symphony concerts for the benefit of any who wish to know what they are going to hear before they hear it. It encourages literary research to such an extent that ten books now are being written in it, in private offices placed at the disposal of the authors by the library. If Abraham Lincoln had had access to such an efficient, helpful institution he would have felt that life had given him greater opportunities than he had any right to expect. And if you know of any young man or young woman in this city who imagines he or she is barred from the door of opportunity, just lead that person to a high place, point to the Public Library, and tell him to wake up.

SOME REFLECTIONS

BY J. A. GRAVES

The home is the foundation of our national honor and stability. In the home, children brought up by proper-minded parents, are usually a credit to society and an honor to the State. From the home went forth the stalwart thousands in the Union army, which put down the rebellion in the 60's and restored to the nation peace and prosperity.

We have enough influences weakening home ties already, in the movies, visited nightly by parents who leave their youngsters to themselves, while they seek enjoyment; in the golf-playing fathers and mothers—fathers more especially—who put in their Sundays on the golf links, to the accompaniment of smoking, drinking illicit liquors and gambling on nearly every stroke made; and in the automobile, which affords a ready excuse to cut church attendance. The children of such parents cannot be even as good citizens as their parents were, or as the children of parents who give them religious instruction and the benefit of their companionship.

Now comes the Ben Lindsey suggestion of trial marriage, to further stir up the dirty pool of marital infidelity and social degradation. Marriages should be entered into with more deliberation than they now are. Divorces should not be granted for frivolous causes. The merchant who goes into bankruptcy is forever branded as an undesirable credit risk. Most divorcees, not all of them, of course, go through moral bankruptcy, which should, if society were rightly organized, forever leave a stigma of irresponsibility. We are living in a frivolous age. People seek excitement, instead of quiet contemplation of the problems of life. I believe that for the safety of society, often convicted moral derelicts, of both sexes, should be sterilized, so that they could not inflict society with offspring which would be an encumbrance on the social state. We spend millions in breeding cattle and other live stock, thereby improving breeds, yet we do nothing to improve the human herd, in fact, our educational lines too often lower, instead of improving moral standards.

Away with this doctrine of trial marriages! It is a heresy unworthy of American civilization. It would lower our standards of citizenship, flood the nation with abandoned children begotten by irresponsible parents lacking parental instincts, and would thereby largely increase the already pressing burdens of our taxpayers.

When people are privileged to enter the marriage state for a day, or a week, or any other limited time necessary to temporarily allay their brutal passions, we can bid good-by to our civilization. This idea of trial marriage is a Communistic one, the object being to make the rearing of children a duty of the state. The Bolshevists of Russia invented and foster this abominable practice.

My impression is, that those judges of ours who advocate this doctrine are simply bidding for popularity among the fast-growing element of our voting population imbued with these abominable ideas.

People are now paying their taxes. They will find them largely increased, on the same properties, over the amounts paid a year ago. While engaged upon this disagreeable duty, it would be well to look into the increased costs of running our State and county government.

For the year 1926 the cost of running the State government was $70,972,301. In 1911, the cost was $14,672,045, an increase, during the fifteen years, of $56,300,253, or 383.72 per cent.

The cost of the county governments of the State in 1926 was $244,935,048, and in 1911, $39,272,598, or an increase of $205,662,450, or 523.68 per cent.

The cost of the municipal governments of the State for 1926 was $180,944,998, while in 1911 it was $43,808,965, an increase of $137,636,033, or 312.5 per cent.

The cost of our State, county and municipal governments in 1926 was $496,752,347, and in 1911, $97,753,611, an increase of $398,998,736, or 408.17 per cent.

The bonded indebtedness of the State, cities and counties increased from $93,906,423 in 1911 to $672,166,300 in 1926, or a percentage of 617.78 per cent.

Our population, during that time, increased 53.5 per cent, while taxes were raised 408.17 per cent.

I have no hesitancy in saying that political thieves and pap suckers have stolen a large proportion of this money. The increase in the expenses of the State government began immediately after the inauguration of Hiram Johnson as Governor of California. He emerged from the fetid atmosphere of the Abe Ruef criminal trial in San Francisco, some twenty years ago, a full-fledged extravagant reformer. He was extravagant at the expense of the taxpayers of California, not at his own expense. He fathered the direct primary, government ownership of public utilities and all the other fads and isms of the ultra reformers of the La Follette type. Under Johnson, salaries were raised, offices multiplied, new positions created for faithful henchmen, and a riot of State expenditures ensued. After the Legislature, during his second term as Governor, amended the laws of the State, making it possible for him to do so, Johnson had himself elected United States Senator. He was succeeded to the Governorship by "Don't-Let-Them-Fool-You" Stephens, then Lieutenant-Governor. Stephens was elected to succeed himself, but at the next election the scandals relating to the State government were of such a nature that Friend W. Richardson was elected to succeeded him. Richardson fired the spendthrift employees of the State government and reduced expenses to a large extent. Through an unfortunate fight of some Los Angeles banks and the Bank of Italy, in which the State Superintendent of Banks favored the Los Angeles banks and discriminated against the Bank of Italy, Richardson was defeated for Governor and Young elected to succeed him. All of the old Johnson henchmen are again in the saddle. New commissions have been created and promptly filled, piling up more burdens on our taxpayers.

It would seem that the example of the State was contagious, and city and county governments have been as extravagant as the State. The printed budget issued by the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, for 1927-28, on page 15, shows that for the year the county expended for outdoor poor relief $1,800,145. Included therein was $407,440 paid as salaries and wages, other outlays $2500, making an expense of $409,940, leaving out of the $1,800,145 the sum of $1,390,205 disbursed as poor relief. An itemized account of the $407,440 paid as salaries and wages in affording this relief would be mighty interesting reading. It would undoubtedly show a pay roll condition which no private enterprise would stand for or could afford. I very much fear that political favoritism has much to do with the distribution of the funds that the objects of charity finally receive. The curse of politics, without doubt, enters into these vast expenditures.

This is simply one example of what is going on. The members of the Board of Supervisors, under the present charter of the county, are free lances. They can do about what they please, at whatever expense they determine, and the taxpayer must foot the bills.

The fishiest story which has ever been circulated in Los Angeles is that to the effect that the employees of the Los Angeles city water board voluntarily raised among themselves over $15,000 to pay the judgment rendered against the members of the water board in an action brought by one of our citizens to recover illegal expenditures. If these employees were coerced to raise this money, see what a leverage it gives them on the water board. From now on, they can do about as they please, work ardently or otherwise, and the board dare not reprimand them. If one of them was discharged, he would undoubtedly peach and give the whole story away. If the truth were known, the judgment rendered against them could probably be multiplied many times over, if somebody would dig into the records and rake up illegal expenditures which they have made.

What they say and what they mean often differ as widely as the gulf that separated Lazarus from his friend in Hades.

When we hear someone say, "In spite of all his knowledge," etc., we may usually be pretty sure he means: "Compared to a wise man like myself, the fellow is a fool."

"He did me a great wrong, but the poor man has had to suffer for it," usually means "Revenge is sweet."

"I need not explain to this intelligent audience" means: "Listen, you blockheads! I'm going to hand it to you straight from the shoulder."

"I would not go so far as to assert" means: "I'm going to play safe, for I wouldn't like to be mobbed."

"I have the greatest respect for my opponent and his views" means, as a rule: "The man's judgment is warped and I even doubt his sincerity."

"Let us try to get at the root of this matter" means "I expect you to accept my opinion as gospel truth."

"Christmas comes but once a year" is the best excuse ever invented for intemperate self-indulgence.

"You know I never gossip" means "I depend on you, as a friend, to pardon me for saying the meanest thing you ever heard anyone say about a neighbor."

And "I want to tell you folks" doesn't mean anything because the speaker wouldn't be telling 'em if he didn't want to.

WINDOWLESS HOUSES

The height of efficiency will have been reached when we construct our houses without windows. A New York engineer and former superintendent of buildings believes that such houses will be far superior to the present type. He has several arguments. Since artificial light is already used much of the time he would use it all the time, and the inmates would profit by scientific lighting. Windowless buildings would be cheaper, safer from fire and have more wall space for furniture. Air would be pumped in and would be much better than the dust laden stuff that creeps in at the windows of our present dwellings. Workers could concentrate without the distractions from outside. Artificial light would cost it is argued no more than the cost of heat radiated and lost through the windows.

In Germany another type of building is proposed. It is to be a schoolhouse constructed mostly of glass with just enough frame work to hold it together. The purpose of the building is to take advantage of all the sunlight and air available. A building of this kind will be hard to heat and hard to keep unpunctured. But being human we forget efficiency and vote for the glass house. Who wants to concentrate so hard that he requires a concrete vault to do it in? It is the sunshine streaming in the windows that makes the day pass pleasantly. You'll notice this on a cloudy day. And the person who prefers his windowless office to a ringside seat on a window ledge when the band marches by just isn't right.—[Lincoln Journal.

THE CONSTABLE OPINES

"What about the feller that sneaked into the Right Place store yesterday and stole $6 from the cash drawer while the boss and his clerk were out in front, arguing politics?" asked old Riley Bezzleby of Petunia.

"I hain't found out who the scoundrel was, but I've got a clew," answered Constable Slackputter, the famous sleuth. "I figger he's the same cuss that slipped in and stole $6 the same way about a year ago. I know who I think he is, and I've been watching him ever since. He ain't done a thing out of the way from then till now, but if rascality is born in a gent it's li'ble to break out sooner or later, and when it does, I-gorry, I'll be right on hand to nab him!"—[Kansas City Star.

THE COLLECTOR

"We should greet the bill collector with a courtesy profound, for he," says our pariah rector, "helps to make the wheels go round. Commerce soon would be decaying if he didn't do his chores, and the sheriff would be laying his embargo on the stores. It is true he oft impels us to rebellion and revolt, and the ghastly truths he tells us give our inmost souls a jolt. When we think we owe a dollar and he says we're owing nine, we would shake him by the collar, we would telescope his spine. When, inviting grim disaster, he puts up a loud harangue, we would soak him," says the pastor, "with a brick or chunk of gangue. When in bold, offensive manner, he accosts us on the pave, we would smite him with a spanner, send him to an early grave. When he tries to blu' and bector, while our lady friends are near, we would gladly," says the rector, "put an end to his career. But he has his place, his calling is among the useful tasks, and instead of caterwauling, we should pay up what he asks. We should pay up without swearing, with no vain display of woe, for the kraut and kippered herring that we bought six months ago. We should pay like manful voters, standing not dismayed, aghast, for the tripe and Yarmouth bloaters we consumed in April last. Bill collectors are detested so persistently, alas, that the kindness in them vested turns to insolence and brass. They would seem like friendly critters if we'd speak a kindly word when they ask pay for the bitters that we bought December third."

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE COLLECTOR

"We should greet the bill collector with a courtesy profound, for he," says our parish rector, "helps to make the wheels go round. Commerce soon would be decaying if he didn't do his chores, and the sheriff would be laying his embargo on the stores. It is true he oft impels us to rebellion and revolt, and the ghastly truths he tells us give our almost souls a jolt. When we think we owe a dollar and he says we're owing nine, we would shake him by the collar, we would telescope his spine. When, inviting grim disaster, he puts up a loud harangue, we would soak him," says the pastor, "with a brick or chunk of mangue. When in bold, offensive manner, he accosts us on the pave, we would smite him with a spanner, send him to an early grave. When he tries to blu.' and hector, while our lady friends are near, we could gladly," says the rector, "put an end to his career. But he has his place, his calling is among the woeful tasks, and instead of cataclauling, we should pay up what he asks. We should pay up without swearing, with no vain display of woe, for the kraut and kippered herring that we bought six months ago. We should pay like manful debtors, standing not dismayed, whilst, for the tripe and Yarmouth bloaters we consumed in April last. All collectors are detested so persistently, alas, that the kindness in 'em vested turns to insolence and brass. They would seem like friendly critters if we'd speak a kindly word when they ask pay for the fritters that we bought December third."

P.C.A. TARGET IN WEBB ATTACK

Attorney-General Asks That Franchise be Canceled

Operation for Profit Charged in Quo Warranto Action

Ousting of Histed as Humane Officer Also Sought

Charges that the California Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, located at Lynwood, used its power to make a profit, were made today in quo warranto proceedings filed in Superior Court through Atty.-Gen. Webb, who asks that the charter of the society be canceled.

Filing of the action which is accompanied by an action seeking to oust Burdette B. Histed, a director of the society, from the ranks of State humane officers, follows the receipt of several asserted complaints against the society and the manner in which its affairs have been conducted.

For the past five months, the proceedings state, the society has unlawfully seized and impounded animals and assessed excessive charges against the owners for such impoundment. Certain officers of the society also are accused of practicing as veterinary surgeons without having been licensed to do so.

According to the complaint, the names of the directors of the society, as given in its incorporation papers, are Burdette B. Histed, Clayton A. Histed, Mabelle C. Histed, Mrs. Anna Hamlin and George B. Gray. The last two names are fictitious, it is charged.

The action against Burdette B. Histed accuses him of unlawful seizure and impounding of animals and with the unlawful practice of veterinary surgery. Histed also is accused of having made excessive charges and of having sold animals impounded when the owners were unable to pay the charges.

Revocation of his license as a State humane officer is asked. The proceedings were prepared by Deputy Attorney Generals John L. Flynn and Lloyd S. Howie.

SLAIN DOG'S SON FIGURES IN FILM SUIT

Trial of $250,000 Action Over Peter the Great Will be Continued Today

Just what part he is to play in the case was not disclosed, but prominent among the crowd gathered in Judge Finch's court yesterday for trial of the $250,000 damage suit over the shooting of Peter the Great, film police dog, was Ogram, one of the better known of Peter's numerous sons.

Fred Cyriacks, who admits he shot the dog, but by accident, was there to contend through his counsel, Ballin, Turner & Lake, and Heffron, Turnbull & Kelley, that a man's home is his castle and that if he chooses to defend it by shooting he has a right to within his rights.

Charles B. Dwyer and Edward Peach, owners of the dog, seek $4,500-$5,000 as his value and an extra $100,000 in punitive damages, asserting that Cyriacks displayed malice.

Cyriacks's counsel said they will show the plaintiffs went to Cyriacks's home and menaced him, and that he shot simply to frighten them away. Incidentally, they say, the dog was dead.

The case had proceeded no further than the selection of the jury when court adjourned, and trial will be resumed this morning.

YULETIDE SPIRIT AT BARKERS'

Christmas Trees and Gift Arrays Make Two Stores Inviting Shopping Spots

Visitors at Barker Brothers these days see towering to the lofty ceiling two giant fir trees frosty and glittering in their lights and holiday trappings. They were brought from Lake Arrowhead.

The Christmas activities at the store are of unusual scope this year. The window displays present a gorgeous panorama of brilliant gifts from all over the world. Every window is in gala dress, but the two large windows at the Flower-street and Figueroa-street corners, and the two on either side of the main entrance, unveiled Wednesday night, are, perhaps, most unusual.

Under a blue canopy and silvery stars in the main-floor galleries stretch two enormously long tables, each sixty-four feet long and covered with a display of gifts.

A special shop for gifts for men is open on the third floor. There are all the gifts to bring joy to a man's heart.

All departments of the store have their holiday attire on and their holiday merchandise in temptingly arranged displays to be helpful to shoppers looking for inspiration.

Christmas in the Hollywood shops of Barker Brothers is just as exciting as at the downtown store. With a Christmas tree on the first floor, all the new sophistications from every land are shown in every department. All six floors are vivid with brilliant arrays of gifts.

Deputy Sheriff and Driver Hurt in Auto Crash

T. L. Johnston, a Deputy Sheriff, and Walter L. Prewett of 411 Marion street, Alameda, were injured yesterday morning when a Sheriff's office fast car collided with Prewett's light sedan at the intersection of Broadway and San Fernando Road.

Both were rushed to the Glendale Emergency Hospital for treatment where it was found Johnston had received a dislocated left shoulder and fractured left wrist. Prewett escaped with a deep gash in his forehead.

According to G. H. Jones, also a Deputy Sheriff, who was accompanying Johnston on a trip to Road Camp No. 1 near Palmdale, they were going north on Broadway at a speed of forty miles an hour. Prewett failed to hear the siren and drove directly in front of the car when it was within thirty feet of the intersection.

Jones and Fred England, driver of the car, escaped uninjured.

RADIO ACTIVITIES

From Broadcasting Stations to Receiving Sets

RADIO FEATURED IN NEW QUARTER

Advertising Clubs in Booklet Give Items Much Space

Many Paragraphs of Interest to Broadcast Listeners

Mrs. Carter Scheduled to Quit Beach Station

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

An eighty-page leaflet covering proceedings of the 1927 convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association comes from the press this week.

Throughout the publication there are many paragraphs relating to radio that prove interesting to broadcast listeners.

For instance, there is a reprint of a few words delivered at a banquet not so long ago by Orestes Caldwell, member of the Federal Radio Commission:

"Radio, to progress, must be directed by minds the equivalent of the editors of the leading newspapers, the pastors of the leading pulpits, the heads of the large business enterprises and the presidents of colleges and universities, and radio must be directed by such minds or fail."

George Podeyn, recently Orange Network manager but now in the advertising field at Chicago, said in the convention:

"Radio is the great magazine of the air. It has its editor, the program builder. He it is who balances your evening's entertainment so that it is pleasing and palatable. The editorials, or noncommercial programs, must be the best. They must form the reading matter of our publication. The commercial, or sponsored programs, correspond to the advertising.

GOOD-WILL CHIEF NEED

"The main essential of any broadcast station is to obtain the good-will of its audience. A magazine or newspaper has its definite circulation. A radio station is limited only to the number of receiving sets in a given area."

A San Francisco banker, J. M. Cunningham, has this to say of radio:

"Advance newspaper notices of feature talks are more than ever essential now because of the multiplicity of stations—resulting in a greater choice of programs for the listeners who also have much better radio sets than formerly. As this condition will most likely continue the radio advertiser who puts on a worth-while program without outside publicity simply considers radio dials as roulette wheels and trusts to luck that his program may be the one chosen."

LISTENER'S DEMAND

While Richard Haller of Portland, famous originator of the Hoot Owl frolic program, and KGW announcer, speaks as follows: "The radio listener does not invest $125 in order to induct advertising into his home. He wants entertainment most of all, he enjoys receiving information, and he may even submit to some education.

"He can eliminate himself from the audience of any station by a slight turn of the wrist, and although he gets entertainment for nothing he is the most finicky customer imaginable. He has to be pleased. If he is pleased he appreciates the effort made to please and that appreciation is the foundation of radio in all its branches."

Howard Milholland, announcer "H. M." of KGO, Oakland, says in part: "The programs of the future, and I mean the very near future, are to receive in their make-up much more in thought and money. The fundamental difficulty in broadcast is that it is complicated.

BROADCAST DIFFICULTIES

"It is one of the most difficult sectors of the whole tangle of industrial life. The wonderful strides made in the perfection of transmitting apparatus and receiving sets, the most of conquest offered in the studio production is more and more attracting the attention of business and recognized musical and dramatic artists."

These, in substance, are some of the most striking items extracted from the resume of the Portland convention proceedings.

When the twenty-fifth meeting is called at Honolulu next year it is safe to predict that the new radio departmental meetings will form some of the most interesting discussion groups.

Little Sweethearts are the Rage now

All ideas of beauty, style and fitness call for slender figures now. All who seek to please, in movies or society, must banish excess fat.

Note how many do that. In every circle you can see that most folks now are slender. Fat is the exception.

One great reason is Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others. The slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

No abnormal exercise or diet is required, though moderation helps. The results of Marmola come through supplying a substance which Nature employs in nutrition. Its purpose is to turn food into fuel and energy, rather than into fat. The use is based on wide research and experiment.

Every box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. This to let you know just why it acts and avoid any fear of harms.

Marmola has for two decades held top place in this field. Go learn the reason. Watch what it does for beauty, health and vitality! Then tell your friends who need it. No one can afford to be abnormal when reduction is so easy. Order now—before you forget it.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Youth Caught With Robbery Suspects Free

Curtis S. Maltman, 19 years of age, who was held for questioning because of his being with three youths arrested Monday on suspicion of grand theft, has been released and completely exonerated. He had planned to go on a hunting trip with the trio, he told detectives, and was unaware of their asserted criminal activities when found with them in a rented car at Fifth and Los Angeles streets. The automobile contained several guns and a supply of ammunition, according to Detective Lieutenants Bunch and Mansfield, the arresting officers.

The three youths in custody, who gave their names as Alvin J. McCowan, 19; Earl Rummonds, 22, and Jack C. Cushing, 22, are said to be members of prominent families of Rosemead. They are reported to have confessed participating in several highway robberies and are being held in the County Jail pending arraignment.

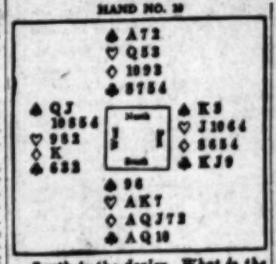
HAND NO. 10



South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

Each day we shall publish a complete hand presented by Mr. Whitehead, together with a chart upon which the bidding and play may be noted. These hands may be played with cards by one, two, three or four players, before filling in the chart.

Tomorrow we shall publish Mr. Whitehead's explanation of today's hand, with the important features emphasized.

Fill out your own chart and compare it tomorrow with Mr. Whitehead's method. Do this each day and carefully read Mr. Whitehead's explanation, and you will find that your knowledge of the game will progress rapidly. Compare your bidding and play with that of your friends—the comparison may be illuminating.

Record the bids that each player should make, assuming that he does not see any of the other hands. These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i. e., as though all four hands were exposed.

NOTE—In recording the auction, for the tips, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use "N" for No Trump. "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

Final Bid 2 N.T. Played by South

Salient Points of the Bidding

Coming directly to the procedure of North's passing South's No Trump bid, it is worthy of note to say that many players with North's holding would bid two Diamonds because of the worthless Spade doubleton. However sound it may be to bid a suit originally instead of a No Trump when holding a worthless doubleton, such consideration does not justify the partner of the No Trump bidder in taking out the No Trump bid with a Minor suit, or even with a weak five-card Major suit.

East's two-Spade bid with his holding, rather than a negative double, was influenced by the extra length of his Spade suit. Had he but five Spades, an informatory double would possibly have been better. South, holding rebid strength, including two stoppers in Spades, soundly bids two No Trumps.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 1. East overtook the ten of Spades to assure the continuation of the suit if West's Spade is a singleton.

Trick 4. A thoughtless player would be apt to split his aquals here, playing either his Queen or Jack of Diamonds, without stopping to think that should he do so South would permit him to hold the trick, having still another Diamond in his own hand, thereafter making the rest of Dummy's Diamonds. West's play at this trick proved to be the crucial play of the hand, as it effectually prevented South from bringing in his Diamond suit and thereby going game.

ASPARAGUS SHORTCAKE

Three cupfuls whole-wheat flour, one teaspoonful salt, four teaspoonfuls baking powder, four tablespoonfuls butter, about one and one-half cupfuls milk, one bunch asparagus or one can, three cupfuls milk, three tablespoonfuls flour, three tablespoonfuls butter, one and one-half teaspoonfuls salt, three hard cooked eggs.

Mix together the flour (unsifted,) baking powder and salt; moisten with a cupful and a half of milk, or a little more if it seems necessary, until the dough is as soft as can be handled easily. Divide in halves and pat into two round layer cake tins; bake about twenty minutes in a rather quick oven. Cut the asparagus in inch lengths and cook it in salting, salted water till tender. Make a white sauce of the butter, milk, salt and flour, add the asparagus, and put this mixture between and on top of the shortcake. Garnish with the hard cooked eggs cut in eighths. Peas or other vegetables can be used in a similar way.

CRANBERRY TRIFLE

Soak two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatine in one-half a cupful of cold water for five minutes. Dissolve in one-half cupful of hot water, and add one cupful of sugar, one cupful of cranberry juice and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Chill, and when the mixture has begun to stiffen, beat until light and fold in one cupful of cream whipped stiffly. Chill thoroughly and serve.

FISH FLORENTINE

Six slices fish, free of bones, preferably flounder or halibut, three cupfuls well-seasoned spinach, two cupfuls milk, one tablespoonful butter, one tablespoonful flour, one teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper, one tablespoonful lemon juice, one cupful grated American cheese.

The fish should be cut for individual service; dip the slices in olive oil, season sparingly with salt and pepper, sprinkle with flour, and either broil or fry gently till brown. Prepare a white sauce of the butter, flour, seasoning and milk. Cover a large, fireproof platter with the spinach, pour over the lemon juice, arrange the fish on this, and pour the white sauce over all. Sprinkle thickly with the cheese and place platter in the oven till cheese is melted and browned.

TREASURE TROVE POTATOES

Two cupfuls diced, cooked potatoes, two hard-boiled eggs, one-half cupful chopped peanuts, two tablespoonfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls butter, one and one-half cupfuls milk, one teaspoonful salt, dash cayenne.

Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, seasonings and milk. Add the potatoes, the eggs coarsely chopped and stir in the peanuts just before serving.

NANCY PAGE

Nancy Remembers to Select Toys Suitable to Joan's Age

By Florence La Ganke

Aunt Nancy had learned early in her career as foster mother to Joan that water had great attractions for the child. In talking with other mothers she found that it was generally true.

Realizing this and realizing also a child's love of balls, she purchased a rubber apron and a bubble blowing outfit. She found that her little niece adored blowing bubbles and really did it very well.

Another trait Aunt Nancy had noticed was Joan's desire to do things the way grown-ups did them. She was greatly pleased, therefore, when Peter brought home a section of a room of a doll's house. It had a floor, a back and two walls. In this Joan arranged tiny furniture until the room looked like her own Aunt Nancy's room. The furniture was simple but well made and well proportioned.

Aunt Nancy felt that Joan was too young for a real doll's house. She could not manipulate the intricate doors and other openings. But here was something simple enough. And more than that it allowed Joan to educate herself. Since a child's work is his play the toys served a real purpose.

It's a difficult thing to serve something different, but not half so hard when you have Nancy Page's new leaflet on Ten Time Goodies.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

BY OLIVE GRAY

Coming Through

One of the secrets of accomplishing all that one has to do, in these hurrying days, is concentration. Put one's mind and one's effort fully upon one subject at a time, finish this and then take up the next. A daily list of things to do is a help. Such lists should be well thought out in advance. First, of course, come the gifts to be purchased; next the boxes for housing the gifts. Sending away should be attended to early. If there is to be a tree, decorations should be chosen early. It is advisable to package gifts as they are purchased, since often it becomes difficult to find proper boxes. Last, the provisions for Christmas dinner should be tabulated and secured. Methodical preparedness simplifies holiday duties and leaves one free to enjoy festivities.

The Dressing Table

While there are myriad things for today's dressing table use, ranging from the simplest to the most ornate of beauty requisites and appliances, the ultimate is the dressing table so constructed as to hold everything possible for personal use, arranged into compartments, veiled in her favorite color. The table is so constructed that each side swings outward upon hinges, leaving the table free for use. Further, the dressing mirror may be folded down to make a top to the table, thereby concealing all articles, and protecting them from dust and atmospheric ills. Truly regal, such a gift for her!

The Candles

Candles always seem especially appropriate for Christmas, both as personal gifts and to the home. Each season finds something new in these; it has seemed that the finale had been reached. A season or so ago came the tall slim candles called "tapers" but which I name "a yard of candle" for they do measure near-ly that. These have this season received a novel touch in colorful decorations, usually in vivid contrast to the main body of the candle. Set in the quaint holders which are a part, these make lovely gifts.

Paper Flowers

It may seem like "gilding fine gold" to discuss flowers of wax for us here in California where flowers are so plentiful, but after all, it is not always convenient to have the natural bloom, and what more beautiful than their imitation in wax. Each season sees a greater variety of these waxen flowers "bloom" and each season they become more actual in their similitude. Dainty, lasting, a gift of these paper flowers, with a lovely bowl for them, or even placed in a pretty vase, would be a welcome gift. Another thought which may expedite Christmas shopping: These flowers were invented and are made in our own Los Angeles.

Gifts from Everywhere

One need not travel or send to foreign parts to discover rare and interesting objects for gifting. Several of our leading stores have set apart sections wherein may be found articles from nearly every foreign port. Then, of course, there are shops making a specialty of certain lines of creations from China, from Japan, from Italy, from—oh, nearly everywhere.

Never So Lovely

It may seem a platitude, since each season we say the same, but—truly—I believe that never before have feminine habiliments been so beautifully dainty as at present. Scarcely an article, from the tips of shoes, their dainty buckles and shimmering hose, throughout the varied stockings, plain and wearable, or cobwebby and ornamented with darts, embroidery, open-work clocking, lacery, and clinging amid garments from hem to neck-line—frocks, gowns, coats and wraps, lingerie, smocks, blouses, jackets, sweaters, hand bags, vanities—and topping off, costume jewelry and even hats—each, every article of gift-worth and loveliness. How simple to select that which will may represent us and which equally well, will find lasting favor with the recipient.

The Gift Supreme

Of course we all know that the gift supreme is the gift of genuine love. Never will this be disputed; the extent of such a gift depending upon the means at disposal of the donor. In the world of gems, advance in setting and in workmanship, during the past few years has been notable. From the plain stone set almost invisibly, it has come to be the mode to use diamonds in quantities as paving—or framing, each lustrously enhancing the effectiveness of the main jewel. Nothing could more truly express the lavishness of our era than this use of gems so precious for the paving of other gems even more sumptuous.

The Mode's Variation

Raccoon is the trimming used on a new kasha coat.

Chestnut velvet is smart for formal daytime dresses.

Short capes are a feature of new tailored tweed coats.

Many dresses achieve their flare by a huge bow at the side.

Short furs are liked for coats, and are also used for trimming.

Gray beige is the staple hose that may be worn with all colors.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy

author of "The Hour Glass to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

BREATH CONTROL FOR THE ASTHMATIC

Most people understand that diaphragmatic breathing is superior to chest breathing, but do not know how to go about it in making the change. When one is asked to take a deep breath, he invariably raises the chest and attempts to expand the ribs, which apparently fills the upper chest with air. This may be called chest breathing, and is wholly unnatural and really harmful in certain ways.

If you will watch an animal, such as the horse, when he breathes, you will see that the breathing is done in the upper part of the abdomen, and that there is practically no movement of the chest or of the lower abdomen. Every successful athlete either unconsciously breathes this way or has developed the diaphragmatic breathing through practice.

If you will stand sidewise before a mirror you can watch your faulty breathing and practice how to correct it. Remove all of your clothing and stand so you can watch the entire torso, from the pelvis to the chin. When you inhale you will probably notice that the chest gets larger in the upper part, the upper abdomen smaller, and lower down the belly will protrude. This gives you a sort of hour-glass appearance, which is all wrong.

Now try, when you inhale, to make your abdomen larger just below the ribs. Imagine you are drawing the air into the upper abdomen, swelling it out and keeping the lower part from protruding. The position of the ribs should change but slightly, and no movement should be noticed in the upper chest. After you have inhaled, exhale slowly, contracting the upper abdomen and holding the entire abdomen rigid, not allowing the lower part to protrude.

I suggest that you clip out these directions and try to follow them tonight when you are undressed just before going to bed. Keep on practicing until you can do all of your breathing with the upper part of the abdomen, just below the sternum and ribs. In this way you will learn to develop a diaphragmatic muscle, which you must do in order to be healthy and to completely overcome asthma.

If you do not seem to get the idea at first, go outdoors and take a short run up and down the yard, then rest and place your hands on various portions of your chest and abdomen and you will notice that you naturally breathe hardest in the diaphragmatic section. For practice, just keep up this same breathing, and if you again forget how, take another run and again make a careful examination to see where the most contraction and expansion occurs.

After the asthmatic has properly trained the diaphragm, he will find that the practice of singing will be a pleasing way to keep the diaphragmatic muscle properly exercised. Any good singing teacher understands the necessity for breath control, and will give the pupil exercises through the practice of singing. A strong, resonant speaking voice can be thus developed.

The tone of the asthmatic or tubercular voice is always very poor, due to the tight diaphragm which always exists. The cure of either one of these disorders cannot be accomplished without the development of a normal diaphragm.

I will be glad to send my readers an article written recently on breath control. If you want this article, write to me, care of The Times, and ask for the article "Breath Control." It will be sent to you by return mail.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: A. P. S. writes: "I would like to know if there is anything wrong with my tongue; all my friends say that when I talk I lisp. Is there anything I can do to cure this?"

Answer: I cannot very well examine your tongue by correspondence. The lisp may be due to a tongue-tied condition, or to the position of your teeth, possibly the lower front teeth. If you have had dental work done recently you may find the lisp caused by a change of position of some of your teeth. If this is the cause you will soon get over it.

Q.: Mrs. K. T. R. asks: "What foods contain sulphur? I have heard that sulphur tends to make the hair gray."

A.: Such foods as the yolks of eggs, onions, garlic, cabbage and cauliflower, contain the largest amounts of sulphur. It is wise to use a reasonable amount of the egg yolk, but I have found that most persons can use the other foods I have mentioned because of the tendency of the sulphur to produce excessive gas. Gray hair doubtless comes on from some form of faulty metabolism and the throwing out of large amounts of sulphur dioxide gas through the pores may be responsible for bleaching the hair coloring.

Q.: F. B. writes: "I have severe attacks of heartburn after meals. I would like to know what causes this and how to get rid of it."

A.: Heartburn simply means over-acidity of the gastric juice, and is caused by bad combinations of foods, wrong kinds of foods, condiments, too much liquids at meals, etc. A teaspoonful of baking soda taken just after the meal will relieve the heartburn, but a real cure can only be obtained through removing whatever cause is producing the trouble.

AS TO CANCER

This is one of a series of bulletins published by the American Society for Control of Cancer and appearing simultaneously in several hundred newspapers as a practical move toward informing the public on the subject and thereby helping to combat the disease.

In spite of the fact that physicians and nurses have come into intimate contact with cancer patients for so many years and taken no precautions against infecting themselves there is no recorded instance of one case of cancer giving rise to another.

This is not to say that microbes are never found in cancers. Discoveries are announced from time to time that bacteria have been identified with cancer, but upon full and impartial investigation it is always found that these parasites have been invaders of the cancer growth—followers rather than producers of the malignant condition.

Cancers often become infected with such microbes as infect wounds of any kind and the unpleasant odors which are sometimes associated with cancer are due to these accidental contaminations. Consequently, the precautions to be taken by those who come in contact with cancer patients are only such as should be followed with infected wounds.

There is no occasion to shun a person who has cancer, so far as danger of contracting the disease is concerned. The victims need all the sympathy and tenderness which can be shown them. Fear that cancer was contagious has sometimes led to unnecessary and uncharitable action toward the sick.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

THE DANGER OF A LACK OF IMAGINATION

When one reads in the paper of accidents happening to tiny babies one wonders how they happen. Babies falling into tubs of scalding water; babies left alone in homes which burn down; babies tumbling out of upstairs windows; all the terrible fatalities which seem so incomprehensible to other parents. There seems but one explanation and that is lack of imagination. A certain type of parent grows so used to possible dangers that he fails to foresee disaster from them.

The tiny baby crawling about on the floor near his busy mother, pulling himself up to everything his grasping hands can reach, sees the mother lifting tubs of steaming water; plunging her hands into the suds and wringing out the clothes. The whole thing is fascinating to him. If he touches the tub, and his mother spanks his hand, this does not teach him to be fearful of the water. At the first opportunity alone with that tub, just the one moment when the mother steps out of the room, the baby is going to pull himself up and have a good look and "feel" of it himself. He does, and the lesson he may learn is too terrible to contemplate.

The parent should foresee such dangers for the baby who watches and imitates her. The baby is going to do almost everything he sees his mother do whenever he gets a chance, and if the mother will use her imagination she will foresee that and will keep the baby in a play pen when she cannot watch him until he is old enough to have learned caution.

To leave small sleeping children in a home where there is a coal fire burning seems to woo disaster. Why do houses always burn at those moments when the parents are absent, when they do not burn down when they are there? Fire has a lure for children. Perhaps they get cold and attempt to fix the fire as they see mother do with the coal oil can!

The child who climbs to an open window and falls to his death below may have lost all sense of danger because he has always been dangled over this precipice, safe in an adult's arms. Children held up on the edge of bridges; or hands held while they walk on perilous and sharp fences are having no instruction in caution. And sometimes when the watchful eye of the adult is not on them, they attempt these feats alone, with the usual ending.

There is far too much spanking as a cure of disobedience and not enough training in caution which will protect the child when the unimaginative adult is off duty.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

New Gloves

Don't try on gloves for the first time when in a hurry. Even if you do get them on without splitting they will never fit so well as when they are carefully put on, stretching the kid gently to conform to every line of the hand. If this is done the first time all other times will be easy.

Soiled Cards

Playing cards are so high-priced these days that it is well to try a little home cleaning on them before discarding. Sprinkle with talcum powder and then rub with a dry, soft cloth. You will be pleased with the result.

Concerning Coffee

Keep the coffee tightly sealed in a glass container.

Don't guess at amounts when making coffee. Measure both water and coffee carefully.

Keep the coffee pot absolutely clean and free from coffee deposits. Wash it carefully after each meal.

Do not buy so much coffee at a time that it stands around for a long while or it will lose its strength.

Buy a good grade of coffee. It is economy in the long run, because it goes further and is easy on the digestion.

A Great Treasure House of Christmas Gifts

from roof to basement

Millions of dollars have been invested by The Broadway in gifts worthy of representing Los Angeles people Christmas morning.

These millions of dollars' worth of gifts are not too many, though, because folks have come to expect tremendously large assortments at The Broadway. And Broadway shoppers are, of course, never disappointed, for they get assortments of gifts large enough to satisfy every one.

And in spite o' the great quantities of gifts, there has been infinite care put on the pricing of each. We have done this in order to keep that fine name for bottom prices that has meant so much in the tremendous growth of The Broadway.

And Christmas service at The Broadway is pleasant, speedy, understanding. It is worthy of going along with these thousands of gifts of dependable quality that are being sold so fast at bottom prices in California's Christmas Store.

JAQUINS GIVEN TERM IN PRISON

Thrift Corporation ex-Head Denied Probation

Judge Orders Further Trials on Other Counts

Defrauding of Widows and Aged Laid to Man

Edward A. Jaquins, member of a pioneer Riverside family, and formerly president of the United States Thrift Corporation, yesterday was sentenced to San Quentin prison on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses by Superior Judge Hardy after his application for probation had been denied.

Jaquins originally was indicted on forty-five counts of grand larceny and obtaining money by false pretenses. He pleaded guilty to one charge and asked for probation, seeking dismissal of the remaining charges.

MORE TRIALS ASKED

In passing sentence Judge Hardy asserted that he was not satisfied with Jaquins's pleading guilty to only one count and ordered that he be tried on several of the other outstanding counts. Because of the nature of Jacquins's promotions, which are asserted to have concerned mostly aged persons and widows, Judge Hardy declared that the crime was of a most serious nature and did not merit probation.

Jacquins is accused of obtaining thousands of dollars in this manner in sums ranging from $1000 to $25,000, although he denied the charges stating that he had obtained only approximately $4800.

STAY GRANTED

It was charged that Jacquins appropriated for his personal use moneys he induced people to invest in the United States Thrift Corporation. In exchange for cash investments of numerous persons he is said to have given investors worthless stocks.

The court granted a ten days' stay of execution on the sentence and agreed to fix the trial date on the other charges on December 7.

DANCING LESSONS GIFT

The Aorai School of Dance Arts at 1046 South Grand avenue yesterday announced a Christmas present to children consisting of one month's training in dancing and acrobatics. All girls and boys 8 to 16 years of age wishing to accept the gift will have their first lesson Saturday at 9 a.m. and Monday at 6 p.m. The course will continue throughout December.

BURGLARS ROB THIRTY RESIDENCES

Two Homes Lose Property Valued at $2000 While Others Give Up Trifles

In a renewed outbreak of petty thievery, more than thirty homes have been burglarized during the past thirty-six hours, according to a police report last night. The amounts stolen which were small for the most part ranged upward to $2000.

Gaining entrance with a pass key, burglars ransacked the home of William H Mead, 344 South Manhattan Place, yesterday, and made away with $2000 worth of jewelry and valuables.

Second-story workers, who pried open a window on the upper floor of a dwelling at 3967½ South Vermont avenue, robbed the home of Mrs. Eva K. Baker of about $2000 worth of valuables, she reported to police.

Household goods and furnishings stored by Louis Moore in his garage in the rear of his home at 733 North Occidental Boulevard were carted away last night by burglars who knocked the lock off the door while the family was away.

Many minor robberies also were reported.

WATER MEN BACK FROM DAM VISITS

Gigantic Engineering Feat in Kentucky Inspected by Mulholland and Aide

Chief Engineer Mulholland and Assistant Chief Engineer Van Norman of the Municipal Water Bureau yesterday returned to Los Angeles following an extended trip through the South and Middle West made particularly for the purpose of examining the famous Dix Dam near Danville, Ky.

The gigantic Dix Dam, it was pointed out yesterday by Mr. Mulholland, is the largest rock-fill dam in existence. It is 275 feet high, is capable of holding in storage approximately 80,000 acre feet of water, and is used as a water and hydro-electric power supply for the city of Danville.

During the trip the Los Angeles water engineers inspected and studied a number of other notable domestic water systems.

WOMAN LINKED WITH SLAIN MAN

Anonymous Tip Received in Thorne Case

Letter Says She Threatened Oil-Station Owner

Mrs. Frederick Admits Love for Death Victim

G. V. Thorne, oil-station owner who was slain two weeks ago by two unidentified assailants, had been threatened with injury by a woman shortly before his death. This was revealed last night when an anonymous letter mailed from the Alhambra postoffice was received by Captain of Detectives Bean.

LEWIS FREDERICK

"Mr. Thorne saw her a few days before he was killed," the writer of the anonymous letter declares. "I am a sailors at the house and Thorne ran them off. She said at the time she would make Mr. Thorne pay for that—and dearly, too. You look her up."

The woman named as the one having made the threats was questioned a few days ago by police and it is likely that she will be questioned again, it was announced.

Lewis J. Frederick is held in the City Jail for suspicion of murder, the motive ascribed to police being jealousy over Thorne's asserted attentions to Mrs. Geraldine Frederick.

GERALDINE FREDERICK

Frederick still maintains his policy of silence, refusing to answer questions, although denying his guilt, police report. His wife, however, is said to have been talkative yesterday, saying that she and Thorne had planned to marry after obtaining divorces, according to detectives. Heretofore, Mrs. Frederick has maintained her relations with the murdered man were purely platonic, but is said to have reversed herself yesterday, admitting her love for Thorne and lack of sympathy for her husband.

Further developments last night tended to break down Frederick's story, according to Detective Lieutenants Fredenburg, Vanakan and Backham, who are investigating.

Frederick's alibi that he was in San Pedro at the time of the shooting was disproven when it was found that the persons with whom he said he had been staying were out of town at the time.

Detectives said they believe they have evidence which will prove that Frederick was locked in a closet in the oil station where Thorne kept his small-caliber rifle, shortly before the shooting.

JEWELRY FOUND IN SEWAGE PIPE

Emergency Plumber Goes to Rescue for Second Time Within Few Weeks

Jewelry valued at $600, property of Mrs. H. L. Patton, 2287 West Twenty-second street, was recovered by Dick Miller, emergency plumber of 816 South Bixel street, yesterday after it had been washed into the sewage pipes under the house. The articles are a wedding ring, a wrist watch and a diamond solitaire.

Miller recovered a $3000 diamond ring a few weeks ago, lost under similar circumstanes, although then he was forced to search for it for seven hours, finally locating the gem in a pipe under the street.

Building Show Brings 20,000 to See Exhibits

Twenty thousand persons have passed through the turnstiles at the First Annual Builders' Exposition of Southern California now being held in the Shrine Civic Auditorium, according to Guy E. Livingston, director-general.

There will be a dinner of presidents and secretaries of all Builders' Exchanges of Southern California Friday night, following which the guests will visit the exposition.

Among the various exhibits to attract throngs is that of the Frank Wiggins Trade School where practical demonstrations of crafts being taught are brought to the attention of the public by students.

FLASHES

STROHEIM'S SEQUEL

MORE "BLIND HUSBANDS" ARE UNIVERSAL PROSPECT

Producing a sequel to "Blind Husbands," it was learned yesterday, is the plan and ambition of Erich Von Stroheim.

H. GIBSON GOWLAND

Von Stroheim will make the feature for Universal and H. Gibson - Gowland, who played the guide in "Blind Husbands," is to continue the role, while it is likely that a number of the original players will be cast again.

"Blind Husbands" was one of the biggest successes Von Stroheim ever made. It was one of his earlier pictures. Gibson-Gowland has played in a number of the director's pictures, including the lead in "Greed."

"His Country" Juveniles

Two interesting youngsters as well as other noted players were yesterday assigned by the De Mille studio to play leading roles in "His Country," in which Rudolph Schildkraut and Louise Dresser have the featured roles.

The youngsters in question are Milton Holmes and Linda Landi, who play the juvenile leads.

Milton Holmes was discovered by Bertram Millhauser, associate producer at De Mille's. Millhauser was looking at some stills of "Wings" one day and noted in the battle scenes a young soldier, supposed to be dead, who was hanging head downward on the edge of the trench. The posture caught his attention first. Then he inquired, "Who's the upside-down player?" meanwhile turning the picture itself upside-down in order to get a right-side-up view of the player. He was told that the boy was playing a bit and his name was Milton Holmes. The face appealed to the producer and he asked his informant to send the youngster to see him at the De Mille studio. Cecil De Mille signed the young player at once.

MILTON HOLMES

Holmes, back in his New York home, started studying law, but got a yen to go into films. His parents furnished him with enough money to come west and stay for a year. Within a few months he received his De Mille contract.

Linda Landi is a young Polish actress who came to this country a few years ago with her parents. She had had no experience in films until coming to Hollywood and has played only bits and atmosphere up to this time.

Couple in Kyne Story

When "Tide of the Empire," by Peter B. Kyne, reaches the screen via the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film art center, it will have in the leading roles no less popular players than Joan Crawford and James Murray.

It looks as though Miss Crawford and Murray are the latest Pyramus-Thisbe combination in picturedom. At present they fill the romantic featured parts in "Rose Marie," with Edmund Goulding directing.

Universal Makes Beach Story

Universal officials, having bought Rex Beach's story, "The Mating Call," they see no reason for laying that very filmable story on the shelf.

They are preparing to make a special production of it, and have assigned Edward Sloman to direct.

Lewis Stone Finishes Contract

Lewis Stone has completed his contract with First National. In fact, I understand, it was finished before he was through with his role in "Helen of Troy."

It is not known whether Stone expects to sign with any other company. At present he is free-lancing.

Gardner James In It

The young actor, who recently returned from Tennessee, where he made a mountain picture, will now play a big role in another, this time in Richard Barthelmess' "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."

Judge Rules Out Suit of Japanese

Judgment of a nonsuit was ordered yesterday by Superior Judge Bartlett of Trinity county, sitting in Department No. 39, in a row between two boards of directors for a Japanese association of Pasadena. One set of directors sought an injunction and order for accounting funds collected by another group of directors.

The plaintiff directors testified they were elected for the year in January, last. On January 27 the defendants ordered an election held March 6.

The plaintiffs called a meeting March 9 to protest but the defendants, according to the testimony, also attended and by shouts and noise prevented anything being accomplished.

The nonsuit was granted on motion of the defense, which claimed the name of the association should be included in the pleadings along with the names of the plaintiff directors. The judge sustained the contention.

Clew Obtained to Lake Victim

Identification of the body of a youth found in Echo Park Lake was late yesterday partially made as that of J. H. Donaldson, about 19 years of age of Denver, Colo.

Police reported there is nothing to indicate whether the young man was a suicide or accidentally drowned. The body had apparently been in the water about four days, Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald stated.

The name, Miss Aileen Donaldson, 115 North Madison avenue, Denver, Colo., was found on a letter in an inside pocket of the youth's coat. It is believed she is a sister.

The body was taken to the County Morgue where it will be held pending advice from Denver.

LONE BANDIT GETS $1500 IN BANK RAID

Robber Holds Two Branch Employes at Bay as He Scoops Up Loose Cash

Choosing the quiet noon hour as the time of his operations, a lone bandit, displaying a small deputy sheriff's badge and armed with a small automatic pistol, entered the branch office of the Bank of Italy at Florence and Vermont avenues yesterday, held up the teller and stenographer, and escaped with $1500 in currency.

John Gerner, teller, was standing at his window and Miss Dorothy Dropkin, stenographer, was seated at her desk when the bandit approached and inquired if the manager was in. When informed that he was not the bandit produced his pistol and ordered Gerner and Miss Dropkin to sit down quietly with their hands in front of them. He then scooped up the money from the cashier's money drawer, backed out of the bank and stepped into a small coupe.

As the bandit drove away he was seen to put on a pair of dark glasses. He was described as being about 35 years of age, wearing a neat blue suit and gray hat.

Following the robbery an announcement was made by the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association that it will offer a standing reward of $1000 for the capture, dead or alive, of any bandit holding up the bank or any of its messengers.

Tax Liens Filed Against Carey and Arbuckle

Income tax liens were filed yesterday in United States District Court by Collector of Internal Revenue Welch against Roscoe C. Arbuckle and Harry Carey, motion-picture actors, asserting they have not paid the full amount of their income tax for 1926. The lien against Arbuckle is for $1937.43, and in the case of Carey for $494.79.

Other liens were filed against Grand View Memorial Park, Glendale, for $17717.68; Gordon Hollingshead, $12.06; C. J. Schubert, $50.36; Leo V. Silverstein, $71.85; Hunt Stromberg, motion-picture man, $1004.97; Joseph Strand, $250.24; P. Martin Steinkamp and wife, $31.08; Arthur L. Veitch, $7.22, and Margaret Plato Whitaker, $58.79.

Added Trolley Cars Will Aid Yule Shoppers

For the convenience of holiday shoppers the Los Angeles Railway yesterday ordered placed in service seventy-six additional street cars. The cars will give all-day service on all lines of the company.

The action was taken at the request of the Board of Public Utilities and, according to J. O. Marsh, chief engineer of the commission, the increased service will be able to handle approximately 100,000 additional passengers daily.

The additional cars will remain in service until January 1, and many of them will continue in service after that date.

Let's Untwist the Facts

Why do two makes of wire rope of the same "catalog strength" differ so greatly in actual service? Why is one uniformly good and another variable?

Here is why Yellow Strand Rope outworks, outlasts and is more uniform than so-called Improved Plow Steel Rope of the same "catalog strength."

Most Improved Plow Steel Rope is made of plow steel wire which has simply been drawn to a higher tensile strength. YELLOW STRAND IS MADE OF WIRE DRAWN FROM PURE SWEDISH STOCK, INHERENTLY A TOUGHER GRADE OF MATERIAL—producing wire that is far more elastic and better wearing.

The wire for Yellow Strand is drawn abroad to our own specifications. It must meet our rigid tests for tensile strength, elasticity and torsibility, or it is rejected.

Yellow Strand Rope is made on special machinery (exclusively our own), by experienced operatives, under repeated factory tests. A half century's rope making experience is "laid up" into this highest of high grade ropes.

B. & B. Ropes have been made in Seattle for over 20 years to serve the West Coast industries, economically and promptly, with high grade wire ropes of all kinds for all purposes; also to manufacture and deliver, on extremely short notice, special ropes for special purposes.

VITAPHONE NOVELTIES INTERESTING

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

With the singing of John Charles Thomas, a clever novelty number burlesquing a radio entertainment, and the motion picture, "Old San Francisco," as the high light, the first Vitaphone program at the Criterion Theater drew a large audience last evening. The event had all the attributes of the typical film premiere, including the line-up of sightseers on the street in front of the theater, cameras clicking to chronicle the arrival of celebrities, and lights playing.

"Old San Francisco" was not the most enthralling production that might have been selected for the opening, the grateful news was vouchsafed in an announcement reel that "The Jazz Singer" with Al Jolson would soon be forthcoming.

The present program is especially interesting in showing the growing scope of the Vitaphone apparatus in short Vitaphone news reels, and particularly as it includes a Vitaphone "act" made at the studio in Hollywood. This use of the radio episode, was by far the cleverest because of its comedy.

Nearly all the Vitaphone pictures made in the East seem to lack photographic interest. They are generally very formal and old-fashioned in settings, little being done to eliminate the impression of staginess.

This was avoided almost altogether in the "act" made here. Its reality was heightened by having a group of people on the screen listening in on the radio program. The culminating happening was when one of these auditors shoots a vocalist for attempting to warble "The Prisoner's Song." There was amusement also when the radio announcer imitates a soprano, and the governor from the "cow country" delivered a speech.

John Charles Thomas and Vivienne Segal sing "Sweetheart" from "Maytime," as part of the short-feature program. Thomas's voice registering splendidly—large in volume and appealing in tonal quality. Miss Segal's was less impressive in this number, and the action accompanying their words very stilted. This production was made in the East.

Another presentation was by Roger Wolfe Kahn and his orchestra, assisted by Henri Garden, tenor, and the Williams Sisters—very pleasing. In addition there was the Vitaphone announcement, made by John Millan, about the early arrival of "The Jazz Singer," this innovation supplanting the film ...raller.

There seems quite an interesting possibility that these Vitaphone acts of themselves will become very popular, and the thought occurs that two or three will be too small a number to include as the acts themselves are improved. Theaters given over entirely to short-reel "talking pictures," perhaps developing eventually into longer "talking pictures," are not beyond the range of conjecture.

As regards a motion-picture feature like "Old San Francisco," one misses the accompaniment provided by the real orchestra. I felt this deficiency last evening as I have on other occasions. That is perhaps only because we are accustomed to this type of accompaniment. It is a subconscious requirement. Naturally it may be outgrown in time.

"Old San Francisco" the picture is about the beautiful daughter of an early Spanish California family, who is loved by a young frishman, and duly persecuted by a villainish Chinaman, who pretends to be a white man.

Somehow or other the thought is suggested that this picture started out to be an "epic" of life in the northern city, but when its plot is divested of its historic prologue, and reduced to its simplest terms, "Old San Francisco" is good old roughshod melodrama, in which it takes no less an event than the disaster of 1906 to save the heroine from the villain's clutches.

Sometimes, as when the old Spanish captain drives the American surveyors out of his front yard with a sword—in the year 1906 perforce—the picture is pretty wild even for melodrama. Strangely enough, though the picture is filled with action, it drags despite this.

Altogether it is fair entertainment, if you are not too particular about the plausibilities, and Dolores Costello, as the star. Warner Oland, as the heavy; that truly human chap, the late Charles Emmett Mack; Josef Swickard, Anders Randolph appear to have worked industriously to make it convincing. That's not saying a word about that amusing little dwarf, Angelo Rossitto. Sojin, Anna May Wong and Rose Dione are excellent. In the prologue appear Otto Matiesen, Walter McGrail, Martha Mattox and others.

The film was directed by Alan Crosland from the story by Darryl Francis Zanuck. Miss Costello looks more than attractive in the period costumes, and is very good in some of the more emotional scenes. Elsewhere her portrayal seems rather detached and lacking in reality. Her beauty is as always capturing.

Three Chosen From Extras

The motion-picture industry has a standard of feminine beauty all its own.

At least an average of the measurements of 101 extra girls who applied for the role of Aphrodite, Greek goddess of beauty in First National's "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," opening on the 8th inst., at the Million Dollar Theater, disclosed the film standards.

The general characteristics of the girls as a whole were: eyes, brownish; hair, brown; height, five feet four and three-quarter inches; waist, twenty-three inches; thigh, twenty inches; ankle, eight inches; calf, thirteen and one-half inches; neck, twelve inches.

The 101 girls were chosen from among several hundred of applicants for beauty of faces and figures. Of the final 101, three, Alice Adair, Helen Fairweather and Virginia Thomas, were chosen to play the parts of the three goddesses of Grecian mythology.

REPORT BERGER OUT

Ludwig Berger, the director of several UFA pictures in Germany, notably "The Waltz Dream," who was brought to this country by Winfield R. Sheehan to serve in a similar capacity for Fox, will not do so after all, if unverified reports are to be credited. Berger is said to have been released by the organization following a disagreement. Up to a late hour last night no confirmation of the story had been obtained.

Not as Black as Pai...ted

Doris Kemper and Robert Elliott

"IT" GIRL IS BACK AGAIN

"Get Your Man," a Paramount picture featuring Clara Bow, opens at the Metropolitan Theater today for a week's run.

The picture is adapted from a French stage success, and in it Miss Bow has an opportunity to show even more of what the press story calls "it" than she did in the picture of that name. Miss Bow plays the part of a freedom-loving American flapper visiting in Paris. Here she sees a young French Duke with whom she becomes acquainted after an amusing series of coincidences. They fall in love with one another, but the real action starts when the "It" girl finds out that he is engaged to another.

There is supporting cast which includes Charles (Buddy) Rogers, Josephine Dunn and Josef Swickard. The story was written by Louis Verneuil and directed by Dorothy Arzner.

On the stage of the Metropolitan Rube Wolf is seen in Fanchon and Marco's "The Crinoline Idea," featuring Jan Rubini, Helen Warner and the Sunkist Beauties.

"Pigs" Repeats Early Success

Large crowds have been the rule at El Capitan ever since "Pigs" opened several weeks ago. Abundant laughter and good characterization make this play the outstanding success it has been during its engagement here. Its local triumph is a duplicate of that recorded elsewhere throughout the country.

When "Pigs" was first produced on Broadway it enjoyed a year's run. This was followed by six months in Chicago and similar long engagements in the other populous centers. During this period May Buckley and Emerson Treacy were in the cast and Henry Duffy brought them here to insure the best possible production. These two with Gay Seabrook and Florence Roberts have the major roles. Others in the company are John Stokes, Alice Buchanan, Kenneth Gamet, Edward Brooks, Guy Dennery and John Mackenzie.

CLEOPATRA'S SHOES TREATED AT LENGTH

Cleopatra, most extravagant of queens, probably had a new pair of shoes every day. But in that respect she had nothing on Violette Wilson, who is portraying the siren of the Nile in the Bernard Shaw play, "Caesar and Cleopatra," now running four afternoons a week in El Capitan Theater. Miss Wilson's tiny sandals of silk and golden gauze reportedly are so dainty and fragile that a new pair is required for every performance.

"Caesar and Cleopatra," produced and directed by Irving Pichel, will close the 9th inst., and will be followed by other plays of merit. Pichel plays opposite Miss Wilson in the role of Caesar, heading a cast of sixty.

ROGELL-WRIGHT FILM NEW YEAR'S RELEASE

"The Shepherd of the Hills," Albert Rogell's production of Harold Bell Wright's novel, is to be First National's New Year gift to exhibitors and film fans. This is the first picture to be released on the First National program in 1928 and also said to be the only picture that is to be published by any company on New Year's Day. There is a probability that it may be a road show. Houses in several cities are now being considered by Producer Charles R. Rogers and the First National executives.

Rogell, who is at Palm Springs going over the final cutting of the photoplay, which features Molly O'Day, Alec Francis, John Boles and Marian Douglas, is coming back in town within the next few days.

"CLOWN" COMES TO HAPPY END

A careful analysis of the reactions of patrons of the Belasco Theater, where Lionel Barrymore is holding forth in the Belasco - Cushing drama, "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," has led the producers to abandon the so-called "unhappy" ending employed since the opening. This culminated in the suicide of the clown played by Barrymore.

Beginning with tonight's performance a "happy" ending (also tried out in New York) will keep the star alive and well up to and beyond—the final curtain. Hereafter audiences may leave the theater with smiling happy faces, secure in the knowledge that all's well—or pretty well, anyhow—with Flik, the clown who laughs.

Producer's New Play Set for Early Opening

The world premiere of Oliver Morosco's musical comedy, "The Morning After," will tak place at the Hollywood Play House on the 16th inst., according to announcement made yesterday.

Oliver Morosco, producer, has made his home in Los Angeles, and will present his plays here before taking them to New York and other cities.

The words and book were written by Oliver Morosco, and the music composed by a new "find," Kenneth M. Burton.

Twenty-five beautiful California girls will be seen in "The Morning After." The singing chorus consists of thirty-two men and women.

Others who will be featured in "The Morning After" are Selma Paley, Earl Askam, Elmer Ballard, Doris McMahen, George Grandee, San Burke and Jack King.

Screen Outlook is Good, Claim

James R. Grainger, general sales manager of the Fox Films Corporation, who crossed the continent to be present at the western premiere of "Sunrise," states he believes there will be at least a 30 per cent increase in motion-picture theater attendance during the coming year.

Grainger bases his statement on the knowledge gained in his recent first-hand survey of the country in the interest of pictures. He states there are three principal contributing factors to this increased interest on the part of the public. First, the new young faces on the screen in outstanding roles; second, the successful manner in which producers have kept faith with the public and, third, the advent of "talkies" in the picture houses.

During his three weeks' stay in Los Angeles Grainger will close several deals for Fox productions now pending and will confer with Winfield Sheehan, vice-president of Fox Films, and Sol M. Wurtzel, general superintendent of the Fox studios here, regarding pictures about to enter production.

Historic Opera Pleases Many

Not for years have organizations as organizations taken such interest in a production as in the presentation now at Philharmonic Auditorium of "The Beggar's Opera," declares L. E. Behymer, under whose management this tuneful comedy of 200 years' popularity is being presented the remainder of this week.

Large groups from many of the leading clubs and from the various opera reading clubs and music organizations are attending "The Beggar's Opera" en masse, and the reason the members of these clubs give for this is the historic value of the piece as well as the delightful lyrics and music attending.

HIGHLY EMOTIONAL

Marian Douglas yesterday started work with J. Leo Meehan directing, as the ingenue lead in "The Devil's Trademark" for F.B.O. The "actress-with-the-thirteen-letter-name" is playing a highly emotional role.

Marx Brothers in "Cocoanuts" Expected Soon

At the Biltmore Theater, commencing the 12th inst., Sam H. Harris will present the Marx Brothers in "The Cocoanuts." Heretofore through the medium of "The Musix Box Revue," Harris has given an elaborate entertainment of the traditional type, but this year he has a story of sufficient volume to be dignified by the name of play, and then has added his dances, sketches, and musical numbers, all of which are indigenous to the narrative. He has taken for his locale Florida during the recent land boom and, from the pen of George S. Kaufman, a hilarious story to which Irving Berlin has added the lyrics and characteristic numbers.

Prominent in the large cast are Olga Eisler, Roy Strom, Margaret Dumont, Antonio and Catherine Cansino, the Lovely Sisters, Marian Benda, Nell Jewel, Philip Mann, Edward Metcalfe, Porto Rican string orchestra, and "the liveliest, peppiest, loveliest and the most handsomely gowned chorus presented on the stage in many a day."

Pathe-De Mille Deal Made by Forum Theater

A deal is reported to have been made between John P. Goring and Jack F. Truitt with John C. Flinn, executive of the Pathe organization, for the entire production of Pathe Films to be presented at the Forum Theater. Flinn and Joseph Stout, resident manager for Pathe delivered the signed contracts to Goring and Truitt yesterday.

All the Cecil B. De Mille, James Cruze and William De Mille pictures have been contracted for. Among the stars who will be seen on the Forum screen are Leatrice Joy, William Boyd, Maris Provost, Phyllis Haver, Vera Reynolds and Rod La Rocque.

Every production will be accompanied with a musical score played by an augmented orchestra.

New York Uses Superlatives

The success of the presentation of Douglas Fairbanks as the Gaucho in Grauman's Chinese Theater, is to be duplicated in New York City to judge by the eulogies given the production by critics there following its premiere, according to a telegram received by Sid Grauman. It says in part:

"Telegram: 'Speedy and glamorous romance you cannot afford to miss.' World: 'A good obvious robust high-geared show.' Journal: 'Thrills first nighters.' Times: 'Dashing heroics and an unalloyed cheer.' Sun: 'No small shakes of a movie show.' Evening World: 'Great entertainment.' Telegraph: 'A mighty picture, one of the few it is imperative that you see.' Eagle: 'Fairbanks returned to Broadway after a two years' absence. What more is there to say?' Graphic: 'A great idea carried out in a masterly way.'"

Smythe Joins Sprowl Players

J. Anthony Smythe is the newest addition to the Norman Sprowl Players and will make his initial appearance under the banner Monday night when "Two Fellows and a Girl" is presented at the Figueroa Playhouse.

Smythe won a deal of praise for his work in "In Love With Love" and "Going Crooked" on the same stage.

"Just Married," the current attraction at the theater, is doing well with its task of showing what Al Woods would have done with a bedroom farce had he been a sea-going producer.

Charlotte Treadway and Harland Tucker have featured parts in both this week's and next week's attractions.

Studio Group Honors Lyman

Unusual honors will be paid to Abe Lyman and his orchestra tonight when the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio will send a delegation of stars as a tribute to the leader. Lyman is on the same program with the M.-G.-M. picture, "London After Midnight," starring Lon Chaney.

Today is the last day of the current program. Tomorrow Abe Lyman will begin his farewell week with a new show and Billie Dove, Gilbert Roland and Noah Beery will be featured in "The Love Mart."

SIEGMANN'S VILLAINY BRINGS VITUPERATION

Apropos of the man without a country, George Siegmann, who portrays the featured character role in "A Man's Past," which Universal produced and which closes today at the Boulevard, has learned that he has assumed the title of being the meanest man in any country.

Recognized for his Simon Legree-ish delineations, the Universal character actor never before fully appreciated how heartless countless of his admirers considered him until the release of the present picture. Hundreds of letters reportedly have been received by Siegmann chiding him for his consistently cruel methods on the screen.

"GAG, PLOT AND TITLE"

A unique monthly photoplay magazine, by name "Gag, Plot and Title," is to appear on the 10th inst. It differs from anything else in the line of picture material, it is said, in offering plot angles, delivering captions free of charge and furnishing sets of titles. Instead of comment on pictures, when done, it gives material for their making.

FUNERAL RITES AT PASADENA

Last Tribute for Seward A. Simons

Founder of East-West Football Contest

Attorney Active in Support of Athletics

PASADENA, Nov. 30.—Funeral services for Seward A. Simons, prominent retired attorney, who died last night at his Laguna Beach home, will be held at 3:30 p.m., Friday, at the chapel of Turner & Stevens, Pasadena.

Mr. Simons, who was the originator of the annual East-West football game which is held in connection with the Tournament of Roses here on New Year's Day, had been in ill health ever since 1924 when he was forced by an attack of influenza to retire from his law practice.

His position as chairman of the football committee of the Tournament of Roses Association was only one of many he held in the sport world. He was chairman of sports at the Pan-American Exposition of 1901, had been president of the Southern Pacific Association of the A.A.U., vice-president of the National A.A.U., and was named as one of the American representatives of the 1924 Olympics.

Coming to California from Buffalo, N. Y., in 1904, Mr. Simons practiced law in Los Angeles and among other prominent cases, served as counsel for the Central Development Association in its fight for the union terminal in Los Angeles. At one time he was instructor in insurance law at the University of Southern California. During the World War, he was on the executive committee of the four-minute men.

He made his home in Pasadena until 1924. Mr. Simons, who was a native of New York, leaves his wife, Grace Churchyard Simons, and one son, Seward C. Simonds, who is manager of the domestic trade department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Simons, who was in his sixty-ninth year, was a member of Theta Delta Chi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities, the Gamut, California and City clubs of Los Angeles and was a Thirty-second Degree Mason.

Changed Pleas Stop Work in Federal Court

FRESNO, Nov. 30.—Proceedings in criminal cases in the Federal District Court here came to an abrupt halt today when changes of pleas of four defendants from not guilty to guilty cleared the court's calendar of matters scheduled for the day.

Dr. Henry Wallace, negro physician of Fresno, pleaded guilty to a charge of selling narcotics to an operative last April, and was sentenced to serve five years in the Federal penitentiary, but upon a verbal plea by his attorney, W. E. Simpson, that he is the only physician of his race in Fresno, and that his presence fills a specific need in the community, Judge James suspended the sentence and placed Wallace on probation for the period of the sentence. Simpson also said Wallace had discontinued handling narcotics.

Leonard McCraw and Carl P. Brown changed their pleas to guilty on charges of violation of the National Prohibition Act on a ranch near Bakersfield last August and were fined $75 each, and E. Frederickson, arrested in Fresno a year ago tomorrow, was fined $350 on each of two counts of violation of the National Prohibition Act.

Rotary Club for Arcadia

ARCADIA, Nov. 30.—Formal presentation of a charter to the Arcadia Rotary Club tomorrow night will be witnessed by 300 Rotarians representing thirty-five clubs in Southern California. The meeting will be held at the Santa Anita Riding and Hunt Club, starting at 6:30 p.m. The Rotary Club of Monrovia, sponsoring club, will conduct the meeting and President C. B. Jones of the Monrovia group will be toastmaster. Arrangements are being made by the new club which will be Arcadia Club No. 2686 of Rotary International.

The charter will be presented by District Rotary Governor Almon E. Roth, comptroller of Stanford University. The new Rotary Club was formerly the Arcadia Good Fellows Club and this spring a petition was made to join the Rotary organization. Following the club's request, the matter was referred to the district governor who in turn appointed C. B. Jones an dthe Monrovia club as special representatives. The petition was approved by the governor and later by International Rotary. On September 10 an organizing committee was named, an organization perfected October 7 and the charter granted on October 25.

SCHOOL DEBATERS TO TEST ABILITY

ONTARIO, Nov. 30.—Friday afternoon Chaffey and Pomona Junior College teams will clash on the first debate of the year for each school.

WATER WASTED ON SUNLIGHT

Sunset Glow Causes Scare and Fire Alarm at Fullerton

FULLERTON, Nov. 30.—Leaping flames of sunlight which had an altogether too realistic appearance had today added a new scare to the false alarm list after the fire department was called to the W. E. Baldwin home at 118 South Yale avenue just before sundown last evening. Apparently the whole attic was ablaze in the little bungalow.

A neighbor was valiantly directing a stream of water from a garden hose onto the angry red glow. Then the fire department arrived. A glance through an opening in the ceiling of the back screen porch through which the "fire" had been discovered resulted in hurried investigation. Pencil and paper were used by the fire department. The only damage was that caused by the water sprayed by the helpful neighbor. The sun went down and the "fire" was out.

MILLIKAN TALKS AT REDLANDS

Caltech Professor Says Present Civilization Bound to Endure

REDLANDS, Nov. 30.—This civilization has a greater chance to endure than any other because man is not a slave but has made a slave of things that will do the work of hundreds of slaves, Dr. Robert Millikan, president of the California Institute of Technology, said when he was honor guest at an interservice club meeting. Over 400 gathered in the basement of the First Baptist Church for the first interclub meeting ever held here.

Dr. Millikan said that there was probably a time when war was a natural thing in order that only those fit might survive but this last war upset all this and it is too dangerous to have another. For in the last war the very cream of manhood was killed. Dr. Millikan told of three errands he did this summer, attended a conference of intellectuals at Geneva, the British Science Association at Leeds, Eng., and the World Association of Physicists at Como, Italy.

Then in various pictures he drew with words, he showed how science has brought about this civilization, the only one in which a part of the man-power has not been slaves. He said that science is freer from what he calls perpetual motion cranks than literature and art, that it is not necessary to teach young men to be creative, but they must be taught the responsibilities that come with greater knowledge.

He spoke of the slaves of man that are all the result of science. Stating this is an age of the application of electricity to every-day life, he visioned a day when the world would be taught one language through the radio. He also spoke of the fine programs of radio given in England where the government puts a license on every receiving set and uses the money to provide the best talent for programs.

Woman Given Serum After Mad Dog Bite

VENTURA, Nov. 30.—That the chow dog which attacked Mrs. Cora Davis widow of the late Ventura publisher, had rabies, was the report received from the University of California at Berkeley where the dog's brain was sent following the fight. Mrs. Davis received a serum from San Francisco last night which she is using and her physician said this morning that she is in no danger from the disease.

Mrs. Davis declared that not an hour before the animal attacked her she had been walking with it. She said the dog had been a high-spirited animal but she was relieved to know that the attack was caused by disease and not by temper.

Mrs. Davis believes that the struggle would not have been so serious had she not slipped as she was dragging the dog toward the door. Once down, it was hard for her to rise as she fought off the fifty-one-pound, raging animal.

CAR DEMOLISHED IN COLLISION

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 30.—Steve Pownsman, 342 West Manchester avenue, Los Angeles, is in a local hospital, with a serious temporal skull fracture and broken arm following a collision between Pownsman's automobile and a truck north of Santa Barbara, early this morning.

Ed Posey of Los Angeles, a companion, is being treated for cuts and bruises. The coupe, northbound, was sideswiped by a southbound truck on a bad turn, according to Capt. Lester Desgrandchamp of the State traffic squad. The body was stripped completely from the chassis.

"I can hardly believe that two men came out of that wreck alive," Capt. Desgrandchamp declared.

LIBEL TRIAL BEGINS

Los Angeles Judge Presiding at Hearing of Publisher of San Diego Paper

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 30.—"The truth and what of it" furnished subject for much argument at the very opening of the trial of Abraham R. Sauer, publisher of the San Diego Herald, on indictment for alleged libel, today, precipitated by questions propounded by Attorney Curtis Hillyer of the defense counsel, to the first juror under examination.

Judge Edwin F. Hahn of Los Angeles County Superior bench, presiding at the trial on call for an outside judge because two of the San Diego Superior judges are included in the list of persons Sauer is accused of libeling, read law that an article is defamatory and libelous of a person if it "hurts" his good name, and arguments by counsel bore down on the possibility that "the truth hurts."

In finally ruling on the matter as it was before him, the court indicated that the position of truth in the case is that it is a defense, complete if published with justifiable motive, but not saving if published with malicious purpose.

It seemed obvious that the defense of Sauer will be that he told the truth without malice, whereas the State will endeavor to show that he did not tell the truth, and if he did, he did it with malicious intent to defame persons named in the indictment as having been hurt, or defamed. Dep. Dist.-Atty. E. N. Clark is conducting the prosecution, assisted by Deputy Thomas Whelan, Attorney Wayne Compton serves with Curtis Hillyer as counsel for the defense.

Those alleged to have been libeled in Sauer's herald articles include Ed Fletcher, F. M. White, Sheriff James C. Byers, Deputy Sheriff King J. Powell, directors of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley irrigation district; Superior Court Judge C. N. Andrews and Lacy D. Jennings, State Senator Edwin Mueller, Attorney P. S. Thatcher, D. F. Wooley and Oscar Lehner.

Fig Family is Content Without Papa

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 30.—An Eden lacking a single Adam.

Such an unique situation is presented at the Romola fig farms in Riverside county, but the absence of the masculine element applies to the big trees and not to the 5000 property owners represented by the little orchards.

The fact that fig trees have sex, and that it is necessary to have both male and female plantings in an orchard to insure bearing through fertilization by the pollinizing visits of insects is known to most persons.

Nevertheless, at Romola, where some 2000 acres already have been planted to figs of the Clarkadota variety, an improved kadota, there isn't a single male tree in the plantings, and no masculine individual will be permitted to invade the sacred precincts of the Eden.

The bar to the masculine is caused by the fact that the Clarkadota is self-fertilizing, according to W. Sam Clark, who has propagated figs for twenty-five years and perfected the variety now growing at Romola. Kadotas do not have to be caprified by the visits of tiny insects like most other varieties.

Fontana Citrus Growers Elect

FONTANA, Nov. 30.—H. C. Spring has just been elected president of the Fontana Citrus Association at the annual meeting attended by most of the growers from this section. F. B. Williams was elected vice-president; George T. Nichols, secretary and packing-house manager; Katherine Schlutter, assistant secretary, and the Bank of Fontana, depository. The additional directors elected are J. D. McGregor, John Lundemo and Herbert L. Clarke, Jr.

It was announced that the latest equipment by way of new electric counting machines, washer and brushers and other machinery is being installed. Arrangements also were made for the closing of the first December pool on December 15, next, and the second on December 31. The quality of the fruit produced this year was reported as especially high, and indications are that the pack next year will be considerably larger than in 1926.

HORSEBACK RIDING BECOMES POPULAR

GLENDORA, Nov. 30.—The development of modern and approved bridle paths in the picturesque foothills in the vicinity of Glendora is being sponsored by the Glendora Chamber of Commerce and as a result it is probable that a bridle path association will be formed here in the near future. A special committee composed of G. F. Blackwood, L. G. Shelton and H. S. Riser has been named to arrange the organization details and a meeting will be called next week at which time the new association will be formally launched.

ALHAMBRA, Nov 30.—This city has a population of 29,115, according to an estimate based on the names in the new city directory, which has just made its appearance. The directory shows an increase of 765 names over last year.

SEEK SONS OF DEAD MAN

CORCORAN, Nov. 30.—Four sons of Wong Sam, veteran truck farmer of this vicinity, who are believed to be living in Stockton, are being sought by Coroner Strong of this county of Kings. For fifteen years Wong had been peddling vegetables in this city and vicinity. Neighbors did not see him for several days and becoming apprehensive they last evening went to the old creamery on the J. H. Hansen ranch, south of here, where Wong resided. In an abandoned cooling vault, locked on the inside, the body of the deceased was found after the door was forced open. Wong had evidently been dead several days.

FULLERTON CHIEF QUITS

FULLERTON, Nov. 30.—Resignation of Chief of Police T. K. Winter was accepted by the City Council in a special session last night to be effective December 1. No intimation of his action had been given and it came as a complete surprise to Fullerton residents. Mr. Winter did not give any specific reason in a letter to the City Council which expressed his appreciation for the spirit of co-operation of that body during his two years in office. A successor has not yet been named. Sergt. J. M. Pearson will act as Chief pending a permanent appointment which is expected to promote him to that office.

LOW FIRE LOSS

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 30.—If Bakersfield is spared a serious fire up to midnight tonight, this city will chalk up for November one of the cleanest fire records of any month in its history. During the thirty-day period ending today only one damaging fire occurred in a building, resulting in a $25 loss in a dwelling on North Chester avenue. This is the lowest monthly loss recorded in annals of the fire department during the last decade except for the month of March, 1927, when no fire loss at all was recorded. The next lowest record was established in November, 1920, when the fire toll was $71.

Freedom Means Small Thing to Japanese

SANTA ANA, Nov. 30.—Y. Imoaka, San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs Japanese, was a free man today, a jury in the Superior Court having found that he was not guilty of murdering T. Nakatuka in a knife battle more than a month ago.

Imoaka sat through two days of his trial, his head bowed and his eyes glued on some spot on the courtroom carpet. He was as immobile as a graven image.

Even when the verdict was announced that set him free, he didn't take his eyes from the floor covering. When a bailiff escorted him back to the County Jail to return his personal belongings to him, he followed without the slightest show of emotion upon his features.

He took his few possessions and departed, as stoical as when he was first given a cell. But Imoaka may have had reason for his stoicism.

He had a fight with Nakatuka over a gambling debt. The fight took place in Imoaka's house. Imoaka was armed with a short knife. Nakatuka was armed with a long knife and a shotgun. When the fight was over, only Imoaka emerged.

He was freed today, but since that day he hasn't smiled.

TWO MORE DEATHS FROM CAMP FIRE

CORCORAN, Nov 30.—Two more of the five boys terribly burned last Monday night in a tent in a cotton-pickers' camp south of here died at the County Hospital today, making three victims of the fire. Of the two boys remaining alive at least one will probably die. Of the two boys who died this afternoon one was the eldest of the quintet, Jesse Davila, aged 13, and the other was the next eldest, Ben Davila, aged 11. The first victim was Jose, only 5 years of age, who was in bed when the oil stove used for the heating the tent exploded, and he died a few hours after the accident.

Just two weeks ago there was a stove explosion at another cotton-picking camp near here and a baby was burned to death and its mother is likely also to die. The Coroner's jury here yesterday decided the death of the 5-year-old boy accidental, recommended that employers of field labor inspect oil stoves and oil or gasoline used at the camps to prevent more of these terrible casualties.

AGED PIONEER IS DEAD AT SAN JOSE

HANFORD, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Sarah N. Byrd, aged 84 and a native of Arkansas, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs C. H. Lewis, in San Jose. Mrs. Byrd resided for many years in Hanford with the Lewises until they moved to San Jose a few years ago.

She came to California by ox team with her parents in 1853. The family located at Placerville for a short time and then moved to Grangeville in this county of Kings, where they developed the Willow Point ranch.

In 1873 the deceased became the bride of Pleasant Byrd, who at the time was treasurer of Tulare county, with offices at Visalia. Mrs. Byrd spent Thanksgiving here with her two sons, P. W. and J. D. Byrd, leaving for San Jose Sunday apparently in her usual good health. The funeral of Mrs. Byrd was held this afternoon at Visalia, in the family plot of the cemetery there.

SAN JOAQUIN SCRIBES ELECT NEW OFFICERS

TULARE, Nov. 30.—Ford A. Chatters, editor of the Lindsay Gazette, and W. S. Clawson, editor of the Exeter Sun, will act as president and secretary, respectively, of the San Joaquin Valley division of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, as result of action at a meeting here. Chatters was elected to his present office last year.

Report of the legal rate committee was chief business aside from election of officers. They reported in favor of a new legal rate based on words rather than "legal squares." Under the new arrangement charges of legal advertisements would be the same regardless of the style and size of type used and would place all valley newspapers on a parity so far as charges are concerned.

A letter from Congressman H. E. Barbour was read on the matter of printing commercial envelopes by the government, bitterly opposed by the newspapers throughout the country.

IMPORTANT NEW ROAD PROJECTS

Kern County Engineer Tells of Ambitious Program of Improvement

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 30. — Virtual completion of two important county highway units and work on four important highway projects, one of which will cost three counties $1,200,000, were announced today by J. R. Thornton, County Engineer. The new Kernville bridge over Kern River, six miles east of Isabella, formally opened this evening. Mr. Thornton said. The event was commemorated by a public dance given by residents of the district, on the bridge.

The White Wolf Grade road, giving residents of the Arvin and Weed Patch districts a new and shorter outlet to the Tehachapi road, is now in use and a few days will see its completion. Mr. Thornton drew the plans for this highway under the direction of Supervisor Perry Brite. The road is the most modern in the county and one of the widest, providing for heavy traffic in the future. The new traverse cuts off the long trip to Edison and allows Arvin travelers to go directly to the Tehachapi road.

The Shirley Meadows road from the Olenville-Kernville highway is now a county road and is officially dedicated to the use of the public. This road is only one and one-quarter miles in length, but it opens a beautiful camping territory.

Directors of the Maricopa-Ventura highway district, now that all legal obstacles are out of their way, are ready for the next step in the construction of this $1,200,000 highway to the coast. The next procedure is the bond issue, but nothing definite in this matter has been decided by the directors of the district, who are S. A. of Kern county, T. G. Gabbert of Ventura, and Sam Stanwood of Santa Barbara county. This proposed traverse, giving the west side a short route to Los Angeles and the coast, will be about seventy-two miles in length over high-gear grades.

'Taps' for Nurse of Civil War

SAWTELLE, Nov. 30.—Harriett Rachel Hopp, one of the few Civil War nurses who actually enlisted for three-year service, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mattie Agnew, 1736 Butler avenue, Sawtelle. She was prominent in patriotic work, and had been honored many times by G.A.R. posts and auxiliary organizations. She came to Sawtelle in 1906.

Mrs. Hopp was born in Indiana June 10, 1841. She enlisted for active duty as a nurse at Indianapolis, and was noted for her courageous service throughout the hectic strife between the North and South. She was a widow, her husband having died in 1919. He also was a Civil War veteran, having served with Company H, Third Indiana Cavalry. She will be buried at his side in the Westwood Memorial Park, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be from the Price-Daniel Company's chapel in Sawtelle.

Besides her daughter she leaves three sons, George W. Hopp of Los Angeles; Harry L. Hopp of Sawtelle, and James A. Hopp of Glendale. Patriotic organizations will participate in the funeral.

CAREFUL BURGLAR SAVES PLATE GLASS

ATWOOD, Nov. 30.—A "considerate thief," who removed a large pane of glass from the front of the establishment so that he might gain entrance and then set it carefully aside so that it would not be broken, was today held responsible for the robbery of Zuckerman's general mercantile store here last night.

The robbery is believed to have been committed about 11 o'clock when neighbors heard their dog barking but was not discovered until this morning when the owners opened the store. Clothing valued at about $50 was taken, the visitor displaying varied tastes since his loot ranged from khaki trousers to women's silk hose. A representative from the Sheriff's office today investigated the robbery.

POLICE CAR WRECKED IN ANSWERING CALL

GLENDALE, Nov. 30. — Speeding northward on San Fernando Road in answer to a call, Deputy Sheriffs G. H. Jones, Fred England and J. Johnson were injured last night when their car crashed into a light sedan which turned in front of their machine at Broadway.

The sedan was driven by Walter L. Prewett, 411 Marion Court, Altadena, who suffered a deep gash in the head. Deputy Sheriff Johnson had his left arm broken in three places. The other two officers escaped with minor injuries.

All three occupants of the Sheriff's car maintain that their red lights were lit and that the siren was going continuously, but Prewett claims he did not observe the official car or hear the siren as he attempted to make a left-hand turn into Broadway as he came south on San Fernando Road.

CHARGE "LEGAL FRAME-UP"

Deputy Sheriff Held in Case Outgrowth of Arrest of Wealthy Pasadena Youth

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 30.—Culminating a hectic court session in which defense counsel hurled charges that the prosecuting witness had attempted a "legal conspiracy" with county officials, Justice Leonard Difani yesterday afternoon bound Deputy Sheriff Dukes over to the Superior Court on an "unnecessary roughing" charge preferred by Weldon Trimble, son of a wealthy Pasadena family.

Trimble, who assertedly has given ages of 26 and 23 years to jail authorities, brought the action as an outgrowth of his arrest on October 14 for having driven his expensive sedan down the Box Springs grade at more than fifty miles an hour and disregarded officers' siren warnings twice. He complains that Dukes struck him in the face when he "wasn' doing a thing."

Dukes and a companion officer declare that the youth resisted arrest by kicking and striking at them after his car had been stopped in its mad dash only by blocking of the highway by a truck. The testimony regarding the attempted "conspiracy" was brought out when Joseph Seymour, defending the officer, placed Kenneth Schwinn, Acting Deputy District Attorney, on the stand and questioned him regarding a certain correspondence which the parents of the youth are purported to have had with Sheriff Sweeters.

Schwinn admitted under a severe grilling that he had seen a letter from the automobile club which offered to withdraw the action against Dukes if the reckless-driving charge against young Trimble would be dismissed.

Sheriff Sweeters flatly rejected the proposition and the prosecution of Deputy Sheriff Dukes was then started through the District Attorney's office, it was brought out. Schwinn was called to the stand by Seymour as a material witness as the attorney has been representing the youths' parents in the matter.

Trimble was fined heavily for the reckless driving when he appeared before Justice Difani several days ago.

Dukes has been one of the most vigorous law enforcement officers of the county, employed by the District Attorney's office and working with Federal prohibition officers. His activities brought him the enmity of certain groups and resulted recently in a shooting affray in Dukes's home at San Bernardino when the officer's assailant was slain. Dukes was exonerated of all wrong doing in the shooting.

MAY FORM PROTECTION DISTRICT

Special Election in Ventura County to Decide Fate of Conservation Policy

VENTURA, Nov. 30.—The fate of the proposed Santa Clara water-conservation district, including, roughly, all of the lands within Ventura county lying west of the easterly limits of the Camulos ranch, the water supply of which is derived from or affected by the Santa Clara River, is to be decided at an election of the property owners on Friday, December 9. All of the city of Ventura, except a small portion in the east, and the cities of Oxnard and Fillmore, and most of the city of Santa Paula are excluded from the district.

The proposal to organize the district is the outgrowth of the Santa Clara River Protective Association, a voluntary organization formed about two years ago to prevent Los Angeles from diverting water from the watershed of San Francisquito Creek to that city, and to take other protective measures when found necessary.

The new district is to be organized, if favored at the election, under the Water Conservation Act of 1927. The purposes of this new organization are broader than those of the old protective association and will include measures to conserve and store the water by spreading and sinking the same, and to commence and maintain such proceedings as may be necessary to prevent interference with or diminution of the natural flow of the Santa Clara River and its tributaries.

The plan is to have a district managed by seven directors. They must be land owners within the district and residents of Ventura county.

The election returns are to be canvassed by the Board of Supervisors, and a majority vote is necessary for the formation of the district.

The act under which the organization is being formed does not provide for any bond issues, and the expenses must all be met out of an annual tax, which cannot exceed 15 cents on $100.

Kern County Oranges Come to Los Angeles

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 30.—Golden oranges of Kern county are being shipped daily in carload lots to eastern markets and Los Angeles. From the Richgrove district the shipments are averaging three carloads a day. Over the Ridge Route large automobile trucks are carrying the orange consignments to the south.

From the famous Edison orange district shipments will be started tomorrow, according to the horticultural commissioner's office. In this district shipments have been delayed in order that the entire crop might be harvested with one picking. Now all of the fruit is up to the standardization requirements of the State. The Edison crop will approximate eighteen carloads. It is a light crop this year, but of superlative quality. The fruit is very sweet and is large in size.

From the San Emidio district oranges are being shipped to Los Angeles markets by truck. Excellent quality is reported for oranges in this area.

Former Judge Accused of Bootlegging

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 30. — Chief of Police Ray Williams of Porterville is seeking D. K. Krutz, former police judge of this city, and Lena Wilson, his alleged copartner in operations of a pool hall and cafe here, on charges of rum possession. The place was raided Saturday night by local officers and Dero Juarenqui, found in charge, arrested on rum-possession charges.

When brought before Police Judge Lorens Costello late yesterday Juarenqui declared he was just a "go-between" and not responsible for operation of the establishment, naming the former police judge and Lena Wilson as the true proprietors. Later Juarenqui paid $150 bail on a charge of aiding in commission of a misdemeanor and was released pending further investigation.

Krutz was relieved of his duties as police judge of Porterville several years ago by the former Board of Trustees, following investigation of his alleged activities in connection with a pool hall.

POSTMASTER VICTIM OF CUPID'S DARTS

LONG BEACH, Nov. 30. — Announcement here today of the marriage of Fred W. McCullah, Long Beach postmaster, to Lilian L. Creeth, Yuma, Ariz., astounded local friends of the Federal official and revealed a hidden romance.

Mrs. Creeth entered the government employ about fourteen years ago as stamp clerk in the Long Beach postoffice. After ten years of service with the government Mrs. Creeth resigned, but remained in Southern California.

A year or so after the death of Mrs. McCullah, a romance between the widow and the widower budded and grew all unknown to the postmaster's associates. That romance culminated Monday in the marriage of the pair at Yuma, where Rev. George W. Ittel, pastor of the Methodist Church there, joined them. The couple will live at 138 West Tenth street.

Postmaster McCullah has been in the postal service for fourteen years, coming here from Colorado in 1913 and entering the local postoffice as a clerk.

Husband Sounds Like Horse on Cobble Pavement, says Wife in Divorce Suit

GOLDWYN BACKS UP SCHENCK

Another Film Producer Scores Joint Showing of Pictures and Vaudeville

Samuel Goldwyn, president of Samuel Goldwyn Productions, Inc., yesterday indorsed the position of Joseph M. Schenck, who is quoted in dispatches from New York as condemning the practice of combining vaudeville and motion pictures in theaters, adding that the industry is facing disaster because of the policy.

"Mr. Schenck was too polite when he called the presentation of vaudeville along with pictures a detriment," Mr. Goldwyn declared. "It is far more; it is the greatest menace the film industry has known. American theater owners are traveling in a vicious circle by attempting to give the public vaudeville and pictures in the same show. There is room for vaudeville separately and pictures separately, but the two do not belong together.

"Pictures gained their greatest popularity when good pictures and good music were the sole attractions. This is the fundamental on which a great industry was built. Now it is threatened with disaster because the policy of vaudeville with pictures does not enable the theater owner to give both good vaudeville and good pictures, and they must give up the practice or find themselves destroyed by a Frankenstein monster of their own making. Throughout the world we stand supreme in cinema productions, but we will lose that supremacy if we are forced into the cutting of quality, which the present situation threatens."

SEIZURE STARTS YULE RUM DRIVE

Cache in Building Disguised as Cinema Studio

Suspect Almost Drowned as Officers Flood Cellar

Prohibition officials last night struck their first blow at bootleggers of Christmas liquors when they raided a "film studio" at 3427 West Temple street, seizing approximately $15,000 worth of asserted liquors that were being held for the Yule season demand.

The raid resulted in a near tragedy for Joe Squires, charged as the owner of the liquor. Squires was almost drowned when prohibition agents flooded a cellar so as to destroy a quantity of labels and wrappers. The asserted rum owner was occupying a subcellar when the water was turned into the first cellar, and it was only when the raiding officers heard his shouts they realized the existence of a subcellar.

The liquor plant is declared by Deputy Sheriff Jim Benton, head of the Sheriff's office dry squad, who stated Federal dry agents in making the raid, as being one of the most elaborate ever uncovered in Los Angeles. The entrance to the basement was concealed by cement blocks in the garage floor and the locks were electrically operated.

Several hundred cases of alcohol and "choice" liquors were found stored in the underground hiding place. A truck, bearing the name of the "Consolidated Film Enterpriser" was in the garage and was confiscated by the Federal agents.

RELATIVES WITNESSES AT DIVORCE

Wife of Wealthy Venice Merchant Accused of Love Affair With Garage Man

A love affair between Mrs. Sadie Goldberg and C. Randle, a garage man at Venice, broke up the home life of Phillip Goldberg, wealthy Venice merchant, according to witnesses who testified against her in his suit for divorce, begun in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday.

Abe Goldberg, brother of the plaintiff; Mrs. Esther Davis, and Mrs. Bessie Goldberg, mother of Phillip, testified to asserted compromising situations between Mrs. Phillip Goldberg and Randle.

Mrs. Goldberg has a cross-complaint filed in the case, in which she charges her husband cursed her, struck her, shoved a gun against her body and threatened to kill her, also that he "bragged of knowing some beautiful young chickens who were not as old as she."

Property of the couple is estimated at $160,000, and they have one young son, whose custody is sought by each.

JURY DRAFT IN SHOW CASE

Bailiffs Sent Forth to Gather in Men and Women for Service at Main-Street Theater Trial

Two special venires having been exhausted in a futile effort to select a jury to try the cast of a South Main-street theater on charges of participating in indecent theatrical performances, bailiffs were sent into the highways and byways and quickly rounded up another group of men and women as prospective jurors, yesterday.

Among those gathered in by the deputies were a number of men and women who happened to be in the Hall of Justice to pay their taxes. The new veniremen were fed as quickly as possible into the legal machine that is trying to grind out a jury. Challenges for cause and peremptory challenges were droned out by attorneys for both the people and the defense as the talesmen trooped in and out of the jury box.

CHALLENGES APLENTY

Indications are that attorneys for the defense contemplate taking full advantage of the large number of peremptory challenges allotted to them by virtue of the large number of defendants—some forty performers of both sexes. The prosecution likewise has exhibited no signs of weakening in the matter of exercising its huge quota of challenges. When court adjourned last night the defense still had 189 of its allotted 200 challenges in reserve and the prosecution had used only eighteen.

PROSECUTION'S OFFER

Deputy City Prosecutors Eberhard and Barnes, however, expressed a willingness to accept a jury whenever the defense is ready.

Municipal Judge Fredericksson cut short some of the inquisitorial meanderings of defense counsel in questioning jurors by ruling out questions as to specific church affiliations of prospective jurors. Two local ministers are scheduled to appear as witnesses against the defendants. The trial resulted from a police raid on the performance given by the defendants.

RIGHT TRIUMPHS AFTER ALL

Woman's Faith Justified When Husband Lays Himself Liable to Prison Term by Confessing He Got Divorce by Perjury, But Has Repented

Sally Harp's confidence that right and justice finally must prevail, was justified yesterday in Judge Bowron's court.

Hiram D. Harp, her husband, had to lay himself liable to a prison sentence to bring it to pass, but this he said he was more than glad to do.

Thirty-three years ago the couple married. In 1925 another woman came into their lives.

"I simply became infatuated with her. It was one of those things a man cannot explain," Harp told Judge Bowron.

So he started a suit for divorce, on a charge of desertion. Mrs. Harp was duly served with summons and complaint, but so heartbroken that she did not have the spirit to make any contest.

"I was so stricken that I was not competent to make any decision," she testified yesterday.

Instead of parting, however, the couple continued to live together until three days before the day when the court, hearing the suit as a default and on the strength of Harp's story that he had been deserted more than a year before, granted him a decree of divorce. Mrs. Harp left for Seattle.

The charms of the other woman were not long lived, however, and Harp soon repented. Mrs. Harp was willing to forgive and forget, and they became reconciled. They went to Attorney George Acret to see what legal steps should be taken.

"I felt it my duty to warn Mr. Harp that if he came here and testified as he has done, he would be laying himself open to a charge of perjury and a prison sentence." Attorney Acret told the court. "He said he was willing to go that far to right the wrong he had done his faithful wife. So we are here to ask the court to set aside the decree of divorce."

"A grave offense has been committed here, but out of consideration of this woman, who perhaps may now realize happiness after her suffering, and in recognition of the clearly sincere repentence of her husband, I shall take no steps to bring on a prosecution for the perjury admitted by Mr. Harp. The decree was plainly obtained by fraud, and it will be set aside," Judge Bowron ruled. "And now that that is over I wish to felicitate those people who have come through their trouble so fortunately and to express the wish that they may finish their lives together in peace and love. And they are to be congratulated upon having submitted their case to an attorney who has handled it with the sympathy Mr. Acret has manifested."

VAN NESS TESTAMENT HELD VALID

Woman Ruled Competent When She Willed Estate to Her Nurse

Josephine Van Ness was legally competent when she made her will, leaving her entire estate to her nurse, Sallie Curd, Judge Fleming, in Superior Court, determined yesterday when he threw out the contest of Mrs. Emily Van Ness, decedent's mother, on a nonsuit.

Miss Van Ness died February 10, 1926, while she was confined in an isolation hospital. When her will showed she had left her $18,000 estate to her nurse, it was contested by Mrs. Van Ness, who charged that Miss Curd had taken advantage of her close contact with the decedent to obtain her signature to the testament.

The plaintiff's testimony was heard before a jury, but Judge Fleming held that no case had been made, and dismissed the action and the jury.

HEALTH CAMP BOYS AID SEAL SALE PLEA

Letters Written Home to Assist in Christmas Work

Youngsters Doing Their Bit

NINETY boys at the open-air health camp in San Gabriel Canyon this week are "taking pen in hand" to aid in the Christmas seal sale of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association. They are writing to relatives, and pals back home in Los Angeles, to be sure to buy Christmas seals, and send funds to seal headquarters, 1008 Transportation Building.

Some of the letters never would be accepted by advertising experts for their "sales power." Others, however, would.

Workers in the annual seal sale are hoping that this year Los Angeles will improve its per capital gifts. Statistics gathered by the National Tuberculosis Association for the 1926 sale show that Los Angeles had 59 per cent of money returns from letters sent to new names; Washington, 55; Milwaukee, 42; Pittsburgh, 32; Chicago, 25; Philadelphia, 22; New York, 23; Boston, 16, and St. Louis, 13.

However, Los Angeles did not rank as high in the amount of money sent by the average contributor. The per capital figures for the various centers were: New York, $2.82; Chicago, $2.06; Philadelphia, $1.86; Pittsburgh, $1.82; Los Angeles, $1.36; Boston, $1.52; Washington, $1.92; Milwaukee, $1.46; St. Louis, $1.44, and Brooklyn, $1.40.

This year 150,000 individuals have received the seals through the mails, and it is hoped to raise $100,000.

The Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association is not a member of the Community Chest and depends solely upon the seal sale for carrying on its work.

ROCK PILE TO BE REVIVED FOR IDLERS

Police Hope to Put Check on Usual Winter Rush of Vagrant Men and Boys

Making little ones out of big ones will be the daily pastime of vagrants who come to Los Angeles and show no inclination to work.

Establishment of a rock pile as a means to discourage the nomads who flock to Southern California each winter to bask in the sunshine and do nothing else, was announced yesterday by Chief Jailer Shand.

The announcement follows efforts by the police to check the inrush of idle men and boys which has shown an unusual increase during the last month. Records show 1490 vagrants taken into custody, exclusive of several hundred more arrested for evading railway fare, during the first twenty-eight days of November. During the last week the daily average has been eighty arrests.

The rock pile is to be at the Lincoln Heights Jail. An acre has been set aside and fenced, Capt Shand stated, to which rock from the Arroyo Seco will be hauled.

RIDERS TO SHOW OFF

Breakfast Club Decrees Horsy Togs the Thing for December Morn

Living up to the tradition that it is a sportsman's club, the Breakfast Club is giving a riding-suit parade tomorrow morning. The announcement of the affair urged members to appear in riding suits of some kind, whether they rode horseback or not. There will be three classes in the competition—comedy, conservative and "loud." Peggy Hamilton has been named as stage manager and judge of the affair and appropriate prizes will be awarded in each class.

President Joseph Sullivan of Loyola College will be speaker, while the hosts will be Orra E. Monnette and Eugene D. Bottler, Jr. Members of the "Beggar's Opera" cast will be special guests. Other entertainment will be furnished by the Crooners Male Quartet and Tunberg's Orchestra.

SUN GOD TEMPLE HUNTED

Prof. Glidden Starts for Catalina Island's Interior to Seek Channel Indians' "Church"

Equipped for an expedition to last four months, Prof. Ralph Glidden, curator of the Catalina Island Museum of the Channel Indians, left Avalon yesterday for the interior of the island.

The object of the expedition is a search for the ancient ceremonial temple of the Shoshonean Indians, referred to in the log of Father Torquemada as the temple of the sun god Chinchinich.

Prof. Glidden has received telegraphic permission from William Wrigley, Jr., now in Chicago, and owner of Catalina Island, to excavate in the interests of science for archeological finds of the prehistoric island Indians for the Catalina museum.

YEARS OF STUDY

Prof. Glidden has devoted three years of study of historic archives and yellowed charts in an attempt to locate the sun temple of the Channel Indians.

"I feel confident that I have located the temple of the sun god," said Prof. Glidden, as he supervised the loading of three tons of supplies on a tug bound for Rowland's Landing.

"I have worked on a chart of the island for the past three years, using as guide the logs of the early Spanish explorers, who make mention of the Temple of Chinigchinich, apparently a circular edifice of steatite carved like mammoth fingers pointing upward, and carved with symbols of the sun, moon and stars. In the center there must have been a monstrous statue of the sun god, with a picture of the sun carved on his breast. Vizcaino's chronicler cites that the Indians of all the Channel Islands held a great ceremonial once a year at the Temple of Chinigchinich, and that as an offering of peace each brave stuck a choice eagle feather to the god with a piece of asphaltum, giving the hideous figure a still more weird and terrifying aspect.

PROBABLY BURIED

"I shall stay out in the interior of Catalina Island at least four months or more. The temple probably is buried many feet and has become overgrown with brush. I am hopeful also of finding rare pieces of stone carving, such as miniature fish, birds and animals, a goodly number of which I already have found in past years. Archeologists have not yet determined whether they were used as amulets in their religious ceremonials, or whether they were toys fashioned by fond parents for the children; also ceremonial wands, hollow tubes, fashioned of stone and inlaid in pearl. I have one eight inches in length and incrusted with abelone pearl, which I found several years ago in Cottonwood Canyon with an Indian chieftain whose skeleton measured seven feet nine inches.

"The Catalina Indian was of giant stature," says Prof. Glidden, who during the past ten years has excavated approximately 1500 Indian skeletons on the Channel Islands for the Heye Foundation of the American Indian in New York and the Catalina Island Museum.

New Pastor for Rosewood Pulpit Arrives in City

Coming from a church of 2000 members in the industrial city of Coshocton, O., and having previously held the pastorate of one of the leading churches of Cleveland, Dr. John Matthew Baxter arrived here yesterday to take up his new work as pastor of the Rosewood Methodist Episcopal Church at Rosewood and New Hampshire avenues.

He is prominent in Masonic life as well as being a leader in Rotary. He will preach his first sermon in Los Angeles Sunday morning.

Dr. Baxter has exchanged pulpits with Dr. Isaac B. Harper, former pastor of the Rosewood church, who has gone from here to Grace Methodist Episcopal Church in Coshocton. Dr. Baxter will have his own son, Bruce R. Baxter, dean of the school of religion of the University of Southern California, as a member of his church and teacher of the Men's Bible Class.

SPEEDER TO SERVE FIVE DAYS IN JAIL

Two Others Given Lesser Sentences for Failure to Respect Zone Limits

Exceeding the zone speed limit at street intersections brought one motorist a five-day jail sentence and two others sentences of three days each in Municipal Judge Valentine's court yesterday.

Sidney McCarty, 1555 West Thirty-fifth street, was given five days in jail following his arrest on November 26, last, for driving fifty miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone at the intersection of Western avenue and Jefferson street. McCarty said he was driving a new car and did not realize that he had increased his speed.

Henry F. Huddleston, 3701 Bartee street, and Alvin Thompson, 3051 West Tenth street, were given three days each for driving their motorcycles forty-five miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone. The two are messengers.

Argentine Film Actress Views Theaters Here

Memories of social affairs of her ancestors recounted to her as a child in South America were recalled for Senorita Mirra Rayo, known as the Mary Pickford of the Argentine, on a visit yesterday to Grauman's Chinese Theater.

In company with representatives of the Argentine Consul, Senorita Rayo inspected the theater on a sightseeing trip of Hollywood. She recently arrived from Buenos Aires by way of New York City.

MIRRA RAYO.

SCHISM SPLITS A.F.L. RANKS

Bricklayers, Plasterers, Masons and Tile Setters Secede from Organization Over Controversy

Telegrams from Washington to local union-labor leaders informing them that union bricklayers, plasterers, masons and tile and marble setters all over the United States have withdrawn from the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, have been received.

In commenting on this unexpected development in union activities, the November issue of the Industrial Relationist, which is published by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of this city, says:

"An interesting twist in the affairs of the American Federation of Labor is seen in the recent withdrawal of the Bricklayers', Masons' and Plasterers' International Union from the building trades department of the A. F. L.

"For several years the International Union of Carpenters and Joiners was out of the building trades department as a result of controversy over jurisdictional matters.

"During the annual convention of the union men in this city early in October the carpenters were welcomed back into the building trades department with open arms. President Green declared that it was one of the finest things that has happened to the A. F. L. in years.

"But while the carpenters' international was coming back in through Mr. Green's front door the bricklayers and plasterers were slipping out through the back door as a result of much the same sort of dispute which alienated the affections of the carpenters."

At this meeting he will urge that the delegates visit Los Angeles following the convention.

Aircraft Will Play Greater Part in Exercises

Armada to be Self-Sustaining on Entire Journey

One hundred and nine ships of the United States fleet will participate in the Hawaiian maneuvers next May and June, according to an operating schedule released yesterday aboard the U.S.S. California, battle fleet flagship. Ninety-two of these craft will be led out of Los Angeles on the morning of April 8 by Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet; the other seventeen vessels joining the fleet in Hawaii.

Aircraft will play a greater part in the Hawaiian exercises than in any naval maneuvers in history; there being fourteen aerial squadrons to participate, with a total complement of more than 150 planes, fighters, scouts, observers, torpedo-bombers.

COMPLETE LIST GIVEN

The complete list of ships participating, together with the commanders-in-chief and fleet commanders, follows:

Phelps, commanding United States fleet base force;) fleet repair ship Medusa, hospital ship Relief, supply ship Arctic, naval tankers Neches, Cuayama and Kanawha; mine-sweepers Tern, Partridge, Brant and Kingfisher; fleet tugs Pinola, Algorma and Sonoma.

Proof of the high material and coordinate efficiency the fleet has attained during the last three years is shown by the fact that the huge armada of more than 100 ships will be absolutely self-supporting and independent of land bases during the entire Hawaiian exercises.

Naval tankers, carrying necessary fuel supplies, the repair ship Medusa, a virtual floating navy yard; the fleet hospital ship Relief and the new 33,000-ton aircraft carrier Saratoga, herself with a modern hospital aboard, and a fleet of auxiliary and supply vessels will be ready to meet every contingency at sea.

MOST good-sport girls now like to be called good eggs, some trying to prove their right by being hard-boiled and some by acting cracked.

Being the right sort of egg is like being the right sort of lady, less a matter of appearances than of what's inside. But the girl who tries to be a lady, and can't quite make it, still commands respect; while the girl who tries to be a good egg and falls a little short is lucky if she doesn't lose her shell.

The only pedestal woman seems to want to be on now is a pair of Eiffel-tower heels. She has sought man's level, forgetting that man isn't always on the level.

A good egg girl may attract more men, for a while, than others do, but they're mostly free lunch grabbers.

Yes, Palomine, ham and eggs naturally go together, and no girl should try to be a good egg if the result is the constant company of hams.

Warning

"You can't keep an Englishman from liking his beer," declared a British statesman, speaking against a prohibition bill in the House of Commons. American experience indicates that the Honorable Member will have to think up a better argument than that.

We hear that the hold-up man who allowed a victim to retain his money because "he looked as though he needed it" has been summarily ejected from the union.

Whiz: Are you going to keep that trombone player?

Bang: No, I think I'll let him slide.

CHUCKLES from LIFE

The Vulnerable Heel

Prof. Blotter of Columbia University, who invented the kind of concrete which is used nowadays in all the erasers on lead pencils, was the first one to attack the detached-heel problem with a view to correcting this universal annoyance.

"I discovered the habit in its most virulent form in our subways," said Dr. Blotter yesterday. "Some one walks up onto the back of your shoe and stands there. You walk away and leave your heel behind. The rest of the journey you go about on spikes, as if you were in a track meet.

"At first there was a considerable opposition to my investigations on the part of the rubber heel industries. I learned that hundreds of the best heels in the subway were directly under their control. Statistics show that they remove tons of leather heels every month.

"Discarding my original idea of crossing the leather heels with carrier pigeons as a bit visionary," continued Dr. Blotter, "I decided to adopt the simple method of attaching every heel to the rest of the shoe by a long elastic. Whenever it is stepped on, it will snap back into place as good as new.

"In time," concluded Dr. Blotter, "I shall apply this same principle to rubbers." C. H. P.

Thursday—I Have Planned to Give Los Angeles Their Greatest Dollar Day

"Ever since I arrived at Los Angeles I have been investigating the wants of every man, woman and child in this wonderful city. I have been studying the Dollar Days that have been staged in the past by the Broadway Basement and by other Los Angeles stores. And I have made my plans accordingly. When I tell you that Thursday, the Broadway Basement will stage the greatest Dollar Day this city ever has known, you can bank on it. For it has grown to be an axiom with Los Angeles people that, 'John Budget knows his values'."
